(U) SUMMARY OF INFORMATION

[redacted] resided in BUFFALO, New York, prior to his entrance into the Army. In August 1967, he was approached by two men, one Caucasion and the other Negro, who offered to pay him fifteen dollars if he would attend a meeting. [redacted] was aware that the two men represented the CPUSA as such persons are continually seeking persons to attend their meetings in East BUFFALO. He indicated to the two men that he was willing to attend the meeting for fifteen dollars. The two men gave him fifteen dollars cash and placed him in a nearby station wagon. The two men then proceeded to approach others on the street with the same proposition. After two more people agreed to attend, they were all taken to an old theater in East BUFFALO, on Broadway Avenue near Maple Street. Once inside the theater, the three recruited participants were required to identify themselves by means of social security cards, driver's licenses, or something similar. The three members were taken through various sections of the theater where they were frisked twice and made to place all personal effects upon a table. Upon completion of these procedures, the three were taken into a room with chairs where the meeting commenced. Those present, were lectured concerning "how the white man is keeping the Negroes down and about the workers uniting". The meeting lasted approximately three hours. At the suggestion of the lecturer, [redacted] took 25 pamphlets and sold them to persons on the streets at 15¢ each. The theme of the pamphlets was similar to the one [redacted] had heard at the meeting; namely, race relations and overthrowing the government. After [redacted] had sold the pamphlets, he returned to the theater and received $10 for his work. During the course of these events, [redacted] identified George MOREHEAD, of BUFFALO, and his brother Rocky MOREHEAD. Rocky MOREHEAD was allegedly Absent Without Leave from the US Marines for a period of approximately two years. [redacted] stated that he did not sympathize with the goals of the CPUSA, and did not associate with anyone who had CPUSA affiliations. The only knowledge he had of the CPUSA was limited to that which he had learned on television and during his military police training. The only reason he had associated with the CPUSA was for the $25 he received. b3

Although [redacted] has attended one meeting of the Black Muslims, he does not sympathize with their theories regarding racial separatism. He does agree with the Black Muslim thinking concerning racial pride and improvement.

[redacted] joined the Black Panther organization (BPO) in 1968 because of the increasing incidents of police brutality in his area. He felt that the BPO could help alleviate some of these problems. He stated that he was not in agreement concerning some of the violent tactics proposed by certain members of the BPO.

COMMENTS

This is evident of the increasing emphasis by communists, in this case the CPUSA, and other left-wing organizations on the racial issues, rather than the Vietnam war. This trend has been noted in the FRG. Your attention is invited to [redacted] b3

Information received that BAYARD RUSTIN and CLEVELAND ROBINSON (Secretary-Treasurer of District 65, Retail, Wholesale, and Department Store Union, AFL-CIO) conferred. ROBINSON said there would be another March on Washington, D.C., on 6/15/64, to be led by ROBINSON, and made up of ministers, rabbis and labor leaders. (Submitted to Bureau by airtel and letterhead memorandum dated 5/22/64).

RUSTIN and MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR., conferred, according to the source. The purpose of the conference was to gather background information on KING to be presented to a Swedish group considering the Nobel Prize for KING.

In addition, the source said RUSTIN apprised KING that he would meet with JAMES FARMER (CORE Director) and others in Jackson, Mississippi, on 7/22/64. (Furnished to Bureau, Memphis and New Orleans by airtel and letterhead memorandum dated 7/17/64).

7/18/64

RUSTIN said there would be a meeting on Thursday (7/23/64) afternoon in Jackson, Mississippi, which had been called by FORMAN and MOSES (JAMES FORMAN, Executive Director of the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee, SNCC, and ROBERT MOSES, Director of the Voter Registration Project in Mississippi) and which was to have been attended by ELLA J. BAKER (of SNCC), MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR., A. PHILIP RANDOLPH, JAMES FARMER, RUSTIN and others. The meeting concerned the Freedom Democratic Party. (Disseminated to Bureau, Memphis and New Orleans by airtel and letterhead memorandum).

Source advised that MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR., conferred with RUSTIN and sought RUSTIN's advice as to what his role as a leader in the non-violent revolution in relation to the riots in Harlem and Rochester, should be. KING sought his advice since he was going to talk with Mayor WAGNER on 7/27/64. (Disseminated to Bureau, Atlanta and other interested offices by airtel and letterhead memorandum dated 7/28/64).

The source advised that RUSTIN and Reverend MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR., conferred on that date regarding KING's appointment with the Mayor (WAGNER). RUSTIN informed KING that he had prepared a press statement for his use. (Disseminated to Bureau and Atlanta by airtel and letterhead memorandum dated 7/30/64).

(If this surveillance involves cryptanalysis, include statement that decrypted material is or is not sufficiently important to continue decrypting.)

NY 4212-S* is a technical surveillance (tesur) on Bayard Rustin, [redacted]. It was authorized 11/1/63 and installed 11/15/63. This communication contains the results of coverage by this tesur during the past 3 months. Rustin, who has admitted prior communist affiliation, continues to be an influential figure in the current Negro freedom movement. b7E

During the past 3 months valuable information has been obtained from this source, which information has been utilized in the Bureau's investigation concerning the communist influence in racial matters. This information has included details concerning meeting between Rustin and Cleveland Robinson, Secretary-Treasurer, District 65, Retail, Wholesale and Department Store Union, AFL-CIO, wherein it was agreed to have another March on Washington on 6/15/64 to be led by Robinson and made up of ministers, rabbis and labor leaders; Rustin's conference with Martin Luther King, Jr., 7/17/64, regarding background information on King to be presented to a Swedish group considering the Nobel prize for King; Rustin's conference on 7/18/64 regarding the Mississippi situation--they discussed a meeting to be held 7/23/64 at Jackson, Mississippi, which meeting was to be attended by leaders of the various racial groups, including Martin Luther King, Jr. King conferred with Rustin on 7/26/64 seeking advice regarding the riots in the Harlem area of New York City and Rochester, New York. King also sought advice regarding his conference with New York City Mayor Wagner. This source also furnished information regarding Rustin's observations as a consequence of Mayor Wagner's refusal to appoint a civilian police review board. Rustin indicated that "we" could not request that Negroes refrain from demonstrating.

In view of the valuable information received from this source and the influential position held by Rustin, as well as the communist influence in the Negro movement, the continuance of this tesur for an additional 3 months is deemed essential.

In reviewing information furnished by NY 4092-S* and NY 4099-S*, who are sources close to [redacted], and NY 4212-S*, who is a source close to BAYARD RUSTIN, it has been determined that there have been instances where the New York Office and the Atlanta Office, through its sources close to MARTIN LUTHER KING, Jr., have been receiving and disseminating the same information. It is felt that a situation such as this creates a duplication of effort, causing the needless expenditure of Agent and stenographic time in disseminating this information. b6 b7C

In view of the foregoing, New York, UACB, will disseminate only that information which is received from calls emanating from New York, leaving Atlanta to disseminate only that information received from calls originating from Atlanta. It is felt that by so doing the situation of duplication of effort will be alleviated. However, in the event that a situation should arise in which Atlanta is unable to receive the information and make the dissemination, NY will be prepared to handle the matter.

The national convention of SCLC is scheduled to be held in Savannah, Ga., principally at the Butler Presbyterian Church, a Negro church in Savannah, from 9/29 to 10/2/64.

The SCLC has reserved approximately 50 rooms at the Manger Hotel in Savannah, indicating that some rooms will be used for visiting speakers. They have reserved a two-room suite for Dr. MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR. with an adjoining room for a male aide.

Information has been received that HARRY H. WACHTEL, executive vice-president for the Gandhi Society for Human Rights, Long Island, N. Y., reported to be an active member of the National Lawyers' Guild in 1949, and whose wife was listed as an officer of the Bath Beach Club of the Kings County Communist Party in 1944, will probably arrive in Savannah on 9/29/64 and be in attendance at this convention on 9/30/64.

Presumably, WACHTEL will be one of the guest speakers for whom rooms were reserved at the Manger Hotel.

The Manger Hotel will make room assignments on about 9/25/64 and will permit access to those rooms on that date.

EX-112 REC- 26 100-442529-94

Bureau authority is requested to make a survey of these rooms as soon as assigned to determine the feasibility and security of a MISUR installation and also to grant authority for coverage of any conferences in which WACHTEL participates, if possible, if it appears that adequate security can be guaranteed, due to the limited available time for an installation between 9/25 and 29/64.

NOTE:

The National Convention of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) is being held at Savannah, Georgia, 9/29-10/2/64. Martin Luther King, Jr., will attend and has reserved a two-room suite at the Manger Hotel. Wachtel is Executive Vice President of the Gandhi Society for Human Rights, the fund-raising adjunct of the SCLC, and was reported to be an active member of the National Lawyers Guild in 1949. Such coverage is desirable in order that we may be aware of all communist influences exerted upon King and the SCLC. The SCLC is currently under investigation to determine the extent of communist infiltration, domination and control.

In the event radio contact is missed, this message should be sent via urgent encoded teletype.

INTERNAL SECURITY

COMMUNIST INFILTRATION OF SOUTHERN CHRISTIAN LEADERSHIP CONFERENCE

By teletype 9/26/64, the Savannah Office furnished results of a survey to determine the feasibility of installing microphone coverage of Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) convention to be held at Savannah, Georgia, 9/29-10/3/64 and in particular activities of Reverend Martin Luther King, Jr., leader of the SCLC. Savannah recommends authority be granted to install such coverage for the purpose of determining the extent of communist infiltration or influence in the racial movement.

[redacted] b7E

Savannah advised that security can be assured.

Coverage will be required for four days and three nights and will be effected by radio communication with no visible connection [redacted].

It is expected that attempts will again be made to exert influence upon the SCLC and in particular on King by communists. Such coverage is desirable and it is expected that valuable information will be obtained relating to this investigation. The SCLC is currently under investigation to determine the extent of communist infiltration, domination, and/or control. Since this communist influence has in the past been exerted mainly upon King, such coverage is extremely important.

SUBJECT: HUNTER PITTS O'DELL

INTERNAL SECURITY ACT OF 1950

CIRM

The Director has instructed that there are to be no technical surveillances in cases which would thereby be tainted for prosecution.

We are presently operating a technical surveillance on [redacted] Hunter Pitts O'Dell, who was elected to the National Committee, Communist Party, USA, under an alias in December, 1959, and who, in July, 1962, was described as the "braintrust" for Martin Luther King and as being in charge of the New York Office of King's organization, the Southern Christian Leadership Conference. The technical surveillance on O'Dell was installed on October 16, 1963. b7E

Since O'Dell is a subject for possible future administrative action and criminal prosecution under the membership registration provision (Section 8) of the Internal Security Act of 1950, the New York Office is being instructed to discontinue this surveillance.

SUBJECT: COMMUNIST INFLUENCE IN RACIAL MATTERS
INTERNAL SECURITY - COMMUNIST

We currently have a technical surveillance providing information concerning the activities of [redacted] b7E for the purpose of determining the extent of communist influence upon SCLC leader Martin Luther King, Jr. This installation has provided considerable extremely valuable information relating to communist influences on the racial situation in the United States. King, as far as the general public is concerned, is one of the outstanding civil rights leaders. It is felt that this installation should be continued. OTHER Per Court Order

This installation has in the past furnished considerable information regarding the influences upon King and the SCLC by individuals connected with the communist movement. A great deal of this information has not been available from other sources. It is extremely urgent that such information continue to be available to the Bureau, particularly in view of King's prominence in the civil rights field and his contacts with high Government officials. The Bureau's responsibility in obtaining such information cannot be minimized. We are currently conducting intensified investigations on the SCLC and King because of these communist influences. An example of valuable information obtained was [redacted]. Intelligence being received from this source does not involve matters being considered for prosecution.

RECOMMENDATION:

BAYARD RUSTIN
SECURITY MATTER - COMMUNIST

The Director has instructed that there are to be no technical surveillances in cases which would thereby be tainted for prosecution.

NY 4212-S* is a technical surveillance on Bayard Rustin, [redacted] b7E It was authorized 11/1/63 and installed 11/15/63. Rustin, a former member of the Young Communist League, is an extremely active leader in the Negro movement and was Deputy Director of the 8/28/63 March on Washington. He was formerly an employee of Martin Luther King, Jr., and in recent months has been a close advisor to King, particularly in connection with King's activities relating to the Democratic National Convention recently held in Atlantic City, New Jersey. Because of the communist influences on King and the background of Rustin, who still maintains some communist associations, we have been securing very valuable information through this source.

There is no prosecutive action pending relative to Rustin and, on the basis of the facts known concerning him, none appears indicated in the foreseeable future. It would therefore be well to continue this technical surveillance because of its large contribution to our intelligence in the most important racial movement area of our responsibilities.

RECOMMENDATION:

The technical surveillance on Bayard Rustin, NY 4212-S*, be continued.

INTERNAL SECURITY - COMMUNIST

The Director has instructed that there are to be no technical surveillances in cases which would thereby be tainted for prosecution.

At the present time we are operating a technical surveillance on [redacted] of Jesse Williard Gray, Director, Community Council on Housing, [redacted]. The surveillance was authorized on 8/5/64 and was installed on 8/12/64. Gray was formerly Regional Director of the Harlem Section of the Communist Party, USA, and is currently on the Security Index. He was one of the principal agitators in the Harlem riots in New York City during July, 1964, and advance information has subsequently been received regarding his interest in or possible participation in racial demonstrations in August and September, 1964. b7E

By letter dated 9/11/64 the Department was requested to furnish an opinion as to whether information previously furnished regarding several individuals involved in the Harlem riots, including Gray, might constitute a violation of a Federal law on the part of such individuals. The Department, by letter dated 9/16/64, advised that insufficient evidence is available to warrant prosecutive action at this time. However, the Department requested that investigation be continued.

OBSERVATION:

In view of the continuing investigation of Gray looking toward the development of evidence indicating a violation of a Federal law, it is being recommended that this technical surveillance be discontinued.

Attached for approval is an airtel to the New York Office instructing that the technical surveillance on Jesse Williard Gray (NY 4596-S*) be discontinued.

Gray was one of the principal agitators in the Harlem riots in New York City. I think we have an overriding interest to keep track of what he is planning, with particular reference to possible future violence. This technical surveillance has been used and we cannot change that fact. In the event evidence is developed permitting possible prosecution, we should consider discontinuing the technical surveillance at that time.

SUBJECT: CIRM

Re Bureau letter 11/3/64 captioned as above. Further reference is made to Atlanta teletype dated 10/26/64 and Atlanta airtel dated 10/27/64.

The airtel and Letterhead Memorandum submitted by Atlanta under date of 10/27/64 referred to one Reverend HERBERT EATON (phonetic). The identity of Reverend HERBERT EATON (phonetic) is unknown to the Atlanta Office and was the most logical interpretation to be made of the phonetic name as recorded and was only determined after replaying pertinent tape on several occasions. The name was set forth erroneously in the teletype as EATONTON as at the time of submission of teletype opportunity had not been had to replay original data received. No further identifying data is known regarding Reverend HERBERT EATON (phonetic) other than as set forth in referenced communication it being noted therein that Reverend HERBERT EATON (phonetic) had been in contact with JAMES BEVEL who was at that time in Montgomery, Alabama. On the basis of this information it is assumed that Reverend EATON (phonetic) is an acquaintance of BEVEL and could well be located in the Alabama area since BEVEL was at that time in Alabama.

18. Recommendation by Assistant Director:
(If this surveillance involves cryptanalysis, include statement that decrypted material is or is not sufficiently important to continue decrypting.)

NY 4212-S* is a technical surveillance (tesur) on Bayard Rustin, [redacted], authorized 11/1/63; installed 11/15/63. Rustin, a former member of the Young Communist League and a convicted homosexual, is currently a frequent and close advisor to Martin Luther King, Jr. Considerable intelligence is available concerning the racial movement generally and the communist influences therein through coverage of the Rustin - King relationship. b7E

During the past three months very valuable information has been obtained from this source. Some examples are: On 8/24, 25/64 information obtained concerning plans of King to testify before the Platform Committee of the Democratic National Committee and strategy King intended to use at the Democratic Party Convention. On 9/25/64 and 10/6/64 information obtained concerning [redacted] speaking engagement of King. On 10/6/64 source advised concerning the Convention of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) (headed by King) held 9/29-10/2/64 and the fact that Rustin wrote a section of the SCLC program. On 10/20/64 intelligence obtained concerning plans of King and other civil rights leaders to tour the country on a "get out the vote" campaign. Valuable specifics obtained. On 10/22/64 information obtained concerning a conference between Rustin and another of King's advisors, Harry Wachtel, concerning an article to appear in "The Saturday Evening Post" under King's name. On 11/3/64 information obtained concerning a contact between Rustin and Dr. Ralph Bunche of the United Nations relative to plans for welcoming King back to the United States after he receives the Nobel Prize.

The continuing flow of information of considerable value pertaining to the civil rights movement and specifically the activities of King, [redacted], thus enabling the Bureau to keep the White House and other government officials promptly informed, dictates the desirability for continuing this source for an additional three months. Same is recommended.

Authorized 11/1/63; installed 11/15/63. Rustin, a former member of the Young Communist League and a convicted homosexual, continues as a frequent and close advisor to Martin Luther King, Jr., a principal Negro spokesman who is under communist influence. Considerable intelligence regularly flows to us concerning the racial movement generally and, specifically, communist influences therein through coverage of the Rustin - King association.

During the past 90 days, valuable information was obtained from this source. Some examples are: On 11/7/65 Rustin conferred with Harry Wachtel (another King advisor with a communist background). Arrangements were made concerning welcoming King to the United States after receiving the Nobel Peace Prize. Through this conversation, we learned of the involvement in the arrangements of two individuals who are former Party members. On 11/16 and 12/2/64 source furnished information concerning plans being made for King's trip abroad as well as his return to the United States and specifically concerning Rustin's trip to London, England, on behalf of King. On 2/2/65 we learned of a conference which King was to attend in New York City along with other prominent leaders. On 2/4/65 source told of a demonstration that was to be held the next day at the United States Courthouse, New York City, in connection with the Selma, Alabama, racial situation. On 2/8/65 we learned of the plans for King's trip to Washington, D.C., with his advisors looking toward a conference with the President and other Government officials.

The continuing flow of information of great value pertaining to the civil rights movement and the activities of King in respect to communist influences on him enables the Bureau to keep the White House and other Government offices promptly advised. This clearly indicates the desirability for continuing this tesur for another 90 days and same is so recommended.

Source advised that RUSTIN was in contact with HARRY WACHTEL (New York City Attorney and advisor to MARTIN LUTHER KING) on that date. WACHTEL advised that LEE WHITE (Special White House Assistant) had contacted him about KING's statement to the effect that he would see President JOHNSON on 2/8/65. WHITE was relating the President's annoyance at the statement.

WACHTEL said KING could meet with Attorney General KATZENBACH on 2/8/65, and said a second tentative plan was for KING to telephone the President on 2/16/65, and then see KATZENBACH on 2/18/65. (Furnished the Bureau by teletype, 2/6 and 7/65, and LHM 2/8/65, captioned, "CIRM". Atlanta and New York subjects received copies of LHM).

The purpose of the meeting was to raise money and to enlist representatives to go to Selma.

3/16/65

Source advised that RUSTIN and HARRY WACHTEL were in contact on that date in regard to President JOHNSON's speech the night before, which concerned voting rights and what he intended to do to insure them to everyone.

In light of the President's desire to go all out for the Negro, WACHTEL and RUSTIN planned strategy as to how they would go about getting the voting bill enacted.

During their conference, WACHTEL and RUSTIN talked about an SCLC Administrative Board meeting scheduled for 3/31 and 4/1-2/65, in Baltimore. (Furnished to Bureau, Atlanta, Baltimore and New York, by LHM dated 3/18/65, captioned "CIRM").

This is a recommendation that authority of the Attorney General be requested for installation of a technical surveillance on [redacted]

Since 1958 Gray has been engaged in organizing tenants in the Harlem area of New York City and operates as a local rent strike organizer. He was an organizer for the Communist Party between 1950 and 1958. In November, 1958, he was officially relieved of his duties as Regional Director of the Harlem Section of the Communist Party; however, he did not resign from the Communist Party. Although we have no evidence that Gray is currently a Communist Party member, William Patterson, a national Communist Party functionary, in January, 1964, described Gray as being friendly to the Communist Party. Gray has the confidence of both communist and militant racial leaders in the New York City area. He is on the Security Index. Gray was one of the principal agitators in the Harlem riots in New York City during July, 1964, and was the leader of a protest meeting on July 19, 1964, where Communist Party functionaries were in the audience. Gray reportedly called for "100 skilled black revolutionaries who are ready to die" to correct what he termed "the police brutality situation in Harlem."

A technical surveillance was maintained on [redacted] from August to October, 1964. It provided valuable information regarding racial agitators and communist infiltration of racial matters.

New York has conducted a survey of [redacted] and assures the installation can be made with full security. There is no indication of possible prosecution of Gray at this time or in the foreseeable future. At the present time we have 58 investigative-type surveillances in operation and 11 are awaiting installation.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE ATTORNEY GENERAL

RE: JESSE WILLIARD GRAY

JUNE

Jesse Williard Gray was officially relieved of his duties as Regional Director of the Harlem Section of the Communist Party, USA, in November, 1958. In January, 1964, William L. Patterson, a Communist Party functionary, reportedly stated Gray was friendly to the Communist Party. Gray is currently described as the Director of the Community Council on Housing, New York, New York, and operates as a local rent strike organizer.

Gray has been described by various sources as one of the principal agitators in connection with the 1964 riots in the Harlem area of New York City. In particular, he was reported as the leader of a protest meeting in New York City on July 19, 1964, at which time Gray reportedly called for "100 skilled black revolutionaries who are ready to die" to correct what he termed "the police brutality situation in Harlem."

In order to further cover the activities of Gray, it is requested that you authorize technical surveillance coverage [redacted]

Reairtel 7/28/65 requesting authority to conduct a survey to determine the feasibility of re-establishing a technical surveillance (tesur) on [redacted]

Authority for survey is granted provided that it can be conducted with full security. No mention is made as to any background concerning [redacted]. It must, therefore, be insured that there is nothing about this individual which would preclude the intended survey. When reporting the results of the survey and your recommendation relative to installation, include information concerning [redacted] so that the Bureau may be fully informed.

b7E

For your future guidance, note that the element of security was not commented upon in reairtel as required. There also should have been some comment concerning [redacted].

The fact that Gus Hall has indicated that O'Dell has been hired on a full-time basis to work "secretly" in recruiting into the Communist Party, USA, (CPUSA) Negroes from the civil rights movement affords the Bureau a golden opportunity for exploitation in two important areas.

First, you should immediately undertake to discreetly and skillfully guide appropriate informants, potential informants and racial sources into a position whereby they might be recruited into the Party by O'Dell. This would enable the Bureau not only to enhance the developments of our sources but gain for us most valuable intelligence.

Re Atlanta airtel dated 8/5/65, captioned COMINFIL OF SNCC, IS-C, wherein Atlanta reported the discontinuance of AT 1388-S* and AT 1389-S*.

Atlanta recommends the discontinuance of AT 1383-S* and AT 1384-S*, both of which sources provide coverage on [redacted]. With the discontinuance of these two sources Atlanta will continue to have coverage [redacted] through AT 1380-S*, AT 1381-S*, AT 1382-S*, AT 1385-S* and AT 1386-S*. b7E

The discontinuance of these two sources is recommended so that coverage previously afforded by AT 1388-S* and AT 1389-S* might be reinstituted on [redacted] immediately.

It is noted that with the discontinuance of AT 1388-S* and AT 1389-S*, all coverage [redacted] was eliminated. It is believed that the Bureau's investigative responsibilities can better be accomplished through the discontinuance of AT 1383-S* and AT 1384-S*, rather than AT 1388-S* and AT 1389-S*, as was done on 8/5/65.

The remaining sources [redacted] will continue to provide adequate coverage of the activities of [redacted].

RE: BAYARD RUSTIN
SECURITY MATTER - COMMUNIST

A technical surveillance was instituted on [redacted] on November 15, 1963. Rustin is a former member of the Young Communist League, an organization which has been designated subversive pursuant to Executive Order 10450. He has for many years maintained an association with members of the Communist Party, USA. Rustin is a principal leader in the civil rights movement and is frequently an advisor to Martin Luther King, Jr.

This technical surveillance has provided much valuable intelligence concerning communist influences in the civil rights movement, particularly through specific communist influences upon King. It has also been a prolific source relative to advance planning of racial demonstrations throughout the country. Some examples will serve to illustrate.

In February, 1965, information was obtained concerning King's meeting with his advisors who have communist backgrounds prior to a meeting which King had with the President and you. During March, 1965, we learned of the plans of King and the aforementioned advisors relative to the marches which tools place that month in the Selma - Montgomery, Alabama, area. In April, 1965, we learned that King was joining others to protest the United States policy relative to Vietnam.

Unless you instruct to the contrary, this technical surveillance will be continued for an additional six months.

Respectfully,

John Edgar Hoover
Director

6/24/65

Source advised that RUSTIN was in contact with an unidentified female, during which time he told her that he was going to Europe for two weeks. He indicated he would be leaving New York City during week of 6/28-7/2/65, and would return on 7/17/65. The purpose of the trip, according to the source, was to fulfill a speaking engagement in London, England.

The source advised that MARTIN LUTHER KING, RUSTIN, HARRY WACHTEL, and ANDREW YOUNG conferred on that date about the SCLC Convention (8/9-13/65).

It was during this conference that KING asked what resolution at the convention would be most newsworthy, prompting all to agree that it would be the one on Vietnam. Furthermore, it was agreed that RUSTIN should prepare a memorandum on the question, and prepare an open letter to the President, to the Premier of Russia, and to the heads of all countries involved in the Vietnam conflict. The letter was to have been written in KING's name, and was to urge negotiations to end the conflict.

17. Remarks (By SAC):

As reported in the past, this source is in a position to furnish extremely valuable information concerning civil rights activities, and activities of MARTIN LUTHER KING, one of the most active civil rights leaders. In addition to this type information, the source has furnished information about KING's position on Vietnam, and it is anticipated that the source will continue to do so. In view of these factors, NYO is of the opinion that the source should be continued.

18. Recommendation by Assistant Director: CONFIDENTIAL

Ny 4212-S* is a domestic intelligence technical surveillance on Bayard Rustin, [redacted] b7E [redacted]. It was authorized on 11/1/63 and installed on 11/15/63. Rustin, a former member of the Young Communist League and a convicted homosexual, continues to be a frequent and close advisor to Martin Luther King, Jr., President of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference. Considerable intelligence is regularly furnished by this source concerning the racial movement generally and, specifically, communist influences therein through coverage of the Rustin-King association.

During the past 90 days, valuable information was obtained from this source. Some examples are: On 5/9/65, King conferred with Rustin and Harry Wachtel, another of his advisors and a member of the National Lawyers Guild in the late 1940's. On 5/23/65, Rustin and Wachtel were in contact concerning a meeting of King and his advisors and a meeting of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference scheduled for 6/10/65 in Virginia. Source furnished information on 6/24/65 concerning the dates and purpose of a trip to Europe being taken by Rustin. The source also furnished information on 7/23/65 that Rustin had returned from Europe. The source in late July and early August, 1965, has furnished information that he is preparing speeches and other material for King concerning the Vietnamese situation. This material prepared by Rustin is sent out under King's name.

The above are examples of the continuing flow of information pertaining to the civil rights movement and the activities of King in respect to communist influences on him which enables the Bureau to keep the White House and other Government agencies promptly advised. In addition, the source has furnished information about King's position on Vietnam and it is anticipated that the source will continue to do so. In view of these factors, it is recommended that this technical surveillance be continued for another 90 days.

By memorandum to the Attorney General dated 6/4/65, he was advised that this technical surveillance was being continued for an additional six months.

It is noted that the indicated informants are sensitive sources relating to Stanley Levison and Bayard Rustin. It is not indicated in retels or in the confirming airtels and letterhead memoranda submitted by your office as to just how it came about that the sources were able to supply the information. That is, it would appear that the sources learned of the information through a contact between Levison and another individual and between Rustin and another individual. Such facts, however, are not indicated in the referenced teletypes.

This is being brought to your office's attention for future guidance with the suggestion that communications contain a very brief indication as to how the information was derived. This will then enable the Bureau to be more fully informed and, if desirable, include such a fact in dissemination made by the Bureau. As you are aware, information concerning King's conferences with his advisors is of prime interest and frequently is given immediate dissemination at very high levels by the Bureau. Source advised during that afternoon MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR. and BAYARD RUSTIN were in contact about the Los Angeles riots. In that regard, KING said he was going to make a statement to the Press, therefore, wanted RUSTIN's opinion. RUSTIN then recommended to KING that he make several points (points enumerated in teletype to Bureau, Los Angeles, 8/14/65, captioned "RACIAL SITUATION - LOS ANGELES; MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR.").

Furnished information that RUSTIN contacted ROY WILKINS of NAACP and advised that President JOHNSON wanted A. PHILIP RANDOLPH to chair a 11/17-18/65 conference which the President had called. Information by the source revealed that WILKINS and RUSTIN also discussed the Los Angeles riots and the fact that KING had been asked to mediate the crisis. Both KING and WILKINS agreed that KING would embarrass himself if he went to Los Angeles and that he would accomplish nothing.

Furnished to Bureau and Birmingham by teletype dated 8/14/65, captioned "COMINFIL SCLC". Also set forth in airtel and LHM dated 8/16/65, captioned, "CIRM".

Source advised that MARTIN LUTHER KING contacted RUSTIN and persuaded him to join him in Los Angeles later that date. KING and RUSTIN's trip was to try to solve the race problem in that city.

On the same date, RUSTIN contacted HARRY WACHTEL to relate to him the five Point Program he had prepared for KING to be used by KING while in Los Angeles.

Above information furnished to Director, Los Angeles and Atlanta by teletype dated 8/17/65, and captioned "CIRM". This same information has subsequently been furnished to Bureau, Atlanta, Los Angeles and NY files by airtel and LHM dated 8/18/65 and captioned as above.

Source furnished information disclosing that MARTIN LUTHER KING, BAYARD RUSTIN and other advisors to KING, conferred on KING's position on Vietnam. The conference opened with an agreement that KING would not write letters to the leaders of various world powers. The letters he had planned to write would have urged negotiations to end the war.

Source advised that RUSTIN was in conversation with a Mr. ABRAMS (MORRIS) of the White House staff, during which time ABRAMS invited RUSTIN to a meeting at the White House at 3:30 PM (date not specified) to represent A. PHILIP RANDOLPH.

Submitted by teletype dated 10/29/65, captioned "CIRM".

The source advised that BAYARD RUSTIN was in contact with one LEROY FINCH, during which time they discussed the War Resistors League and A.J.MUSTE (Dean of the Socialist Pacifists). RUSTIN said MUSTE and the League were "mixing the Pacifists up with the neo-Marxists and this will discredit the Pacifists position". According to the source, RUSTIN and FINCH said they were worried because the League was embracing Communism.

RUSTIN, after expressing his disappointments over the actions of MUSTE and the War Resistors League, said he was resigning from the Executive Board of the League, from the Committee for Non-Violent Action (CNVA) and from the Editorial Staff of "Liberation" magazine.

The contact ended on a note that the "WRL is carrying on a dangerous flirtation with the old line Communists". Submitted to Bureau by airtel and LHM dated 11/17/65, captioned "WAR RESISTORS LEAGUE".

MEMORANDUM FOR THE ATTORNEY GENERAL

RE: BAYARD RUSTIN
SECURITY MATTER - COMMUNIST

Technical surveillance was instituted on [redacted] b7E on November 15, 1963. Rustin is a former member of the Young Communist League, an organization which has been designated subversive pursuant to Executive Order 10450. He has for many years maintained an association with members of the Communist Party, USA. Rustin is a principal leader in the civil rights movement and is a frequent and close advisor to Martin Luther King, Jr.

This technical surveillance has provided much valuable information concerning communist influences in the civil rights movement, particularly through specific communist influences upon King. It has also provided information concerning the communist influences upon King relative to King's position concerning the Vietnam situation. Some examples will serve to illustrate.

In July, August and September, 1965, information was obtained that Rustin was preparing speeches and other material as well as counseling King in respect to the Vietnam situation. In this regard, it is noted that King has been taking a position opposed to this country's foreign policy relative to Vietnam. During August, 1965, Rustin closely counseled King relative to the position which the latter took and expressions made by King concerning the riots which had occurred in Los Angeles, California, during that month. Information was also obtained concerning the role which Rustin played as an advisor to King relative to a conference of civil-rights leaders which was held in Washington, D. C., November 17-18, 1965.

Unless you instruct to the contrary, this technical surveillance will be continued for an additional six months.

It encompasses [redacted], AT 1380-S* through AT 1388-S*. The monthly cost of this installation is [redacted], which includes [redacted]. Private monitoring site used for security reasons.

This installation consistently furnishes examples of communist influence or attempted communist influence on King and on the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, which is not available through any other source. This information is widely disseminated to other Government agencies and frequently to the White House. A few examples of information furnished to the White House are as follows:

OBSERVATIONS:

King is the foremost civil rights figure in the country and has an international following. A number of his key advisors as well as some officers in the Southern Christian Leadership Conference have been Communist Party members or affiliated with other subversive organizations. This surveillance indicates the extent of influence being exerted on King by these individuals. It reveals the part these individuals play in policy-making decisions with King; assistance which they render King in his writings and speeches; and the advice and counsel they give King in his declarations concerning United States foreign policy.

RECOMMENDATION:

In order that the Bureau may carry out its responsibilities on uncovering and disseminating all information indicating communist influence in racial matters, including the increasing tendency to merge peace issues with civil rights, it is mandatory that we maintain coverage of King. Thus, it is recommended this technical surveillance be retained.

ReBu telephone call by Supervisor EDWARD REDDY, 1/19/66, concerning justification of NY 4212-S*, a source close to BAYARD RUSTIN.

Here follows items of information furnished by the source subsequent to the last justification.

On 1/2/66, NY 4212-S* furnished information that BAYARD RUSTIN and HARRY WACHTEL were in contact. They discussed the possibility of RUSTIN going down there (to Atlanta) on 1/14/66 to attend the Executive meeting of the Foundation (American Foundation for Non-Violence). RUSTIN was uncertain but would try to make it.

Although the source, in the recent past has not been furnishing the information it previously furnished, it should be noted that MARTIN LUTHER KING has been an admirer of RUSTIN and has sought his opinions on policy matters of the SCLC. It should be noted also that KING has not been as active in the recent past as he had been. Currently plans are under way by KING and the SCLC to begin intensified work in the civil rights field in the north, particularly in Chicago.

It is also noted that a tax exempt organization, the American Committee for Non-Violence has been formed by KING to accelerate the fund collecting apparatus of the SCLC. Therefore, it is believed that RUSTIN will be called upon as he had in the past, to play an important part in KING's operations.

It is therefore believed that NY 4212-S* should be retained.

BAYARD RUSTIN
SECURITY MATTER - C

On November 15, 1963, a technical surveillance, NY 4212-S*, was instituted on Bayard Rustin, [redacted] He is a former member of the Young Communist League and has for many years maintained contact with some Communist Party, USA, leaders. He is a known sexual pervert. Rustin is a prominent Negro civil rights leader and a close advisor to Martin Luther King, Jr. The purpose of this surveillance is to determine communist influence on Rustin's activities in the civil rights movement, as well as influence exerted on King by Rustin. b7E

This surveillance costs [redacted] It is monitored at [redacted]

This surveillance has provided valuable information concerning Rustin's influence in the civil rights movement and the peace movement, particularly through his specific influence on King. In July, August, and September, 1965, this source furnished information that Rustin was preparing speeches and counseling King in respect to the Vietnam situation. Rustin closely counseled King relative to the position which King took concerning the riots which occurred in Los Angeles, California, in August, 1965, the source reported.

King, in the Summer of 1965, became the center of violent controversy when he indicated he planned to write letters as a peace move to the heads of all countries involved in the Vietnam situation. By memorandum dated September 16, 1965, we furnished the White House information from this source that King would not write the proposed letters, as he had previously indicated. This was the initial indication that King had backed down from his controversial plan. This source also furnished information concerning the role Rustin played in arranging for a conference of civil rights leaders to be held at the White House in November, 1965. This information was furnished the White House on August 17, 1965, far in advance of the scheduled conference.

100-158790

Rustin is in close contact with Stanley Levison, Clarence Jones and Harry Wachtel, all key advisors to King who have backgrounds linking them to the communist movement. He is probably King's outstanding contact man with various Negro leaders. Evidence that Rustin still plays an important part in King's activities was furnished by the source on 1/2/66, when Rustin was contacted by Harry Wachtel to see if Rustin would go to Atlanta, Georgia on 1/14/66 to participate in the scheduled executive meeting of the American Foundation for Non-Violence, a new tax exempted organization formed as a fund-collecting apparatus for King's Southern Christian Leadership Conference. Rustin indicated he would try to attend this meeting.

OBSERVATION:

Rustin is a very competent individual who is widely known in the civil rights field. He is personally familiar with numerous individuals with communist backgrounds. As one of Martin Luther King's closest advisors, he is in a position to wield considerable influence on King's activities. Technical coverage of Rustin is an important part of the over-all coverage of King, who is the most prominent civil rights leader in the country today. Because of the influence being exerted on King by persons with subversive backgrounds, it is necessary for us to maintan coverage of individuals such as Rustin.

RECOMMENDATION:

In order to fulfill the Bureau's responsibilities to uncover communist influence in racial matters, it is recommended that technical coverage of Rustin be continued.

Communist Influence in Racial Matters; Internal Security - C

Since 7/24/64 your office has been submitting summary teletypes on a near daily basis bearing the dual caption as above. These summaries were necessitated by the racial situation generally and the subversive influences attendant growing out of the killing on 7/16/64 of James Powell by a New York City Police Lieutenant.

Effective immediately, it will no longer be necessary to submit summary teletypes as heretofore. This instruction, however, should not be interpreted as meaning any de-emphasis in your office's investigation, following and dissemination in connection with racial matters generally and the communist influence therein. Each specific incident or situation arising must be fully evaluated, prompt investigative attention given and the necessary dissemination made, including advice to the Bureau in a manner consistent with the importance and urgency of the situation. Communications should bear the appropriate caption depending upon the matter involved.

I cannot emphasize too strongly the absolute necessity for remaining on top of the situation in every respect and if there is any indication that a situation may be developing similar to that which was set off by the Powell shooting, the Bureau should be promptly advised.

NOTE:

The institution of summary teletypes was made jointly by the Bureau and D. E. Moore and F. J. Baumgardner representing the Bureau when they went to New York City at the height of the disorders growing out of the Powell shooting. The summary teletypes were a most effective means of keeping the Bureau informed and enabling us to keep the White House and others outside the Bureau advised most promptly. For approximately the past 2 weeks there has been extremely little activity in New York City growing out of the Powell shooting. There have been, as always, sporadic efforts by various groups relating to a variety of matters, some racial and others not. For example, some of the demonstrations pertained to protesting the President's action in Vietnam. It is believed that the necessity for the summaries no longer exists and, therefore, ought to be discontinued and coverage of New York with advice to the Bureau handled as set out in the above instructions.

SUBJECT: COMMUNIST PARTY, USA
NEGRO QUESTION
COMMUNIST INFLUENCE IN RACIAL MATTERS
INTERNAL SECURITY - COMMUNIST

BACKGROUND:

The enclosed document captioned as above has been prepared to depict the extent of communist influence in the Negro movement.

The document was prepared as a working paper. Thus, it is purposely lengthy to provide as complete a picture as possible and furnish as much information as possible so that every facet of the information deemed desirable will be available.

SYNOPSIS OF ATTACHED DOCUMENT:

The Communist Party has been exploiting present racial unrest in the United States successfully. Benjamin J. Davis, Communist Party, USA, National Secretary, expressed the view of the Party when he said the Negro racial unrest, while not yet "a proletarian revolution- is the next thing to it. Communist Party plans call for the control and direction of the entire Negro movement.

In carrying out its activities in the Negro movement, communists have participated in demonstrations in Atlanta, Baltimore, Birmingham, Brooklyn, Buffalo, Cambridge (Maryland), Chicago, Cleveland, Danville (Virginia), Englewood (New Jersey), Newark, New Orleans, New York City, the New York World's Fair, Philadelphia, Paterson (New Jersey), Wheeling (West Virginia), St. Louis, South Bend, and Seattle. In the March on Washington, D.C., which took place August 28, 1963, Gus Hall, Party head, estimated 5,000 communists participated in one way or the other.

Evidence submitted in the details of this study shows definite communist influence in such racial organizations as: Southern Christian Leadership Conference; Congress of Racial Equality; Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee; National Association for the Advancement of Colored People; Negro American Labor Council; Southern Conference Educational Fund; and African-American Heritage Association. The first named is Martin Luther King's organization, and he has been seeking, accepting and acting upon counsel and advice from Stanley Levison, a secret ideological communist. In various ways officials of the Communist Party from time to time have given support to the Southern Christian Leadership Conference. Communists also have supported the other organizations mentioned in one form or the other.

Martin Luther King has been described in high Party circles as a Marxist but he does not dare to so admit publicly because of his religious front. In the light of his relationship to Levison, for all practical purposes King constitutes a communist tool. In addition to King's relationship to communism, it is well known to the Bureau that he is a moral degenerate.

The communist drive to control and lead the Negro movement in the United States is today the greatest single threat of our internal security. With some twenty million Negroes in the United States, there is contained in this segment of the population a tremendous potential for communist exploitation. In recent months the evidence that the communists are steadily making headway with the Negro movement is unmistakable.

OBSERVATIONS:

We left no stone unturned to furnish a comprehensive picture. In so doing, we necessarily included information from two of our most sensitive informants, NY 694-S* and CG 5824-S*. We suggest that information from these informants be treated with utmost care.

RECOMMENDATION:

"Coggins said neither he nor his scheduled speakers, Jesse Gray, New York rent strike leader, and Huldah Clark, 17-year-old Newark girl, can come to Trenton.

"Miss Clark is leaving tonight to begin her fourth year of schooling Russia, Coggins said, and he is going to New York to see her off. Gray will be at the Democratic National Convention in Atlantic City.

"Coggins has encountered stiff opposition from public officials and other Negro leaders in recent attempts to hold rallies in Elizabeth, Paterson, Newark, and Trenton. His meetings in Newark July 29 and Elizabeth Tuesday night were small and orderly. His Paterson meeting was prevented by Mayor Frank X. Graves." b6 b7C

A Special Agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation observed an LNVC rally on August 27, 1964, in Trenton, New Jersey, at the Five Point Battle Memorial. The rally started as 8:45 p.m. with the arrival of Clarence Coggins and [redacted]

The initial crowd was small with about twenty-five people. The Trenton, New Jersey, Police Department divided its full force, one hundred and thirty-five members, into two equal groups. The first group dispersed throughout the crowd dressed in ordinary police uniforms. Police had riot equipment, including crash helmets, secreted in an armored car nearby.

The first speaker was [redacted] who identified himself as a Newark, New Jersey, resident, [redacted] of the LNVC. He complained that Trenton authorities had shown the Vanguard no courtesies in its attempt to hold the rally. Rent control in Trenton, [redacted] said, was the main reason for holding the rally and he claimed that this must be the reason why city authorities were afraid to cooperate. [redacted] said it was time to consider the causes behind racial disturbances in various American cities. This, he added, was the purpose for which the Vanguard was currently campaigning.

RACIAL DEMONSTRATION
NEWARK DIVISION

[redacted] said that Jesse Gray, leader of the Harlem Rent Strike in New York, was not there because of the "affair in Atlantic City", apparently meaning the Democratic National Convention.

[redacted] introduced Clarence Coggins as the National Provisional Chairman of the LNVC. Coggins said that he was not afraid of violence, but also that he did not advise the use of violence by Negroes to achieve their aims because violence had never worked for the Negro. Coggins claimed that his purpose in bringing the Vanguard to Trenton was to organize the Negroes to obtain their rightful share of prosperity.

Both [redacted] and Coggins were observed circulating in the crowd, obtaining signatures. They promised to return to Trenton again, expressing satisfaction with the size of the crowd which had grown to about one hundred and fifty people.

There were no incidents or demonstrations at the rally. Prominent Trenton Negro leaders were observed in the crowd calming down individuals who became excited during the rally.

in efforts to bring disgruntled CP members to their respective camps and are working jointly in the political field. FARRELL DOBBS, National Secretary of the SWP, has asked SWP members to support the LNVP.

The third source advised on June 26, 1963, that due to mutual suspicion, the drive toward unity between these two organizations has ceased.

On January 15, 1963, the first source advised that the LNVP is now using the name LABOR-NEGRO VANGUARD CONFERENCE (LNVC) and is the name the organization is now known by and under which name all leaflets are issued.

On June 28, 1963, the first source stated that the LNVC does not exist on a national scale, and although CLARENCE COGGINS, Chairman of the LNVC, has traveled through the eastern portion of the country to promote the LNVC, the only organized group to date exists in New Jersey.

On May 18, 1964, a fourth source advised that the LNVC has divided its New Jersey group into three branches, with one each in Newark, Jersey City, and Orange.

COMMUNIST PARTY, USA
NEGRO QUESTION
COMMUNIST INFLUENCE IN RACIAL MATTERS
INTERNAL SECURITY - C
(BUDED 11/1/64)

The Bureau has always recognized that there is communist influence in the racial movement. Our investigations of the Communist Party, USA (CPUSA), allied groups and individuals sympathetic to communism have borne this out. Simultaneous with the increasing tempo of activities in the racial field, we witnessed a stepping up of communist activities to influence the racial movement. These activities have taken a variety of forms ranging from mere general verbal support to actual direct-action influence. The subversives involved are also of various shades--some are bona fide current members of the CPUSA or such a basic revolutionary group as the Socialist Workers Party; some are former members of these groups; and still others encompass a wide variety and degree of subversive associations and connections, past and present.

Our investigations developing this type of information have also been under the title of a variety of matters such as CPUSA, Negro Question, Communist Influence in Racial Matters; communist infiltration of various organizations such as the Congress of Racial Equality, Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee and the like; investigations of numerous subversive individuals active in the racial movement; investigations of communist fronts and other miscellaneous organizations; and a great many racial disturbances and other racial matters which we have investigated under the Racial Matter character.

There has been no letup in the activities requiring our investigative attention. Rather, there have been increasing evidences of a continuing upsurge in racial activities. The news media of recent months mirror the civil rights issue as probably the number one domestic issue in the political spectrum. There are clear and unmistakable signs that we are in the midst of a social revolution with the racial movement as its core. The Bureau, in meeting its responsibilities in this area, is an integral part of this revolution. Making our work more difficult has been the controversial nature of the issues involved.

With the foregoing as a background to underscore the extreme importance of this matter, the Bureau desires to again emphasize the absolute necessity for affording all aspects of this matter prompt, decisive, imaginative, aggressive and intensive investigative effort, as well as insuring that the Bureau is promptly advised, on a continuing basis, of all pertinent developments. The Bureau's responsibilities as to dissemination must be evermore borne in mind and pertinent information submitted in a memorandum suitable for dissemination.

In addition, the Bureau desires the field to compile in a single investigative report pertinent information developed to date, with a subsequent updating by the submission of investigative reports on a quarterly basis. These reports should include information heretofore reported in the section entitled "Negro Question--Communist Influence in Racial Matters" of the quarterly reports pertaining to the CPUSA, as well as information being regularly reported under the many other titles referred to in paragraph two, page one, of instant communication. It will no longer be necessary to include a section concerning this matter in the Party reports; however, there should continue to be a reporting of this information under the various other titles. It is recognized that there will be some duplication in reporting. However, this is necessary in order to adequately investigate and report the substantive matters and at the same time provide for a centralized reporting, thus facilitating the necessary evaluation and analysis by the Bureau and other agencies and officials of the Government.

The Bureau is closing its subfile, 100-3-116, and opening a new file, 100-442529, which will be devoted exclusively to this matter and be entitled "Communist Influence in Racial Matters, Internal Security - C" (code name "CIRM"). This instruction is effective immediately and is applicable not only to the reports discussed herein but to all communications in this matter. Note that "CPUSA" has been dropped from the title as we are concerned with all communist efforts, whether they be of the Communist Party or other communist groups. Each field office should likewise close its file or subfile relating to the CPUSA, Negro Question, Communist Influence in Racial Matters, and open a new file or subfile relating to this matter. This new file shall serve as a repository for all pertinent information and thus facilitate the submission of the required quarterly reports.

The initial investigative report in this matter, as succeeding reports, will be designed to precisely spell out the full extent of the communist influence. It will separate words and intentions from actions; mere participation from direct influence; and the bona fide communist from the mere "do-gooder." It shall serve as an in-depth factual analysis of the entire problem of communist influence in racial matters. It will not include information concerning legitimate efforts in the racial movement where there is no communist taint. Material for the initial report is, for the most part, already available--it is spread throughout the CPUSA, Negro Question, Communist Influence in Racial Matters, file and related files mentioned above. The field's task, then, is the comprehensive review of all pertinent files; the cataloging and documenting of all pertinent information in accordance with a prescribed outline and certain guidelines; and the submission of same to the Bureau.

A secondary purpose to be accomplished by the review and preparation of the initial report will be to enable the field, and the Bureau as well, to make a self-analysis of all facets of our investigation in this area so that we may expand and intensify our investigations of those phases indicating a need thereof.

Instructions--Guidelines

All offices are instructed to review all pertinent files, pending and closed, which will uncover the type of information desired as indicated by the outline which is an enclosure to this communication. While those files mentioned above should contain most of the information needed, they are only intended as a guide and should not be considered as all-inclusive.

Letter to Albany
RE: COMMUNIST PARTY, USA
NEGRO QUESTION
COMMUNIST INFLUENCE IN RACIAL MATTERS

(1) The initial investigative report is intended to primarily depict the current situation rather than serve as a historical-type document. We are therefore principally concerned with the racial movement during the past year and three quarters. Use the period commencing 1/1/63 as a general guideline; however, extraordinary situations arising earlier should be considered for inclusion. Likewise, if a current situation had its genesis prior to 1/1/63 sufficient information prior to that date should be used to make the current situation meaningful.

(2) Generally speaking, it will be necessary for only the office covering an activity to report it, as well as the characterizations of persons involved. For example, if a racial demonstration took place in Cleveland with Cleveland residents involved, it should be reported by the Cleveland Office. If a New York Office informant reports on the Cleveland matter to the New York Office, it should not be reported by the New York Office but be considered by Cleveland in its submission as Cleveland will already have been sent such information by the New York Office. On the other hand, for such a far-flung activity as the 8/28/63 March on Washington, it will be incumbent upon each office having subjects who attended or otherwise participated to include the information in its submission.

(3) The attached outline should be followed as to the numbered and lettered items. Where further breakdowns by numbers and letters are practical, it will be permissible to do so.

(4) When an activity by an organization is reported under II, the details should not be repeated under III concerning the organization. It will be necessary only, under III, to refer to the particular activity as appearing under II.

(5) Where specific pertinent information set out in the outline is not available through file review, immediate discreet inquiry should be made to obtain same. For example, if the officers of an organization covered under III in the outline are not known, secure their identities. Only established reliable sources may be contacted in this regard without prior Bureau authority.

(6) It may be necessary in some instances for an office reporting on an activity to secure characterizing information regarding individuals and/or organizations from offices covering those individuals or organizations. This should be done as soon as possible so that there will be no delay in the submission of the item by the originating (as to activity) office.

(7) An original and eight copies of all reports should be submitted by each field office. Any office which has absolutely no information to report, either in the initial report or the quarterly reports thereafter, is permitted to so advise the Bureau by letter in lieu of a report. If any positive information, however limited, is available, it must be submitted by report.

(8) The initial investigative report should be submitted to reach the Bureau by 11/1/64. Thereafter, quarterly reports should be submitted to reach the Bureau by February 1, May 1, August 1 and November 1 of each year.

(9) All main headings denoted by Roman numerals in the attached outline must be accounted for in all reports. If there is no information to report under a particular main heading, the heading should appear, followed by a statement "No information developed."

(10) As to individuals involved, we are concerned primarily with subversive characterizing information coincident with the period of activity. For example, if an individual organized, participated in or was otherwise associated with a racial activity on 1/1/64, his membership in the CPUSA and other subversive groups as of that date would be most pertinent. Of course, if a subversive connection as of the date of activity cannot be established, the next best thing would be to establish a subversive connection as soon prior to the activity as possible. Generally speaking, characterizations of individuals should be as succinct and pointed as possible. For example, if an individual's Party membership is established, a long recitation of other connections, such as with fronts, would be unnecessary. Good judgment must be exercised in characterizing individuals, as with all other phases relating to the collection of facts for the report. If a person holds a particularly key position in the racial movement and, besides being a Party member also has a long history of communist activities, it may be well to very briefly summarize his subversive background. When characterizing a person as a Party member, indicate the highest position held in the Party. When referring to former Party members, include dates of membership.

(11) The term "communist" should be interpreted in its broad sense as including persons not only adhering to the principles of the CPUSA itself, but also to such splinter and offshoot groups as the Socialist Workers Party, Progressive Labor and the like.

(12) The characterizations of individuals and organizations should be handled in the same manner as presently prescribed for security reports.

(13) Unless otherwise indicated herein, the regular report writing rules for security reports shall be applicable.

as to whether subversives directed, controlled, instigated or merely participated; whether violence resulted and, if so, whether subversives involved; arrests of subversives and court disposition; and any other information believed pertinent to the over-all picture of communist influence. Efforts by supporting groups to avoid communist involvement should also be reported. If a particular event had no communist involvement, it should, of course, not be included in the document.

III - COMMUNIST PENETRATION AND INFLUENCE IN RACIAL AND OTHER ORGANIZATIONS

Field offices should set out information concerning only the local branches of the organizations which are in its territory. The office covering the national headquarters of an organization should set out pertinent data as to the national headquarters, as well as any local affiliates in its territory, separating the national from the locals. The number of members, nationally and by locals, should be indicated. Include under each organization information as to officers and others in positions of influence who have present or past subversive connections; information as to other subversives who are merely members; specific evidence of influence wielded by subversives; policy concerning communist participation in the organization's activities, such as prohibition of communists holding office or membership; (if no such stated policy, so indicate); and use and distribution of communist propaganda.

IV - MISCELLANEOUS

If at all possible, information to be included should be set out under the basic main headings I, II or III. However, should there be some pertinent information to report which does not lend itself to the first three parts, it will be permissible to include it in Part IV - MISCELLANEOUS.

W.E.B. DU BOIS CLUBS OF AMERICA

A source has advised that on October 26-27, 1963, a conference of members of the COMMUNIST PARTY (CP), including National Functionaries, met in Chicago, Illinois, for the purpose of setting in motion forces for the establishment of a new national Marxist oriented youth organization which would hunt for the most peaceful transition to socialism. The delegates to this meeting were cautioned against the germ of anti-Soviet and anti-CP ideologies. These delegates were also told that it would be reasonable to assume that the young socialists attracted into this new organization would eventually pass into the CP itself.

A second conference of over 20 persons met in Chicago on December 28-29, 1963, for the purpose of initiating a "call" to the new youth organization and planning for a founding convention to be held in June, 1964.

A second source has advised that the founding convention for the new youth organization was held from June 19-21, 1964, at 150 Golden Gate Avenue, San Francisco, California, at which time the name W.E.B. DU BOIS CLUBS OF AMERICA was adopted. Approximately 500 delegates from throughout the United States attended this convention. The aims of this organization, as set forth in the preamble to the constitution, are, "It is our belief that this nation can best solve its problems in an atmosphere of peaceful co-existence, complete disarmament and true freedom for all peoples of the world, and that these solutions will be reached mainly through the united efforts of all democratic elements in our country, composed essentially of the working people allied in the unity of Negroes and other minorities with whites. We further fully recognize that the greatest threat to American democracy comes from the racist and right wing forces in coalition with the most reactionary sections of the economic power structure, using the tool of anti-communism to divide and destroy the unified struggle of the working people. As young people in the forces struggling for democracy, we shall actively strive to defeat these reactionary and neo-fascist elements and to achieve complete freedom and democracy for all Americans, thus enabling each individual to freely choose and build the society he would wish to live in. Through these struggles we feel the American people will realize the viability of the socialist alternatives."

CONFIDENTIAL

The constitution further states that this new organization shall be a membership organization open to individuals or if five or more people so desire a chapter can be formed which shall in turn be guided by the policies and principles of the parent organization.

The second source has also advised that at the founding convention it was voted that the organization should be temporarily headquartered in San Francisco, California, although no specific physical location was decided upon. This same source advised on June 29, 1964, that the temporary headquarters of this organization is 1007 Mc Allister Street, San Francisco, which is the headquarters of the W.E.B. Du Bois Club of San Francisco.

Both sources have advised that at the founding convention two officers were elected:

PHILIP CHAPIN DAVIS, President, and
CARL ELLENGER BLOICE, Publications Chairman.

A third source has advised that on October 26, 1962, PHILIP DAVIS attended a CP recruiting class held at 1579 Scenic Avenue, Berkeley, California.

A fourth source has advised that CARL BLOICE, reporter for the "People's World" newspaper, was, on April 3, 1964, elected to the newly organized San Francisco County Committee of the CP.

The "People's World" is a West Coast communist newspaper published weekly in San Francisco, California.

W. E. B. DU BOIS CLUBS OF AMERICA

A source has advised that on October 26-27, 1963 a conference of members of the Communist Party (CP), including National Functionaries, met in Chicago, Illinois, for the purpose of setting in motion forces for the establishment of a new national Marxist oriented youth organization which would hunt for the most peaceful transition to socialism. The delegates to this meeting were cautioned against the germ of anti-Soviet and anti-CP ideologies. These delegates were also told that it would be reasonable to assume that the young socialists attracted into this new organization would eventually pass into the CP itself.

A second conference of over 20 persons met in Chicago on December 28-29, 1963 for the purpose of initiating a "call" to the new youth organization and planning for a founding convention to be held in June, 1964.

A second source has advised that the founding convention for the new youth organization was held from June 19-21, 1964 at 150 Golden Gate Avenue, San Francisco, California, at which time the name W. E. B. DU BOIS CLUBS OF AMERICA was adopted. Approximately 500 delegates from throughout the United States attended this convention. The aims of this organization, as set forth in the preamble to the constitution, are, "It is our belief that this nation can best solve its problems in an atmosphere of peaceful co-existence, complete disarmament and true freedom for all peoples of the world, and that these solutions will be reached mainly through the united efforts of all democratic elements in our country, composed essentially of the working people allied in the unity of Negroes and other minorities with whites. We further fully recognize that the greatest threat to American democracy comes from the racist and right wing forces in coalition with the most reactionary sections of the economic power structure, using the tool of anti-communism to divide and destroy the unified struggle of the working people. As young people in the forces struggling for democracy, we shall actively strive to defeat these reactionary and neo-fascist elements and to achieve complete freedom and democracy for all Americans, thus enabling each individual to freely choose and build the society he would wish to live in. Through these struggles we feel the American people will realize the viability of the socialist alternatives."

The constitution further states that this new organization shall be a membership organization open to individuals or if five or more people so desire, a chapter can be formed which shall in turn be guided by the policies and principles of the parent organization.

The second source has also advised that at the founding convention it was voted that the organization should be temporarily headquartered in San Francisco, California, although no specific physical location was decided upon. This same source advised on June 29, 1964 that the temporary headquarters of this organization is 1007 McAllister Street, San Francisco, which is the headquarters of the W.E.B. DuBois Club of San Francisco.

Both sources have advised that at the founding convention two officers were elected:

CARL ELLENGER BLOICE, Publications Chairman

A third source has advised that on October 26, 1962 PHILIP DAVIS attended a CP recruiting class held at 1579 Scenic Avenue, Berkeley, California.

A fourth source has advised that CARL BLOICE, reporter for the "People's World" newspaper, was, on April 3, 1964, elected to the newly organized San Francisco County Committee of the CP.

The "People's World" is a West Coast communist newspaper published weekly in San Francisco, California.

The "Guide to Subversive Organizations and Publications," revised and published as of December 1, 1961, prepared and released by the Committee on Un-American Activities, United States House of Representatives, Washington, D.C., contains the following concerning the Emergency Civil Liberties Committee:

"Emergency Civil Liberties Committee

"1. 'The Emergency Civil Liberties Committee is an organization with headquarters in New York, whose avowed purpose is to abolish the House Committee on Un-American Activities and discredit the FBI. * * * The committee finds that the Emergency Civil Liberties Committee, established in 1951, although representing itself as a non-Communist group, actually operates as a front for the Communist Party. It has repeatedly assisted, by means of funds and legal aid, Communists involved in Smith Act violations and similar legal proceedings. One of its chief activities has been and still is the dissemination of voluminous Communist propaganda material.'

'FRANK WILKINSON was called as a witness when he appeared in Atlanta as a representative of the Emergency Civil Liberties Committee to propagandize against the Committee on Un-American Activities and to protest its hearings. In 1956 WILKINSON was identified as a Communist Party member by a former FBI undercover agent within the party. Summoned at that time to answer the allegation, his reply to all questions was, "I am answering no questions of this committee." This also became his stock reply to questions when he appeared during the Atlanta hearings. * * * WILKINSON has since been convicted of contempt of Congress and sentenced to one year in jail.'

FAIR PLAY FOR CUBA COMMITTEE

The April 6, 1960, edition of "The New York Times" newspaper contained a full-page advertisement captioned "What Is Really Happening In Cuba," placed by the Fair Play for Cuba Committee (FPCC). This advertisement announced the formation of the FPCC in New York City and declared the FPCC intended to promulgate "the truth about revolutionary Cuba" to neutralize the distorted American press.

"The New York Times" edition of January 11, 1961, reported that at a hearing conducted before the United States Senate Internal Security Subcommittee on January 10, 1961, Dr. CHARLES A. SANTOS-BUCH identified himself and ROBERT TABER as organizers of the FPCC. He also testified he and TABER obtained funds from the Cuban Government which were applied toward the cost of the aforementioned advertisement.

On May 16, 1963, a source advised that during the first two years of the FPCC's existence there was a struggle between Communist Party (CP) and Socialist Workers Party (SWP) elements to exert their power within the FPCC and thereby influence FPCC policy. This source added that during the past year there had been a successful effort by FPCC leadership to minimize the role of these and other organizations in the FPCC so that their influence as of May, 1963, was negligible.

The SWP has been designated pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

On May 20, 1963, a second source advised that VINCENT "TED" LEE, FPCC National Office Director, was then formulating FPCC policy and had indicated that he had no intention of permitting FPCC policy to be determined by any other organization. This source stated that LEE believed that the FPCC should advocate resumption of diplomatic relations between Cuba and the United States and should support the right of Cubans to manage their revolution without interference from other nations. LEE did not advocate supporting the Cuban revolution per se.

FAIR PLAY FOR CUBA COMMITTEE

The November 23, 1963, edition of "The New York Times" reported that Senator THOMAS J. DODD of Connecticut had called FPCC "the chief public relations instrument of the CASTRO network in the United States." It is to be noted that Senator DODD was a member of the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee which twice conducted hearings on the FPCC.

The December 27, 1963, edition of "The New York World Telegram and Sun" newspaper stated that the pro-CASTRO FPCC was seeking to go out of business and that its prime activity during its lifetime had been sponsorship of pro-CASTRO street rallies and mass picket lines, and the direction of an active propaganda mill highlighting illegal travel-to-Cuba campaigns. Its comparatively brief span of life was attributed to mounting anti-CASTRO American public opinion, the 1962 Congressional hearings which disclosed FPCC financing by CASTRO's United Nations Delegation, and ultimately, the bad publicity which the FPCC received from disclosure of activities on its behalf by suspected presidential assassin, LEE H. OSWALD.

On February 6, 1964, the previously mentioned second source advised that V. T. LEE had recently remarked that the FPCC was dead and that there were no plans to organize another similar organization.

On April 13, 1964, a third source advised that there had not been any FPCC activity in many months and that the FPCC had been dissolved.

A confidential source who was a self-admitted member of the CP from 1942 until April, 1951, and a member of the Croton Club of the CP from August, 1949 until April, 1957, furnished the following information during 1954: (U)

Dr. David Spain, the former medical examiner in Westchester County, New York for several years had been in a professional unit ofthe CP in New York City. The source believed that Dr. Spain had retained a secret membership in the CP but did not take part in CP activities in Westchester County because of his position in the county. Dr. Spain's wife had also been a member of the CP and the source believed that she too had retained a secret membership but did not take part in CP activities because of her husband's position. (U)

VIGIL TO PROTEST INADEQUATE POLICE PROTECTION IN MISSISSIPPI AT CIVIC CENTER, LOS ANGELES, CALIFORNIA, AUGUST 5, 1964

A source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that the United Civil Rights Committee (UCRC), the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE), the Non-Violent Action Committee (N-VAC) and the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee (SNCC) announced on August 5, 1964, a proposed continuing vigil to commence at 7:00 p.m. that date at the Civic Center, Los Angeles, California. The action is to protest the inadequate police protection in Mississippi and urge the assignment of Federal Marshals in that state.

Two sources on August 6, 1964, advised that the vigil started about 7:30 p.m. on August 5, 1964, and by 10:00 p.m. had approximately 120 to 150 participants of which twenty were Negroes. They further noted that the demonstrators were reduced to four whites and one Negro during the day of August 6, 1964, and by about 6:00 p.m. increased to twenty whites and nine Negroes. According to sources, the number of participants by about 9:00 p.m. diminished to nine persons and continued on into the day of August 7, 1964, with a reduced number.

Sources informed that a march to the FBI, 1340 West Sixth Street, Los Angeles, was indicated as a part of the vigil on August 6, 1964; however, later advised that this march did not materialize when the bulk of the demonstrators dispersed at about 9:00 p.m. on August 6, 1964.

Informants stated the participants walked back and forth in the area of a large brown paper mache coffin placed on the sidewalk in front of the United States Courthouse. Some of the participants carried signs reading "Democracy and Racial Equality," "Congress of Racial Equality," "Friends of SNCC," "Oh, Say Can You See," "Will Hate Win Here," "There Are No Neutrals,"

"We Shall Overcome" and "No On Fourteen" (the latter referring to the initiative to repeal the California Fair Housing Law).

A second group sat in a circle of the quadrangle of the United States Courthouse and sang songs. It was also reported that some of the demonstrators appeared to be beatnik-type persons with beards and sloppy apparel. There was also parked near the scene a large truck bearing charcoal drawings depicting the three Mississippi victims. This display was sponsored by SNCC, San Pedro.

Sources advise that the vigil is to conclude at 7:00 p.m. on August 8, 1964.

There have been no incidents or arrests to date.

The initial source advised that a member of the Communist Party in contact with Sam Kushner on August 5, 1964, was informed that the Party was working to get people out to the vigil and urged this member to contact as many people as possible to enlist their attendance at the vigil.

The source advised that the Party was not in any way responsible for organizing the vigil, but upon determining it was under consideration and in the planning stage, sought to inject themselves into the demonstration. The source advised there was no evidence which indicated the Communist Party or its membership dominated or controlled the demonstrators at any time or in any way. However, the source noted the following individuals were observed either as participants or observers to the vigil.

NATIONAL COMMITTEE TO ABOLISH THE HOUSE UN-AMERICAN ACTIVITIES COMMITTEE

The "Guide to Subversive Organizations and Publications" issued December 1, 1961, by the Committee on Un-American Activities, U. S. House of Representatives, page 115, contains the following citation regarding the National Committee to Abolish the Un-American Activities Committee (NCAUAC).

"Cited as a 'new organization' set up in the Summer of 1960 to lead and direct the Communist Party's 'Operation Abolition' campaign. Seven of the national leaders of this group have been identified as Communists.

A source has advised that the NCAUAC changed its name on March 3, 1962, to include the word "House" in its name, thereby becoming known as the National Committee to Abolish the House Un-American Activities Committee (NCAHUAC). A national meeting of this organization was held in Chicago, Illinois, on April 27 and 28, 1963.

W.E.B. DU BOIS CLUBS OF AMERICA

A source has advised that on October 26-27, 1963 a conference of members of the Communist Party (CP), including National Functionaries, met in Chicago, Illinois, for the purpose of setting in motion forces for the establishment of a new national Marxist oriented youth organization which would hunt for the most peaceful transition to socialism. The delegates to this meeting were cautioned against the germ of anti-soviet and anti-CP ideologies. These delegates were also told that it would be reasonable to assume that the young socialists attracted into this new organization would eventually pass into the CP itself.

A second conference of over 20 persons met in Chicago on December 28-29, 1963 for the purpose of initiating a "call" to the new youth organization and planning for a founding convention to be held in June, 1964.

A second source has advised that the founding convention for the new youth organization was held from June 19-21, 1964 at 150 Golden Gate Avenue, San Francisco, California, at which time the name W.E.B. DU BOIS CLUBS OF AMERICA was adopted. Approximately 500 delegates from throughout the United States attended this convention. The aims of this organization, as set forth in the preamble to the constitution, are, "It is our belief that this nation can best solve its problems in an atmosphere of peaceful co-existence, complete disarmament and true freedom for all peoples of the world, and that these solutions will be reached mainly through the united efforts of all democratic elements in our country, composed essentially of the working people allied in the unity of Negroes and other minorities with whites. We further fully recognize that the greatest threat to American democracy comes from the racist and right wing forces in coalition with the most reactionary sections of the economic power structure, using the tool of anti-communism to divide and destroy the unified struggle of the working people. As young people in the forces struggling for democracy, we shall actively strive to defeat these reactionary and neo-fascist elements and to achieve complete freedom and democracy for all Americans, thus enabling each individual to

The constitution further states that this new organization shall be a membership organization open to individuals or if five or more people so desire a chapter can be formed which shall in turn be guided by the policies and principles of the parent organization.

The second source has also advised that at the founding convention it was voted that the organization should be temporarily headquartered in San Francisco, California, although no specific physical location was decided upon. This same source advised on June 29, 1964 that the temporary headquarters of this organization is 1007 McAllister Street, San Francisco, which is the headquarters of the W.E.B. DuBois Club of San Francisco.

Both sources have advised that at the founding convention two officers were elected:

CARL ELLENGER BLOICE, Publications Chairman.

A third source has advised that on October 26, 1962 PHILIP DAVIS attended a CP recruiting class held at 1579 Scenic Avenue, Berkeley, California.

A fourth source has advised that CARL BLOICE, reporter for the "People's World" newspaper, was, on April 3, 1964, elected to the newly organized San Francisco County Committee of the CP.

The "People's World" is a West Coast communist newspaper published weekly in San Francisco, California.

This source further advised that the LAYPS would be a Marxist study and action group and that the teachings of KARL MARX would be followed. Source also advised that although the alleged purpose of the group was to promote "socialism" in the United States, the group considered themselves to be "CP oriented" and were anxious to study the brand of Marxism associated with the CP, USA.

On August 28, 1964, NY T-1, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that on Saturday, August 29, 1964, a rally sponsored by the Bedford-Stuyvesant Defense Council, which appears to be similar to the Harlem Defense Council, a front group of the Progressive Labor Movement (PLM), was to be held.

On August 29, 1964, NY T-2, contact with whom has been insufficient to determine his reliability, advised that shortly after 10:00 PM, on August 29, 1964, Bill Epton, Chairman of PLM in the Harlem Section of New York City, made an attempt to speak at Fulton and Nostrand Avenues, Brooklyn, New York. According to the source Epton called on those present to organize in defense of their neighborhoods and spoke of police brutatlity. On August 20, 1964, CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT, the leading functionary of the Communist Party (CP) of Illinois, was heard to remark that there had been plans made a number of weeks ago to hold a Negro Commission meeting in Chicago. At first it was believed that this meeting should be a regional affair, but subsequently plans were changed to make it a National Negro Commission meeting. Then [redacted] called the meeting off entirely. Subsequently LIGHTFOOT discussed the foregoing matter with HENRY WINSTON while that individual was in Chicago and they both are now in agreement that they should hold a National Board meeting as well as a National Negro Commission meeting in Chicago. WINSTON had told him, LIGHTFOOT, that when he gets back to the National Office in New York he will discuss this matter and see to it that plans for such meetings are followed through. LIGHTFOOT further indicated that if these meetings are held as planned, they probably would occur during the early part of September, possibly a week after Labor Day.

RACIAL MATTERS

Attention is invited to a memorandum dated at Louisville, Kentucky, August 7, 1964, contained information regarding a scheduled voter registration rally to be held in Louisville, Kentucky, on the evening of August 8, 1964.

The Louisville Courier-Journal, a newspaper of daily circulation, published at Louisville, Kentucky, in its issue of August 9, 1964, contained an article relating to the voter registration rally held in Louisville, Kentucky, on the evening of August 8, 1964. The article contained the following information:

A Ghandi Corps scheduled freedom rally to be held in the auditorium of the DuValle Junior High School Auditorium, Louisville, Kentucky, on the evening of August 8, 1964, apparently met with success although at the scheduled meeting time it seemed the rally was doomed to certain failure. At the scheduled meeting time the auditorium was empty, and the main scheduled speaker, John Lewis, Chairman of the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee, had not appeared, and was in Mississippi. Also reports circulated in the neighborhood that two members of

The Black Muslim movement were in the neighborhood advising everyone to disregard the meeting. An hour later, however, the rally had apparently succeeded and its sponsors had more than 100 filled out questionaires in the first step of their voter registration drive. Seemingly certain failure was avoided by transferring the meeting out doors from the empty auditorium to the front steps, and by using loud speakers to address dozens or persons in hearing distance. The Reverend C. T. Vivian, Atlanta, Georgia, described in the article as an associate of Doctor Martin Luther King, was the main speaker.

The article quotes Reverend Vivian as having stated, "If it is Goldwater in 64, it will be bread and water in 65, just plain water in 66, and no water in 67!" Further, "Black men are asked to die in Vietnam to protect others' rights, when their own rights are not protected in Mississippi!" According to the above article the audience at the meeting grew as Reverend Vivian continued to talk and as the meeting ended many neighborhood residents had joined the group and sang "We Shall Overcome". The article estimates that about 250 persons gathered during the meeting. Reverend Vivian is further quoted in the article as having stated, "They yelp about States' Rights, but they don't talk about States' responsibilities. If the States did right, they would protect everybody's rights; and perform their own responsibilities and the federal government would not come in."

The above article also states that the Ghandi Corps plans another meeting at the DuValle Junior High School for 7:30 p.m., August 13, 1964, in connection with their voters registration drive.

MAUREEN MURPHY

In March 1964, W. ALBERT JONES, Chairman of the Legal Redress Committee, Meridian, Mississippi, Branch of the NAACP, advised that MAUREEN MURPHY had been in the Meridian, Mississippi, area for several weeks working with the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE) on a Negro voter registration drive. He also said she had left Mississippi on March 26, 1964, en route to the west coast to appear at fund raising affairs and intended to return to Meridian in the summer of 1964.

On May 26, 1964, Chief of Police O. A. BOOKER, Meridian, Mississippi, advised that MAUREEN MURPHY, representing CORE, was one of those persons who had been assigned to the Meridian area to make preparations for housing college students who would be coming to Meridian in June 1964 in connection with a voter registration drive.

The August 1, 1964, issue of the "People's World," a west coast communist newspaper published in San Francisco, contains an article on MURPHY in which she has asked that donations for the Council of Federated Organizations, which is directing the Freedom Mississippi Project, be sent to her at 1010 West 21st Street, Los Angeles, California.

MAUREEN MURPHY has not been reported as a member of any basic revolutionary group; however, in April 1963, she attended the Communist Party May Day celebration in San Francisco. She has subscribed to the "People's World" and has been an active member of the W. E. B. DuBois Club of San Francisco (see Appendix) since its inception in January 1963. In June 1963, she was nominated, although not elected, to represent the DuBois Club as its delegate to the National Convention of the Progressive Youth Organizing Committee (see Appendix). From November 1962 to May 1963, she also attended numerous classes sponsored by the San Francisco School of Social Science (see Appendix).

Du Bois Club, San Francisco Du Bois

A source advised that on January 31, 1963, the W.E.B. Du Bois Club of San Francisco held its first general meeting at California Hall, Polk and Turk Streets, San Francisco, California, at which time the aims of the club were put forth as follows by TERENCE "KAYO" HALLINAN:

(1) Alleviate the Negro problem in the United States.
(2) Promote peaceful co-existence between the United States and Russia.
(3) Promote and encourage Marxist doctrines and to bring about a socialistic government in the United States.

A second source advised in March, 1963, that the Du Bois Club was both conceived and originated by TERENCE HALLINAN.

A third source has advised that TERENCE HALLINAN attended a Communist Party Youth Commission meeting in San Francisco in October, 1963.

Commencing in March, 1963, the Du Bois Club published a newsletter entitled "San Francisco News and World Report." In its first issue a "Proposed Statement of Principles" was set forth in which the club's aforementioned aims were elaborated upon. In the same issue the lead editorial in part described the San Francisco Du Bois Club as "...a group of young people who are convinced that Socialism is the only answer to the many problems of our time and so find philosophical rapport with the life and thought of Dr. DU BOIS, nevertheless, we are weighed with humility in comparing our goals and ambitions with the genius of his life and work. As a source of inspiration, the figure of W.E.B. DU BOIS is unequaled in American history, but as a standard and example, we seem miserably lost in his shadow. We can only resolve that we do his name no dishonor, and whatever we may accomplish should be recognized as a supplement to his life work."

The November 25, 1961, issue of the "People's World," a West Coast communist newspaper published in San Francisco, contains an article on page 12 reflecting that W.E.B. DU BOIS joined the Communist Party after applying for admission on October 1, 1961.

In May, 1963, the first source informed that the "San Francisco News and World Report," although written and edited by members of the club, was run off on a mimeograph machine located in the offices of the "People's World;" however, in March, 1964, this source advised that the newsletter was no longer mimeographed by the "People's World" because of the unreliability of the machine and, in addition, the name was changed to "The Insurgent" upon recommendation of one of the club officers who felt the new name sounded more militant.

The first source has also stated that commencing in May, 1963, the Du Bois Club had no permanent headquarters and used to hold its meetings at 307 Page Street, Apartment 3, San Francisco, California. In March, 1964, this source advised that the club is currently active as a membership organization and has its headquarters at 1007 McAllister Street, San Francisco.

PROGRESSIVE YOUTH ORGANIZING COMMITTEE

On February 9, 1961, a source advised that the Progressive Youth Organizing Committee (PYOC) was established at a national socialist-oriented youth conference held in Chicago, Illinois, December 30, 1960 through January 1, 1961. This conference was the result of a mandate issued by the National Executive Committee, Communist Party, USA, calling for a youth conference to establish an organizing committee whose objective would be to set up a national socialist-oriented youth organization. The conference scheduled a convention to be held within a year to found a new national socialist-oriented youth organization.

On June 18, 1962, AARON COHEN, a member of the Communist Party (CP) from 1947 to 1957 and from December, 1961 to October, 1963, advised it was reported at the meeting of the National Council of the PYOC held New York, New York, June 16 and 17, 1962, that although it had been planned to form a Marxist-oriented youth organization by the Fall of 1962, it would not be possible to form such an organization for the next few years.

On March 9, 1964, a second source advised that the PYOC has its headquarters at 169 Allen Street, New York, New York.

You were instructed that there should be no de-emphasis in your office's investigation, following and dissemination in connection with racial matters generally and the communist influence therein. You were further instructed that each specific incident or situation arising must be fully evaluated, prompt investigative attention given and the necessary dissemination made. It was re-emphasized that there is an absolute necessity for remaining on top of the situation in every respect.

Reurtel 8/29/64 dual captioned as above. present. On page 5 of retel appears information furnished by the PD concerning this rally. The PD reported attendance as approximately 50 persons.

The Bureau notes the considerable disparity between the attendance figures for the two rallies. In the first instance the Bureau informant gave the figure as approximately 125, whereas the PD gave the figure as 50-80. In the second instance, the unidentified source gave the figure of approximately 150, whereas the PD gave the figure of approximately 50.

It is recognized that these attendance figures are approximations but nonetheless it is believed that there should not be such a disparity without a logical explanation therefor. Remembering that information concerning these activities is disseminated, it is necessary that the information be as accurate as possible and not create doubts as to the veracity of the information and/or the reliability of the sources furnishing the information. A suggested means of meeting this problem would, of course, be to have some Agent coverage.

The Bureau is again reiterating the instructions contained in its airtel of 8/28/64. There must be absolutely no letup on the part of your office in covering activities relating to captioned matters to insure accuracy in data furnished.

[redacted] freely admitted believing in "Democratic socialism," but stated he prefers "Democratic capitalism" to communism. He said he has been fighting the communists all of his life and wants nothing to do with the CP, and would hate to hear the communist movement has made any inroads into the Mississippi Summer Project. He said, however, he was not born yesterday and fully realizes this is a possibility.

[redacted] was quite emphatic in stating that STERN acted solely in his behalf because of his son's activities in connection with the Mississippi Summer Project and never had any intention of becoming involved in any way with a Mississippi Parents' Group in the Cleveland area or anywhere else. He said he knows that STERN is not presently, and has not for several years been, affiliated with any political party although he does believe STERN to believe in socialism, "the NORMAN THOMAS type of socialism."

[redacted] said he would hate to think that STERN will become involved in any difficulty as a result of his activities in this connection since he knows his sole purpose in having the interview with the newspaper and television station was to attempt to take some action, in [redacted] absence, which might insure that [redacted] son was not harmed while in Mississippi. [redacted] went on to state he has no intention of becoming involved with a Mississippi Parents' Group and has never been approached to join such a group. He said he understands such groups have been organized in Washington, D. C., and possibly New York City, but has no first-hand knowledge of such organizations.

[redacted] stated he will be happy to assist the FBI wherever possible in its investigation of civil rights matters not only in Mississippi but in the Cleveland area, and was extremely complimentary of the Bureau's work done to date in connection with investigations of civil rights matters in the South.

MISSISSIPPI SUMMER PROJECT
RACIAL SITUATION
STATE OF MISSISSIPPI

Reference is made to Cleveland memorandum captioned as above and dated June 27, 1964.

A source, who is in a position to know, advised on August 5, 1964, [redacted] Ohio, has a son involved in the Mississippi Summer Project. Source learned that during the latter part of June, 1964, the [redacted] family was vacationing somewhere in the South, and while on this vacation, an unknown woman, who stated she was from Washington, D. C., called the [redacted] residence and stated she was part of a Mississippi Parents' Group in Washington, D. C., and they were attempting to get the Federal Government to assure protection of the individuals connected with the Mississippi Summer Project. Source stated the person accepting the call at the [redacted] residence knew the [redacted] would not return to Cleveland for some time and was also aware of the fact that FRANK STERN is a very close friend of the [redacted] and was interested in the [redacted] son's activities in Mississippi. The person therefore recommended the unknown caller get in touch with STERN and request him to take action in the absence of the [redacted] family.

Source stated it is his impression this woman did call STERN, and as a result, STERN attempted to get some local publicity with respect to persons involved in the Mississippi Summer Project. STERN was interviewed by a reporter from the Cleveland "Plain Dealer," local daily newspaper, and at least one of the television stations in Cleveland, Ohio. Source stated STERN took no further action in this regard and was later heard to complain that he had been misquoted in the newspaper, as the article had indicated he was to be an organizer for a local

Mississippi Parents' Group. STERN stated this was not his intention and he had made this fact known to the reporter at the time of the interview, as he was acting solely on behalf of the [redacted] family until their return to the city. Source stated STERN did not contact the parents of any other individuals who are involved in the Mississippi Summer Project and has not made any contact with these persons since the [redacted] family returned to Cleveland. b6 b7C

Source stated he further learned that upon the return of the [redacted] family, they were interviewed by a reporter from the Cleveland "Plain Dealer" with respect to their son's activities in the Mississippi Summer Project, and a lengthy article appeared in the newspaper setting forth the results of this interview. This article pertained to the activities of the [redacted] son in connection with the voter registration campaign in Mississippi and some of the experiences he and his parents have had as a result of his activities in the Mississippi Summer Project. b6 b7C

Source stated he knows for a fact that as a result of the newspaper interview with STERN and the [redacted] family, they have received several telephone calls in which they were called all kinds of names, including "nigger lovers." Source stated that on one occasion, a rock was thrown through the window of the house where STERN rented an apartment, and attached to this rock was a note bearing the words "nigger lovers." Source went on to say that as a result of this incident, STERN was requested to move from [redacted] and he is now residing [redacted]. b6 b7C

Source stated STERN and the [redacted] family have been friends for many years and extremely close friends during the past 20 years, seeing each other probably on an average of twice a week. Source stated he knows for a fact that STERN is not connected in any way with a Mississippi Parents' Group and never intended to be connected with such a group. Source also stated the [redacted] are not involved with a Mississippi Parents' Group in Cleveland or anywhere else and do not intend to actually become involved with such a group. Source is of the opinion that if the [redacted] were asked to meet with the b6 b7C parents of other individuals involved in the Mississippi Summer Project, they would do so for the purpose of exchanging experiences and sympathies, but have no intention of becoming organizationally involved with such a group.

Source stated he knows [redacted] to be a "NORMAN THOMAS type socialist" and believes STERN to share these ideas. He stated STERN and [redacted] were involved in the socialist movement many years ago but broke apart some 23 or 24 years ago because of a disagreement as to which line the Socialist Party should take. Source stated he never knew STERN to be a member of the Socialist Workers Party (SWP), but knows that he has not, in the past several years, been connected with any political party. b6 b7C

The SWP has been designated by the Attorney General of the United States pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

Source stated that at one time, STERN lived at 3330 Bradford Road, Cleveland, Ohio, and was formerly employed by Surplus City, a discount chain store, Lampl Knitwear Company, and is now employed as an Administrative Assistant at the Bureau of Jewish Education, Cleveland Heights, Ohio. Source went on to say that although the [redacted] have made no effort to become involved with a Mississippi Parents' Group, they have made a modest contribution to the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE) and earmarked their contribution for the Mississippi Summer Project. This contribution was made because of their son's activities in connection with the Mississippi Summer Project. He stated that other than encouraging others to make contributions to this project, the [redacted] have taken no further action with respect to the organization. b6 b7C

A second source, who is in a position to know, advised on April 2 and 7, 1943, that FRANK STERN and his wife, ESTHER STERN, were associated with the SWP. This source related that sometime in 1938 or 1939, a group of members of the SWP in Cleveland, Ohio, and who were termed Trotskyites, became associated together. About this time, this group of individuals split from the Socialist Party and formed the Cleveland Branch of the SWP. The Cleveland Branch of the SWP then became affiliated with the national organization of the SWP, with headquarters in New York City. Source stated this group rented a room in the Meriam Building, 5716 Euclid Avenue, where they held their meetings. This room was rented in the name of the SWP.

The 1942 Cleveland City Directory lists FRANK and ESTHER STERN as residing at 3421 East 145th Street, and lists his occupation as a printer.

Records of the Cleveland Retail Credit Men's Company, Cleveland, Ohio, were reviewed on August 5, 1964, and reflect that FRANK STERN, wife ESTHER, previously resided at the following addresses in Cleveland, Ohio:

3406 East 118th Street;
3953 East 149th Street;
2412 Cedar Road;
3421 East 145th Street;
3462 East 149th Street;
Apartment #4, 3301 East 145th Street;
3330 Bradford Road.

The credit bureau records disclosed he was born on December 29, 1912, in New York City but had resided in Cleveland most of his lifetime. His employment on these records was shown as a union painter, but that his most recent employment was that of a manufacturer's representative. It was indicated that for the period 1937-57 STERN maintained a poor credit rating with numerous suits and collections.

Records of the Cleveland Police Department, Cleveland, Ohio, were checked on August 5, 1964, and disclose the following traffic citations for FRANK STERN, 1447 Dill Avenue, South Euclid, Ohio:

Date	Offense
November 6, 1958	Speeding

RE: MISSISSIPPI SUMMER PROJECT
RACIAL SITUATION

Date	Offense
January 16, 1960	Prohibited turn
January 19, 1960	Prohibited turn

The dispositions for the above traffic citations were not shown.

Patrolman [redacted] Cleveland Heights, Ohio, Police Department, advised on August 5, 1964, the records of his department contain no information identifiable with FRANK STERN. b6 b7C

Patrolman [redacted] South Euclid, Ohio, Police Department, advised on August 5, 1964, that on October 24, 1963, FRANK STERN was the victim of an accidental fall; on June 27, 1964, STERN reported receiving several telephone calls, calling him "dirty names" as a result of an article which had appeared about him in a newspaper on that date. He again called the Police Department on July 13, 1964, to report a rock had been thrown through the window of his landlord's house and attached to this rock was a note bearing the words "nigger lover."

On August 31, 1964, Inspector [redacted] Fifth Precinct, Detroit, Michigan, Police Department, advised that Martin Luther King, Jr. spoke at the Greater Macedonia Baptist Church, 8200 Mack Avenue, Detroit, Michigan, on August 30, 1964, between 12:30 PM and 2:00 PM. Inspector [redacted] advised a hugh overflow crowd, which he estimated to be approximately 4000 people, was present in the church and on the church grounds to hear King's speech. Inspector [redacted] stated King's speech had no racial overtones and no mention was made of any racial disturbances either nationally or on the local scene. Inspector [redacted] described the crowd as extremely orderly, older in appearance and practically one hundred percent Negro.

Inspector [redacted] stated King's introductory remarks consumed nearly one-third of the speech and dealt exclusively with his close kinship and affection for the people in the audience. Inspector [redacted] stated that during the course of King's speech, he made mention of his struggle during the Alabama bus boycott by the Negroes and in his concluding remarks stressed the importance of voting in the forthcoming presidential election. b6 b7C

Inspector [redacted] stated King did not advocate any specific candidate but commented that they should vote for the candidate who would treat the Negroes in the fairest manner.

UNKNOWN SUBJECTS;
JAMES EARL CHANEY
MICHAEL H. SCHWERNER
ANDREW GOODMAN-VICTIMS

On August 6, 1964, the "Los Angeles Herald Examiner," a large daily, metropolitan newspaper, carried headlines "Beauty 'Solves' Racial Killings," sub-headlines "Girl tells Letter Clue in Murders." The article bore the byline Bob Johnson and William E. Gold. The article then noted that Maureen Murphy, 22, a San Francisco State College history graduate and resident of that city, told Los Angeles reporters she discovered the letter in Gregory's (Dick Gregory) correspondence and turned it over to the FBI "because it was so uncannily accurate in all details." The article noted she was in San Francisco during the Republican Convention helping Gregory go through stacks of letters he had received because of his offering a $25,000 reward for information concerning the three missing men. She went over the letter with Gregory which, according to the article, detailed background of the victims indicating five or six men involved and stated all three killed and buried and that he had further details. The letter was then turned over to the FBI in San Francisco, photographed and returned. Murphy felt the details were convincing. Murphy described herself as a personal friend of James Chaney and Michael Schwerner and disclosed she joined Gregory's civil rights efforts in San Francisco a few weeks after working with Chaney and Schwerner in Mississippi. She stated the three of them worked together last year and early this year in voter registration campaigns in Meridian, Mississippi and Plaquemine, Louisiana.

She stated she first met James Chaney last October and stated "we worked in groups because being a girl makes no difference in that situation. I've been shot at, jailed, cattle-prodded and slapped."

On August 24, 1964, a source who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that Maureen Murphy was interested in planning a money raising affair in the Hollywood, California area for Dick Gregory, a Negro comedian. During the course of several conversations had between Maureen Murphy and the source, a discussion ensued as to the letter received by Gregory which allegedly contained information concerning the whereabouts of the three missing civil rights workers (i.e. Chaney, Schwerner and Goodman).

Maureen Murphy stated that she herself had opened the letter while working for Gregory in San Francisco and that the letter was "utter nonsense." She stated the letter was received from a man in Washington, D. C., who did not know anything more about the location of the three missing civil rights workers than anyone else knew. Murphy stated the letter was ridiculous and agreed that Dick Gregory had been indeed foolish to make "such a fuss over nothing."

Reference is made to memorandum at Newark, New Jersey, dated August 19, 1964 and captioned as above.

On August 25, 1964, Acting Chief of Police [redacted] Elizabeth, New Jersey, advised he had on that day received a letter from Clarence Coggins informing him that the site of the Labor Negro Vanguard Conference (LNVC) rally would be at First and Pond Streets in Elizabeth that night. [redacted] noted the change in the site would place the rally in the heart of the Pioneer Housing Project which was the scene of racial violence in Elizabeth recently. b6 b7C

A characterization of the LNVC (including Clarence Coggins) is attached in the appendix hereto. The sources used therein have furnished reliable information in the past.

A Special Agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) observed [redacted] and [redacted] walking around on First Street from 7:00 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. in Elizabeth. There were only a half dozen people assembled at First and Bond. b6 b7C

A characterization of [redacted] is contained in the characterization of the LNVC in the appendix attached hereto. b6 b7C

ENCLOSURE

[redacted] carried a large placard stating, "See and hear Huldah Clerk, American student returned from Moscow". Coggins carried a large sign with the words, "Organize for action, Join the Labor Negro Vanguard Conference".

Clarence Coggins [redacted] and Huldah Clark spoke to a crowd which numbered about twenty at the beginning and one hundred at the end. About half the crowd were children. There were no incidents or demonstrations.

Coggins had his four month old son in a baby carriage. The carriage had a small United States flag attached to it. Alluding to the presence of the sleeping baby as he began to speak, Coggins said this was evidence of his faith that the people of Elizabeth were not rowdies but had rioted because they had been "sold out" by their leaders.

Coggins called for amnesty for all those arrested in the rioting in New Jersey. He said the LNVC would hold another amnesty rally in Trenton, New Jersey on August 27, 1964. He urged his audience to join the LNVC and carry on the fight for Negro rights.

[redacted] spoke concerning low rent housing, slum lords, and claimed the LNVC could correct these wrongs.

[redacted] urged everyone to register and vote. He stated his daughter [redacted] was treated better in Russia than here. [redacted] talk was similar to her father's. She said she was returning to Russia on August 27, 1964 to continue her studies to become a medical doctor.

On August 26, 1964, a news article in the "Newark Evening News", a daily New Jersey newspaper, stated the LNVC rally in Elizabeth drew only 50 persons. The article, in part, said:

"Clarence Coggins of Jersey City, chairman of Labor-Negro Vanguard Conference, stood on the tailgate of a station wagon parked at 1st and Bond streets and criticized America for its treatment of Negroes.

"The speaker shared the tailgate with Huldah Clark of Newark, a young Negro girl who is studying medicine in Russia. [redacted] scorned this country's treatment of 'my people' and praised the racial tolerance he said his daughter is enjoying in Moscow.

"Among Coggins' specific complaints of mistreatment was the appointment recently by Gov. Hughes of 29 judges. 'There was not a black man among them,' he said.

"The audience gathered around the car to hear the speakers castigate white America, politicians, slumlords, the police and even the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

[redacted] of Newark, a member of the Conference, outlined the development of slums and said the reason they continue is because slumlords pay off to politicians. b6 b7C

[redacted] said Jessie Gray, leader of the Harlem rent strike, was to have appeared here last night but had to attend the Democratic National Convention in Atlantic City.

"'Greeting, peace, happiness, friendship, freedom now', Miss Clark began her speech. 'I am from Moscow, but I am also from Newark.'

"She said she was receiving fair treatment in Russia, where she said there is no racial discrimination. She said that during a trip to Warsaw, Poland, she was reminded of the Gestapo's terrorization of the Poles, which she compared to police treatment of Negroes in America."

Another news story in the August 26, 1964 issue of the "Newark Evening News" with a Trenton, New Jersey date line, stated as follows:

"More than 100 residents, a majority of them Negroes, petitioned Mayor Arthur J. Holland yesterday to deny a permit for a civil rights rally at the city's historic Battle Monument tomorrow.

"Clarence Coggins of Jersey City, head of the Labor Negro Vanguard Committee, called the rally for 9 p.m., August 27, 1964.

"The petition presented to Holland asked that no permit be issued 'so as to afford the (Battle Monument) area residents and citizens of Trenton a safe environment and a freedom from fear for their lives and property.' The petition contends that the proposed rally is not conductive to peaceful assembly.

"Coggins said Jesse Gray, leader of rent strikes in Harlem, and Miss Huldah Clark, a Negro from Newark who recently returned from Russia, would speak on the differences between the American and Russian systems of education."

CITIZENS COMMITTEE TO PRESERVE AMERICAN FREEDOMS

The "Guide to Subversive Organizations", revised, December 1, 1961, pp. 43-44, describes this committee as follows:

"The Citizens Committee to Preserve American Freedoms * * * specializes in propaganda aimed at abolishing the Committee on Un-American Activities and discrediting the Federal Bureau of Investigation. Created in Los Angeles in 1952, the front organization is run by FRANK WILKINSON, an identified Communist who recently resumed the full-time, paid post of executive secretary after approximately a year's leave of absence to assist in a similar campaign by another front in New York City, the Emergency Civil Liberties Committee.

"When the Committee on Un-American Activities held hearings in Los Angeles, September 2-5, 1958, to inquire into the nature of the Party's recent reorganization in California, the Citizens Committee to Preserve American Freedoms sponsored a series of public meetings to protest the hearings and the very existence of the Committee. Communists subpoenaed as witnesses were guests of honor.

"At this time, leaders of the party's Southern California District, were mobilizing Communists in the area for participation in an intensified campaign to abolish this committee of Congress. How the Citizens Committee to Preserve American Freedoms served the party in this effort was revealed by (Communist Party) District Chairman DOROTHY HEALEY in a report to the party's Southern California District Council on September 21, 1958. Mrs. HEALEY declared that the party preferred public protest meetings to be held by the Citizens Committee to Preserve American Freedoms rather than under party auspices because Communists could attend without danger of being exposed as members of the party. She also noted that Communists scheduled as congressional committee witnesses could not appear beforehand at openly Communist rallies without creating the impression that the party was conspiring with witnesses to withhold information from the committee."

Re: Communist Influence

The District Attorney of New York County, on September 1, 1964, announced that a Grand Jury had concluded that on the evidence and rules of law, Lieutenant Thomas Gilligan, New York City Police Department, was not guilty of a crime in the fatal shooting of James Powell, fifteen year old Negro boy, on July 16, 1964.

The District Attorney released a report on the investigation conducted, in which it is pointed out that testimony before that jury is secret, but because of public interest the details learned on investigation have been disclosed.

The report summarizes the statements of witnesses of the shooting, and it is noted that the Grand Jury heard 45 witnesses, and all witnesses, including those referred to his office by various organizations, were interviewed by his staff. The report points out that many of the witnesses disagreed on details of the shooting, but there was substantial agreement on the facts of the incident preceding the encounter of Powell and Gilligan.

Under the heading of applicable law, this report notes that a killing is criminal unless "justifiable" or otherwise excused. Deadly force is justified if the person using it has reason to believe such force is necessary to prevent grave injury to himself. The presumption of innocence is available before the Grand Jury, which may find an indictment only when the evidence before it is such that if it is unexplained or uncontradicted, a guilty verdict by a trial jury would be warranted. The Grand Jury should resolve the issue of credibility.

REPORT BY DISTRICT ATTORNEY OF NEW YORK COUNTY

At approximately 9:30 on the morning of July 16, 1964, James Powell, a fifteen year old boy, was shot to death by Lieutenant Thomas Gilligan, a New York City police officer. The office of the District Attorney of New York County immediately commenced an investigation. An exhaustive search for all possible witnesses was conducted.

On July 21st the Second July Grand Jury began hearing evidence presented by Assistant District Attorney Alexander Herman, Chief of the Homicide Bureau, and Assistant District Attorney Martin J. Heneghan. The jury held fifteen sessions and heard forty-five witnesses. Under the law, the testimony of these witnesses before the grand jury is secret. However, all known witnesses, including those referred to the office by various organizations, were interviewed by members of the District Attorney's staff.

The grand jury now has concluded that, on the basis of the evidence and the applicable rules of law, Lieutenant Gilligan is not criminally liable for the killing of young Powell. In view of that determination and in light of the great public interest evinced in the case, the District Attorney's office has prepared this report, summarizing in detail what has been learned in the course of the investigation. Appended hereto is a statement of the controlling legal principles.

The Scene and the Incident Preceding the Shooting

Although there was disagreement among many of the witnesses with respect to the details of the shooting itself, there was substantial agreement concerning the essential facts of the incident which preceded the encounter of James Powell and Lieutenant Gilligan.

At about 9:15 on the morning of July 16, 1964, the superintendent of 215 East 76th Street and three other buildings on the block, had commenced his morning task of watering the flowers and plants in front ofNo. 211 and the two trees in front of No. 215. Across the street on the south side of the block, and somewhat east of No. 215, is the Robert Wagner Junior High School. As was common, a number of the summer session students--estimates ranged up to one hundred--were standing about on both sides of the street, leaning against cars, or sitting on stoops. Whether intentionally or not, the superintendent wet a few of the children who were in the immediate vicinity. Some of the youngsters then began throwing garbage can covers and bottles. One boy came at the superintendent with a lid in one hand and a bottle in the other. Dropping the hose, and running into No. 215, the superintendent was hit in the shoulder by the bottle, while the cover broke one of the panes of the outer door of the building.

No. 215 is an apartment building. Two steps, a total of ten and one-half inches in height, lead to the stoop landing, which is four feet three and one-half inches deep and four feet nine inches wide; another step leads to the outer door. On each side of the landing is a wall two feet four and one-half inches high topped by a railing two feet high. From the building line to the curb is a distance of fifteen feet two inches. On the west side of the stoop at No. 215 is a television service store and on the east side a cleaning store. Parked in front of the building that morning was the service truck of the TV store, and behind the truck a passenger car.

Medical and ballistics evidence

An autopsy was performed by a Deputy Chief Medical Examiner. Examination of the body showed that Powell was 5 feet 6 1/2 inches tall and weighed 122 pounds. He had been struck by two bullets. One bullet entered the lower part of the right forearm, just above the back of the wrist and came out the other side. This bullet then pierced the deceased's chest above the right nipple, and came to rest in the left lung. Death as a result of this wound alone would have followed anytime within minutes to a half hour. The other bullet entered just above the navel to the left of center, and emerged at the opposite point in the back, having pierced the abdomen and a major vein. This wound could likewise have been fatal. There was no evidence on the body of smoke, flame or powder marks, thus indicating that both bullets must have travelled more than a foot and a half before striking Powell.

A ballistics expert examined Powell's clothing in the hospital. There were no powder burns or scorch marks on the clothing, and, therefore, in his opinion, the gun must have been farther than two feet from Powell's body when fired. A survey was made of the hallway of No. 215. Lodged in the jamb of the inner door, forty inches above the floor, was a deformed .38 caliber bullet. This bullet had first pierced a glass panel of the outer door, thirty-five inches above the floor. Thus, the bullet had been travelling at an upward angle. The position of the bullet and the depth of its penetration in the jamb, as well as the size and shape of the hole in the outer pane, nullified any possibility that it had first passed through Powell's body before reaching the hallway. The absence of any impact marks on the newly cemented sidewalk negated any possibility that Powell had been shot in the abdomen while lying on the ground.

Two of the bullets were too deformed for comparison. But ballistics tests of the bullet lodged in the chest proved that it had been fired from Gilligan's gun which, when examined, contained six cartridges, three discharged and three live.

The following day Gilligan was examined by a doctor, after having received first aid the day before at Roosevelt Hospital, where a splint had been applied to his right hand and forearm. The doctor diagnosed the injury as abrasion of the right upper forearm, superficial loss of skin on the right upper forearm, contusion and sprain of right hand and wrist, and recurrence of a previous sacroiliac injury resulting in a severe twisting of the back. The tissues of the right arm gave evidence of a sharp blow on the lateral margin of the right hand and forearm.

Students

Fifteen teenagers, eight girls and seven boys, were questioned. Almost all had been friends of Powell, or had known him by name or sight; all, except one, were summer session students at the school.

Two boys, friends of the deceased, described his actions shortly preceding his encounter with Lieutenant Gilligan. That morning they had travelled with Powell from their homes in a housing project in the Bronx to the school. Powell showed them two knives, one with a red handle, the other black-handled, and let each of them keep one for him. After the superintendent had fled into the building, Powell crossed to the school side of the street and, according to the boy who had it, demanded the red-handled knife, stating, "I am going to cut that ." The boy said he pretended not to have the knife. After some argument, Powell approached the other boy who said Powell asked for the black-handled knife, adding that he would be right back. The boy gave him the knife and, shortly thereafter, Powell was seen crossing the street, opening and closing the blade. A girl, who was following behind him, stated Powell told her that he was going to talk to the man. Pleading with him not to go, because there was liable to be trouble, she said she grabbed at him in an unsuccessful attempt to restrain him.

The recitals of what occurred at this point differ. The girl, who was following Powell and who had now stationed herself near the stoop, stated that he walked up the steps of No. 215, opened the door all the way, at which time Gilligan, coming from the direction of the TV store, stopped in front of the building, and, still on the sidewalk, shouted to Powell, causing him to turn around. Three students agreed with this account. But three other students claimed that Gilligan was already on the stoop facing the street, when Powell approached the building. Another three youngsters reported that both were on the sidewalk, facing each other in an east-west direction, when the shooting started. And, finally, two girls were positive that Gilligan followed Powell out of the building before he shot him.

In any event, several students recalled that the girl by the stoop yelled to Powell that the man had a gun. According to her, Powell, having turned around, then raised both hands whereupon Gilligan walked up the stoop and, approximately a foot and a half away from Powell, pushed his right hand. A boy, standing on the school side of the street said he also saw Gilligan grab at Powell's right hand, while others claimed that he turned the boy around so as to face him. A number of the students recounted that Powell was either waving or raising his arms, and one said he was flinging them as if to strike at the officer. None saw a knife in Powell's hand at this point, although one boy said he might have had a beer can in his hand, and one girl claimed that in fact he was holding a beer can in his right hand. Two students later saw a knife lying in the street near the curb.

Regardless of the nature of the encounter or the position of Powell and Gilligan, it was undisputed that a shot was soon fired. According to the girl by the stoop, the officer held his gun at waist level and fired one shot, causing Powell to fall to the sidewalk. Seven students only heard the first shot, their attention having been diverted, or their view having been blocked by other people or the parked vehicles; seven others simply stated that the officer fired a shot. One of the latter group expressly noted that the officer pointed the gun at Powell's right hand and then fired.

Almost all the students agreed that Powell fell after the first shot. According to the most frequent account, after Powell fell to the sidewalk on his hands and knees, the officer, still on the steps, pointed the gun down and fired two more shots at Powell's back. Two youngsters said Powell had first dropped to his knees clutching his abdomen. One girl was certain that Powell was lying on his back when Gilligan fired the final two shots down at him. Altogether, ten students reported that Gilligan fired two shots at Powell when he was down on the ground after having fallen from the first shot. But one of these witnesses was shown photographs of the hallway, proving a bullet had pierced a window of the outer door and had lodged in the jamb of the inner door. After looking at the photograph he said he was not sure of what he had seen. Upon further reflection he admitted that, in fact, he had not seen the shooting at all.

Of those who claimed to have seen the shooting, some acknowledged that their view was obstructed by the truck parked in front of No. 215, or by other children; some heard but did not see the last two shots; others admitted running for cover when the shooting started. All agreed that after the first shot there was a pause, then two shots in succession, and, finally, Powell lay flat on his stomach, body parallel with the curb, head towards Third Avenue, while Gilligan stood over him holding the gun pointed at the body. Many of the students claimed that Gilligan then either nudged or pushed or kicked Powell over onto his back. But when Powell's two friends, who had been holding the knives for him, ran over from the opposite side of the street, after having heard the three shots, Powell was still face down and Gilligan stood over him rubbing his fingers. The boy who had given Powell the knife asked Gilligan why he had shot him. Gilligan replied, "This is why," taking from his pocket a badge which he pinned to his shirt. Asked why he didn't call an ambulance, Gilligan said that Powell was his prisoner and directed the boy to call the ambulance. The boy, who had refused to give Powell the red-handled knife, heard Gilligan say that Powell had tried to kill him and that he had a knife under him.

Adults

Various aspects of the events, prior to, during and subsequent to the shooting, were observed by eight passersby, two store owners, two neighborhood workmen, five teachers, and a priest. According to one of the owners of the TV store, Gilligan came in with a radio to be fixed and asked what was going on in the street. Told that the young people were just acting up, Gilligan remarked that he did not want to get involved in anything, that he wanted to have his radio fixed and leave. The shopkeeper saw the youths start throwing garbage can covers and soda bottles. There was a crash and he saw the superintendent run into the building. Gilligan then ran out the door.

Seven other people, a couple walking by the building, a practical nurse standing on the other side of the street, a truck driver walking to work, a bus driver on his way from work, the cleaning store owner, and a teacher looking out a third story school window, stated that Powell had run, leaped or swaggered onto the stoop, heading towards the entrance to number 215. Some saw Powell enter the building. Gilligan appeared from the direction of the TV store and, according to most versions, was standing on the sidewalk somewhere near the stoop when Powell started back down the stoop towards the street. Gilligan, according to the man in the television store, shouted, "Stop". Extending his left hand, he said, "I'm a lieutenant, drop it"; in his right hand he held a gun. Standing in the entranceway of the store, the owner looked to the doorway of the building and saw the head and shoulders of someone coming out in a crouched position, clenced hand raised to shoulder level. A bus driver standing near No. 209 said that Powell had a knife in his right hand and was moving off the stoop towards the officer, who was on the sidewalk facing the building. He related that Gilligan, holding a badge in his open palm, had shouted, "Stop, "I'm a cop". An air conditioning mechanic, whose truck was halted by traffic about three buildings west of No. 215, heard someone shout, "Stop and drop it". From his elevated cab, he then saw Powell standing with one foot on the sidewalk and one foot on the bottom step of the stoop. Facing Powell, about two or three feet away was Gilligan. A knife in his right hand, the boy paused, raised it to about head level away from his body, and started to come down with it, striking at Gilligan. There was a shot. Powell started to slump but came up again. He raised the knife and again swung at Gilligan. There was another shot. Traffic started to move, and the witness drove away towards Second Avenue. A workman on a scaffold four buildings east of No. 215 looked in the direction of the building after the first shot. According to his version, Powell was moving rapidly and coming down from the stoop but still on the landing while Gilligan was on the sidewalk in front of the TV store. In his right hand Gilligan held some object and his left hand was partially outstretched. Powell, with his hands raised and fists clenched, also held an object in his hand. As he then climed up the rope of the scaffold to safety, he heard two more shots.

Other witnesses differed concerning the positions of Gilligan and Powell. A truck driver, who was standing in front of the cleaning store insisted that Gilligan had followed Powell into the building and that they were both still in the hallway when the three shots were fired. Two witnesses maintained that one or all three shots were fired from the street into the hallway, while one passerby said Gilligan was in front of the TV store window when he fired toward the door. A teacher who was standing by a fourth story window when the first shot was fired thought that Gilligan was facing the street and Powell the building when the next two shots were fired.

All the witnesses who heard three shots, except one, agreed that the first shot was followed by a pause and then two shots in succession. All, who had seen Powell fall to the sidewalk, recalled that he did not reach the ground until all three shots had been fired. Powell lay on the sidewalk face down, while Gilligan stood over him, pointing his gun at him. The TV man heard the officer tell Powell not to move. Two teachers, looking from the third and fourth floor windows, respectively, claimed that Gilligan then pushed Powell over onto his back. A man standing by the cleaning store maintained, however, that an ambulance attendant turned over the body, and a man who had been working in a nearby building said that a clergyman and a police officer turned Powell over onto his back. But the priest who arrived on the scene stated that Powell was already on his back when he arrived. Two men heard Gilligan say that there was a knife under the boy. They also noticed a badge hanging from Gilligan's pants pocket.

Two other witnesses saw a knife in the street after the shooting. A young school teacher who lives in the neighborhood noticed a knife blade lying next to Powell's thigh, between his body and the stoop. While standing there she saw someone kick the knife toward the curb. A teacher who ran out of the school after the shooting saw a knife lying in the gutter about ten feet from Powell. The blade was open. He picked it up, closed it, and gave it to a police officer. Powell's young friend later identified this knife as the black-handled knife he had received from Powell and returned to him just before the shooting.

Several uniformed police officers arrived at the scene approximately 9:30. Two saw Powell lying face down with his left arm partly under his head. One of them turned Powell over in an attempt to administer first aid. The other officer was handed the black-handled knife by a teacher. Now in the District Attorney's custody, this knife, open, measures eight and seven-eighths inches. Its single blade is three and one-half inches long.

Statement of Lieutenant Gilligan

Lieutenant Gilligan is thirty-seven years old, has been a policeman for seventeen years. He is six feet, two inches tall, and weighs about two hundred pounds. Questioned extensively, Lieutenant Gilligan gave the following version of the events. July 16th was his day off. His radio having gone dead that morning, he decided to take it to the Jadco TV Service Company, located at 215 East 76th Street in the precinct where he formerly worked. Arriving at about 9:30 or 9:25 a.m., he noticed two groups of youngsters standing around a man who was hosing the sidewalk. Upon entering the store, he was told that there had been some trouble earlier and that the police had been called.

Suddenly, Gilligan heard the sound of breaking glass and saw people running in the street. Dropping the hose, the superintendent ran into the building. A boy, following behind, threw a bottle and garbage can cover at the man and ran away. Gilligan then stepped outside and spotted Powell running around the front of the parked service truck towards the building, yelling, "Hit him, hit him, hit him." In his right hand, held close to his chest, was an open knife, blade pointed down. Powell ran towards the hallway. Gilligan, removing his badge from his left trouser pocket and his revolver from his right pocket, moved to a point in front of the stoop, facing the building entrance. By this time Powell was just inside the hallway at the outer door. Holding the shield in his outstretched hand in front of him, Gilligan said, "I'm a police lieutenant. Come out and drop it." Looking over his shoulder, Powell glanced from the badge to the gun. Gilligan repeated the warning. Powell turned, raised the knife in front of his chest and lunged at the officer. Pointing the gun to his left, Gilligan fired a warning shot into the building and again told him to stop. Powell, now close to the edge of the stoop landing, struck at the officer with the knife. Gilligan blocked it with his right hand, which still held the gun, and attempted to push Powell back, but the knife scraped along his arm causing it to bleed and later to swell. Powell was bent back but again struck with the knife. This time Gilligan, who claims to be an expert shot, pointed his gun slightly upwards and fired at the raised hand, seeking to dislodge the knife. But Powell, still above the officer on the stoop, again lunged forward, knife hand pumping. Gilligan stepped back and fired into the boy's midsection. Powell staggered and collapsed onto the sidewalk, face down. The knife lay nearby. Gilligan backed around onto the stoop, holding the gun down by his side.

APPLICABLE LAW

1. The killing of one human being by another is a criminal homicide, unless the act is "justifiable" or otherwise excused by law.

2. Deadly force is justifiable if used in self-defense, whether by a private citizen or a police officer. The theory of self-defense may be termed, "reasonably apparent necessity": deadly force is justified if the slayer has a reasonable basis, in all the circumstances, for believing at the moment of the slaying that such force is necessary to prevent imminent, grave personal injury to himself.

If James Powell did not attack Lt. Gilligan, or attacked him but without a dangerous weapon, and Gilligan had no reason for believing that he was in imminent danger, the shooting was not justified as self-defense. If Powell attacked Gilligan with a knife, but there was a reasonable alternative to shooting, Gilligan was obliged to make every effort, consistent with his own safety, to avoid the danger before using fatal force. He could shoot without retreating, however, if it was reasonable to believe at the moment of the attack that retreat was impossible or would have increased the danger. This is so even if, upon subsequent reflection, it appears that such belief was mistaken, and there was an opportunity to retreat without increasing the danger.

3. Deadly force is justifiable not only under the law of self-defense, but also under certain principles governing the use of force by a police officer in the performance of his duties.

At all times, a New York City policeman is required to carry his service revolver, and bound to protect life and property, prevent crime, and arrest offenders. If, while "off duty", Gilligan observed a public disturbance, he was obliged to intercede, and could arrest any person on reasonable grounds for believing that he was committing a crime or offense in the officer's presence. Homicide is justifiable when committed by a police officer in attempting lawfully to apprehend a person for a crime actually committed, when the circumstances are such that one would have reasonable cause for believing that the crime was a felony, and that deadly force is necessary to apprehend the suspect. Assault with a knife, and assaulting a police officer with intent to resist lawful arrest, are felonies.

Therefore, if Gilligan was acting as a police officer, and lawfully attempting to apprehend Powell for some crime or offense committed in his presence, such as possession of a knife with intent to use it unlawfully upon another, or disorderly conduct, and Powell resisted arrest by assaulting Gilligan in any manner, this assault was a felony; if Powell assaulted Gilligan with a dangerous weapon, a separate felony was committed. The officer was then entitled to use deadly force to apprehend Powell, but only if he had a reasonable basis for believing that such force was necessary.

4. The presumption of innocence applies in the grand jury room. The grand jury ought to find an indictment only when all the evidence before them, taken together, is such as in their judgment would, if unexplained or uncontradicted, warrant a conviction by a trial jury by a verdict of guilty beyond a reasonable doubt. The grand jury should consider all the evidence, and where there appear irreconcilable discrepancies, the grand jury should resolve issues of credibility.

Thus, no indictment could be found against Lt. Gilligan unless at least twelve of the grand jurors concluded that a petit jury would be persuaded by the evidence that, beyond a reasonable doubt, the killing was unjustified.

SUBJECT: COMMUNIST INFILTRATION OF MASS ORGANIZATIONS
IS - C

ReCGlet to Bureau dated February 28, 1964.

I. A. DATA CONCERNING PROGRAM

During February, 1964, a meeting of the Negro Commission of the Communist Party (CP) of Illinois was held in Chicago. At this meeting, [redacted] of the Negro Commission stated that they would engage in a discussion on certain estimates and a projected outlook toward the civil rights movement in Chicago. [redacted] stated that the upsurge in Negro rights has not lessened but has developed to a higher stage, particularly in the North with demonstrations taking place in many major northern cities. The most important feature in the civil rights movement is the intervention of the Democratic Party machine in the civil rights movement. This is a historical development in the sense that on many occasions the political influence of the Democratic Party on the Negro community has been used to reduce the militancy of the Negro people in Chicago. As an example, [redacted] stated, the parent organization established by the political machine under the leadership of the Negro aldermen has come out against the school boycott. b6 b7C

[redacted] related that the Communist Party (CP) must give its full support and interest to the boycott. He stated that the CP particularly must help develop activities and struggles on these questions as well as on the questions of jobs, unemployment, and the relief crisis. b6 b7C

[redacted] stated that the CP must find ways to strengthen the ties of the labor movement to the Negro peoples movement and stimulate activity in the white community in support of the civil rights movement.

As of February, 1964, the National Association of Social Workers, Chicago Area Chapter, was a point of concentration and infiltration of the CP of Illinois and was specifically the mass organization of the Social Workers Club, Professional Section, CP of Illinois. b7D

[redacted] 2/20/64)

During March, 1964, a meeting of the Negro Commission of the CP of Illinois was held in Chicago. At this meeting, [redacted] opened with an evaluation of the school boycott and indicated that the CP leadership agreed that the boycott was positive and that it had more significance than the first one since it was conducted in active opposition against the political machine. [redacted] stated that it was still necessary to maintain the struggle for unity within the Chicago Council of Coordinating Organizations (CCCO). b6 b7C [redacted] further stated that the approach must be to organize grassroots movements with emphasis on the parents' councils and secondly to actively engage in the political arena through the registration drive.

[redacted] 3/6/64)

During March, 1964, a meeting of the Hansborough Club of the CP of Illinois was held in Chicago. At this meeting, [redacted] a member of the Club, reported to the members the results of a top level CP meeting which had been held recently. According to [redacted] the purpose of that meeting was to work out a program for the various CP Clubs. He stated that the CP wants every member to work with one of the civil rights groups such as the Negro American Labor Council (NALC), National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP), and the CCCO. [redacted] stated that the CP wants each member to find his way into these organizations and work with them. He stated there would be no attempts to take over the organizations but the CP wants the members to implement the CP program into the organization with which they are working. b6 b7C

During May, 1964, a meeting of the South Side Club of the CP of Illinois was held in Chicago. [redacted] a member of this group spoke concerning the importance of having CP members work within mass organizations where they will be b6 b7C in a position to influence people in their thinking. [redacted] stated that they should analyze why they are failing to interest more people in the CP and after that take steps to build the membership of the CP. b6 b7C

Another member of the Club stated it was important that they work within mass organizations in order to be in a position where they can have contact with more people. He stated that CP people must be aggressive in their relationships with other people if they expect to have any influence upon them. b7D

During May, 1964, [redacted] met with [redacted] both members of the State Board of the CP of Illinois, and they discussed the necessity of working on a mass civil rights rally scheduled to be held at Soldiers Field, Chicago, on June 21, 1964. [redacted] stated that he thought [redacted] should get in contact with CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT, Chairman of the CP of Illinois, and find out how the CP should react with respect to the civil rights rally. [redacted] thought "The Worker" should be timed to come out with as big a story as possible and the biggest headline so it will appear they are the rallying point for this affair. [redacted] stated he has arranged it so that his paper, the "Morning Freiheit," will have a special section on the civil rights rally. In addition, [redacted] stated he thought [redacted] should contact a number of labor leaders and get their reactions to the civil rights rally and in addition should contact various CP comrades to stimulate interest among white people and obtain pledges for financial support for the rally. [redacted] stated he was contacting Jewish leaders to get statements and possibly some finances. b6 b7C

[redacted] 5/28/64)

During June, 1964, an Illinois CP functionary was in contact with [redacted] a CP member from St. Louis, Missouri, and [redacted] a CP member from New York City, for the purpose of discussing the formation of a CP collective to work within the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE). It was learned that [redacted] and [redacted] were in Chicago as part of a task force to bolster CORE activities in the Chicago area and establish divisions of that organization. b6 b7C

[redacted] 6/19/64) b7D

During June, 1964, a meeting of a CP Club was held in Chicago and one of the members of the Club related that one of the CP's weaknesses has been the isolation of the communist participation in mass organizations which are involved in the struggles today. He stated mass action activity is the key to implementing the Party's line and in winning over the masses. He stated that each CP member must join these organizations that are taking part in the civil rights struggle.

[redacted] 6/30/64) b7D

B. STEPS TAKEN TO CARRY OUT PROGRAM

During March, 1964, a meeting of the subcommittee of the Negro Commission of the CP of Illinois active in the affairs of the NALC was held in Chicago. At this meeting, [redacted] stated that the purpose of the group was to act as an arm of the Negro Commission that had recently been reorganized. He stated that the group would be composed of CP and non-CP people and would discuss the general political problem of how to win the working class in the Negro liberation movement. At this meeting there were four individuals present and a proposal was made that six additional people be added to this subcommittee. This group would then compose the collective that would attempt to carry out the program in the NALC. b6 b7C

The concept of combined CP and non-CP members on various bodies organized by the CP is based on the fact that the current status of CP membership is small. There are in the mass movements ex-CP members who have left the Party for one reason or another. It is the hope of the CP to win back these people who have dropped out. Therefore, there is an approach on the part of the CP to include in certain mass organization committees CP members and at the moment non-CP personnel.

Regarding subcommittees of the Negro Commission which will act as arms of the Commission, these subcommittees on occasions have activities around various mass organizations such as CCCO, NALC, NAACP, as well as others. Here, the CP will actually attempt to set up committees that will even include non-Marxists, that is, the subcommittees will include people who are friendly toward the CP but have not accepted the ideology or accepted the CP program. To date, this has not materialized to any great extent.

C. SUCCESS OF PROGRAM

CP success in infiltrating and influencing the Chicago Branch of the NAACP is weak and ineffective. On occasions several leading CP officials have talked to members of the CP Club on NAACP affairs concerning the possibility of pushing various issues in the NAACP. These issues such as school integration, open occupancy, and efforts to end "Jim Crow" are those which the NAACP has been advocating over the years.

[redacted] 3/3/64) b7D

The CP's objective of infiltrating such right-led organizations as CORE, NAACP, NALC and the Committee for a Sane Nuclear Policy (SANE) with the view of moving these groups to positions more compatible with CP goals remains unchanged. The CP has had no appreciative success in influencing the policy or in directing such groups.

Mass organizations do not seem to concern themselves too much about CP members working in the ranks even though the leaders resent being identified with or having their organizations linked to communism or CP personnel.

The CP of Illinois, including its Chairman, CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT, follows the announced national policy of the CP, USA in condemning racial violence but maintains its position of encouraging Negroes to speak for the legitimate demands of Negroes including housing, desegregation, voting rights, etc.

The CP of Illinois currently has two CP members who are working in CORE as national task force leaders of CORE. These people are [redacted] and [redacted]. However, their instructions are to operate within the framework of the aims and objectives of CORE. The CORE task force consists of 16 organizers and the CP has been unable to reach any of the other 14 organizers. b6 b7C

PH T-1 advised on August 29 and 30, 1964, that [redacted] CPEPD, convinced [redacted] CPEPD, that it was necessary that the CPEPD issue a statement denying any connection of the Communist Party (CP) with the Philadelphia riots. On August 30, 1964, [redacted] prepared a statement and a news item, both of which are to appear in "The Woker" Tuesday, September 2, 1964.

"The Worker" is an East Coast Communist newspaper published twice per week.

The statement is to read as follows:

"At 9:30 p.m. on Friday, August 28th, several police moved in on a family argument between husband and wife. The police ordered the woman out of her car. Shortly after, she was being man-handled. This was the spark that ignited the explosion of long smoldering resentment and frustration in North Philadelphia. This area has been labeled "The Jungle" by law enforcement bureaus, the city fathers, the gentlemen of the press, community leaders and ministers, most of whom had long ago either left the community or looked the other way.

"Indescribable poverty and degredation are the daily lot of its inhabitants. Rodents have free reign in households where rat-bitten babies are a daily experience. Surplus food is the fare of many. The landlord and the merchant reap super profits from those condemned to misery and despair by color bars. There is endless milling around on street corners and taprooms by countless unemployed. The measly attempts to initiate "programs" of self-help are but pinpricks at a problem that can no longer await long-range solutions. These people are fed up with promises. The mayor's proclamation to "go home" on Saturday; the threat to use the police force most vigorously; the massing of 1,500 armed police into the area, are no solution to the heart-rending problems of deprivation. It is clear to all who want to see that the events here were a spontaneous reaction. Calling for an FBI investigation is another way of taking the heat off the conditions that made this combustion possible. The FBI has stood by while racists, murders, and bombers of churches operated under their noses in the South. Will the FBI clear up the slums? This is the real culprit and no FBI is needed to inform Philadelphians. Responsible leadership can no longer accept and justify the piddling, inadequate proposals of Mayor TATE. A crash program that will immediately raise the standard of living is needed now. The CPEPD calls upon the people of North Philadelphia to organize for constructive solutions to the problems of the community. We cannot condone irresponsible looting and destruction as a means of resolving the grievous injustices and capitalistic exploitation. Now is "the time that victories can be won. This can be achieved by calling for unity of the whole community to conduct a vigorous campaign around a crash program. The CP demands that Mayor TATE immediately call on the city council to:

"1. Pass a new housing law with teeth that will raise the decent-housing requirements.

"2. Pass a minimun rent law.

"3. Request a Government financed public housing program with Federal aid for the families of these communities to relieve the over crowding.

"4. Apply for a Federally financed jobs program based on beautification of the community and needed public repairs.

"5. Increased recreation and library facilities.

"6. Demand state aid to increase relief payments so that minimum requirements for a decent living standard are maintained.

"7. Request Federal and State aid to institute a free medical aid program for all unemployed and their families.

"8. Make the police advisory board a permanent body that includes elected community representatives. Wipe out all police brutality.

"9. A nursery school program for all children of working mothers.

"The fight to shatter Jim Crow in Philadelphia is the fight to raise the living standards of the whole people. This cannot be won by outraged frustration expressed in looting and vandalism but only by unity in the struggle with friends and allies. Defeat those who will lead us down blind alleys. Responsible Negro leadership, the trade unions, all liberal and people's organizations should immediately take the initiative to convene a community conference that will take up the problems that people here face and move for their immediate solution."

The news article follows:

"The anguish of the hungry, jobless people, jammed into rat-ridden, roach-infested, dilapidated slums broke into an uneasy silence imposed by police billies and guns. Hatred for the 'armed police and its brutal and terroristic enforcement of law and order' had finally reached its peak. As one woman sadly said that violent Friday night, 'Our hunger is so big, our anger is so big.' Friday, August 28th, in Philadelphia, was a night when all emotions of a hungry, angry people ran rampant. Young and old were out to defy, besides, those who have abused, robbed, degraded, and abased the community for years. This was no race riot. All the city officials, community leaders, and even Police Commissioner HOWARD R. LEARY had to admit this was beyond the pale of race protest. Neither was this was a civil rights demonstration. Singled out for vengence were the police. For years the people have suffered the outrage, terror, and indignities of a police force that has viewed the community as a 'jungle.' Long ago, the gentlemen of the press, the city government, the courts,

"and all respectable society had named this ghetto of despair, of frustration, 'the jungle.' Walking the streets of North Philadelphia on Friday night, it was difficult to hold back tears of sorrow and pain. Here were the vengence of unbearable poverty, violence, destruction against those who have robbed and sucked the blood out of us; against the business establishments, who have always taken the people for a ride, against the hated police. 'Let us take what we have been denied.' People took. People took to fulfill simple needs. Wealth was in display all around them and they had nothing. One little boy, helped by a young girl, was dragging a table and saying, 'I'm bringing my mama a table, my mama never had a table.' A woman with six or seven small children, running with arms loaded with shoes and clothing, called out to her neighbors, 'We're getting ready for the winter now.' An old couple carrying eggs stated, 'We won't be hungry for a long time.' As several of us sat on steps on 15th Street near Columbia Avenue early in the morning, a woman came out and called to us, 'Come on and have breakfast with me, folks; I've got plenty to eat now and to share. I haven't had any food like this in a long time; it's good to get regular food instead of surplus.' We watched a group of young people take aim at police. One young man at 15th Street and Oxford said, 'The police are not here to protect us, but to beat us up as they have done all along.'

"The disgrace of the nation was reflected in the eyes of the young and old who traveled in groups to protect themselves against the clubs of police vengence. Tonight was their night and they held the police at arm's length. They were united in

General Situation

As of 12:00 noon, August 30, 1964, the Philadelphia Police reported that the riot area is relatively quiet, although isolated looting continued through the morning and arrests were being made. Wide spread slashing of auto tires was reported.

As of 10:00 a.m., August 30, 1964, the police reported the following statistics:

Total arrests	299
Police injured	64
Firemen injured	2
Civilians injured	179

Radio broadcasts of interviews with store owners, wives of policemen, and other citizens indicate wide spread criticism of policy of not permitting police to use guns nor to adequately protect themselves and property of citizens. Many critical telephone calls of this nature were also received at the Philadelphia Office of the FBI.

Mayor JAMES H.J. TATE met with his cabinet at noon, August 30, 1964, to re-assess the situation. Top police officials toured the riot area at 1:00 p.m. The police ordered all threaters in the riot area closed.

Following the cabinet meeting the mayor held a press conference. He reviewed the situation, stating he felt the police had the riotous conditions under control and that they would not spread to new areas. He pointed out that the police had successfully controlled the possibility of the spread to new areas during the preceding nights. He commented that the reason for the wide spread damage and rioting on the night of August 28 - 29, 1964, was that although the police were able to move extra forces into the area, they did not have enough men available to contain the condition that developed. On the night of August 29 - 30, 1964, more police were available and the situation was contained. He pointed out that most of the apparent calls for police to prevent looting or "assist officer" calls and were actually without foundation. He stated that he expects to keep his curfew order in effect for as long as a week or even 10 days. He also plans to keep up to 1,200 or 1,500 policemen on duty.

The mayor pointed out that a city ordinance exists which will make the city responsible for the indemnification of losses to business and property owners. The city solicitor will explore the possibility of Federal and/or State assistance in this regard, but failing Federal or State help the city will have to provide the funds. The mayor, in response to a press inquiry, estimated the total bill to the city as "several million dollars," encompassing both the property losses and police over-time pay. City council will be asked to meet and authorize the necessary funds. (Independent press estimates of the property damage are now given as two million dollars).

The mayor's office advised that businessmen on the fringe of the riot area, particularly those on Marshall Street which appears between 6th and 7th Streets, have demanded police protection, claiming that local Negroes have threatened that "they are next." Some have advised the mayor's office that they have hired watchmen, including armed guards. They have asked the city to block off and barricade the street. the mayor has ordered police protection for these businessmen.

The police advised that as of 4:00 p.m., August 30, 1964, 386 persons have been arrested on various charges in connection with the rioting. 76 police have been injured as have 185 civilians. Only two policement and seven civilians remain hospitalized, the rest were treated and discharged.

[redacted] visited the riot area on August 30, 1964, and subsequently called at the police command post, stating to police officials that he intended to telephone or write Attorney General ROBERT KENNEDY to tell him what a good job the Philadelphia Police had done in handling the riot situation.

GEORGE LINCOLN ROCKWELL

The Philadelphia Police advised on August 30, 1964, that they had reported that GEORGE LINCOLN ROCKWELL had been seen in the riot-torn area of Philadelphia about 2:00 p.m., August 30, 1964. Police Commissioner HOWARD R. LEARY ordered ROCKWELL's arrest, but he was not located.

This information supplements a prior memorandum of August 29, 1964.

Captain [redacted], Philadelphia, advised that as of 11 a.m., August 29, 1964, crowds remained in the streets in the riot area and sporadic looting of stores continued. All available police, totaling over 1,000, were on the scene.

News media reported that although the violence did not appear to be race rioting, shortly before dawn approximately 500 Negroes began shouting, "We want freedom."

PH T-1 advised that he had received information from various unknown persons in the area that between 9:30 and 10:30 p.m., August 29, 1964, rioting was to start in the form of a flying wedge, originating on the steps of the church at the corner of 29th Street and Lehigh Avenue. One arm of the wedge would proceed east on Lehigh Avenue and the other arm to proceed south on 29th Street. This riot was alleged to be organized by two male Negroes from New York City driving a 1955 black Studebaker bearing New York tags, number unknown. The Negroes were described as: Number 1 - 21 to 25 years of age, medium brown complexion, black goatee and Number 2 - chocolate brown complexion, round face, no other description furnished to informant. These two men were alleged to be in Philadelphia on vacation "to have fun."

At 12:30 p.m., August 29, 1964, Mayor JAMES H. J. TATE and HOWARD R. LEARY, Commissioner of Police, issued a proclamation which has been widely broadcast on radio stations.

AUGUST 28 - 29, 1964

PH T-2 advised August 29, 1964, that the North Philadelphia Fighters for Liberty and Justice (NPFLJ) plan street meeting 6 p.m. today, 17th Street and Columbia Avenue. They will first meet at 5:30 p.m. at Clubhouse, 1917 North 19th Street, to plan strategy. Source expects participation by [redacted] Leaders of group, plus [redacted] and possibly others. Customary procedure is to send a letter to the Captain of Police Precinct in advance indicating intention to hold meeting and then go ahead without need for a specific permit. For the past several weeks, NPFLJ have been holding street meetings. They possess 20 Watt amplifier powered by 12 Volt portable battery capable of carrying one to two blocks.

This group has heard and will presumably disseminate a rumor that on the night of August 28, 1964, a Philadelphia policeman brutally beat a pregnant Negro woman who died as a result.

PH T-2 and PH T-3 previously reported that at recent street meetings the group has spoken on subjects including need for Negro unity against white oppressors; analysis of New York riots, which they claim were not hoodlumism but Negroes rising up against white oppressors; police brutality; brutality against Negroes in the South; struggle for equal rights by Puerto Ricans in Philadelphia; and the need for Negro-Puerto Rican unity in Philadelphia.

A characterization of the NPFLJ is attached hereto as an appendix.

PH T-2 advised on November 8, 1963, that a split had occurred between the leaders of the NPCEJ and the Philadelphia Fighters for Liberty and Justice. [redacted] and others were attempting to eliminate the NPCEJ and organize the PFLJ.

PH T-2 on October 25, 1963, advised that at a meeting of the PFLJ on October 20, 1963, [redacted] accepted the temporary presidency of the PFLJ.

PH T-2 on July 27, 1964, advised that [redacted] continued as a member and motivating force in the PFLJ.

On September 13, 1962, PH T-3 identified [redacted] as being elected to the National Committee of the Provisional Organizing Committee for a Marxist-Leninist Communist Party (POC) Fifth National Convention at New York City, N.Y., on September 1-2, 1962.

A characterization of the POC is attached hereto.

On August 16, 1963, PH T-3 advised that [redacted] was a member of the POC on that date.

On September 16, 1963, PH T-2 advised that subject was a member of the North Philadelphia Committee for Equal Justice (NPCEJ) and attended two meetings in August and September 1963.

The Philadelphia Police Department shortly after 4 p.m. on August 29, 1964, advised that 78 adults arrested by police districts, mostly charged with burglary, some charged with assault and battery and breach of peace, had been processed through Police Headquarters up to 4 p.m. Of these, 28 were processed from midnight to 8 a.m. and 50 from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Most of these have prior records with the Philadelphia Police. All are expected to receive court hearings today. No figures are as yet available on additional persons arrested on similar charges. Five juveniles were arrested so far today for rioting, two for assault and battery and inciting to riot, one for disorderly conduct. Many others brought in for investigation were released.

The Police Department also furnished supplemental information as follows:

PROVISIONAL ORGANIZING COMMITTEE FOR A MARXIST-LENINIST COMMUNIST PARTY (POC); aka Provisional Organizing Committee for the Reconstitution of a Marxist-Leninist Communist Party; Provisional Committee to Reconstitute the Communist Party, USA

On August 21, 1958 a source advised that a left caucus conference was held in New York City on August 16-17, 1958 with representatives present from Philadelphia and Williamsport, Pa. At this conference the Provisional Organizing Committee for a Marxist-Leninist Communist Party (POC) was formed and JOSEPH DOUGHER was elected National Vice Chairman.

On August 20, 1958 a meeting of the members of the Left Faction of the Communist Party, Eastern Pennsylvania and Delaware (CPEPD), was held in Philadelphia, Pa., with JOSEPH DOUGHER serving as chairman. At this meeting the Philadelphia group of the POC was established.

On May 4, 1964 the source advised that the Philadelphia Branch of the POC is still active and has been controlled and dominated by the National Officers of the POC since its formation.

The "Guide to Subversive Organizations and Publications," revised and published as of December 1, 1961 by the Committee on Un-American Activities, U.S. House of Representatives, documents the Provisional Organizing Committee for a Marxist-Leninist Communist Party (POC) as follows:

> "Found to be 'a new Communist splinter group.' The Provisional Organizing Committee for a Marxist-Leninist Communist Party 'also known as the POC  was formed in August 1958 by a number of Communist Party members who were dissatisfied with the trends and policies of the party and, while within it, had referred to themselves as the Marxist-Leninist Caucus.'
> "'The leaders and participants in the Provisional Organizing Committee group had been expelled from the Communist Party on the technical charge of "disruptive, factional, anti-party activities."

"'The POC group is composed largely of extreme left-wing elements from the Communist Party. Throughout the party's history, there have been contending right- and left-wing factions which, in periods of turmoil such as the party has gone through in the recent past, have fought for control. The POC elements lost out in this recent struggle within the U. S. party ***.'

"'The one fact that is completely clear today is that the POC group is made up of hard-core, dedicated, and extremist Communists who, despite their present differences with the Communist Party leadership, are intent upon doing all within their power to speed the achievement of the goals of international communism.'"

(Committee on Un-American Activities, Annual Report for 1959, House Report 1251, February 8, 1960, pp. 69 and 70.)

PHILADELPHIA FIGHTERS FOR LIBERTY AND JUSTICE

On November 22, 1963 a source advised that the initial meeting of the Philadelphia Fighters for Liberty and Justice (PFLJ) was held on October 1, 1963, at which time the meeting agreed to the selection of temporary officers.

At a meeting of the PFLJ on November 12, 1963, the organization president stated the purpose of the organization is to form a militant organization dedicated to struggle which shall seek the end to Negro oppression and exploitation in a realistic manner.

A two-page throwaway dated November 20, 1963, self-identified as being issued by the PFLJ, states this organization came into being as the organized form for developing in Philadelphia the program of the National Congress on Equal Rights which was held August 31-September 1, 1963, in New York City.

On September 3, 1963, a second source advised that the Provisional Organizing Committee for a Marxist-Leninist Communist Party (POC) held a National Congress on Equal Rights on August 31 - September 1, 1963, in New York City.

A third source on May 4, 1964 advised that the PFLJ is currently active in Philadelphia.

NORTH PHILADELPHIA COMMITTEE FOR EQUAL JUSTICE
aka Philadelphia Committee for Equal Justice

A source advised on June 25, 1963, that the North Philadelphia Committee for Equal Justice (NPCEJ) was originated and is controlled by the Provisional Organizing Committee for a Marxist-Leninist Communist Party (POC).

Since its inception in April, 1960, the NPCEJ has been one of the main activities of the POC in Philadelphia, although the POC has attempted to remain in the background. The activities of the NPCEJ have consisted of conducting street corner meetings and distributing leaflets and petitions protesting police brutality against Negroes in Philadelphia. The NPCEJ continues to be active in Philadelphia.

A second source advised on January 14, 1964, that the NPCEJ is now completely inactive.

MUHAMMAD'S MOSQUE NUMBER 12

Two sources advised on May 22, 1964 that the organization of which ELIJAH MUHAMMAD is the national leader and founder, is known in Philadelphia, Pa. as Muhammad's Mosque Number 12 (MM #12). These sources advised that MM #12 was located at 4218-20 Lancaster Avenue, Philadelphia, Pa.; but, in September, 1963, moved to 2204 North Broad Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

The first meeting at 2204 North Broad Street was held on September 23, 1963.

A third source on May 22, 1964 advised the organization has been meeting in Philadelphia, Pa. since 1954.

In this letter to the Christian Democratic Union in East Berlin, subject regrets he will not be able to accept the cordial invitation he received to visit the so-called German Democratic Republic. He says he cannot accept because developments in race relations in the United States make it necessary for him to shorten his trip to Berlin. He will limit his speaking to the two days he will be in West Berlin. He expresses hope that he may be able to accept a similar invitation in the future. The sentence, "...I would be more than happy to serve you if it were not for these new demands thrust upon me...," may be a minister's reference in the sense of serving a congregation.

EMERGENCY CIVIL LIBERTIES COMMITTEE

The "Guide to Subversive Organizations and Publications," revised and published as of December 1, 1961, prepared and released by the Committee on Un-American Activities, United States House of Representatives, Washington, D.C., contains the following concerning the Emergency Civil Liberties Committee:

"Emergency Civil Liberties Committee

"1. 'The Emergency Civil Liberties Committee is an organization with headquarters in New York, whose avowed purpose is to abolish the House Committee on Un-American Activities and discredit the FBI. * * * The committee finds that the Emergency Civil Liberties Committee, established in 1951, although representing itself as a non-Communist group, actually operates as a front for the Communist Party. It has repeatedly assisted, by means of funds and legal aid, Communists involved in Smith Act violations and similar legal proceedings. One of its chief activities has been and still is the dissemination of voluminous Communist propaganda material.'

'FRANK WILKINSON was called as a witness when he appeared in Atlanta as a representative of the Emergency Civil Liberties Committee to propagandize against the Committee on Un-American Activities and to protest its hearings. In 1956 WILKINSON was identified as a Communist Party member by a former FBI undercover agent within the party. Summoned at that time to answer the allegation, his reply to all questions was, "I am answering no questions of this committee." This also became his stock reply to questions when he appeared during the Atlanta hearings. * * * WILKINSON has since been convicted of contempt of Congress and sentenced to one year in jail.'

(Committee on Un-American Activities, Annual Report for 1958, House Report 187, March 9, 1959, pp. 34 and 35.)

'To defend the cases of Communist law-breakers, fronts have been devised making special appeals in behalf of civil liberties and reaching out far beyond the confines of the Communist Party itself. Among these organizations are the * * * Emergency Civil Liberties Committee. When the Communist Party itself is under fire these fronts offer a bulwark of protection.'

FAIR PLAY FOR CUBA COMMITTEE

The April 6, 1960, edition of "The New York Times" newspaper contained a full-page advertisement captioned "What Is Really Happening In Cuba," placed by the Fair Play for Cuba Committee (FPCC). This advertisement announced the formation of the FPCC in New York City and declared the FPCC intended to promulgate "the truth about revolutionary Cuba" to neutralize the distorted American press.

"The New York Times" edition of January 11, 1961, reported that at a hearing conducted before the United States Senate Internal Security Subcommittee on January 10, 1961, Dr. CHARLES A. SANTOS-BUCH identified himself and ROBERT TABER as organizers of the FPCC. He also testified he and TABER obtained funds from the Cuban Government which were applied toward the cost of the aforementioned advertisement.

On May 16, 1963, a source advised that during the first two years of the FPCC's existence there was a struggle between Communist Party (CP) and Socialist Workers Party (SWP) elements to exert their power within the FPCC and thereby influence FPCC policy. This source added that during the past year there had been a successful effort by FPCC leadership to minimize the role of these and other organizations in the FPCC so that their influence as of May, 1963, was negligible.

The SWP has been designated pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

On May 20, 1963, a second source advised that VINCENT "TED" LEE, FPCC National Office Director, was then formulating FPCC policy and had indicated that he had no intention of permitting FPCC policy to be determined by any other organization. This source stated that LEE believed that the FPCC should advocate resumption of diplomatic relations between Cuba and the United States and should support the right of Cubans to manage their revolution without interference from other nations. LEE did not advocate supporting the Cuban revolution per se.

FAIR PLAY FOR CUBA COMMITTEE

The November 23, 1963, edition of "The New York Times" reported that Senator THOMAS J. DODD of Connecticut had called FPCC "the chief public relations instrument of the CASTRO network in the United States." It is to be noted that Senator DODD was a member of the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee which twice conducted hearings on the FPCC.

The December 27, 1963, edition of "The New York World Telegram and Sun" newspaper stated that the pro-CASTRO FPCC was seeking to go out of business and that its prime activity during its lifetime had been sponsorship of pro-CASTRO street rallies and mass picket lines, and the direction of an active propaganda mill highlighting illegal travel-to-Cuba campaigns. Its comparatively brief span of life was attributed to mounting anti-CASTRO American public opinion, the 1962 Congressional hearings which disclosed FPCC financing by CASTRO's United Nations Delegation, and ultimately, the bad publicity which the FPCC received from disclosure of activities on its behalf by suspected presidential assassin, LEE H. OSWALD.

On February 6, 1964, the previously mentioned second source advised that V. T. LEE had recently remarked that the FPCC was dead and that there were no plans to organize another similar organization.

On April 13, 1964, a third source advised that there had not been any FPCC activity in many months and that the FPCC had been dissolved.

PROPOSED CHANGE IN MANUAL OF INSTRUCTIONS

5. Communist Influence in Racial Matters, Internal Security - C (code name "CIRM"). Bufile 100-442529. Office of Origin: New York.
Quarterly reports (to reach the Bureau by February 1, May 1, August 1 and November 1) should be submitted by each field office for the purpose of reporting, in a centralized manner, all available information bearing upon the communist influence in racial matters. Included should be information developed under the title of a variety of matters, such as CPUSA, Negro Question, Communist Influence in Racial Matters; communist infiltration of various organizations, such as the Congress of Racial Equality, Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee and the like; investigations of subversive individuals active in the racial movement; investigations of communist fronts and other miscellaneous organizations; and racial disturbances and other racial matters investigated under the Racial Matter character. Information should be included in these quarterly reports, notwithstanding the fact that it will duplicate reporting in the other substantive matters referred to above. These reports shall be designed to precisely spell out the full extent of the communist influence in racial matters. They should separate words and intentions from actions; mere participation from direct influence; and the bona fide communist from the mere "do-gooder." They should not include information concerning legitimate efforts in the racial movement where there is no communist taint.

Information should be reported according to the following outline. All main headings denoted by Roman numerals must be accounted for. If there is no information to report under a particular main heading, the heading should appear, followed by a statement "No information developed."

I - COMMUNIST STRATEGY

(A) COMMUNIST PARTY, USA

2) Plans, et cetera, made at District and lower level meetings, including expressions by local leaders and rank-and-file members.

3) Plans, et cetera, as revealed in Party publications and other propaganda media, such as written directives, press releases and the like.

Information under Item 3 should be reported by the office covering the origin of the publications, such as the New York Office for "The Worker," "Political Affairs" and directives from Party headquarters; San Francisco Office for "People's World"; et cetera. Party expressions, oral or written, when directly related to a specific event covered under II, should be included under II.

(B) OTHER COMMUNIST GROUPS (Such as Socialist Workers Party, Progressive Labor, Workers World Party and the like)

Under B report information under separate numbered subheadings for each organization. Report here information generally along the same lines as for A above.

II - COMMUNIST TACTICS

In this part report information on communist direction and influence of and participation in racial demonstrations, disturbances, drives, boycotts and any other similar activities with racial overtones. This part will illustrate how communist activities attempt to exploit racial situations and expand communist influence, thus furthering communist objectives. List activities in chronological order with lettered subheadings, such as:

(A) DEMONSTRATION, CLEVELAND, OHIO, 1/10/63

(B) STORE BOYCOTT, YOUNGSTOWN, OHIO, 3/6/63

Under each subheading include such information as nature of event; sponsoring and participating groups; total participants; number and identities of subversives involved; specifics as to whether subversives directed, controlled, instigated or merely participated; whether violence resulted and, if so, whether subversives involved; arrests of subversives and court disposition; and any other information believed pertinent to the overall picture of communist influence. Efforts by supporting groups to avoid communist involvement should also be reported. If a particular event had no communist involvement, it should, of course, not be included in the report.

III - COMMUNIST PENETRATION AND INFLUENCE IN RACIAL AND OTHER ORGANIZATIONS

Field offices should set out information concerning only the local branches of the organizations which are in its territory. The office covering the national headquarters of an organization should set out pertinent data as to the national headquarters, as well as any local affiliates in its territory, separating the national from the locals. The number of members, nationally and by locals, should be indicated. Include under each organization information as to officers and others in positions of influence who have present or past subversive connections; information as to other subversives who are merely members; specific evidence of influence wielded by subversives; policy concerning communist participation in the organization's activities, such as prohibition of communists holding office or membership; (if no such stated policy, so indicate); and use and distribution of communist propaganda.

IV - MISCELLANEOUS

If at all possible, information to be included should be set out under the basic main headings I, II or III. However, should there be some pertinent information to report which does not lend itself to the first three parts, it will be permissible to include it in Part IV - MISCELLANEOUS.

The term communist should be interpreted in its broad sense as including persons not only adhering to the principles of the CPUSA itself, but also to such splinter and offshoot groups as the Socialist Workers Party, Progressive Labor and the like.

To be covered in chart on report writing [illegible]

~~An original and 8 copies of all reports should be submitted to the Bureau by each field office.~~ Any office which has no information to report should so advise the Bureau by letter in lieu of a report. If any positive information, however limited, is available, it must be submitted by report. The same appropriate local dissemination to other agencies should be made as is made for the quarterly reports concerning the CPUSA. Except as otherwise indicated above, the regular report writing rules for security reports shall be applicable.

APPENDIX

LOS ANGELES, CALIFORNIA

A source advised on June 20, 1963, that the Fair Play for Cuba Committee (FPCC) was formed in New York City in Spring, 1960, under the sponsorship of certain well known pro-communists and "liberals" for the announced purpose of defending the "truth" about Cuba against alleged distortion by Cuba's enemies. A Greater Los Angeles Chapter of the FPCC (LA-FPCC) was formed in Los Angeles, California, in December, 1960 under the stimulus of the Los Angeles local of the Socialist Workers Party (LAL-SWP). The LAL-SWP was able to dominate and control the activities of the Los Angeles chapter without difficulty until 1962, at which time the Southern California District Communist Party (SCDCP) succeeded in gaining a foothold in the LA-FPCC executive committee, thereafter gradually reducing the control of the LAL-SWP.

The same source advised on May 13, 1964, that the LA-FPCC ceased outward activity in December, 1963, following unfavorable publicity resulting from the assassination of President JOHN F. KENNEDY.

A second source advised on April 28, 1964, that the LA-FPCC went out of existence without any notice, and that although at meetings of the executive committee of the LAL-SWP [redacted] b6 b7C of the FPCC made no mention of it, [redacted] of the LAL-SWP, mentioned in March, 1964, that the LA-FPCC was "no more".

Both the Communist Party (CP) and the SWP have been cited by the Attorney General of the United States pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

I. Community

New York City

New York City in the recent past has been the scene of racial violence which was brought to a head by the fatal shooting of James Powell, a 15 year old Negro schoolboy, by a member of the New York City Police Department (NYCPD).

In order to adequately portray the racial picture in New York City, as well as in contiguous areas where racial tensions have increased, the following is set forth relative to the overall population and the ethnic breakdown of this population in the New York area:

The metropolitan New York City area is composed of 10,694,633 persons, 7,781,984 of whom reside within the confines of the various counties which comprise New York City proper. New York City proper is composed of five boroughs, namely, Manhattan (New York County), Brooklyn (Kings County), Bronx (County), Queens (County), and Staten Island (Richmond County).

The overall population of the five boroughs is 7,781,984. This figure may be broken down by county as follows:

County	Total Population
New York County	1,698,281
Kings County	2,627,319
Bronx County	1,424,815
Queens County	1,809,578
Richmond County	136,803

These figures may be further broken down percentage wise as follows:

New York City	To Total Population
% non-whites	14.7
% under 18 years of age	27.8
% 18 to 64 years of age	61.7
% 65 years and over	10.5
New York County
% non-whites	25.1
% under 18 years of age	22.7
% 18 to 64 years of age	65.1
% 65 years and over	12.2
Kings County
% non-whites	14.5
% under 18 years of age	29.9
% 18 to 64 years of age	60.3
% 65 years and over	9.9
Bronx County
% non-whites	11.8
% under 18 years of age	28.4
% 18 to 64 years of age	60.9
% 65 years and over	10.7
Queens County
% non-whites	8.5
% under 18 years of age	28.3
% 18 to 64 years of age	62.1
% 65 years and over	9.6
Richmond County
% non-whites	4.6
% under 18 years of age	34.6
% 18 to 64 years of age	56.1
% 65 years and over	9.2

The number of whites compared to non-whites in the overall population in New York City is reflected as follows:

Males	3,719,257
White	3,189,229
Negro	498,167
Indian	1,555
Japanese	3,169
Chinese	20,658
Filipino	2,744
Other	3,735
Females	4,062,727
White	3,451,433
Negro	589,764
Indian	1,707
Japanese	2,822
Chinese	12,173
Filipino	1,537
Other	3,291

The largest concentration of Negroes in the City of New York is in the Harlem area. Harlem comprises a 3.5 square mile wedge of upper Manhattan. It has a population of 232,000 people, of which 94% is Negro. The Central Harlem area extends roughly from 160th Street to 110th Street. It is bounded on the west by Eighth Avenue and on the east by the Harlem River and Fifth Avenue.

Other Negro areas within greater New York City are the following:

Southeast Bronx, Bronx County

South Jamaica, Queens County

Bedford-Stuyvesant, Kings County

80% of the Negroes of New York City reside in the above areas. During the past twenty years the Negro population of New York City has increased 1½ times, and now stands at 1,200,000 or about 15% of the total population. The percentage population of the Negroes to the total population in the five boroughs of New York City is as follows, according to a report of the City Commission on Human Rights of New York.

Manhattan	23% Negro
Brooklyn	14% Negro
Bronx	12% Negro
Richmond (Staten Island)	4% Negro

There are no exclusively Negro neighborhoods or areas on Staten Island. The largest concentration of Negroes are to be found in eight New York City Housing Authority (NYCHA) projects.

Captain Arnold Berkman, Commanding Officer, NYCHA Police on August 6, 1964, furnished the following breakdown of Negro-white residents in the eight NYCHA projects:

a) Berry Housing, Dongan Hills, Staten Island

b) South Beach Housing, South Beach, Staten Island

White: 1427 Negro: 250

c) Stapleton Housing, Stapleton, Staten Island

d) Todt Hill Housing, Todt Hill, Staten Island

White: 1589 Negro: 226

e) Mariners Harbor Housing, Mariners Harbor, Staten Island

White: 1160 Negro: 1044

f) Markham Housing, West Brighton, Staten Island

White: 688 Negro: 736

g) West Brighton Housing, West Brighton, Staten Island

White: 1140 Negro: 172

h) Richmond Terrace Housing, New Brighton, Staten Island

Newly constructed and recently occupied. Estimate Negro residents at 500.

The above figures disclose that the Markham Housing project is the only project having more Negro than white tenants. The Mariners Harbor project has the largest number of Negro tenants, their total being almost equal to the number of white tenants.

Community wise, the largest concentration of Negroes are found in the New Brighton, West Brighton and Mariners Harbor sections of Staten Island. Port Richmond, Staten Island, despite the fact that there are no housing projects in the area, has an appreciable number of Negro residents. With the area of St. George, Staten Island the four above-named communities make up the North Shore of Staten Island.

Bedford-Stuyvesant Section (Brooklyn, New York)

The Bedford-Stuyvesant area is located in the Northwest section of Kings County, and is bordered approximately by Lafayette Avenue on the north; Stuyvesant and Kingston Avenues on the east; Eastern Parkway on the south and Carlton Avenue on the west.

Projected figures, regarding the ethnic breakdown of the Bedford-Stuyvesant Section, current as of October, 1963 and made available by the Statistical Section of the New York City Board of Education reflect that the population of this area consists of approximately 77% Negroes; 17% Puerto Ricans; and 6% "others".

II. General Racial Conditions

New York City

[redacted] b6 b7C

Congress of Racial Equality (CORE), 38 Park Row, New York City, advised on August 12, 1964, that the basic causes for unrest in the Negro communities are of an economic nature. Joblessness is a factor. [redacted] stated that one out of four Negro youths is out of a job. Another factor which is an irritant to the Negro is sub-standard housing in the Negro community. [redacted] stated that it is not simply a lack of jobs, but also a feeling on the part of the Negro that there is not going to be any improvement in the situation. The basic economic position of the American Negro has not improved since 1943, according to [redacted] The Negro feels that he is on the "outside of the political process looking in". The decisions are not made by him.

On August 12, 1964, [redacted] National Association for Advancement of Colored People (NAACP), 109 West 125th Street, New York City, New York, furnished following information: b6 b7C

[redacted] advised that he believes that there are two basic causes for the current unrest in the Harlem Community. He cited unemployment and adult delinquency as being these causes. Concerning unemployment, he feels that the lack of a job makes the average Negro in such a situation resentful, frustrated and ashamed before his family. This in turn leads to an irresponsible attitude. He believes that a man who has a job will not jeopardize such employment by irresponsible actions but when a man has nothing to lose, than he will "let off steam" in any manner possible. b6 b7C

Concerning what he termed "Adult Delinquency", he stated that juvenile delinquency is the direct result of adult delinquency. The youth follows the actions of the adults and when the latter are irresponsible the former will be likewise. He stated that the Harlem adults must change their own attitude and assume responsibilities toward the youth. This "Adult Delinquency", he felt, while existent in the adult Negro, can also be found in the New York City Police. The youth of Harlem grow up in an environment of graft and corruption and the "shakedown" by some policemen is a part of their education in community life. Only the acceptance of responsibility by adults and good example to the youth will correct such a situation.

His recommendation for steps toward correcting this situation were twofold:

1. More municipal responsibility toward the community by providing employment. Additional housing is laudatory, but if a man cannot pay the rent, it is useless.

2. Appointment of a Negro policeman with an impressive rank, such as Deputy Inspector, in command of the Harlem area. Such a man should be "an honest cop" who would rid Harlem of the existing graft and corruption. He does not feel that a Negro police force in Harlem would cure anything since he feels that graft is not confined to just whites. Only honest leadership would help. However, to couple psychology with such a task, the appointment of a Negro to such a post would be beneficial.

Harlem area of Manhattan and is very well acquainted with the section. He has made recent contacts with Harlem residents, following the riots which occurred during the latter part of July, 1964, and he was informed by these residents that some of the violence, at least, could be attributed to individuals who were strangers to the area. [redacted] could not identify any of the individuals involved in the violence, but stated that the Harlem youth were in a turmoil and were lead and influenced to commit violence.

[redacted] b6 b7C stated that the basic problems for Harlem area, for Bedford-Stuyvesant area in Brooklyn, and for all of these "little Harlems", is joblessness and idleness, which he characterized as 'self-explosive". The Negro does not like being on relief. He resents it. The Negro does not have sufficient income, which strips him of dignity. There is unequal job opportunity between whites and Negroes. The young negro people want to be occupied. They have too much time on their hands, and are ready and willing therefore to listen to anyone who might stir them up to violent acts.

The Negro feels that he does not have a real voice in local government, and that those supposed to represent him do not, in fact, represent him. As a result, there is a "leaning" on the part of some Negroes toward black nationalism, which [redacted] b6 b7C described as a "cleavage" of the Negroes from the white race, and a separation of the Negroes from the whites, also a stress on African heritage and background.

[redacted], furnished the following on August 12, 1964.

There are about 400,000 Negroes in Brooklyn and about 80% of this number resides in the Bedford-Stuyvesant area. The other 20% are scattered throughout Crown Heights, Brownsville, and Williamsburg.

The most bitter racial antagonismsin Brooklyn exist in the following areas:

1. Fulton Street and Nostrand Avenue

2. Fulton Street and Franklin Avenue

3. Fulton Street and Bedford Avenue

4. Summer Avenue and Lafayette Avenue

In the Fulton Street - Nostrand Avenue area the Nationalists have a foothold. This is the group that advocates Africa for the Negroes and it is not known if this group is led by [redacted] spokesman for the United African Naticnalist Movement. The names of the individuals are not known. b6 b7C

In the other three areas unemployment is very high. Poverty exists on all sides. The areas can be likened to ghetto's and it is believed extremists operate there.

[redacted] furnished the following on August 12, 1964: b6 b7C

The most bitter racial antagonism in Brooklyn exists in the areas of Fulton Street and Nostrand Avenue, and in the Williamsburg section near Graham Avenue and Broadway. In the first area the nationalists and Muslim extremists hold forth and there is a concentration of Puerto Rican radicals in the second area. The group affiliations of these people is not known. During the recent unrest in Bedford-Stuyvesant many strangers, believed to have come from Harlem, were active. It is possible the strangers were black nationalists. Their names are not known.

There was a cooling-off period following the unrest in Bedford-Stuyvesant on July 22, 1964. On that night the NAACP sent a caravan of cars into the area and asked the people to concentrate on registrations. In addition, they were asked to visit the NAACP Branches in connection with the matter of obtaining jobs. The following day there was very little tension but the program of the caravans, manned by young people, was repeated.

Information received from the Bureau of Special Services (BSS), New York City Police Department (NYCPD), reflects that numerous demonstrations were held at the New York City Board of Education, 110 Livingston Street, Brooklyn, New York, during the period July, 1963 through May, 1964 for the purpose of protesting against alleged discriminatory practices by the Board of Education against Negro school children in the New York City school system. As a result of the demonstrations at this location, approximately 64 arrests were made by the NYCPD.

The "New York Herald Tribune" of October 9, 1963, on page 15, carried an article reflecting that more than 800 persons had been arrested during the summer of 1963 during demonstrations occurring at the construction site of the Downstate Medical Hospital, Clarkson and Kingston Avenues in Brooklyn. These demonstrations were held for the purpose of "protesting against the alleged hiring bias practiced at this location".

Information received from BSS, NYCPD, reflects that rioting and disturbances broke out in the Bedford-Stuyvesant section of Brooklyn on the evening of July 22, 1964, and continued until July 25, 1964, apparently as an outgrowth of the previous rioting in Harlem. According to this source, the rioters were composed mostly of young people, and a great deal of looting, vandalism and property damage occurred during this period. Approximately 100 arrests were made in this area by the NYCPD during this period, with three of these being wounded by police bullets during the commission of crimes.

Information received from BSS, NYCPD, reflects that numerous demonstrations were held at the construction site of Rochdale Village, New York Boulevard, Jamaica, Queens, New York, during the period July, 1963 through October, 1963, for the purpose of protesting against alleged racial discrimination in the hiring practices at this site. As a result of these demonstrations, approximately 119 arrests were made by the NYCPD.

Information received from BSS, NYCPD, reflects that a picket demonstration was held at the site of the New York Worlds Fair, New York City on April 4, 1964, by approximately 150 members of CORE, for the purpose of protesting against racial discrimination in jobs, housing and schools. As a result of this demonstration, 30 arrests were made by the NYCPD.

In the Staten Island area, the general racial condition is good.

This is the consensus of opinion among white and Negro citizens of the community who are in a position to know by virtue of day to day contact with such problems.

[redacted] Borough Headquarters, NYCPD; [redacted] of the Urban League Guild of Staten Island; [redacted] Chairman, Staten Island, NAACP; [redacted] long-established Negro businessman; [redacted] Staten Island, Chapter, CORE; [redacted] were among those interviewed to obtain the consensus of opinion reflected above. b6 b7C

These individuals also furnished the following information:

The two main reasons for this favorable situation are:

1. The vast majority of Staten Island Negroes are native to the Borough. Their families have lived in the area for generations without incident. The Negro and white residents have grown up together over the years, resulting in a generally wholesome attitude toward race relations.

2. There are no large all-Negro areas on Staten Island. Even in the more heavily populated Negro sections of the borough, there are white families living among them. The Negro and white citizens of the community are used to seeing one another day after day in almost all parts of the community.

In addition, there are no known individuals who are attempting to deliberately create a racial situation. There has never been a public meeting or gathering called for the purpose of distributing racial slurs.

There has been no racial violence in the Staten Island area and no known bitter racial antagonisms exist at the present time. There has been an isolated incident aboard the Staten Island Ferry, which connects Staten Island with lower Manhattan, wherein a number of Negro "toughs" harrassed ferryboat passengers. The NYCPD made disorderly conduct arrests and there have been no repercussions. The Borough President of Staten Island was able to obtain a NYCPD patrolman to be stationed on the ferryboats during the late evening and early morning hours.

Between the summers of 1963 and 1964, there have been several incidents of picketing by members of the Staten Island Chapter of CORE and the Staten Island Branch, NAACP. The most recent such event occurred on May 21, 1964, when members of both organizations placed several pickets in front of Public School #15, Staten Island. The pickets were protesting an alleged racial slur made by Miss Barbara Luba, a teacher in the school, to one of the Negro students. Upon agreement by the Board of Education to have the teacher shifted to another school, the pickets disbanded without inddent after several hours.

During July, 1963, pickets from CORE and the NAACP marched in front of construction sites at Public School #25, West Brighton and Curtis High School, New Brighton, protesting alleged discrimination in hiring practices. Five pickets were arrested on July 24, 1963, on charges of disorderly conduct. On August 2, 1963, all of those arrested entered a plea of guilty and were given suspended sentences.

New York City

New York City Police Department (NYCPD), on August 7, 1964, furnished the following information:

There is and will continue to be a potential for violence in New York City. The NYCPD has been aware of this for a long time and has prepared to control this violence immediately upon an eruption of same. This preparation has taken the form of having members of the NYCPD, particularly the Tactical Patrol Force, mobile and on the alert for assignment in the areas of New York City heavily populated by Negroes. During the riots that have taken place in New York City up to this time, such prompt action by the NYCPD was responsible for keeping the violence from spreading further than it did.

The potential for violence in New York City is due in part to the efforts of Communists, not necessarily present members of the Communist Party, USA (CP, USA). The NYCPD is convinced that prompt action to control Communist influence is necessary. To this end, members of the NYCPD have been used in an undercover capacity at meetings and in contacts with persons active in the organizations stirring up and agitating for violence in the Negro areas. Resulting from these efforts, restraining orders have been obtained against such active leaders. Also, charges of advocating criminal anarchy have been brought against one of these leaders, resulting in his arrest. The NYCPD referred primarily here to William Epton and the Progressive Labor Movement (PLM) which organization is separately discussed later in this summary. The NYCPD feels that the restraining orders and this arrest have kept the leaders off balance. It is the aim of the NYCPD to gather evidence to take action against other leaders. This course of action is the most positive that the NYCPD can take to fulfill its responsibility to preserve the peace. Without aggressive action by the NYCPD, violence is more apt to erupt in the tinderbox situation in the Negro areas of New York City. Because of the court action and the infiltration by undercover operators of the NYCPD, leaders in the call for violent action are inclined to be more cautious in their statements and their actions.

[redacted] Bureau of Special Services, (BSS), NYCPD, and [redacted] NYCPD, furnished substantially the same information as above. One point made by them is that the instigators of racial violence are alert to the one incident that best serves their purpose. Many police actions are necessarily taken daily in New York City which are distasteful tomembers of minority groups. However, the incident that will most inflame the minority group to action is the one that has been and will continue to be utilized by the leaders of the call to violence.

b7C

[redacted] Congress of Racial Equality (CORE), [redacted] New York City, advised on August 12, 1964, that it is difficult to predict when future violence might occur. Violence in the Negro communities is spontaneous. The basic underlying causes of violence in the Negro communities are economic. In this connection, [redacted] discussed the coming national elections in November and was of the opinion that a Republican victory would create serious and real racial tensions in the Negro communities, which might lead to various kinds of racial explosions.

b7C

[redacted] NAACP, mentioned above, stated that it was his belief that further violence would not occur in the forseeable future. He qualified this belief by stating that such an opinion was based on his assumption that municipal responsibility in the form of job availability would result in acceptance by Negroes of their responsibilities.

b7C

[redacted] NAACP, referred to above, attempted to assess the potential for future violence in the Negro community. He related that the Negroes have a fear of the coming November elections on the national scene. He stated that following the Republican Convention the Negro feels that "something is happening in America"; that the Negro feels he has little status now and a Republican victory in November would be a reverting back to an earlier and stronger anti-Negro period. This would reduce the Negro to despair and hopelessness and might promote in him a "suicidal" attitude, which, in turn, would generate violence. In this respect, therefore, the outcome of the November elections might be the harbinger of further violence.

[redacted] United Council of Harlem Organizations, 312 West 125th Street, New York City, advised on August 12, 1964, that there continues to be a potential threat of further race riots and disorders in Harlem despite the apparent calm that now prevails. He stated that there remains a deep-seated undercurrent of discontent in the area over the manner in which the police handled the recent disturbances; but he pointed out that this feeling goes much deeper and is the culmination of many years of poor administration and mishandling of law enforcement by the Police Department in Harlem. He stated that the citizen of Harlem has lost respect for the individual policeman and that the situation as it now exists is critical insofar as law enforcement in the community is concerned. [redacted] was of the opinion that the prospects for violence and violent action are linked to the Negroes who are unemployed, or members of nationalistic organizations, which he stated are generally composed of members in the lower economic strata.

This grouping, according to [redacted] is displeased with the Negro leadership as it has existed as, in the main, this leadership has consisted of the economically stable Negro. Consequently, the leadership is faced with the problem of controlling this element, and has come to realize that attention must be given to the demands of this class of citizen. b6 b7C

He is of the opinion that the proper administration of federal and local funds being allocated to the community, will alleviate the situation if such funds find their way to those in the lower economic strata. He considers "idleness" of citizens in the community as perhaps the greatest immediate threat to law and order.

[redacted] NAACP, advised that the potential for violence depends on what is done to alleviate the poverty in the Negro community. So far only surveys have been made and poverty-stricken individuals living in overcrowded areas are likely to listen to the nationalists. Since July 22, 1964, the situation has cooled off but an eruption could occur and, if it did, it could probably occur in one of the designated areas. The election of Senator Goldwater in November is not likely to help the situation, according to [redacted] b6 b7C

Some violence potential exists in the area of Broadway and Castleton Avenue, West Brighton, Staten Island, where several Negro taverns are located. The citizens of the area, both White and Negro, have recently established the West Brighton Civic Association to combat the potentially dangerous situation caused by the operation of two taverns. [redacted] who operates a business and who has resided in the area for 27 years, feels that racial violence could erupt as a result of the operation of the Club Ebony, 321 Broadway, or the Broadway Lounge at 283 Broadway, Staten Island. He believes that if the low-class Negroes who frequent both taverns should begin fighting among themselves, an innocent white bystander might be injured. Secondly, he believes that , in stopping a disturbance in one of the taverns, the NYCPD might be the victims of charges of police brutality. He explained that in either situation, racial tension would result. b6 b7C

[redacted] NYCPD, is of the opinion that the "violence potential barometer" reaches its highest point in the housing project sites in New Brighton, West Brighton, and Mariners Harbor, Staten Island. He feels that the younger residents of these sites, those between the ages of 15 and 21, present the biggest threat to racial peace, and that the summer months are the most dangerous times. He is of the opinion that since such areas contain the highest number of Negroes and whites within a small geographical location, they are the areas where racial violence would likely erupt. b6 b7C

Probably because the minority organizations have not been overly demonstrative on Staten Island, the community leaders and citizens of the area are less apprehensive than in other sections of the city. The NYCPD is not overly concerned with the types of demonstrations previously held, and the Borough President's office is handling each situation as it arises. There has been no demand from local civil rights leaders for the removal of any public or police officials. Since there is not a current racial issue on Staten Island, the chances of violence are remote until such issue arises.

August 10, 1964

Sources made available on June 29, 1964, a letter from Henry Winston dated June 16, 1964, addressed, "Dear Comrade", enclosing a first draft of a statement. The letter states that the aim of the draft is to set forth proposals of the Party regarding the fight for civil rights.

The statement is entitled, "A Program to End Segregation, Southern or Northern Style, Fight a Real War Against Poverty and for Freedom, Put America to Work to Reconstruct the Nation's Harlems and Appalachias". This statement contains the following observations:

The civil rights revolution is demanding full citizenship for Negro people now and this revolution has exposed such things as the poverty that exists in this country especially in the Negro areas and in the area known as Appalachia. The segregated schools systems are being challenged in the cities of the nation and there are revolts against the ghettos which are sparked by rent strikes.

The alliance of Negro and white workers can today bring about the guarantee of a job and decent pay for all. This alliance must be one of equals. To bring this alliance about, labor must eliminate all job discrimination used by employers and unions. The fight for jobs should be against the common enemy - the big monopolies.

The winning of freedom for the twenty million Negro Americans can unify the nation, can break the Dixiecrat reactionary Republican hold on Congress, and filibuster against all legislation in behalf of the people. It can end the Southern differential that provides cheap labor and makes whites and Negroes the victims of substandard wages and job conditions.

This statement continues:

"A great people's coalition for freedom, peace, decent jobs, homes and schools for all can overcome the rising Goldwater alliance of racists, reactionaries and warmongers. It is toward this end that the Communist Party, USA offers the following program for the consideration of all fighters for freedom, democracy and peace.

"END SECOND-CLASS CITIZENSHIP. THE CONSTITUTION MUST BE THE LAW OF THE LAND NORTH AND SOUTH. NO MORE SEGREGATION, SOUTHERN OR NORTHERN STYLE, DE JURE OR DE FACTO, BY LAW OR IN PRACTICE. LED BY THE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT, THE NATION SHOULD EMBARK ON A GREAT CRUSADE TO INTEGRATE AMERICA.

"Toward this end we propose:

"*A multi-billion dollar federal educational program to provide free, integrated schooling everywhere, including on a college and technical level. Special assistance, including financial subsidies to Negro, Puerto Rican and Mexican-American youth to enable them to overcome the educational lag due to decades of discrimination. These are to be steps leading to a national, integrated educational system of a high quality everywhere.

"*A multi-billion dollar federal housing program to reconstruct our cities on an integrated basis, to end ghettoes by erasing all discriminatory neighborhood frontiers and to provide adequate low and middle income homes at reasonable rents. To guarantee the implementation of this program, a CITIZENS COMMITTEE FOR INTEGRATED PUBLIC HOUSING should be set up, consisting of civil rights, labor and civic representatives.

"*A national Fair Housing Law barring discrimination in housing everywhere.

"*These are to be steps toward using public housing to set national standards for high quality, integrated housing at no more than 15 percent of the average monthly income.

"*A national civil rights agency with full executive authority to enforce the Constitution and civil rights laws.

"*A federal CODE OF ELECTION LAWS that will remove all restrictions on voting rights, democratize party primaries, provide for machine voting everywhere, promote proportional representation and eliminate the discriminatory legal obstacles preventing minority parties from getting on the ballot.

"*City Civilian Review Boards to act on charges of police brutality.

"But the war against poverty and discrimination must above all be waged against its strongholds. To eliminate the ghetto, the battle must also be fought from within to transform them from areas of blight, slums and depression into thriving healthy communities that CAN ATTRACT INSTEAD OF REPEL NEW RESIDENTS OF ALL COLOR. TOWARD THIS AIM WE PROPOSE THAT THE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT EMBARK ON A PROGRAM TO PUT AMERICA TO WORK TO RECONSTRUCT THE NATION'S HARLEMS AND TO REVIVE ITS APPALACHIAS. OPERATION - RECONSTRUCT AND REVIVE THE HARLEMS AND APPALACHIAS - SHOULD BE THE NUMBER ONE NATIONAL EFFORT FOR WHICH THE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT SHOULD APPROPRIATE A MULTI-BILLION DOLLAR RECONSTRUCTION FUND.

"*A NATIONAL TASK FORCE, WITH A SPECIAL YOUTH CORPS, LED BY THE TRADE UNIONS AND CIVIL RIGHTS GROUPS SHOULD BE MOBILIZED TO:

"*Construct schools of excellence specializing in science, technique and humanities to tap the vast unused talent and to promote the integration of Negro communities.

"*Tear down the slums, renovate sound structures and erect low and middle income integrated projects at rents in keeping with the average income of the present residents and with subsidies for those who cannot afford the rent.

"*Build industrial parks to attract new and thriving industries.

"*Construct technical and scientific training centers to equip semi-skilled and unskilled workers, especially youth for skilled jobs.

"*Establish cultural and entertainment centers to promote the fullest use of the great reservoir of talents in the Negro communities, to make this national treasure available to all and to stimulate the process of integration in these communities.

"A SPECIAL FEDERAL AID TO NEGRO SMALL BUSINESSMEN PROGRAM SHOULD BE SET UP TO PROVIDE THEM WITH LONG TERM LOW RATE LOANS TO ENABLE THEM TO EXIST AND EXPAND IN THE COMMUNITY.

"REVIVE APPALACHIA (A special program on Appalachia will be added)

"This program calls for a drastic change in HOW OUR GOVERNMENT SPENDS OUR MONEY AND WHERE IT DIRECTS ITS MAIN EFFORTS.

"It is a program for a KNOCK DOWN WAR AGAINST POVERTY AND SEGREGATION. IT CALLS FOR A "WAR" BUDGET TO FIGHT THE ONLY KIND OF WAR THE AMERICAN PEOPLE, NEGRO AND WHITE WANT TO FIGHT -- THE WAR AGAINST POVERTY AND FOR FREEDOM. IT CALLS FOR A DRASTIC CUT IN THE $56 BILLION WAR BUDGET.

"IS IT NOT TIME TO SPEND MORE OF OUR NATIONAL TREASURE ON THE RECONSTRUCTION OF THE HARLEMS AND THE DISTRESSED AREAS OF APPALACHIA THAN ON THE DESTRUCTION OF MANKIND? EVEN FORMER ASSISTANT SECRETARY OF DEFENSE [redacted] RECENTLY ADMITTED THAT THE $56 BILLION MILITARY BUDGET COULD AFFORD A 25 PER CENT REDUCTION. THIS WOULD MEAN A SAVING OF $14 BILLION A YEAR THAT COULD BE ASSIGNED FOR THE PROJECT OF PEACEFUL RECONSTRUCTION WE PROPOSE.

"TO COMPEL SUCH A SHIFT IN GOVERNMENTAL SPENDING CALLS FOR AN EVEN GREATER AND BETTER ORGANIZED PEOPLE'S COALITION THAN THE ONE WHICH BROUGHT ABOUT THE NEW DEAL. THE UNPRECEDENTED AUGUST 28 MARCH ON WASHINGTON AND THE FORCES THAT COMPELLED THE US SENATE TO VOTE CLOTURE ON CIVIL RIGHTS LEGISLATION FOR THE FIRST TIME IN ITS HISTORY REVEAL THAT SUCH A COALITION IS NOT ONLY POSSIBLE BUT IS IN THE MAKING. IT IS TOWARD THAT END THAT WE OFFER THIS PROGRAM FOR CONSIDERATION."

The sources made available on June 29, 1964, a mimeographed letter dated June 11, 1964, addressed "To All Districts" and signed, "Comradely Yours, Organization Bureau," This letter commented on two items which the Organization Bureau urged be given immediate attention. One concerned the refusal of the Supreme Court to grant certiorari to the Government's appeal on the Mc Carran Act against the CP which it said represents an important victory against the Act. It adds that a number of cases are still pending before the courts which are part of the persecution resulting from the Mc Carran Act. The letter urged that every means be taken "to bring to the attention of the people in your area the need for struggle to defeat Mc Carranism."

The second item captioned, "Terroristic Actions of Southern State Governments," concerns the reactions by these governments to the civil rights movement in the Southern states. It relates that "some cities have been turned into armed camps against the Negro people," and that arrests, beatings, and new laws are being used in an effort to destroy the movement for civil rights. It adds:

"We urge that every possible support be given in the struggle to defend the Negro people and whites, who have joined in the struggle in the South today, by calling for federal intervention by the President. This requires federal forces to protect the citizens in these states."

Harlem Solidarity Committee

A new organization known as the Harlem Solidarity Committee was to meet at 8:00 PM, July 23, 1964, at the Central Plaza Annex, New York, New York. William Epton was to be one of the speakers at this meeting.

NY T-11
July 23, 1964

Approximately 20 persons met on the evening of July 23, 1964, in Room 1C, Central Plaza Annex, 40 East Seventh Street, New York, New York. The meeting began at 8:30 PM, and concluded at 11:00 PM. Groups represented included the Progressive Labor Movement (PLM), the Socialist Workers Party (SWP) and the Workers World Party.

The purpose and main theme of the meeting was "solidarity" as it related to the Negro working class and the white working class. It was pointed out that the labor unions have not participated in the present Civil Rights fight, for they have not recognized any integrated working class. Further demonstrations in this field must utilize both whites and Negroes in an integrated protest. In this regard, it was planned that a protest march and demonstration should take place in that part of New York City referred to as the garment district. Some discussion was held regarding the printing of leaflets for distribution before and during the protest demonstration. The main theme was that it must be a united march of Negro and white people and that Puerto Ricans should also be included. It was intended to be a non-violent demonstration. Probable groups which could be invited to participate are peace organizations. One individual stated that he did not object to the plans made but he added that he personally preferred not to turn the other cheek at that moment.

Considerable discussion was held concerning the name to be given the organizing force. It was agreed that in some manner it should include the words, "Solidarity Committee".

Dissatisfaction was expressed with white workers who ignore the suffering of the Negro workers. It was felt that the present time would be the best time to carry out a demonstration in the midst of a large number of such workers, specifically in the garment district. Throughout the meeting it was noted that little discussion was held concerning the details of recent racial outbreaks of violence in the Harlem and Brooklyn areas of New York City. It appeared that the general purpose of the meeting was to take advantage of the current situation in order to promote the idea of integrated solidarity in the ranks of labor.

Muslim Mosque, Incorporated and the Organization of Afro-American Unity

On March 12, 1964, former Nation of Islam (NOI) national official and minister Malcolm X Little, publicly announced at a press conference in New York City, the formation of the Muslim Mosque, Incorporated (MMI), which fact was reported by local New York newspapers. The MMI as announced by Malcolm X would be an all-Negro organization with an Islamic religious philosophy and an economic, political and social philosophy of black nationalism.

Characterizations of the MMI, NOI and NOI Mosque Number 7, New York City, are attached in the appendix section of this memorandum.

The Organization of Afro-American Unity (OAAU) is being included under this caption with the MMI inasmuch as it is an offshoot of and closely connected with the MMI, the leaders and headquarters of both the MMI and OAAU being the same.

On June 28, 1964, the MMI held a public rally at the Audubon Ballroom, Broadway and 166th Street, New York City, at which MMI leader Malcolm X announced the formation of a new civil rights action group to be known as the "Organization of Afro-American Unity". This group, which will be led by Malcolm X, will sponsor a program for Negroes of education, politics, culture, economics and social reform. Its leading aim will be to take the American racial problem to the United Nations. Membership will be open to Negroes only, and they need not be Muslims in order to join.

At the above mentioned press conference held in New York City, on March 12, 1964, when Malcolm X announced the formation of the MMI, Malcolm X in speaking of the racial situation stated that Negroes should fight back in self-defense whenever unjustly and unlawfully attacked. He also urged Negroes to form rifle clubs to defend their lives and property in those areas where the government is unwilling or unable to protect them.

During a subsequent radio interview Malcolm X claimed he was non-violent and does not urge Negroes to initiate aggression, only practice self-defense when attacked. In a subsequent newspaper interview, Malcolm X stated he was not promoting or organizing rifle clubs.

Records of the Bureau of Special Services, New York City Police Department, indicate that during the racial rioting in Harlem and Brooklyn in July, 1964, there was nothing to indicate that MMI or OAAU members actively participated in the rioting or violence.

During the rioting in the Harlem area members of the MMI were instructed to keep away from the area and not to get involved.

Nation of Islam (NOI)

Mosque Number 7 of the NOI is the New York City branch of the NOI which is headed by Elijah Muhammad with headquarters in Chicago, Illinois. It is an all-Negro organization which claims to teach the "Muslim" religion as taught to Muhammad by Allah. Its general program includes the teachings that the white man is the devil and is the cause of all the troubles of the Negro in America. When all Negroes join the NOI then Allah will destroy the white man. It teaches that the Negro should separate himself from the white man economically, socially and politically.

As regards current racial demonstrations, NOI members in New York have been continuously instructed to take no part whatsoever in any demonstration or to unite with any other group in a demonstration. In the event a member finds himself in a place where a demonstration or disturbance occurs, he should immediately leave the area.

NY T-17

NATIONAL COMMITTEE FOR A FREEDOM NOW PARTY

The original call for a Freedom Now Party (FNP), circulated in August, 1963, reflects that the National Committee for a Freedom Now Party (NCFNP) is located at 81 East 125th Street, Suite 207, New York, New York, telephone MO 2-0618.

By means of a pretext interview on March 27, 1964, conducted by a Special Agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI), it was determined that the FNP seeks "political power"; that it is a Negro political party and whites are excluded from membership; that integration, as such, is not an issue in the FNP platform.

Provisional chapters of the FNP have been set up in Chicago, Cleveland, Detroit, Philadelphia and San Francisco.

The leaders of the FNP are Conrad Lynn, Chairman and William Worthy, "national spokesman".

Conrad Lynn is characterized on pages 112 of this communication.

William Worthy, Jr., was convicted in the United States District Court (USDC), Southern District of Miami, Florida, on August 8, 1962, for violation of Section 1185B, Title 8, United States Code, in that he entered the United States from Cuba, without a valid passport.

On September 17, 1962, Worthy was sentenced to one yearin the custody of the Attorney General, 3 months committed, 9 months probation. Worthy has appealed the conviction to the Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals, New Orleans, Louisana. By decision of the Court of Appeals, New Orleans, Feb., 1964, the judgment and sentence of the District Court was reversed and remanded for discharge of appellant.

Parents Workshop for Equality and City-Wide Committee for Integrated Schools

The Parents Workshop for Equality in New York City is an outgrowth of the Brooklyn NAACP and has been in existence since 1955. Dr. Milton A. Galamison is the founder and President. The first major undertaking was a combined effort to integrate two new schools in New York City.

In February, 1960, the Workshop was reorganized as an independent Workshop, no longer under the NAACP. Through threat of a boycott in 1960, the New York City Board of Education inaugurated the "Open Enrollment" plan.

In April, 1963, the Workshop held a "Sit-In" at the Board of Education, Brooklyn, New York, because open enrollment was seriously curtailed at the Junior High School level.

In 1963, the City-Wide Committee for Integrated Schools was formed under the leadership of Reverend Galamison, Chairman. Sit-ins were held at the Board of Education and many people were arrested. A boycott was held in February, 1963, and a quarter of a million children were kept out of school. During a second boycott in March, 1963, 300,000 children stayed out of school.

The Workshop again organized for a "Stall-In" at the New York World's Fair to draw attention to segregation in New York City, as the Board of Education had failed to live up to its commitment.

The SWP has unequivocally stated that its main task is the overthrow of "American capitalism". The SWP is primarily engaged in the recruitment of "class conscious militants, the explanation of the advantages of socialism over capitalism, and the dissemination of revolutionary propaganda through its press, public functions and participation in election campaigns."

This rally passed resolutions concerning the establishment of autonomous control in Harlem and an agreement that future defensive tactics and plans of the Negro community should not be made public. It was also voted at this rally to send a letter to Mayor Wagner of New York City on August 1, 1964, urging the removal of extra police from Harlem, the resignation of the New York City

UNITED AFRICAN NATIONALIST MOVEMENT (UANM)

The records of the Bureau of Special Services, New York City Police Department, which were received on November 10, 1960, reflect that in 1948, James Lawson was actively associated with the Universal African Nationalist Movement, New York City, which organization had been active in Harlem (New York City) for a number of years, and at one time had exclusive interest in a movement to colonize Liberia with American Negroes. A group within this organization deviated from this purpose and formed a "buy black" committee advocating that Harlem Negroes purchase only from Negro merchants. James Lawson was one of the members of the "buy black" committee. As a result of this action by this committee, the President of the Universal African Nationalist Movement notified the New York City Police Department on September 3, 1948, that James Lawson and five other members were being expelled from membership. Subsequently, a new organization known as the United African Nationalist Movement was organized. James Lawson was and still is President of this organization.

On April 23, 1959, a source furnished a pamphlet which reflected the following aims and objectives of the UANM:

"1. To establish a world-wide confaternity among the Black race.

2. To promote the economic and industrial development of Independent Black Nations.

3. To promote economic self-determination in all Black Communities, instilling the Slogan: 'BUY BLACK'.

   a. Buy first from Black-owned businesses.

   b. Buy, secondly from businesses who have managers, clerks, etc., of African ancestry.

"c. Buy, thirdly from businesses who are owned by others who have a fair employment policy (who hire us).

4. To conduct a world-wide commercial and industrial inter-course for the good of the Race.

5. To conduct a militant and consistant campaign against colonialism by European nations in Africa. Slogan: 'AFRICA MUST BE FREE.'

6. To represent the Race, locally, nationally and internationally in all instances where the rights of people of the African Race are involved.

7. To insist that the curricular in schools attended by children of African Stock contain African History."

NY T-43

Upon being interviewed on March 17, 1961, James R. Lawson, the President of the UANM, advised that the purpose of UANM was to obtain the rights due the "African descendants" in this country and Africa. He stated that the UANM was financed by payments collected from the members and, in the past, has received contributions from a group of businessmen, whom he declined to identify.

Workers World Party (WWP)

Nature of Organization

A Socialist Workers Party (SWP) minority group under the leadership of National Committee member, Sam Ballan, also known as Sam Marcy, split from the SWP in February, 1959, after many years of program and policy differences on varied issues concerning tactics and interpretation of political events. This minority group accused the SWP of liquidating itself by departing from the Marxist precepts of Leon Trotsky and retreating from the fight for the world socialist revolution. This minority group hoped to build a revolutionary party with a complete proletarian orientation for the purpose of overthrowing capitalism in the United States and throughout the world. This group took the name, Workers World Party. The National and New York City Headquarters of the WWP are located at 46 West 21st Street, New York, New York. During recent months the WWP has supported the People's Republic of China in its ideological dispute with the Soviet Union.

At a New York Branch WWP meeting on July 24, 1964, Dave Axelrod, a WWP member, spoke concerning a meeting he had attended the previous evening of the Harlem Solidarity Committee which consisted of organizations such as the Socialist Workers Party (SWP), PLM, WWP, etc. Axelrod stated that the Harlem Solidarity Committee was sponsoring a demonstration on July 28, 1964, at noon in the garment district of New York City. He indicated that the WWP would support the demonstration although the various groups are not necessarily representative of WWP/YAWF views. This does not mean a united front. It means "we" support anything that is for the benefit of the black masses in their present plight.

Mrs. Lucille Rose, NAACP, mentioned earlier, advised that the racial groups operating in or influencing the Brooklyn area include the NAACP, CORE, the Urban League and, on a few occasions, the Nationalist groups of Elijah Muhammad and Malcolm X, who represent the Nation of Islam and the Muslim Mosque, Incorporated, respectively. These organizations are treated separately in this communication.

The NAACP is not less militant than other groups, but the NAACP believes in legal methods. The NAACP differs with CORE on matters of policy and in its structural make-up. It is not known what effect the proposed boycott of the city schools by the Parents and Taxpayers group will have on the racial situation. As a resident of the Brooklyn area for 35 years, she stated that the schools, which at one time, many years ago, were racially balanced, are now segregated and inferior. She further stated that although Reverend Milton A. Galamison is a listed director of the Brooklyn Branch of the NAACP, it is a fact that he does not cooperate with the NAACP. It is believed that the Reverend Galamison does not think the NAACP to be sufficiently militant. The Brooklyn CORE unit shares the feeling of Reverend Galamison in this respect.

Mr. Warren Bunn, NAACP (above), advised that the NAACP, CORE and the Urban League, along with the Black Nationalist and Muslim extremist groups, are involved in the local racial situation. About a year ago, the NAACP, CORE and the Urban League participated in a demonstration at the Downstate Medical Center, near Clarkson Avenue in Brooklyn. Malcolm X was in attendance but the extremist groups did not participate in the picketing. The NAACP has divorced itself from the policy of the Brooklyn CORE organization. The NAACP is concentrating on Youth and is pushing the matter of registrations and jobs.

The following organizations in the Staten Island area are currently involved in local racial situations. They are set forth according to their relative size, with the largest organization being listed first: (Confer sources mentioned on page 14 of this communication).

Staten Island Branch, NAACP

The program of this organization can be best described as "elimination of second-class citizenship status of Negro-Americans". Its program stressed equality under law and equality of opportunity. Since 1954, when the Supreme Court decision was rendered, integration has been included as one of the means advocated by the NAACP toward their goal of elimination of second-class citizenship. The Staten Island Branch of the NAACP has no problem of infiltration by Klan-type groups or the CP, and does not condone or resort to extralegal action in order to enforce any demands it might make. Staten Island Branch, NAACP, has only recently agreed to picket, heretofore relying solely on negotiations to achieve its goals. It depends a great deal upon education.

Congress of Racial Equality, (CORE)

The Staten Island (S.I.) Chapter of CORE has aims very similar to the NAACP but its methods are different. Locally, it is considered to be the most militant of the well-known organizations. It is a demonstrative type organization which, in the past year has relied on picketing and sit-down demonstrations. Whereas the S.I. NAACP might lean toward negotiations in a given situation, the S.I. CORE group would attempt to get public opinion working against an injustice by picketing or otherwise making public demonstrations. At the present time, the S.I. CORE is the most active civil rights organization on Staten Island.

Locally, it is not known as a group advocating bombings, shootings or other forms of racial violence. There has been some CP influence in the group, as evidenced by the fact that until the recent July, 1964 election of officers, the recording secretary of the organization was Erdine Antonsen. Other members of this organization include Zekor Antonsen and Ronald Rosen, teen-age son of Jack and Judith Rosen.

Source advised that a CP meeting was held on December 8, 1963, at the home of Bob Schneider, 143 Jules Drive, Staten Island, New York. During the course of this meeting, Bob Schneider stated there are four paid Party members on Staten Island, namely, Zekor and Erdine Antonsen, Jack and Judith Rosen. Schneider stated, "my wife is in touch with them. They pay their dues in the City".

Catholic Interracial Council (CIC)

The Staten Island CIC is a conciliatory organization largely composed of, and functioning amongst Roman Catholic lay people. Its basic program is education of the Catholic layman about discrimination and inequality. It has no subversive infiltration problem and does not advocate racial violence.

The Staten Island League For Better Government

This is a non-partisan political organization which attempts to remedy injustices through education and political action. Although non-partisan, they have been known to endorse candidates for local office on the basis of their comparative attitudes and records on matters of racial equality.

This organization is not known to favor any extra-legal methods, and has no infiltration problem from subversive sources.

The Staten Island Urban League Guild

This organization, headed by Negro Attorney Ernest A. Dow, is a local unit of the National Urban League. It is a fund-raising organization which is concerned with employment opportunities for minority groups. Voter registration is a function of this organization. It believes that the main areas of discrimination are in housing and job opportunities. The group also acts against discrimination in the schools, contending that there are some biased educators who expell Negro children from schools without sufficient reason. This organization has also complained that guidance counselors have beenguilty of advising Negro students to follow vacational courses when it is clear there are some Negro students who are well qualified to pursue professional or business careers. This group is known to use mediation and conciliation as methods of approach to racial problems. The Staten Island Urban League Guild follows strictly legal procedures and has no known subversive infiltration.

The Staten Island Church and Synagogue Fair Housing Council

This is a newly formed organization made up of Catholic, Protestant and Jewish clergymen, and was fashioned after a group started by the Quakers in another area. The clergymen and laymen in the group attempt to ease the way for Negro home buyers. Where there is anticipated trouble when a Negro expresses an interest in purchasing or renting a home, a member of the organization will visit the members of his religious faith in the neighborhood and explain the moral issues involved in racial discrimination.

The July 30, 1964 edition of the New York "Daily News," a daily newspaper published in New York City, contained an article datelined Cairo, Egypt, July 29, 1964.

This article quoted Malcolm X as stating he may fly back to New York City to hold a mass rally and urge Negroes to fight back against the police even if it means more bloodshed. The article quoted him as saying: "Negroes should stand on their rights even if it costs their lives. An eye for an eye, a tooth for a tooth, a life for a life. That's the only way this thing can be brought to a head."

During the entire period of rioting in New York City, Malcolm X was out of the country on an African tour and information received from him indicated he had no intention of returning until things quieted down.

VI. EXISTENCE OF CHANNELS OF COMMUNICATION BETWEEN MINORITY LEADERS AND LOCAL OFFICIALS

New York City

All precincts of the NYCPD, including those in areas of potential violence, have a community relations program. These precinct coordinating councils are supervised by the office of the Deputy Commissioner in charge of Community Relations. Through these coordinating councils in the precincts, liaison between the precinct and leaders of the minority community is maintained. In the recent riots in New York City, Negro officers of the NYCPD were specifically assigned to keep in communication with responsible leaders of the Negro people.

United Council of Harlem Organizations

On August 12, 1964, Mr. L. Joseph Overton was interviewed in his office at the headquarters of Local 338, Retail, Wholesale, Chain Store and Food Employees Union, 312 West 125th Street, New York City.

Overton stated that he is the spokesman for the newly-formed United Council of Harlem Organizations, with headquarters at 312 West 125th Street. The Council, according to Overton, is composed of sixty-nine separate groups or organizations each having a separate identity. He expects to add seven more organizations to the Council in the very near future.

He advised that he considers he accomplished an extraordinary feat in persuading the various member organizations to agree to designate him as their spokesman, inasmuch as many of these organizations have differed as to how to obtain the common objective. He cited as an example the fact the Muslim and Black Nationalist organizations have, for the first time, agreed to be represented by someone other than an organization member.

The New York "Amsterdam News", August 8, 1964, Page 1, 46, sets forth the following information concerning the United Council of Harlem Organizations:

"Mayor Wagner is meeting with a delegation of the United Council of Harlem Organizations Thursday morning at Gracie Mansion for the second time since the Harlem uprisings, for a frank and open discussion on basic issues that should be given priority consideration.

"Out of the meeting it was also hoped to establish a system of communication between the Mayor's office and the Harlem community.

"L. Joseph Overton, acting chairman of the unity group said the Mayor's invitation to sit down and talk was accepted Monday at a conference with members of the steering committee at the Harlem Labor Center, 312 W. 125th St."

"Although the Council lists 69 groups, here

"are the only organizations the Amsterdam News could get as listed from Mr. Overton's office.

"Organizations listed by the United Council of Harlem Organizations include African Freedom Movement, International Muslim Society, Inter-Faith Health Assoc., Mt. Zion Baptist Church, St. Paul's Baptist Church, Abyssinian Baptist Church, Christ Memorial Baptist Church, Beulah Baptist Church, Mayor of Harlem Committee, United Peoples of Africa, American Ethnical Cultural Society, Harlem Council, Nationalists Unity Organization, HANA, Harlem Action Group, NAACP, Central Harlem Mothers' Association, Hearts of Africa Committee, HARYOU, C O R E, Urban League, Kennedy Democratic Club, New Era Democratic Club, National United Black Action Group, East River Tenants Association, United Black Association, Harlem Restaurant and Liquor Dealers, African Nationalists Movement, Negro Action Group, Muslim Mosque, Inc., Harlem Parents Committee."

On July 7, 1964, NY T-33 advised that [redacted] who resides with [redacted] at [redacted] was listed as a member of Muslim Mosque, Incorporated (MMI). b6 b7C

No other identifying information was given.

MMI is characterized in the Appendix.

NY T-34

NOI Mosque #7 is characterized in the Appendix.

[redacted] New York City, in 1934, furnished information to Special Agents of the FBI in August, 1956, concerning certain employees of the New York City Department of Welfare identified by him as members of a Communist Party unit in the Harlem Section of the Communist Party (CP) about 1934. [redacted] stated that one Arnold Johnson, a Negro, (not further identified) was a member of this CP unit. b6 b7C b7D

[redacted] New York, advised on October 25, 1960, that Arnold Johnson, a Negro in his fifties, was an official in the International Workers Order in the 1930's. For this reason [redacted] believed that Johnson may have also been a CP member in the 1930's. Johnson allegedly told [redacted] at the time of the Fidel Castro visit to New York City in April, 1959, that he had met and talked to Castro, while Castro was living in the Hotel Theresa. Johnson claimed he was not a Communist but thought at that time that Castro was a wonderful man. [redacted] stated that Johnson had an office on [redacted] in Harlem, New York City, and his wife [redacted] b6 b7C b7D

[redacted] BSS, NYCPD, advised on August 12, 1964, that Arnold P. Johnson, Negro, former employee of the New York City Department of Welfare, was identified as a speaker at a unit or fraction meeting of the CP in the late 1930's, according to testimony received during an investigation conducted by the New York City Commissioner of Investigation, William B. Herlands, who was investigating Communist infiltration into the New York City Department of Welfare. b6 b7C

The International Workers Order has been designated pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

[redacted] NAACP, mentioned above, stated that there is no "personal communication" between the Negro Community and City Hall, such as Mayor Wagner visiting the Harlem area, being seen by the people in the Community and thereby impressing them with the "personal presence" of City Hall. He stated that Mayor Wagner does appear on television, does speak on radio and his statements do appear in the newspapers. However, [redacted] is of the opinion that any, such pronouncements, by Mayor Wagner are not the result of Mayor Wagner's personal involvement but rather, the beliefs of Mayor Wagner's Chief Negro adviser [redacted]

[redacted] added that the problem is further complicated by the numerous Negro organizations competing for recognition. He said that the most notable feature of these Negro organizations is that the leaders connected therewith are for the most part otherwise unemployed and have merely created employment for themselves. He suggested that City Hall provide jobs for these people and thereby possibly eliminate many "overnight" organizations and bring the "communication" into a more controllable position. He said that City Hall is caught in the position of trying to satisfy each group and each set of leaders, with the result that the problems of the Community are actually being overlooked.

b7C

[redacted] CORE, referred to above, advised that there is no immediate "day to day" communication between the Negro community and City officials. He related that James Farmer, National Director, CORE, has met from time to time with City officials, and with representatives in the New York City Commission on Human Rights; but, he stated, "they never come to us to get our ideas or suggestions"; that CORE must go to the City official as a com-- plaining body. [redacted] also referred to the

"open door" policy of the "housing people", which he characterized as a negative approach; that here, too, the housing people did not solicit "our advice or assistance, or come to us".

[redacted] indicated that there is a lack of communication between City Government and, for example, publishers and editors of Harlem newspapers. [redacted] thought that a channel of communication between these parties would be productive of better race relations. b6 b7C

[redacted] NAACP, referred to above, stated that the NAACP constitutes a channel of communication between the people in the Negro community and City officials. However, for those residents of Negro communities who are not members of the NAACP, he does not feel that they have a channel of communication open to them, and this in turn accounts for some of the violent action. The Negro feels that many of the people who are supposed to represent him, do not in fact represent him. He has no real voice or contact with the City Government.

[redacted] United Council of Harlem Organizations, stated that his communication with officials and leaders in the community was excellent; and as an example he cited his recent conference with the Mayor and his forthcoming conference with the Police Commissioner. He also commented on his personal acquaintanceship with top leaders in the Negro community and in the labor field.

[redacted] NAACP, mentioned above, advised that the channels of communication between the minority leaders and the local officials is good. The NAACP is represented by [redacted] in the Citizens Committee for Action. Most of the racial groups have a member on this committee which usually meets monthly to discuss problems. The Police Department, as well as groups like the Catholic Interracial Council, is represented at these meetings.

The leaders of the principal civil rights organizations on Staten Island have good and effective liaison with the local borough administration and the NYCPD, both at the headquarters and precinct level. These leaders state that they have no difficulty in arranging meetings with the Borough President or the appropriate member of his cabinet. [redacted] a Negro, is a member of the Borough President's cabinet and is an effective go-between with the administration and local civil rights leaders. b6 b7C

The civil rights leaders in the area have had some contact with the New York State Commission on Human rights, a public agency, as well as with the New York City Commission on Human Relations. They regard the effectiveness of such contacts as ranging from fair to good.

The following are organizations in the New York City area which were organized to provide channels of communication between the minority community and local officials:

VII. OBJECTIVES SOUGHT BY MINORITY COMMUNITY AND POSSIBLE POINTS OF CONTENTION

New York City

Activities of the City Commission on Human Rights Regarding Objectives Sought by the Minority Community

(Compiled from material published by the CCHR)

The City Commission on Human Rights (CCHR) took the lead in New York City in combating "blockbusting", a practice by which real estate speculators deliberately panic white homeowners into selling homes which are then resold to Negroes at exorbitant markups.

CCHR consultants helped organize effective resistance to the blockbuster, such activities culminating in public hearings to expose speculators operating in the East New York section in Brooklyn where blockbusters had disrupted an entire neighborhood.

The Commission's hand was strengthened on the legislative front by passage of legislative amendments to the Fair Housing Practices Law, giving the CCHR new power to operate in the private housing market.

In 1962, an Enforcement Division of CCHR was created to handle specific complaints, from investigation of allegations of discrimination to conciliation.

In its report on blockbusting, the CCHR revealed sordid patterns of racial and economic exploitation of New York City families desperately seeking decent places to live. It found a complete absence of professional standards and ethics among real estate speculators and a lack of an adequate credit structure. The Commission recommended legislation to curb unscrupulous real estate operators, a re-evaluation by banks of their mortgage placing practices and a vigorous program for responsible real estate leadership to police their own industry.

The CCHR in October, 1963, issued a far-reaching policy statement on the state of the Negro. This statement called for aggressive action in every area to accelerate the Negro's full participation in the benefits of American free society. Two key elements in the new policy were (1) a call for preferential treatment for qualified Negroes to compensate for the historical and existing exclusion pattern of American society, and (2) rejection of the color-blind approach to the solution of problems of discrimination.

In May, 1964, alarmed by reports that part of the Crown Heights section of Brooklyn was torn with racial strife, specialists of the CCHR made a study of the neighborhood and of the Crown Heights Safety Patrol, originally the "Maccabees."

It was found that crime perpetration and crime prevention, not race relations, were the problems in Crown Heights. It was found that race is not an element in the motivation of criminal activity. The crime problem which exists is that marauders, both Negro and white, come in from the outside and prey upon both the Negro and white residents of the community.

Statements of Negro Leaders and Others:

[redacted] of NAACP, referred to above, related the following as being among the prime demands of the Negro community: b6 b7C

1. Improved housing facilities.

2. Open occupancy, further described as an end to concentration of the Negro in the ghetto.

3. Increased number of Negro businesses in the Negro community. In this connection Mr. Allen cited discrimination against the Negro businessman by banks, who refuse loans to him. Absence of courteous human relations between white merchant in Negro community and Negro customer. The Negro feels that he is being treated with disrespect.

4. Economic factor that white merchant is taking money out of the Negro community and not giving anything back, since he lives for the most part outside the Negro community.

5. Absence of chain stores or supermarkets in the Negro community, which means that the Negro cannot take advantage of discount prices.

6. Number of Negro school teachers should be augmented. Also there should be Negro principals in some of the schools.

7. Enlarged program of vocational training in schools, so that the Negro youth would be encouraged to learn a specific trade, rather than general studies.

8. Enlarged program of vocational guidance in schools for Negro students, so that those who do not have an aptitude for general studies, may be encouraged to train in special skills.

9. Increased on-the-job training for Negroes.

10. Increased recreational facilities, youth centers; the Negro youth is concerned about his idleness.

11. Need for high school classes in personal living and hygiene. The Negro is distressed over the fact that many Negroes in the lower economic level do not know simple rules of personal care and hygiene, or housekeeping and infant care.

12. Also the Negroes feel that the Negro professionals have deserted them. They have abandoned the Negro community.

13. Need for a police crack-down on prostitution in Negro areas. The Negroes feel that the police are not concerned about crime and wrong doing in the Negro community.

14. Reduction of police concentration in the Negro areas.

15. A program of human relations training for police assigned to negro communities. Awareness on the part of the police of the slum conditions in which the Negro must live. [redacted] stated that the police have no idea of the abusive treatment suffered by the Negroes over the years, especially in the South. They moved away from the South in order to escape that kind of ill treatment, and they now find it in the police. This has created a feeling of antagonism against the police. b6 b7C

16. Feeling that some public schools and parks should be named after certain prominent Negroes, so that the Negro might take greater pride in his race.

17. Increased number of Negro reporters on white newspapers, and in the broadcasting systems.

18. Enforcement of building standards and codes in the Negro community against the slum lords, so that the Negroes are not over-charged in rent and forced to live in squalor.

The Reverand Richard A. Hildebrand, President, New York Branch, NAACP, listed the following specific demands of the NAACP to New York City officials, according to article appearing in New York "Courier", local newspaper, August 8, 1964, page 3:

"1. Immediate suspension of Lieutenant Gilligan pending the outcome of a thorough and unbiased investigation by a group outside of the Police Department;

"2. Establishment of a permanent Independent Civilian Board of Inquiry to probe all allegations of police brutality and to make recommendations for action on the basis of facts revealed by an unbiased investigation;

"3. Prompt action to eradicate racial discrimination in the building industry and in all other areas of employment;

"4. Elimination of slum conditions including penalties for landlords who refuse to correct dangerous and unhealthy conditions in their rental properties; and

"5. Implementation this September of a realistic and meaningful school integration program with improvement of academic standards in all schools."

[redacted] CORE, referred to above, stated that CORE was backing a demand on the City Government to establish a Civilian Review Board to review cases of alleged police brutality. He stated this would give the Negro the feeling that he is "getting judged fairly", and putting a check on police malpractice. b6 b7C

[redacted] pointed out that another objective of the Harlem community is greater efficiency on the part of the police in cracking down on crime, specifically the "numbers racket". He stated this is a flourishing racket in Harlem and tends to discredit the police in theeyes of the Negro community.

[redacted] NAACP, mentioned above, stated that the objectives sought by the Negro community in Harlem might be considered as being identical with the problems existent therein. Better housing is desircus but not within the Negro's grasp, if he cannot pay the rent due to unemployment. Better educational facilities, including a top-notch school faculty would be appreciated if the youth felt that years of study would result in employment. However, the youth has merely to look around his own neighborhood and see that such effort will result only in unemployment. The person who had no education and is involved in "taking numbers", "placing bets" appears to the youth to be the only one employed, the only one living well and the one who "shakes hands with the cop". b6 b7C

[redacted] would classify full employment and a crackdown on graft as the immediate necessity. As for objectives in Harlem he stated that these are no different from those of other Negro communities in that they comprise all those things which make for a better, cleaner life.

L. Joseph Overton, referred to above advised that he and the Steering Committee of the United Council of Harlem Organizations will meet with Police Commissioner Michael Murphy and will present proposals for his action. Overton considered these proposals to be just and logical and stated the Commissioner could act on them favorably without any "loss of face" or relinquishment of his responsibilities as Commissioner. These demands are:

1. The suspension of Lieutenant Gilligan, without prejudice until his actions have been fully evaluated and adjudicated.

2. The immediate appointments of two Negro police captains to commands in Harlem precincts, and the assignment of Negro desk sergeants and lieutenants to four precincts in the area.

3. The appointment of a Negro Deputy Police Commissioner.

Overton is of the opinion that if these requests are acted on favorably, the prospects for law and order in Harlem will be greatly enhanced. He considers these demands to be the crux of the situation insofar as the immediate period is concerned.

[redacted] NAACP, stated that the primary objective of the Negro groups should be for jobs. Many people believe the emphasis should be on better education. If more jobs are obtained the housing conditions will improve. b6 b7C

[redacted] NAACP, mentioned above, stated that as a member of a labor union, he thought the primary objective should be that of obtaining more and better jobs. Other objectives include the matters of better housing and education in the Negro community.

Ernest A. Dow, Staten Island Urban League, furnished following information on August 10, 1964:

The principal objectives sought by the Staten Island minority organizations are open housing, equal job opportunities and abolition of discrimination in schools. In October, 1963, the NAACP and CORE joined in demanding that the Staten Island Realty Board cease practices of alleged discrimination against Negro home buyers. The Staten Island Realty Board is an organization composed of principal real estate businesses on Staten Island. At the time of the October, 1963 protest, Mr. Frank Sterner was President of the organization. Charges were made by representatives of the NAACP and CORE, that the Charles Realty Company of Staten Island had taken a house off the market when they discovered the prospective buyer to be a Negro. The minority organizations threatened to picket the realty office but a meeting was held with the Staten Island Realty Board, avoiding a possible "showdown". The controversy was settled without further incident.

In July, 1963, Staten Island CORE announced that it would commence picketing of Neisner Brothers Department Store and Sears Roebuck Store, both on Forest Avenue, Staten Island, if the job-hiring practices of these stores did not change with respect to qualified Negroes. Negotiations were held with representatives of both stores and CORE officials, and upon agreement that a number of Negro clerks would be hired by a certain time the decision to picket the stores was revoked. Since July, 1963, there have been no similar demands made by CORE or other organization officials.

The only other demonstrations staged by either CORE or the NAACP, occurred in July, 1963 at the construction sites on Staten Island, and in May, 1964, at Public School 15, Staten Island. As an outgrowth of the picketing on July 22, 1963 at school construction sites, both CORE and the NAACP drew a picket line around Borough Hall for four hours on July 26, 1963. Six members of the picketing team were granted an interview by [redacted] who promised to look into the allegations that there was discrimination in hiring practices at the school construction sites.

VIII REACTION OF LEADERS AND MEMBERS OF THE COMMUNITY TO MINORITY DEMANDS

New York City

[redacted] CORE, mentioned above, cited Parents and Taxpayers (PAT), New York City, as a reactionary group, opposed to the bussing of school children to achieve racial balance in city schools. [redacted] stated that the basic approach of this group "is such that there will be collisions with the Negro community". b6 b7C

[redacted] NAACP, referred to above, considered that Parents and Taxpayers, New York City, is a group which rose up in reaction to a demand of the Negro community to end "de facto" school segregation. The Parents and Taxpayers were opposed to forced bussing of school children from schools outside the Negro communities to schools within the Negro communities. [redacted] related that the Negroes themselves have had a reaction against Parents and Taxpayers, in that they feel that Parents and Taxpayers represent opposition by the whites against the blacks over and above the bussing issue. [redacted] stated that this type of reaction by the white community "frightens" the Negro and makes him feel that the white man is his enemy.

[redacted] NAACP, stated that the leaders of the racial groups are concerned about the PAT group, in that it appears to be composed of extreme rightists. The action by the PAT group in opposing the use of the firehouses for registration purposes was regarded as an un-American action. The effect of the proposed boycott of the schools by the PAT group cannot be stated at this time, but the boycott will not help the situation. This refers to a proposed PAT boycott of New York City schools on opening day of school, September 14, 1964.

Columbia County

Hudson, New York

This is the only city in Columbia County and has an overall population of approximately 11,000 of which approximately 1,300 are of the Negro race, representing 11% of the total population. VI. Existence of Channels of Communication Between Minority Leaders and Local Officials

Poughkeepsie, New York

The communication between minority leaders and local officials, including law enforcement officials has been good. Both representatives of the National Association for Advancement of Colored People and the Poughkeepsie Voters League have frequently conferred with the City Manager, the Mayor, and the Chief of Police.

To co-ordinate groups active in racial matters and to furnish a means of communication between them and city officials and leaders, the City of Poughkeepsie Commission on Human Relations has been established. This Commission is composed of [redacted] b6 b7C (Negro), and [redacted] There has been a high degree of liaison between racially oriented groups and this Commission. They have arranged meetings, panel discussions, heard complaints of discrimination and have contacted local industries and businesses, city departments and individuals in effecting employment opportunities and training and have been effective in forestalling demonstrations, picketing, sit-ins, etc., by meetings and conferences. VII. Objectives Sought By Minority Community and Possible Points of Contention

To date, most contention has centered on sub-standard housing and un-equal job opportunities. There have been no charges of police brutality or sub-standard schools and no request for civilian boards to investigate the activities of city officials. Action on sub-standard housing has been confined to meetings with City officials concerning the enforcement of housing codes and inspections. This demand, in part, is being met by an urban renewal program which will eliminate much of the present area of sub-standard housing. Local industries and banks have instigated plans to employ Negroes in other than menial positions. There have been no sit-ins, picketing, mass civil disobedience demonstrations or protests.

VIII. Reaction of Leaders and Members of the Community to Minority Demands

Poughkeepsie, New York

Both leaders of the minority groups and of the community have been receptive to the present plan of channeling objections and demands through the Poughkeepsie Commission on Human Relations. International Business Machines (IBM), which is the largest local industrial firm, has consistently hired Negroes on all levels of employment; has instituted a plan whereby they handle the sale of houses of employees transferred to other locations, and has refused to handle such houses where there is discrimination against the purchaser. Local banks have hired Negroes in teller and other positions.

Nassau County

According to the 1960 Census figures of the United States Bureau of the Census, the population of Nassau County, New York, is 1,391,544 of which 46,000 represent a minority group. The percentage of the minority groups to the over-all population is 3.3%.

II. GENERAL RACIAL CONDITIONS

Jones Beach, Long Island, New York

On July 4, 1963, [redacted] of Long Island State Park Police, Jones Beach, Long Island, New York, advised that about 40 pickets from the Long Island Chapter of CORE staged a sit-down demonstration in the roadway entrance to the parking fields at Jones Beach. The CORE pickets were led by Lincoln Lynch and they carried placards demanding that the State Park Commission hire more Negroes and Puerto Ricans. According to [redacted] the demonstration lasted about four hours on July 4, 1963, with no incidents or violence. b6 b7C

Malverne Long Island School District

According to Police Chiefs Walter Waring of Lynbrook Police Department and Vincent Ryer of Malverne Police Department, the Malverne School District which embraces the villages of Malverne, Lynbrook and Lakeview and West Hempstead, had a school integration problem in August and September, 1963.

A community organization from the Lakeview area known as the United Committee for Action Now, supported by the Long Island Chapter of CORE and Lakeview-West Hempstead Chapter NAACP, staged picket demonstrations and sit-ins at the schools. These organizations demanded that the school officials put into effect the "Princeton Plan" of school integration.

In connection with the above demonstrations and sit-ins at the schools several arrests were made by the Malverne and Lynbrook Police Departments. Those arrested were charged with unlawful loitering on school property during school hours.

However, the overall demonstrations were considered peaceful and non-violent according to Chiefs Waring and Ryer.

Between the period July 31, 1964 through August 5, 1964, noisy demonstrations in Hicksville were ended on the latter date by an agreement reached between local Long Island Chapter of CORE lead by Lincoln Lynch and a real estate firm, Vigilant Associates of 234 Old Country Road, Hicksville, Long Island, New York. The CORE organization picketed this company, charging discrimination against a potential Negro home purchaser.

The CORE picketing against the Vigilant firm drew Anti-CORE pickets who carried placards reading "Help Keep Hicksville White", "CORE is Unfair". The Anti-CORE demonstrators were kept away from the CORE pickets by a cordon of "special events" police officers from the Nassau County Police Department. The Anti-CORE marchers were mostly teen-agers and some adults from Hicksville and nearby areas. The CORE pickets numbered 40 to 50 each night and the majority of them were white.

The dispute was settled August 5, 1964, when CORE agreed to end the picketing and withdraw complaints of discrimination filed against the Vigilant firm with the New York State Human Rights Commission. In return, the company agreed to continue observing the New York State law barring discrimination in home sales and it also withdrew a libel action against CORE for $750,000.

III. CURRENT EVALUATION OF VIOLENCE POTENTIAL

According to Chief Inspector [redacted] of the Nassau County Police Department, there is no potential racial violence in Nassau County at this time. b6 b7C

According to Police Chiefs Waring and Ryer of Lynbrook and Malverne, no racial unrest exists in Malverne School at this time.

IV. IDENTITIES OF ORGANIZATIONS INVOLVED IN LOCAL RACIAL SITUATION

The Long Island Chapter of CORE headed by Lincoln Lynch has been the organization involved in the local racial demonstrations in Nassau County.

The CORE organization has demonstrated demanding school integration, more jobs for Negroes, and better housing conditions.

The local chapters of NAACP in Westbury, Long Island School area and Manhasset, Long Island school area have requested school board officials to integrate these school districts under the "Princeton Plan". The NAACP requests were made by small delegations from each area in visits to the meetings of the school board officials.

V. IDENTITIES OF LEADERS AND INDIVIDUALS INVOLVED

The prominent and only publicized leader in the racial situation in Nassau County is Lincoln Lynch, head of the Long Island Chapter of CORE. In almost every case where racial demonstrations took place, Lincoln Lynch and his CORE members led the demonstration. Also, Lynch has assumed the role of leader when negotiations were arranged.

Source advised that Lincoln Lynch was born August 28, 1920, in Jamaica, British West Indies as Lincoln O. Stephen. Lynch was naturalized in New York City in 1958. He presently resides at 970 Hillman Street, West Hempstead, Long Island, New York. He is employed as a flight engineer by British Overseas Airlines Company, Kennedy International Airport, Queens, New York City.

VI. EXISTENCE OF CHANNELS OF COMMUNICATION BETWEEN MINORITY LEADERS AND LOCAL OFFICIALS

According to Chief Inspector [redacted] of the Nassau County Police Department, liaison contacts are maintained with local community police department officials regarding any racial situation within the communities. b6 b7C

[redacted] advised that Lincoln Lynch, the local head of CORE agreed to notify the Police Department and any real estate broker of CORE's intention to picket any real estate office 72 hours before forming a picket line. This time notice will allow an opportunity to negotiate if possible.

The Nassau County Commission on Human Rights, a county agency, has been formed by Nassau County officials to arbitrate racial problems in Nassau County if possible. This agency has liaison contact with Nassau County Police Department.

VII. OBJECTIVES SOUGHT BY MINORITY COMMUNITY AND POSSIBLE POINTS OF CONTENTION

The Long Island Chapter of CORE led by Lincoln Lynch has been the most active in forming and staging picket demonstrations in Nassau County. Their objective in staging the demonstrations has been more jobs for Negroes and Puerto Ricans, such as the sit-down demonstration at

Jones Beach State Park on July 4, 1963, according to [redacted] Long Island State Park Police, Jones Beach. b6 b7C

The CORE organization and the local chapter of Lakeview-West Hempstead, Long Island Chapter of NAACP and a local community organization from Lakeview known as the United Committee for Action Now (UCAN) joined together to stage picket demonstrations and sit-in demonstrations at the Malverne School District Schools in August and September, 1963. According to Police Chiefs Walter Waring of Lynbrook and Vincent Ryer of Malverne, the demonstrations lasted about two weeks, a few hours each day. The object of demonstrations is to put into effect the "Princeton Plan" of integration in the Malverne School District.

The Long Island Chapter of CORE headed by Lynch staged picket demonstration on November 11, 1963, at Roosevelt Field Shopping Center, Garden City, New York, for one day. The object being to demand more jobs for Negroes by the various stores and companies located in the center.

Special Agents, FBI

The Long Island Chapter of CORE, again headed by Lynch, staged picket demonstrations each evening for about three hours between period July 31, 1964 through August 5, 1964, at Vigilant Real Estate Office, 234 Old Country Road, Hicksville, Long Island, New York. The object was to charge Vigilant firm with discriminatory tactics in not selling a private home to a potential Negro buyer. An agreement was reached between CORE and Vigilant.

Special Agents, FBI

In regard to the Malverne School District, demonstrations in August and September, 1963, Police Chiefs Walter Waring of Lynbrook and Vincent Ryer of Malverne advised that the general feeling of the citizens of these communities was one of concern and disagreement with the demonstrations staged by CORE, UCAN, and Lakeview-West Hempstead Chapter of NAACP. According to these officials, the citizens expressed the opinions that the demonstrations were upsetting to the school children and interferring with the school programs.

Also, the picket demonstrations conducted by CORE July 31, 1964, through August 5, 1964, at the Vigilant Real Estate Office, Hicksville, Long Island, New York, were not well received by the Hicksville community. The CORE pickets were picketed by an Anti-CORE group of youths and adults from the Hicksville and nearby areas. The Anti-CORE pickets denounced the tactics of CORE.

The Nassau County Police Department kept a close control over both groups and separated them and as a result, the Police were able to maintain order and no violence or disturbance erupted.

I. Community

Rockland and Orange Counties

The total population of Rockland County, according to a Special Census taken in April, 1963, is 162,029, which includes 8,116 non-white citizens. Of this total, 118,944 persons reside in unincorporated areas and only 43,085, reside in corporated villages. There are no cities located in Rockland County.

In 1963, the non-white population of the County was 5% of its total population or 7,846 Negroes and 270 of other races. 42.9% of the Negro population was concentrated in the villages of Nyack, Spring Valley, and Hillburn. A comparison between the 1960 - 1963 census indicated an increase from 7,152 non-whites to 8,116 in 1963, or an increase of 13.5% of the non-white population, while the white population increased at the rate of 18.4% of its total population.

Nyack, New York has a total population of 5,968 with a non-white population of 1,642 persons. Spring Valley has a total population of 8,397 of which 1,038 are non-white. Hillburn has a total population of 1,068, of which 546 are white and 522 are non-white.

Haverstraw, New York is a significant village having a total population of 5,959, with only 373 being non-white.

Orange County

The total population of Orange County, as of the 1960 census was 183,734.

Orange County is larger in area than Rockland County and is definitely more rural but it contains three cities. Newburgh is the largest, having a population of 30,979, with about 7,600 persons being non-white. Of these 7,600 persons, approximately 2,600 are Puerto Rican. Middletown, New York, has a total population of 23,475, with a non-white population of 800. Port Jervis is estimated to have a population of 9,500 to 10,000. The number of non-whites is unknown.

II. General Racial Conditions

III. Current Evaluation of Violence Potential

He said agreement had been reached to accept a qualified Negro and the racial leaders and fire companies are searching for such individuals in good faith.

VII. Objectives Sought by Minority Community and Possible Points of Contention

In Newburgh, New York, there are two schools, Montgomery Street School and Grand Street School, in which the NAACP claims there is a disproportion of colored students. The NAACP seeks housing in all areas of the city which will change this situation and absorb these students proportionately. Therefore, they are against urban renewal plans in Newburgh in existing colored neighborhoods which will have multi-story dwellings in a colored section of the City.

In Nyack, New York, the racial movement is contesting its urban renewal program because they allege Negroes are displaced and must seek housing in the less desireable sections of Spring Valley, New York. In addition, it was alleged businesses practicing discrimination would receive benefits of federal funds in the urban renewal plans.

In both Nyack and Spring Valley, efforts are continuing to obtain integration of volunteer fire companies. No civil disobedience or demonstrations have been utilized but picketing has been threatened in Nyack concerning integration of the volunteer fire department.

VIII. Reaction of Leaders and Members of the Community to Minority Demands

There have been no reactions to any demands of the minority community which have resulted in any possibility of racial violence. As previously noted, most demands of the minority are receiving attention by the proper authorities and good relationships exist between local officials and the spokesman of the minority community.

I. COMMUNITY

Suffolk County

The Suffolk County Department of Planning, Hauppauge, New York, has compiled population figures in the County up to 1960. It is noted that these figures compare exactly with the population figures compiled by the Bureau of the Census, United States Department of Commerce. These figures are as follows:

Overall County Population	666,784
Negro population	33,035
Other minority population	7,335

The Negro population as of 1960 was 4.95 per cent of the total population. The other minority population was 1.1 per cent of the total.

The Long Island Lighting Company has estimated that as of March, 1964, the total population of the county was 829,278, a growth over 1960 of approximately 25 per cent. There are no available figures on the Negro and other minority population since the 1960 figures.

II. GENERAL RACIAL CONDITIONS

Of the ten towns located in Suffolk County, three have experienced racial trouble.

In the town of Babylon, specifically in the Village of Amityville and the North Amityville area, there has been a long standing dispute in the matter of school integration. In the North Amityville area, the population is largely Negro. The Negro organizations, particularly the NAACP, has concentrated on what they term the de facto segregation in the Northeast School.

In the Town of Riverhead, racial trouble developed for the first time in early summer, 1964. In May, 1964, the Hollis Warner Duck Farm, located in Riverhead, was condemned and purchased by the County of Suffolk for development as a wetlands and public park. This area has housed Negro migrant farm workers and has been described as a slum area. The Suffolk County Department of Health is in the process of clearing the area and relocating the residents. Approximately 80 families remain to be located. It is estimated that it will take six months to complete the relocation. The Long Island Chapter of CORE has been demonstrating for approximately two months in protest of the delay and inadequacy of the efforts of the County agency in effecting the relocation.

August, 1964

The racial problem in the Town of Huntington has been confined to the problem of open housing and in this connection, there has been only one incident. This incident, sponsored by the Huntington Human Relations Committee, came out of the alleged refusal of a landlord to rent an apartment in a two-family house to a Negro woman.

III. CURRENT EVALUATION OF VIOLENCE POTENTIAL

Eugene T. Reed D.D.S., Chairman, NAACP, State of New York, advised that he cannot pin point any areas in the State where there exists violence potential. He said that this potential exists in any village, town or city where there are Negro ghettos and slum conditions and a large percentage, in those areas, of teen-age drop outs and young, shiftless, aimless and unemployed adults. In Suffolk County, according to Dr. Reed, there is a slight potential for violence in the percentage of youths and young adults described above, in the area of North Amityville. He pointed out, however, that the Negro ghetto and slum conditions are minimal in this area. He stated that while there are ghetto and slum conditions in Riverhead, the residents of these areas are for the most part migrant farm workers and he would not anticipate any group violence among this element.

Richard Hasgill, Chairman, Central Long Island Branch, NAACP, Amityville, confirmed that there is some potential for violence in the North Amityville area, but he could not think of any possible incident which might trigger such violence.

IV. IDENTITIES OF ORGANIZATIONS INVOLVED IN LOCAL RACIAL SITUATION

The Central Long Island Branch of the NAACP, Amityville, has sponsored the school integration efforts in the Amityville School District.

The demonstration at the Beachview Apartments, Amityville, on January 20, 1964, was sponsored by the Suffolk County Chapter of CORE.

The sit in demonstration and subsequent picketing in the open housing dispute at Huntington in February, 1964, was sponsored by the Huntington Committee on Human Rights.

The protests at Riverhead with respect to the conditions at the Hollis Warner Duck Farm were under the sponsorship of the Long Island Chapter of CORE.

According to Dr. Reed and NY T-37 there has been no apparent anti-Negro sentiment or counter demonstrations at any of the demonstrations listed above. However, Dr. Reed related that on September 22, 1963, a small wooden cross was found burning at 1:05 a.m. on the lawn of the building at 2 Croyden Road, North Amityville, the site of his dental office, which is also the address listed in the phone book of Suffolk County as the New York State Headquarters of the NAACP. He asked for and received increased police protection from the Suffolk County Police Department. At the same time, a note was found on the door of his office reading "down with the NACP (sic)". Dr. Reed felt that the cross and note were not directed at him personally but at the NAACP in the organization's dispute over the school issue. Dr. Reed advised on August 10, 1964, that from time to time he receives hate letters which seem to come sporadically and in batches rather than continually. He has not received any mail of this type in the past several months.

Richard Hasgill confirmed that there has been no anti-Negro sentiment apparent in the community of Amityville in connection with the school dispute. He said that he has seen no evidence of the formation of pro-segregation organizations in the community.

V. IDENTITIES OF LEADERS INVOLVED

Dr. Eugene T. Reed has been described above as the Chairman of the State Conference, NAACP, State of New York. He is a Negro dentist and resides and has his professional office in Suffolk County.

Richard Hasgill, Negro, described as Chairman of the Central Long Island Branch, NAACP, is a mortician, who operates a mortuary under his name at Amityville.

Calvin Fenton, Negro, is the Chairman of the Huntington Committee on Human Rights. According to NY T-37 Fenton is a social worker and is a solid citizen and highly respected.

The Chairman of the Suffolk County Chapter of CORE is Henry Smith (Negro) of Amityville. According to NY T-37 this organization in itself is insignificant and Smith is merely the nominal chairman. This source advised that Lincoln Lynch, Chairman of Long Island CORE "calls all the signals". He, Lynch, according to the source is noted for his "spur of the moment- sort of wild-cat" demonstrations rather than the planned demonstrations of a responsible leader. This source said that Lynch and Smith would not be likely to cooperate with Government agencies.

There is no evidence of Communist or related subversive organizations involved in the racial activity in Suffolk County, according to NY T-37 . This source has stated that there is no indication at the present time that there are any organized anti-Negro groups operating in Suffolk County.

VI. EXISTENCE OF CHANNELS OF COMMUNICATION BETWEEN MINORITY LEADERS AND LOCAL OFFICIALS

Dr. Reed, Hasgill and NY T-37 have advised that there has been no instance of police brutality against the Negro minority to date in Suffolk County, to their knowledge. They, as well as police sources have advised that the relationship of the police departments in Suffolk County and the NAACP has been cordial and mutually cooperative.

William Kay, Chief, Amityville Village Police Department, [redacted] First Precinct, Suffolk County Police Department (covers North Amityville) and [redacted] Second Precinct, Suffolk County Police Department (covers Huntington) advised that they have always been advised in advance by the NAACP and the Huntington Committee on Human Rights of any planned demonstrations. These organizations have cooperated with the departments in every detail. [redacted] advised that he was obliged to arrest the ten sit-ins at the housing demonstration in Huntington after the owner of the property filed a complaint charging trespassing. b6 b7C

On the other hand, Stephen Grodski, Chief, Riverhead Police Department and Under Sheriff [redacted] Suffolk County Sheriff's Office, have advised that there has been no liaison between Long Island CORE and their offices. Chief GRODSKI advised that he has solicited the b6 b7C cooperation of CORE in the interests of their personal safety. CORE has refused to alert the Police Department to planned demonstrations though they did alert news media and local radio stations.

It is noted that the Suffolk County Board of Supervisors allocated the sum of $8,000.00, which sum is to be used for the hiring of the Relocation and Management Association of Manhattan to handle the relocation of the families still living on the Hollis Warner Duck Farm in Riverhead. Assurances have been made that Suffolk County authorities would cooperate with private welfare agencies in trying to solve the problems created by slum areas in the county. Those assurances were given by County Executive H. Lee Dennison at a recent meeting with the Executive Director of Catholic Charities in the Diocese of Rockville Center, the chairman of the Diocessan Commission for Racial Affairs and the Executive Director of Nassau-Suffolk Salvation Army and the Suffolk County Labor Commissioner.

The Catholic Interracial Council of Long Island has appointed a special committee to function in Eastern Suffolk (would include Riverhead) to work for the support of Catholics throughout Suffolk County for the relocation and rehabilitation of slum occupants.

It was at the insistence of the Suffolk Human Relations Commission, created by the Suffolk County Board of Supervisors in May, 1963, that the Board of Supervisors voted the $8,000 appropriation mentioned above.

VII. OBJECTIVES SOUGHT BY MINORITY COMMUNITY AND POSSIBLE POINTS OF CONTENTION

The objectives sought by the Minority groups have been set out under II. Dr. Reed, above, has advised that the claim of his organization that the Northeast School in Amityville, is de facto segregated is in the hands of the New York State Commissioner of Education. He does not expect a ruling on the matter until after the November elections. He stated also that suit has been filed in Federal Court in the matter.

Dr. Reed advised that a resolution was passed by the Board of Directors of the New York State Conference of Branches, NAACP, at a meeting on August 1, 1964, which called for a moritorium on all demonstrations, other than in certain emergency situations, until after the November elections. In the emergency situations, no demonstrations are to be had before clearance with the Board of Directors.

Dr. Reed commented in this regard that his organization could not control the actions of organizations such as CORE.

In the school protest at Amityville, a demonstration schedule furnished in advance by the NAACP to police authorities, listed demonstrations from Sunday, September 8, 1963 through September 14, 1963, via mass meeting at the Hollywood Baptist Church (September 8), picketing at Memorial High School (September 9) picketing at Park School (September 10), picketing at Junior High School (September 11) picketing at Northwest School (September 12), picketing in the Village of Amityville business section (September 13,14). A token group picketed at Northeast School every day of that school week. According to the Amityville Village Police Department and the Suffolk County Police Department, the pickets numbered twenty on the average. On September 13, 1963, a school boycott of the Northeast School was carried out and was approximately 50 per cent effective. This boycott was publicized as a token of support for the Malvern, Long Island school case which was scheduled for a court hearing on that date.

Another school boycott of the Northeast School, again sponsored by the NAACP was carried out on May 18, 1964, on the 10th anniversary of the Supreme Court's school desegregation decision. It was estimated that the boycott was 86 per cent effective.

In none of these demonstrations in Amityville were there any incidents or disorder.

In connection with the State-Wide demonstrations against school segregation on May 18, 1964, NY T- advised that, other than the Amityville activity described above, the only other significant activity in Suffolk County was a letter writing campaign conducted by the Patchogue Branch of the NAACP in which 2500 letters were sent out to teachers, school administrators and school board members in the Brookhaven and Islip Towns area. These letters solicited the support of these recipients in carrying out the letter and the spirit of the Supreme Court's school integration decision.

This source stated that there have been no possible points of contention in the area covered by the Patchogue Branch of the NAACP other than small slum areas which the local authorities have taken steps to correct.

The picketing and sit-in by CORE at the Beachview Apartments, Amityville, was a one day demonstration on January 30, 1964. The dispute was amicably settled. There were no incidents or arrests.

After the arrest of the ten sit-ins at an apartment in Huntington on February 10, 1964, on charges of trespassing, this residence which was a two family house, was picketed for several days under the sponsorship of the Huntington Human Relations Committee. The picketing was peaceful and the organization followed the orders of the Police Department regarding the permissible number of pickets on the line at any one time.

The demonstrations conducted by CORE, in protest against the conditions at Riverhead, New York, took place intermittently during June and July, 1964. The demonstrations took the form of marching through the business area and laying in the street at a busy intersection, for which 8 demonstrators were arrested on June 27, 1964, by the Riverhead Police Department.

On July 21, 1964, Lincoln Lynch, Chairman of Long Island CORE, was arrested on July 21, 1964, by the Sheriff's Office of Suffolk County when he attempted to enter the Hollis Warner Duck Farm after Suffolk County authorities had ordered CORE people excluded from the area. He was charged with Disorderly Conduct and Third Degree Assault.

Another maneuver of CORE took place on July 24, 1964, when demonstrators in several cars pulled a slow down in travelling around the main traffic circle in Riverhead for about 30 minutes. There were no incidents or arrests on this occasion.

b7C

On July 25, 1964, Under-Sheriff [redacted] Suffolk County, advised that about 100 demonstrators, white and Negro, were permitted to enter the Hollis Warner Duck Farm where their demonstration took the form of marching and singing. Their identities were not determined, but

b7C

[redacted] noted that the license plates indicated that these people were foreign to Riverhead. On this occasion, LINCOLN LYNCH, Michael Raskin and Nicholas Fremont Smith were denied entrance to the farm since they were known as CORE people. They offered no resistance or objections. There were no incidents or arrests during this demonstration.

Dr. Reed, above, advised that he believes that the CORE demonstrations at Riverhead have about run their course.

NY T-37 has advised that he believes CORE has gotten "all the mileage possible" out of the Riverhead situation and will concentrate on voter registration. He said that the positive action on the part of the County officials and the intervention of private agencies in the slum relocation matter has dulled the issue for CORE.

VIII. REACTION OF LEADERS AND MEMBERS OF THE COMMUNITY TO MINORITY DEMANDS

At Amityville, Dr. Reed, above, relates that the Amityville School Board "have their head in the sand" and have, over a period of years, consistently refused to consider the demands of the Negro community for the integration of the Northeast School.

With respect to the Suffolk County position of denying access of CORE people to the Hollis Warner Duck Farm, H. Lee Dennison, County Executive, is reported to have stated that CORE officials would not be allowed on the farm because their actions have clearly indicated they are contributing nothing to the solution of the problems of the farm. He is reported to have been legally advised that the County is empowered to bar the CORE people; that the Farm, though condemned and taken over for development as a public park, is not as yet public property since the development of the site for park purposes has not as yet been completed. It is further reported that Dennison, at the outset, invited CORE to help relocate the Negro families on the Farm but he claims that CORE has hindered the County's efforts by inciting racial conflict.

NY T-37 has advised it is the opinion of Human Relations people that the Hollis Warner Duck Farm is public property and that it is illegal for the County to deny admission of CORE people to the Farm, while at the same time permit access to other people who are non-residents. This source said he anticipated some legal action would be instituted to test the legality of the County's position in this matter.

A statement in the "Long Island Catholic", issue of August 6, 1964, the weekly newspaper published by the Diocese of Rockville Center, which statement was attributed to a group of Riverhead clergymen, read in part,"We believe that conditions in Riverhead do not warrant use of irresponsible actions for attaining social and economic gains. Down through the years, as far as we can ascertain, there has been no organized or overt racial discrimination in the institutions of this community."

I. COMMUNITY

Ulster County

Kingston, New York, located 100 miles north of New York City, is the largest community in Ulster County. According to the 1960 Census, Kingston is a community of 29,700 persons, 1,301 being Negroes, representing approximately 4 per cent of the overall population.

II. GENERAL RACIAL CONDITIONS

There has been no racial trouble as such in Kingston; however, there has been some picketing sponsored by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) and Congress of Racial Equality (CORE), the demonstrations having been peaceful in nature.

IV. IDENTITIES OF ORGANIZATIONS INVOLVED IN LOCAL RACIAL SITUATION

The NAACP and the Ulster County Chapter of CORE are the only organizations involved in racial matters in Kingston. The NAACP sponsored a demonstration in 1963, picketing the Woolworth Store in Kingston, protesting alleged racial bias of that store in Southern cities.

CORE, in 1964, has sponsored demonstrations protesting alleged housing bias and employment bias, and held a

VI. EXISTENCE OF CHANNELS OF COMMUNICATION BETWEEN MINORITY LEADERS AND LOCAL OFFICIALS

Mayor John Schwenk, Kingston, New York, advised on August 10, 1964, thathe has established the Commission on Human Relations in Kingston, New York, which meets regularly to discuss current racial policy and problems in Kingston. This Commission is composed of a colored layman, a colored minister, a Jewish Rabbi, a Roman Catholic priest, a Protestant Minister and a white layman. They hear all complaints in racial matters and provide recommendations for solutions.

VII. OBJECTIVES SOUGHT BY MINORITY COMMUNITY AND POSSIBLE POINTS OF CONTENTION

Mayor Schwenk advised that complaints received by his office have concerned allegations of bias in housing and employment. The findings of the Commission thus far have shown that there has been no foundation in fact for the complaints that were the results of misunderstanding of the parties involved and these problems have been resolved to the satisfaction of all those concerned.

VIII. REACTION OF LEADERS AND MEMBERS OF THE COMMUNITY TO MINORITY DEMANDS

Mayor Schwenk advised that the leaders and members of the community of Kingston, New York, are tolerant of the demands of minority groups, give these demands all consideration due, and have not exhibited any sort of organized resistance.

I. COMMUNITY

Westchester County, New York

The 1960 census figures reflect Westchester County is inhabited by 808,891 persons.

Thomas Vaughan, Director of the Westchester County Planning Department, White Plains, New York, estimated that the 1964 population of Westchester County is 883,400.

In the 1960 census, there were 60,455 Negroes in the Westchester County area or a percentage of 7.5 per cent to the overall population. Set forth below is a breakdown by major cities and population centers in Westchester County. The remainder of the Negro population is spread out through the County.

Village City or Town	Total Population	Negro	%Negro
White Plains (County Seat)	50,000	5,880	11.6 %
Mount Vernon	76,010	14,918	19.6 %

Ossining	18,662	2,512	13.5 %
Township of Greenburgh (including incorporated and non-incorporated areas)	76,213	6,275	8.2 %

II. GENERAL RACIAL CONDITIONS

Past racial activity in Westchester County has been limited. The demonstrations which have taken place have been held by the NAACP, CORE, Urban League and the Westchester Committee for Justice Now. The latter organization has acted as an overall coordinating group. There are no areas in which it might be said that "bitter racial antagonisms" exist.

John Hoy
Sheriff
Westchester County
August, 1964

New Rochelle, New York

[redacted] of the New Rochelle, New York Police Department, furnished information concerning a demonstration which started at 7:30 p.m. on June 24, 1964, at Hartley Housing, a public housing development in New Rochelle, New York, to protest the arrest on June 21, 1964, of [redacted] a resident of Hartley Houses. The tenants of this housing development are predominantly Negro. The arrest of [redacted] was made by Patrolman [redacted] Badge Number 16. The demonstration started at 7:30 p.m. with a group which assembled at Hartley Housing and rapidly swelled to approximately one hundred and fifty persons. The group proceeded through the Negro section for two blocks and then went on to City Hall on North Avenue which is an additional three blocks distant. Police Headquarters are attached to City Hall. The number of demonstrators increased as the group marched and it was estimated that six hundred were in the group when city hall was reached at about 8:15. A large number of spectators were in the area, but they did not participate in the demonstration.

City Hall is located on North Avenue, a major traffic artery and some demonstrators lay in the street and blocked traffic. Other demonstrators chanted slogans such as

"Badge Sixteen Must Go", "End Police Brutality" and "Justice Now". The demonstrators were largely Negroes and predominantly teen-agers. The mother of [redacted] was observed in the group and was carrying a placard stating, "Sixteen, The Assaulting Machine, Must Go." Mimeographed handbills were passed out which stated, "Another Negro Beaten By the Police of New Rochelle. We are marching on City Council, to-night, June 24, 1964." The crowd was handled with difficulty but no arrests were made. The actual demonstration lasted until 11:00 p.m., but a crowd of approximately two hundred people remained in the area of City Hall until after 12:30 a.m., June 25, 1964. This group was not demonstrating.

The principal spokesmen for this group were, Paul Dennis, President of the local NAACP, Joseph W. Jackson, on behalf of the Negro American Labor Council and Leona Farrington, Vice President of the local NAACP. These individuals met with New Rochelle Police Commissioner Edward Carey in his office after 11:00 p.m. and demanded immediate suspension of Patrolman [redacted] The Commissioner refused to suspend [redacted] and stated that a hearing would be held in due course to determine if unnecessary force was used in making the arrest of [redacted]

New Rochelle Police Department Records reflected that complaints had been received that a number of youths were congregating on Horton Avenue, that they were disorderly and boisterous and were interferring with passersby. The patrolmen on the post were instructed to be alert for this situation and to disperse such groups. On June 21, 1964, [redacted] encountered a group of youths at 8:30 p.m. and ordered them to move on. The group dispersed with the exception of [redacted] who refused to move. [redacted] then told [redacted] he was under arrest and took [redacted] by the arm. SCHOOL BOYCOTT, MT. VERNON, NEW YORK, ON MAY 18, 1964

On May 17, 1964, the Mt. Vernon, New York Branch of the NAACP held a rally on the steps of City Hall, Mt. Vernon, to celebrate the Tenth Anniversary of the Supreme Court's desegration decision and to protest the failure of the local Board of Education to end racial imbalance. Several hundred gathered on the steps of City Hall where the speakers included the Reverend Milton A. Galamison, the organizer of New York City's two school boycotts. On Monday, May 18, 1964, a boycott of the schools in Mt. Vernon resulted in several hundred additional absences which were probably attributable to the boycott. All in all, the boycott did not reach the figures hoped for by the leaders. There were no incidents of violence and paraders and picketers were watched carefully by the police and allowed to demonstrate in an orderly fashion.

NEW ROCHELLE SCHOOL INTEGRATION CASE

In 1961, the New Rochelle School Board was the defendant in a suit brought by the parents of eight Negro children attending the almost predominantly Negro Lincoln School. The suit sought an end to de facto segregation in the education system of New Rochelle by permitting the children to attend a school of their choice. The decision was handed down by Federal Judge Irving R. Kaufman in favor of the petitioners and ultimately the Lincoln School was closed with the pupils being distributed to other schools throughout the city. There was no violence in connection with this action. The attorney for the petitioners was Paul Zuber, a Negro attorney prominent in cases of this type.

YONKERS, NEW YORK

William Polson, Chief of Police, Yonkers, New York, advised that in June and July, 1964, the apartment house owned by [redacted] Yonkers, New York, was picketed intermittently by a small group from CORE, the purpose being to protest [redacted] alleged failure to rent an apartment to a Negro. [redacted] advised the picketing was done in a peaceful manner, there being no incidents, disorders or arrests.

Polson advised that, during the picketing, he invited all groups interested in racial matters in the Yonkers area to attend meetings in his office in order to discuss such matters. He described these meetings as being beneficial to all concerned and believed that through such meetings, he would be able to keep open channels of communication with minority groups and thus avoid any acts of violence or illegality.

Coincident with picketing of the apartment house at 385 McLean Avenue, Yonkers, New York, the same group placed a picket line in front of the home of [redacted], New York. At one time, at night as many as seventy pickets marched in front of [redacted] home after having also marched in front of City Hall. This demonstration lasted intermittently over a span of about three weeks and was then discontinued. The pickets stayed until about ten or eleven o'clock at night chanting and singing songs. At about nine p.m., the police prohibited any unnecessary noise. An attempt by [redacted] to inhibit the pickets by turning on his water sprinkler brought a ruling from the New Rochelle Corporation Counsel that the pickets would be within their rights to charge him with third degree assault. The sprinklers were turned off. There was no violence in connection with this demonstration.

PORT CHESTER, NEW YORK

Fred Ponty, Chief of Police, Port Chester, New York, advised that during the early part of 1964, a number of local meetings were held at Port Chester, New York, as to the necessary action to be taken in the schools on behalf of the white and Negro parents and their children.

Ponty stated he would not describe these meetings as dealing with racial trouble or as being such to engender bitter racial antagonism. He stated a readjustment to racial problems has been and is being peacefully made in his community.

Mrs. M. Paul Redd, President of the Rye-Portchester Branch of the NAACP and Mrs. Betty V. Stith, NAACP Education Chairman, have both stated that legal action is planned against the Port Chester School District Number 4 for the Board of Education's inadequate handling of the racial imbalance situation. There is no indication of any action to be taken other than by legal means.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

[redacted] of the Rye-Port Chester Branch of the NAACP, advised that at a meeting in April, 1964, of the Town Youth Council, there was a verbal controversy over whether or not a 19 page survey prepared by Mobilization for Youth and issued by the Port Chester Youth Council dealing with social problems mainly of a racial nature, should be circulated for answering throughout the community. b6 b7C

[redacted] advised the public discussion was called by the Village and Town Boards after complaints by veterans' organizations that the survey had a subversive intent, all organizations in the community being invited to attend the meeting. The opinions of all interested at that time were aired in public, the survey being rejected.

[redacted] advised William Kunstler, civil rights attorney representing the Youth Council's Chairman, demanded that those who "by innuendo" accused his client, the proponent of the survey, of being a Communist, bring forward proof of same. Kunstler explained that Mobilization for Youth, a non-profit agency that prepared the survey, was founded by Columbia University, is given support by the Ford Foundation and has the cooperation of churches, schools and other neighborhood groups.

The "Standard Star," New Rochelle, New York, a daily newspaper, in its issue of February 29, 1964, columns 1 through 8 on page 9, contained an article as to William M. Kunstler. The article states that Kunstler represented the Freedom Riders in 1961 and since then, as counsel for the Reverend Doctor Martin Luther King and his Southern Christian Leadership Conference, has been a representative in civil rights cases stretching into the thousands.

III. CURRENT EVALUATION OF VIOLENCE POTENTIAL

A review of the population statistics for Westchester County reflects that over fifty per cent of the Negro population resides in the lower third of the county just above the New York City line. These residents are in the cities of Yonkers, with 7,663; Mt. Vernon with 14, 918, and New Rochelle with 10,103. This is by far the greatest concentration of Negroes in the county. Almost all racial activity whether it be school integration matters, discrimination in rental of living space or the like, has centered here. The only instance which approached what might be called imminent violence was in connection with the arrest of Richard Hunter on June 21, 1964, in New Rochelle and the subsequent picketing and mass demonstration at City Hall. Here there was only one individual, the Hunter boy, who refused to accede to the requests of the police officer to move on. The others disbanded without protest. Police Commissioner Edward F. Carey of New Rochelle, New York, regards the matter as one of great seriousness but not one in which there is any imminence of violence. The demonstrators in the [redacted] situation were for a large part teen-agers. A large number of the Negroes in New Rochelle as well as Mt. Vernon and Yonkers are home owners, are in a large majority employed in occupations in which they enjoy a good income. b6 b7C

George Kummerle, Police Commissioner of Mt. Vernon, New York, advised after the May 18, 1964 School Boycott that he had had no indication of imminent violence at any time that the individuals were permitted to demonstrate in an orderly fashion and that his department was aware of and prepared for the demonstrations well in advance. He knew of no smoldering areas of discontent which might unexpectedly arouse a group to a pitch in which violence might be the outcome. He estimated that most of the so-called incidents were more or less fabricated for the purposes of publicity and that the Negro population had no real issues which might provoke riots.

Chief of Police, William Polson of Yonkers, New York, is the chief of police for the largest city in Westchester County with a population of 190,634. Included in this figure are approximately 7,663 Negroes for a low percentage of only 4.0. Polson knows of no imminence of violence and in the only incident of any consequence, that which involved the picketing of the apartment house at 385 McLean Avenue, Yonkers, New York, there was never at any time any indication that the demonstration was out of hand or was directed toward an outbreak of violence.

Peter King, Chief of Police, Peekskill, New York, advised that in early 1964, Peekskill, New York, and his department, was chosen by the Westchester County Welfare Commissioner to be the first community in the County to implement recent New York State Legislation to withhold welfare rent payments from slum landlords.

King advised that, as a result of the above law, his department has had numerous contacts with Negro and white persons living in his community. King advised that all men in his department have been instructed as to the serious nature of racial matters and the potential danger ever present in racial situations.

King advised Melvin Tapley, President of the Peekskill NAACP has been active in local racial matters.

IV. IDENTITIES OF ORGANIZATIONS INVOLVED IN LOCAL RACIAL SITUATION

[redacted], Executive Assistant to the County Executive, Westchester County, New York, furnished the following information: b6 b7C

Organizations in the Westchester County area which are active in the racial situation include the NAACP, a Westchester chapter of CORE, the Urban League, the Negro American Labor Council, Fair Housing Committees in several communities and the Westchester Committee for Justice Now.

The groups have a common goal of improving conditions for the Negroes in the areas involved in Westchester County and of promoting steps to end discrimination in employment, housing and education.

The NAACP is the largest of the organizations, if the membership of the various chapters is totalled. The Urban League, which is located in White Plains, New York, also has a strong membership numerically. The chapter of CORE, which has not been organized for a great period of time, has a membership of under 50. The Negro American Labor Council which was formed in the recent past, is not too large numerically, but is becoming increasingly effective because it is able to deal with only a small number of groups, such as labor unions and building and contractors associations.

The demands made by the spokesmen of the various organizations have varied in the different communities. In some of the larger communities, besides asking for better educational facilities, requests have been made for more recreational facilities. In areas where there are public housing projects, some feeling has been expressed for greater police protection for residents of the projects. There has also been a demand expressed in some sections for more Negroes on the various police departments and also for greater promotional opportunities for Negroes who are already members of the police departments.

The Fair Housing Committees which exist in several communities, were described by [redacted] b6 b7C New York, as an outgrowth of a suggestion made by the Urban League.

He pointed out that the Urban League, which is centered in White Plains, New York, did not have sufficient personnel to work throughout the county. It was suggested by officers of the Urban League that local voluntary organizations be set up to promote integration in housing and to be alert to discriminatory practices with regard to the sale or rental of dwellings. The result was that Fair Housing Committees have been organized in some communities.

Instances have occurred where discriminatory practices with regard to sales of homes or rentals of apartments were brought to the attention of the committees. Such matters were then made the subject of complaints to the State Commission Against Discrimination. Subsequent action of this agency has usually resulted in a settlement of grievances.

Source advised that another committee which he had not been aware of previously, was in contact with City officials in New Rochelle. The organization, The Westchester County Joint Committee on Equal Opportunity, indicated that it was made up of representatives of various organizations, namely the Urban League, CORE, NAACP Negro Ministers Association and the Hartley Tenants Council.

Representatives of this group protested alleged police brutality in New Rochelle, requested city action in creating job opportunities, a civilian review board for the police department, increased recreational facilities in the area of Hartley Houses (a Public Housing development) and increased services for the tenants of Hartley Houses.

He related Malcolm Williams, [redacted] New Rochelle, New York, is chairman of the Westchester CORE group.

Joseph T. Jackson is chairman of the Westchester County Joint Committee; Leslie Roberts is Chairman of Negro American Labor Council; Dr. Leon Scott, a New Rochelle dentist, represents the Urban League, and, Mrs. Leona Farrington represents the New Rochelle NAACP, and George Carter was President of the Hartley Tenants Council.

August, 1964

[redacted] above, with regard to the Westchester Urban League, stated William C. Wolfe is the Executive Director. He advised that the leaders of the Westchester Committee for Justice Now were the leaders of the other organizations already in existence in the County and that its purpose is to coordinate the activities of all other organizations. [redacted] commented that, up to now, the Westchester Committee for Justice Now has been little more than a paper organization. b6 b7C

VI. EXISTENCE OF CHANNELS OF COMMUNICATION BETWEEN MINORITY LEADERS AND LOCAL OFFICIALS

The Executive Assistant to the County Executive of Westchester County at White Plains, New York, is [redacted] above. [redacted] b6 b7C

He is well connected with all Negro leaders and organizations in the County.

In the major cities of the County, Yonkers, New Rochelle and Mt. Vernon, in which fifty per cent of the Negro population resides, civic officials and Chiefs of Police have been successful in meeting with local leaders on what situations have developed.

August, 1964

Source advised that in regard to New Rochelle, the members of the City Council and the Mayor have met in public and executive hearings with leading local Negro leaders in most amicable sessions to iron out any difficulties which may come up. As friendly and as constructive as these sessions have been with the local Negro leaders, city officials have been disturbed at subsequent press releases by these individuals which are at a complete variance with the results of the hearings and give the impression that no progress is being made when, in fact, it is.

NY T- 40
August, 1964

In White Plains, New York, the Board of Education, recognizing the racial imbalance existing in the city's schools started out two years ago to redistrict the various school districts in an endeavor to end any such racial imbalance. In anticipating the demands of the minority groups and recognizing the existing imbalance the board decided on closing the predominantly Negro school, the Rochambeau School as of June, 1964. So effective has been this example of initiative that there have been no evidences of complaint or dissatisfaction by the minority group.

VII. OBJECTIVES SOUGHT BY MINORITY COMMUNITY AND POSSIBLE POINTS OF CONTENTION

The minority community as such, i.e., the Negro community, has not made a full overall county drive in pursuit of any one objective with the exception of fair housing. In this category, various local fair housing groups have arisen, at the suggestion of the Urban League.

Tarrytown Fair Housing

Equal job opportunities has not been an issue at any place in the county with the exception of possibly in New Rochelle, where, following the Hunter incident, previously mentioned, demands were made before the City Council for city action in creating job opportunities, a civilian review board for the Police Department, and for assistance with housing problems. Demands were also made for the suspension of [redacted] supra. Job opportunities were cited as the crux of the whole problem and Negro leaders urged the City Council to take every available means to attract new business and industry so that more jobs can be created. b6 b7C

The techniques used by the minority community have been restricted to pickets and in one instance, in New Rochelle, following the arrest of [redacted] supra, a mass demonstration. The mass demonstration included about six hundred people. b6 b7C

VIII. REACTIONS OF LEADERS AND MEMBERS OF THE COMMUNITY TO MINORITY DEMANDS

In the [redacted] incident in New Rochelle, demands were made for the immediate suspension of [redacted] for the use of unnecessary force in making the arrest. The Commissioner, Edward F. Carey, refused to accede to such demands and insisted that a departmental inquiry would be instituted to inquire into the facts surrounding the arrest. b6 b7C

It was decided that the patrolman's trial would be made public and would be held in advance of the trial of the defendant [redacted] The Mayor, in meetings with local minority leaders, outlined the steps New Rochelle has taken to meet Negro community requirements, listing the establishment of the Human Rights Commission and the Youth Board, informal hearings with civil rights leaders to increase understanding, expansion and improvement of recreational facilities, a start on the job opportunities requests with the hiring of fifteen boys starting August 18, 1964, under the Department of Public Works, plus work with the Chamber of Commerce, to have local business open more jobs, extensive recruitment of Negroes for police and fire departments and the establishment of a Human Relations course in the police department. The Mayor also pointed out that civil rights leaders have the responsibility of helping the city in return, for example, with the recruiting for the police and fire b6 b7C departments and other city departments.

In the Mt. Vernon school boycott and the other picketing incidents, local civil rights leaders were invited by the local civic leaders and chiefs of police to air their views and were thus able to control the situations.

EMERGENCY CIVIL LIBERTIES COMMITTEE

The "Guide to Subversive Organizations and Publications," revised and published as of December 1, 1961, prepared and released by the Committee on Un-American Activities, United States House of Representatives, Washington, D.C., contains the following concerning the Emergency Civil Liberties Committee:

"Emergency Civil Liberties Committee

"1. 'The Emergency Civil Liberties Committee is an organization with headquarters in New York, whose avowed purpose is to abolish the House Committee on Un-American Activities and discredit the FBI. * * * The committee finds that the Emergency Civil Liberties Committee, established in 1951, although representing itself as a non-Communist group, actually operates as a front for the Communist Party. It has repeatedly assisted, by means of funds and legal aid, Communists involved in Smith Act violations and similar legal proceedings. One of its chief activities has been and still is the dissemination of voluminous Communist propaganda material.'

APPENDIX

EMERGENCY CIVIL LIBERTIES COMMITTEE

'Disputing the non-Communist claim of the organization, the committee finds that a number of other individuals connected with the ECLC also have been identified under oath as Communists. * * *'
(Committee on Un-American Activities, Annual Report for 1958, House Report 187, March 9, 1959, pp. 34 and 35.)

'To defend the cases of Communist law-breakers, fronts have been devised making special appeals in behalf of civil liberties and reaching out far beyond the confines of the Communist Party itself. Among these organizations are the * * * Emergency Civil Liberties Committee. When the Communist Party itself is under fire these fronts offer a bulwark of protection.'

FREEDOMWAYS ASSOCIATES, INCORPORATED

The records of the New York Secretary of State, Albany, New York, show that the certificate of incorporation of Freedomways Associates, Incorporated, was filed on March 2, 1961.

The Spring, 1964, issue of "Freedomways" is self-described as "A Quarterly Review of the Negro Freedom Movement" published by Freedomways Associates, Incorporated, 799 Broadway, New York City.

On May 24, 1961, a source advised that a report was given on "Freedomways" at a meeting of the National Board, Communist Party, USA (CPUSA), held on May 24, 1961. It was stated that the original plan called for the publication to be openly Marxist, but that it was later decided it would not be avowedly a Marxist publication. Editorials are in the hands of a mixed group of Marxists and non-Marxists. It was stated that the central purpose of "Freedomways" is to develop a theory and positive criticism of currents in the Negro movement, as well as to raise the level of understanding and discussion taking place in Negro life today and to project a socialist and pro-Soviet orientation.

On May 25, 1961, another source advised that "Freedomways" was set up for the CPUSA by JAMES JACKSON, a member of the National Committee of the CPUSA.

MUSLIM MOSQUE, INCORPORATED

The March 13, 1964, edition of "The New York Times," a daily newspaper published in New York, New York, contained an article on page 20 which indicated that MALCOLM X (LITTLE), former national official of the Nation of Islam (NOI) and Minister of NOI Mosque #7, New York, who broke with the NOI on March 8, 1964, stated that he had formed the Muslim Mosque, Incorporated (MMI). The MMI, according to the article, would be a broadly based politically oriented black nationalist movement for Negroes only, financed by voluntary contributions. In this public statement MALCOLM X urged Negroes to abandon the doctrine of non-violence when it is necessary to defend themselves in the civil rights struggle, and he also suggested that Negroes form rifle clubs to protect their lives and property in times of emergencies in areas where the government is unable or unwilling to protect them.

Incorporation papers of the MMI filed on March 16, 1964, with the Business Section, Clerk of Courts, New York County, New York, New York, reflect that the MMI was incorporated under the Religious Corporation Law of the State of New York to work for the imparting of the Islamic Faith and Islamic Religion in accordance with "accepted Islamic principles." The principal place of worship to be located in the Borough of Manhattan, New York, New York.

During an appearance over KYW - Television, Cleveland, Ohio, on April 7, 1964, MALCOLM X stated that the MMI does not stand for integration, but for complete freedom, justice, and equality for Negroes. He stated that Islam was the religious philosophy of the MMI, while the political, economic and social philosophy was black nationalism.

On May 15, 1964, a confidential source advised that the headquarters of the MMI are located in Suite 128, Hotel Theresa, 2090 Seventh Avenue, New York City, where they were established on March 16, 1964.

NATION OF ISLAM

In January, 1957, a source advised ELIJAH MUHAMMAD has described his organization on a nationwide basis as the "Nation of Islam" and "Muhammad's Temples of Islam".

On July 10, 1963, a second source advised ELIJAH MUHAMMAD is the national leader of the Natien of Islam (NOI); Muhammad's Temple of Islam No. 2,5335 South Greenwood Avenue, Chicago, Illinois, is the national headquarters of the NOI; and in mid-1960, MUHAMMAD and other NOI officials, when referring to MUHAMMAD's organization on a nationwide basis, commenced using either "Mosque" or "Temple" when mentioning one of "Muhammad's Temples of Islam".

The NOI is an all-Negro organization which was originally organized in 1930 in Detroit, Michigan, MUHAMMAD claims to have been selected by Allah, the Supreme Being, to lead the so-called Negro race out of slavery in the wilderness of North America by establishing an independent black nation in the United States. Members following MUHAMMAD's teachings and his interpretation of the "Koran" believe there is no such thing as a Negro; that the so-called Negroes are slaves of the white race, referred to as "white devils", in the United States; and that the white race, because of its exploitation of the so-called Negroes, must and will be destroyed in the approaching "War of Armageddon".

In the past, officials and members of the NOI, including MUHAMMAD, have refused to register under the provisions of the Selective Service Acts and have declared that members owe no allegiance to the United States.

On July 10, 1963, a third source advised MUHAMMAD had early in July, 1958, decided to de-emphasize the religious aspects of the teachings of Islam and to stress the economic benefits to be derived by those Negroes who joined the NOI. This policy change, according to MUHAMMAD, would help him acquire additional followers and create more interest in his programs.

A source advised on July 2, 1962, that Progressive Labor groups held a conference in New York City on July 1, 1962, where MILTON ROSEN acted as chairman. He read a statement at this conference setting forth their intention to form a new Marxist-Leninist party in the United States. ROSEN stated that a more formal organization was necessary, one which would provide a frame-work for all who wanted to join in a united effort to build an American vanguard. The forces of this new organization are to consolidate all existing forces around Progressive Labor and organize additional forces; expand and improve political activities; win additional forces to an outlook of Marxism-Leninism and increase the open advocacy of socialism; develop a significant Marxist-Leninist program for the new party; and organize a collective organization of leaders and members.

"The Worker," an East Coast Communist newspaper, issue of January 7, 1962, Page Ten, Column Three, reported the expulsion of MILTON ROSEN, former Labor Secretary of the New York State Communist Party, from the Communist Party, United States of America.

A second and third source advised in February, 1963, that this new Marxist-Leninist party had not yet been organized on a formal basis, but that Progressive Labor groups had been formed in several localities in line with the proposals of MILTON ROSEN. The sources advised as of February, 1963, that the leaders of this group were referring to it as the Progressive Labor Movement.

WORKERS WORLD PARTY

On April 17, 1959, a confidential source advised that on February 12, 1959, a Socialist Workers Party (SWP) minority group, under the leadership of National Committee member, SAM BALLAN, split from the SWP.

The source stated that this minority group, referred to as the Marcyites, after many years of program and policy differences on varied issues concerning tactics and interpretation of political events, split from the SWP on the grounds that the Party was liquidating itself by departing from the Marxist precepts of LEON TROTSKY and retreating from the fight for the world socialist revolution. The final issue which ultimately forced the split was the minority's opposition to the SWP regroupment policy which involved cooperation with the Communist Party (CP) periphery - individuals characterized by the minority as petty-bourgeois.

The minority program, according to the source, advocated unconditional defense of the Soviet Union and has as its goal the building of a revolutionary party with a complete proletarian orientation for the purpose of overthrowing capitalism in the United States and throughout the world.

On May 12, 1960, the source advised that this minority group had chosen the name Workers World Party.

On April 27, 1964, a second source advised that the Workers World Party, which maintains headquarters at 46 West 21st Street, New York, New York, supports the People's Republic of China in its ideological dispute with the Soviet Union.

Youth Committee

A confidential source advised on August 22, 1962, that the Youth Against War and Fascism (YAWF), formerly known as the Anti-Fascist Youth Committee, was established by the Workers World Party (WWP) in the summer of 1962, to bring college youth into the periphery of WWP activities and thereby gain recruits for the organization.

The confidential source advised on May 13, 1964, that the YAWF utilizes Post Office Box 1703, Grand Central Station, New York, New York, as its mailing address and WWP Headquarters, 46 West 21st Street, New York, New York, for administrative activities.

Re Bureau teletype dated 8/1/64, which directed that one, FRAZIER (ph), leader of the Mississippi Parents Group be identified.

The Indices of the New York Office reflect that this is undoubtedly WILLARD FRASER of 5 2nd Road, Great Neck, New York. On 7/8/64, WILLARD FRASER telephonically contacted the New York Office and advised that his son, [redacted] years old, a member of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee (SNCC), was arrested that date. He requested that the New York Office contact the local police in Columbus, Mississippi, and insure his son would not be mistreated.

The Indices of the New York Office contain the following information concerning the name WILLARD FRASER:

On 5/9/49, Federal Judge, HAROLD R. MEDINA, Southern District of New York, made available the following letters:

1. An undated letter addressed to him by a WILLARD FRASER, 300 Ocean Parkway, Brooklyn, New York, in which FRASER stated that the Federal Grand Jury which indicted the 12 Communist leaders "was a most unrepresentative group" and he urged Judge MEDINA "to throw the case out of court and give the American people a new lease on democracy".

2. An undated letter stating that "we citizens who have been following the case of the 12 indicted Communists are concerned about the exposure of the jury system. We consider it unfair and undemocratic to find persons of our education and economic status excluded from the opportunity to serve on the petit or grand jury". One of the signers of this letter is a WILLARD FRASER, 300 Ocean Parkway, Brooklyn.

On 6/15/53, [redacted] (C) (U) made available a petition to the Attorney General of the US from the American Committee for Protection of Foreign Born (ACPFB) protesting "the attempt to deport legally-resident non-citizens because of their labor and political activities". The signatures to this petition include a WILLARD FRASER, 300 Ocean Parkway. b7D

On the night of 1/24/58, SA [redacted] observed [redacted] leave their residence and enter a car. At 9:01 b6 b7C

p.m., SA [redacted] saw them enter the residence of [redacted] Great Neck. b6 b7C

The New York Office has case files 100-50966 for [redacted] 100-60673 for [redacted] 100-133767 for [redacted] and 100-133853 for [redacted]

At 10:02 p.m., on the night of 1/24/58, SA [redacted] observed cars parked in the driveway at [redacted] Road, one of which bore 1957 NY license NC 2238. The records of the Motor Vehicle Bureau reflect that this license was registered to WILLARD FRASER, 3 Lodge Road, Great Neck. b6 b7C

At 1:12 a.m., on the morning of 1/25/58, SAS [redacted] and [redacted] observed the car bearing license [redacted] leaving [redacted] Great Neck, and this car stopped in front of 3 Lodge Road, Great Neck, and a man and woman left the car and entered this address. b6 b7C b7D

Concerning the "Mississippi Parents Group", it would appear that this is an informal grouping of parents of youths who are working in Mississippi on the Mississippi Summer Project. A review of the information furnished by [redacted] has been made and this data indicates that there was a committee of parents who had gotten together to go to Washington, D.C., on 7/29/64, in an attempt to see the President about the matter of liaison between the FBI and the Council of Federated Organizations (COFO) in the event of emergencies. It was noted that [redacted] has, on occasions, reported conversations between NATHAN and [redacted] the parents of [redacted] and a MARCIA (LNU). b7D b6 b7C

New York. It is also noted that [redacted] son of MARCIA and VICTOR RABINOWITZ had volunteered for the training course to be given at the Western College for Women, Oxford, Ohio, and may now be in Mississippi on the COFO Project. b6 b7C

On 7/27/64, [redacted] advised that MARCIA (LNU) engaged in a conversation with the SCHWERNERS. NAT SCHWERNER asked about the parents group and MARCIA stated that they would work with the SNCC on a meeting of 8/20/64. MARCIA also said there would be a group of parents going to Washington that week because they felt they should go to the White House to see if they could get better cooperation between COFO and the FBI. She said they thought, as parents, they should go down and do something about this. b7D

On the same date, NAT SCHWERNER told WILLIAM KUNSTLER, Attorney for the SCHWERNER family, that he had offered to join the delegation if he could be of any help.

NAT SCHWERNER, on the same date, told LOTTIE KUNSTLER, wife of WILLIAM KUNSTLER, that he had learned from MARCIA that a committee of the parents group was planning a trip to Washington, D.C., with regard to liaison between the FBI and COFO in the event of an emergency.

[redacted] advised on 7/28/64, that NAT SCHWERNER stated that he would go to Washington, D.C., on 7/29/64, and when [redacted] asked why he was going, he stated that the parents jumped at the idea. [redacted] inquired if he had spoken to JIM FORMAN (head of SNCC) and NAT SCHWERNER stated that he had not but that one, FRAZER (ph), the Chairman of the parents group, had spoken to him. b7D b6 b7C

The source advised on 8/3/64, that on that date, [redacted] was in contact with MARCIA(LNU) and stated that she wanted to get [redacted] letters (probably) [redacted] back to MARCIA. MARCIA told her to send them in the mail and also mentioned that on that night, they would have a Steering Committee meeting of parents. b6 b7C

[redacted] furnished information on 7/16/64, that WILLIAM KUNSTLER said a meeting would be held at the Church of All Nations, Second Avenue, New York City, concerning a rally to be held in the garment area on 8/3/64, and wanted STEVE (believed to be [redacted] brother of [redacted] as the Organizer. On the same date, NAT SCHWERNER contacted [redacted] and asked him to organize a monster rally in the garment area. b7D b6 b7C

On 7/24/64, the same source advised that [redacted] was in contact with MAE(LNU) and during the conversation, MAE stated "I guess you know we had to call off our garment center demonstration". She stated further, that "we were working on it from here", but that "we were afraid it would be a fiasco". b6 b7C

[redacted] stated that she knew that and also commented that to hold such a rally might cause incitement again (referring to the then state of rioting in the New York City area). At the same time, [redacted] stated that [redacted] was very active then and had been at a meeting with WILLIAM KUNSTLER the previous Saturday at Local 65 (District 65, Retail and Wholesale Workers Union, AFL-CIO). b6 b7C

MR & MRS

From information furnished by [redacted], it is apparent that the MAE referred to is a MAE BECKERMAN, whose husband is IRVING BECKERMAN, residing at 76 Milburn Lane, East Hills, Nassau County, New York. It also b7D appears from information furnished by the source that the BECKERMANS are good friends of the SCHWERNERS and that MAE BECKERMAN was a prime mover in a fund raising affair held in Roslyn, Long Island, NY, in July, 1964.

There is no information in the files of the New York Office identifiable with the BECKERMANS.

On 7/17/64 [redacted] reported on a conversation between [redacted] and BAYARD RUSTIN on that date, during which [redacted] told RUSTIN that he had been appointed spokesman for the Mississippi Parents Group. [redacted] said that this group was planning a big demonstration on 8/3/64, at 5:00 p.m., in the garment area and expected a crowd of 50,000. [redacted] asked RUSTIN to participate and offered to pay him for his services. According to [redacted] was going to spend all his time working on this but that RUSTIN was needed because of his experience. [redacted] mentioned further that the group planned to meet with [redacted] of District 65), and added that the group desired to gain the support of labor and religious groups. N.Y. b6 b7C b7D

[redacted] is undoubtedly [redacted] whom the 6/19/64, issue of "Newsday" a daily newspaper of Long Island, New York, indicated would participate in the "Mississippi Summer Project". It stated that he is [redacted] APPROX b6 b7C

[redacted] is the subject of NY file 100-64507 and [redacted] is the subject of NY file 100-63506. b6 b7C

From the foregoing, it would appear that there is a grouping of parents of students who are working in Mississippi on the COFO project, and that the purpose of such a group is to provide assistance to their sons and daughters who are working in Mississippi during the summer of 1964. It is also evident that MARCIA RABINOWITZ is active in this grouping in the New Rochelle area but there is no information available as to the identities of all the parents who may be taking part in the activities of the parents group.

"The New York Times", 8/13/64, page 26, column two, contains an article datelined August 12, 1964, at Jackson, Mississippi, "Freedom Democrats Are Curbed by Order of Mississippi Court". Under a subcaption "More Protection Asked", it is stated that "a group of parents called yesterday for more Federal protection for their children who are participating in the drive to register Negro voters in Mississippi.

"Members of the Mississippi Project Parents Committee charged that 'adequate protection never has been provided' for the youths.

"Willard Fraser, national chairman of the Committee and several other members of the group told a news conference that their children all had reported being 'harassed' and 'threatened' while in Mississippi.

"In addition, the committee members said they would actively back plans to seat a delegation from the Mississippi Freedom Democratic Party at the Democratic National Convention.

"The party was formed to oppose the 'regular' all-white delegation from that state.

"Mr. Fraser said the parents of about 1,000 participants in the Mississippi project were members of the committee".

COMMUNIST INFLUENCE IN RACIAL MATTERS

On September 3, 1964, a confidential source advised FRANCES GABOW, Political Action Secretary, Communist Party of Eastern Pennsylvania and Delaware (CPEPD), and three other CPEPD members distributed approximately two-hundred copies of the September 1, 1964, Midweek Edition of "The Worker" in the area where rioting took place in Philadelphia, Pa. About 45 copies were sold and the remainder were given away. Distribution made door to door. Copies of the following pamphlets were given away with each copy of the Midweek Edition of "The Worker" distributed:

"Economic Program, CPUSA," New York City.

"The Eleventh Hour - Defeat The New Fascist Threat," by GUS HALL.

"Negro Freedom in the Interests of Every American," by GUS HALL.

Distribution occurred between approximately 11:30 a.m. and 1:00 p.m., September 3, 1964. No incidents occurred during distribution. GABOW supplied papers and pamphlets listed above.

Prior to distribution, group met at the residence of THOMAS NABRIED, District Chairman, CPEPD, 1345 West Susquehanna Avenue, Philadelphia, Pa., at which time NABRIED said the Communist Party condemns hoodlumism and looting and cannot condone destruction of property. NABRIED also said that if racial

SUBJECT: COMMUNIST INFILTRATION IN RACIAL MATTERS

SAC Roney, New York Office, telephoned and referred to a rally to be in the near Harlem section of New York City on September 5, 1964.

This rally has been announced by Jesse Gray, Community Council on Housing, for the ostensible purpose to protest the failure of the New York State Grand Jury to indict Lt. Gilligan for the fatal shooting of James Powell. New York proposes to have a Special Agent wearing a concealed recording device in attendance to get a recording of any of Gray's comments. Gray is a former member of the Communist Party who made numerous inflammatory remarks during the recent New York Harlem riot situation. New York has advised that full security would be assured. New York will have informant coverage of this rally and will also have a confidential informant that is a professional photographer there to take pictures of the activities.

ACTION:

SAC Roney was authorized to have a Special Agent wearing a concealed recording device present at the rally, unless he received advice to the contrary from the Bureau.

Reurtel 9/4/64 "CIRM" which reported information from [redacted] that it had been announced at a closed membership meeting of the New York local, Socialist Workers Party (SWP), 9/3/64, that the SWP would hold a street meeting at 125th Street and 7th Avenue, New York City, 9/5/64. No mention was made in retel as to the purpose of the meeting and on the basis of the information contained in the teletype it should not have been captioned "CIRM" but rather "SWP, IS-SWP."

Reurtel 9/6/64 "CIRM, POWDEM," which reported that Agents of your office observed an election rally of the SWP held at 2107 7th Avenue from 4:40 to 6:20 (presumed p.m.). No date was indicated for this rally; there was no indication that the rally was the same one referred to in the 9/4/64 teletype; neither was there any purpose for the rally reported.

It appears to the Bureau that the captions "CIRM" and "POWDEM" are being indiscriminately used to report all types of activities in your territory without regard to whether or not they pertain to CIRM and/or POWDEM. On the basis of the information known, as contained in the two referenced teletypes, all the information concerning the SWP activities should have been reported under the SWP title. Further, there should have been a reporting of the purpose for the rally and a definite indication that the rally which was held was the same as the one which had been planned.

Insure that the letterhead memorandum being submitted to cover this SWP activity is appropriately titled.

The rallies will be held in Newark on Labor Day at 8:00 p.m. at 13th Avenue and Rutgers Street; in Orange, on September 10, 1964, at 8:00 p.m. at Center and Parrow Streets; and in Camden and Philadelphia on September 12, 1964.

On September 7, 1964, [redacted] Newark, New Jersey, Police Department, advised that the LNVC rally was held from 8:00 p.m. to 8:40 p.m. at 13th Avenue and Rutgers Street, in Newark, New Jersey. He said the crowd numbered about one hundred people. Clarence Coggins and [redacted] spoke on police brutality, slums, voter registration, and urged organization of Negroes through the LNVC. He stated the Newark police had about seventy five men in the area. He said there were no incidents or violence.

The September 8, 1964, issue of the "Star Ledger", a daily Newark, New Jersey, newspaper, contained an article reflecting the LNVC Labor Day rally drew a crowd of one hundred persons which proved to be a luke-warm audience.

Clarence Coggins asked the crowd if they did not agree that Governor Richard Hughes should grant amnesty to the jailed Negroes who participated in riots in Jersey City, Paterson, and Elizabeth, New Jersey. The article stated he drew a moderate response.

The article stated that William Clark, who as a fourteen-year-old created a stir three years ago by going to Russia to study, spoke at the rally, saying, "Everything we have been taught we learned from Mr. Charlie (the white man). The reason my daughter has been so thoroughly condemned is that she knows something Mr. Charlie didn't teach her...."

Clark was quoted as urging a Negro police chief and a Negro judge in Newark, New Jersey.

LABOR-NEGRO VANGUARD CONFERENCE,

In a press release dated November 18, 1961, the LABOR-NEGRO VANGUARD PARTY (LNVP) stated:

"The growing influence of the irredentist forces upon the policies of our nation as indicated by the alarming drift towards war and the outlawing of the COMMUNIST PARTY (CP) has accentuated the need for all radical, progressive, and liberal forces to unite in a common party."

In a leaflet entitled, "Call to Progressive Minded America," issued by the LNVP, its founding convention was scheduled for November 25, 1961, in New York City. The aims and purposes were listed as:

1. For the resurgence of the American Labor Movement.

2. For the winning of the struggle for Negro rights.

3. For an end of the cold war.

4. For economic security and higher mass living standards.

5. For the end of the exploitation of man by man.

A source advised on December 10, 1961, that CLARENCE COGGINS is considered the Provisional Chairman of the LNVP. Other active members include [redacted] WILLIAM CLARK, and [redacted] b6 b7C

A second source advised on December 12, 1959, that CLARENCE COGGINS [redacted] WILLIAM CLARK, and [redacted] were all members of the Harriet Tubman Section of the Essex County, New Jersey, CP, which was expelled from the Party with no right of appeal by action of the 17th National Convention, CP, USA, being held December 10-13, 1959.

The third source advised on June 26, 1963, that due to mutual suspicion, the drive toward unity between these two organizations has ceased.

On January 15, 1963, the first source advised that the LNVP is now using the name LABOR-NEGRO VANGUARD CONFERENCE (LNVC) and is the name the organization is now known by and under which name all leaflets are issued.

On June 28, 1963, the first source stated that the LNVC does not exist on a national scale, and although CLARENCE COGGINS, Chairman of the LNVC, has traveled through the eastern portion of the country to promote the LNVC, the only organized group to date exists in New Jersey.

On May 18, 1964, a fourth source advised that the LNVC has divided its New Jersey group into three branches, with one each in Newark, Jersey City, and Orange.

SUBJECT: COMMUNIST PARTY, USA
ACTIVITY IN PHILADELPHIA
RACIAL MATTERS

CIRM

SAC Joseph Jamieson of the Philadelphia Office called at 11:30 a.m. to advise of planned Communist Party activity in the racial situation in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

Jamieson said they received information from an informant this morning that Tom Nabried, Chairman of the Eastern Pennsylvania and Delaware District of the Communist Party, and Frances Gabow, Organizational Secretary of the District, had plans to arrange for distribution of this week's midweek edition of "The Worker" in the riot area.

The distribution was to be made by Gabow personally and three Party members selected for this task, all three of whom are our informants. At the time of his call, Jamieson said the three informants were in Nabried's apartment awaiting Gabow's arrival, after which they planned to go to the office of a Security Index subject, Dr. Felix Spector, an ostepath located at 1500 Columbia Avenue in Philadelphia, from which point they would operate to distribute the newspapers. Jamieson was told that no opportunity should be overlooked to assure that this venture of the CP would fail. Jamieson said that local authorities had been advised of the plan but only in general terms to the effect that the distribution was to take place sometime this week in the general area. He said that the one informant with whom they had been in contact had specifically been instructed to attempt to separate from the group and to destroy the material if the opportunity arose. He said the other two informants are experienced and he is confident they will follow the same procedure if they have a chance to separate. However, he pointed out that Gabow would probably try to operate them as a group.

100-65

The possibility of their being arrested was discussed. Jamieson said there is a possibility this might happen. All three of our informants are Negroes but Gabow is white, and this in and of itself might attract attention to the group's activity.

We considered the possibility of trying to finger Gabow alone to have her arrested with the material but dismissed it.

because (1) it would risk our informants and (2) it would be playing into her hands because the Party is using this technique specifically to get publicity.

I told Jamieson to follow this closely and he subsequently advised that Gabow and the three informants had left Nabried's apartment at 11:43 a.m. to take the newspapers to the riot area. Jamieson was told to notify us promptly of subsequent developments in this situation.

OBSERVATIONS:

We had previously received information concerning the general plans of Nabried and Gabow to distribute Party propaganda at the riot area in Philadelphia, and the above information corroborates that which we had previously received and which was included in the White House summary letter on racial matters disseminated this morning with copies to the Department.

ACTION:

We will follow this matter closely through our informant coverage and promptly disseminate pertinent information.

ADDENDUM - CDB:skw 8-2-64:

Jamieson called at 2:35 pm. and said the distribution of the Communist Party propaganda had been completed by Gabow and the three other Party members who are our informants. They distributed 200 copies of "The Worker" and gave away copies of three pamphlets with each paper. These were: "American Peoples Program to End Poverty and Unemployment in the United States," published by the Communist Party, USA, 23 West 26th Street, four pages long; "The Eleventh Hour -- Defeat the New Fascist Threat," by Gus Hall, 22 pages long; and "Negro Freedom in the Interest of Every American," by Gus Hall, 16 pages long. Material distributed on Norris Street from 23rd Street to Ridge Avenue and on 25th Street to Ridge Avenue. Jamieson said no incidents and that Gabow was very pleased. He said complete details are being submitted

Re: Communist Influence in Racial Matters
Internal Security - C

On September 4, 1964, a source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that on September 2, 1964, during a meeting of a Communist Party (CP) Club of the West Side Section, New York District, CP, United States of America (USA), Goldie Levenson announced that the pro-integration organization "Equal", in association with the New York City Board of Education, would hold a meeting at 8:00 p.m., September 9, 1964, at the West End Collegiate Church, 77th Street and West End Avenue, New York, New York, to discuss means of counteracting the school boycott proposed by the Parents and Taxpayers organization. During instant CP club meeting, Isabelle Auerbach related she had telephoned "Equal" to see what could be done to assist that organization and was told merely to attend the September 9, 1964, meeting. Goldie Levenson thereupon instructed members of this CP club to endeavor to attend the above-described meeting.

The source advised Goldie Levenson and Isabelle Auerbach are members of the aforementioned CP club.

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, stated on September 4, 1964, that the Socialist Workers Party (SWP), would hold a street meeting at 125th Street and 7th Avenue, in Harlem, New York, New York, on September 5, 1964. New York City Police Department (NYCPD) permit had been requested for hours four to nine p.m. but granted three to six p.m. SWP felt they could not draw a crowd in the afternoon and planned to consult American Civil Liberties Union on right of NYCPD to fix time for street meeting. (C)

Source stated that SWP rents sound equipment and holds meetings in front of "black nationalist" bookstore. They feel this gives them protection since owner of store has vested interest in safekeeping his property. (C) (U)

Special Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) observed the SWP rally in Harlem on September 5, 1964. A maximum of fifty people were present and there were no incidents. Car noted carrying SWP people to street meeting bearing New York license 7N-8770. This is registered to James Kutcher.

Kutcher is known to the confidential source as an SWP member. (C) (U)

VICTOR RIESEL: INSIDE LABOR

Violent Radical Groups Haunt U.S.

A VIOLENT neo-radicalism has begun haunting America. Its guises are many, but it eschews disguises. Its leaders are young and openly call for street violence, armed squads, mass revolution, the destruction of capitalism, general strikes, committees of struggle, and the weakening of police authority to put down riots.

This turbulent radicalism, reminiscent of the early thirties, is championed by many groups which have taken old revolutionary names and slogans. They differ from each other only in personalities. Boastfully they call themselves the true revolutionaries and the sole parties of "Marx, Engels, Lenin, Stalin—and Mao Tse-tung."

They disagree slightly, semantically, not tactically, and all hold that the American Communist Party has grown too "soft" on revolution and that the Party's leaders live too well and have too many cars.

There are many groups in this new camarilla of radicalism, but four of them are more active than the others: The Provisional Organizing Committee for a Marxist-Leninist Communist Party (POC), the Progressive Labor Movement (PLM), Hammer anl Steel, and the Workers World Party. They apparently are never short of funds.

IN ALL, THEY RUN over 100 "clubs" in 10 major cities and in a number of communities in New England, North Carolina, Georgia, and on the West Coast. According to their boasts, these neo-radical operatives have some kind of organization in New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Chicago, Cleveland, Buffalo, Williamsport, Pa., San Francisco, Los Angeles and Seattle.

Members of at least one, and often more, of such groups have been in the vortex of virtually every major street disturbance. And small wonder. A typical piece of their "agit-prop" (agitation-propaganda) literature is the following from the Progressive Labor Movement.

"We intend to find out how to elevate every daily struggle of the people into revolutionary will," said the PLM's Marxist Leninist Quarterly. "It is our intent to help build a mass revolutionary party. It is our belief that the objective conditions exist in our country and on a world scene for such a development. We will encourage every revolutionary or militant tendency among the people . . ."

THIS THEME OF VIOLENCE" runs through much of the neo-radical literature and liturgy. Not too long ago, the publication of the Workers World Party, which has its headquarters in mid-Manhattan, called for formation of defense guards which are "organized, drilled and trained in the use of arms."

This organization also has appealed for funds to buy rifles for "freedom fighters."

Most active in the championing of Communist China's policies of guerrilla warfare and violent revolution, has been the group known as Hammer and Steel. It operates out of Boston and boasts of covering all New England. It also calls for emulation of the Cuban revolution in the U.S. and actually demands an armed Negro revolt.

RACIAL DISTURBANCES
NEW YORK, NEW YORK
JULY 17-31, 1964

C IRM

I. BACKGROUND

At approximately 9:25 a.m., on July 16, 1964, Patrick Lynch, Superintendent of the buildings located at 211 and 215 East 76th Street, New York City, while hosing the street and flower boxes outside the above buildings, became involved in an altercation with several Negro youths who were waiting to enter Robert F. Wagner Junior High School, 222 East 76th Street, New York City, for 10:00 a.m. remedial reading classes.

The Negro youths felt that Lynch had deliberately splashed them with water and they, in retaliation, began to hurl trash cans and bottles at Lynch. Lynch fled into the building located at 215 East 76th Street, New York City, and from the first floor rear apartment in that building, telephoned the local police precinct, the 19th Precinct, to report the incident.

One of the Negro youths, subsequently identified as James Powell, aged fifteen, 1686 Randall Avenue, Bronx, New York, armed with a knife, pursued Lynch into the building at 215 East 76th Street, New York City, but was prevented from entering beyond the vestibule of the building by a double locked door which required a key to open it.

16 SEP 15 1964

Lieutenant Thomas Gilligan, New York City Police Department (NYCPD) was at this time in Jadco TV Service Store at 215 East 76th Street, New York City. Gilligan, who was off duty at the time, heard the crash of glass and emerged from the store to see Powell with a knife in his hand emerging from the building at 215 East 76th Street, New York City. Lt. Gilligan identified himself as a police officer and ordered Powell to drop the knife. Powell did not drop the knife, but attempted to assault Lt. Gilligan, whereupon Gilligan fired three shots, two of which struck Powell, killing him.

RE: RACIAL DISTURBANCES
NEW YORK, NEW YORK
JULY 17-31, 1964

At the time of the shooting, there were approximately eight hundred students in the vicinity of Robert F. Wagner Junior High School waiting to enter classes there and some of them attempted to create a disturbance which was brought under control by the arrival of additional members of the NYCPD.

Subsequent to the shooting of Powell numerous demonstrations protesting the shooting occurred in New York City and on several occasions considerable picketing occurred. These protest demonstrations culminated in rioting which broke out on July 18, 1964, and spread throughout Harlem and the Bedford-Stuyvesant Section of Brooklyn.

A source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, furnished the following information developed by the Community Service Society of New York, New York, concerning James Powell. The Community Service Society is a privately financed welfare agency and according to the source worked with Powell during the period March - April, 1964.

Information developed concerning Powell revealed that [redacted] was not established in the agency's contacts. b6 b7C

In the initial contact with a social worker of the agency on March 5, 1964 Powell stated he did not mind attending school because one of his main activities at school was fighting. He told the worker that he had "never lost a fight." Powell explained that he had learned boxing while a member of the Catholic Youth Organization (CYO), but had been expelled from the CYO. The incident which led to his expulsion was a beating which he administered to a boy with whom he was boxing. He said he had been told by a coach to "take it easy on the kid" who was just learning to fight and was smaller than Powell. However Powell had become angry when hit hard by the other boy and commenced to beat him very seriously even after the round was over. This incident had apparently happened when Powell was 12 or 13 years of age.

RE: RACIAL DISTURBANCES
NEW YORK, NEW YORK
JULY 17-31, 1964

In his second contact with the agency on March 9, 1964 he explained his poor attendance at school by stating that he had been hospitalized for a few days with a knife wound in his leg. Apparently the knifing took place while his mother was hospitalized and he was staying with a friend.

The social worker elicited information from Powell that he was a member of a gang which he described as a "club" and that despite the fact members practiced to fight using knives and shooting guns, the club "played it cool" and would keep out of trouble.

Also during this contact he said that his fighting had begun when he was about seven years old and that during the previous spring when he was 14½ years of age, he and a classmate at Junior High School number 125 had beaten up a Puerto Rican boy "for kicks." He said that his companion in this incident, [redacted] had been sentenced to a term in a training school because of his previous record. Powell said he was placed on probation for the period June - September, 1963. He said during this time he was in Rocky Mount, North Carolina, and later Roxbury, North Carolina, and had seen his probation officer approximately five times and had written him on intervals. b6 b7C

When questioned as to his activities while in North Carolina, Powell said that he did "nothing much there except fuss around with girls."

During the interview he also stated that he fought nearly every day for "kicks."

He also said that he and his friends liked to "get high" on whiskey, but that he did not drink wine as he felt this to be beneath him. He stated he sometimes went to parties in the Brownsville section of Brooklyn, New York, though he did not like to do his drinking there. b6 b7C

In a contact with [redacted] Samuel Gompers High School, New York, New York, on March 12, 1964, it developed that Powell had been absent from school thirty-two days during the previous term. On various days in December, 1963 and January, 1964, he was accused among other things, of bullying other students picking pockets, playing cards in the school gym, stealing from another student and even fighting in the guidance office. [redacted] described the prognosis for Powell's improvement as poo but said he would be given the benefit of the doubt and help in any way possible.

RE: RACIAL DISTURBANCES
JULY 17-31, 1964

In a third interview on March 24, 1964, Powell told a worker from the agency that he had been unable to keep an appointment during the previous week because he had to visit a friend who suffered knife wounds in a fight with a rival gang. He went on to relate an incident involving himself and another boy who were engaged in a "feud" involving the gangs to which each belonged. It was concluded from the information given that this feud resulted in daily fighting by the gangs.

On April 8, 1964 in his final contact with agency personnel, Powell stated he was departing for Providence, Rhode Island on April 10, 1964 to stay with relatives of his mother. He explained his desire to leave because he had learned during March, 1964 that a girl with whom he and four other boys had sexual relations had become pregnant. He said one of his associates had been "blamed for the baby" and due to this boy's long record and charges placed against him in court, there would be considerable trouble.

During the course of the interview Powell said that the girl involved might be killed before the coming Monday and that one of the boys had tried to shoot her while another tried to kill her with a gas bomb. He stated that he himself wanted to be safely out of the city before anything like this might happen.

It was concluded during the interview that Powell was also worried his current girlfriend might learn of the above situation which would "ruin his life." Powell said his experience with the other girl had been "just playtime" and that this "wasn't the first time."

At the conclusion of the interview there was discussion of Powell's future plans and he mentioned that he desired to get out of town because "there are no more kicks in this town."

There was no further contact by the agency with Powell.

Another source advised in confidence that James Powell was arrested on May 17, 1964 and charged with attempted robbery of [redacted] Powell allegedly pushed [redacted] and attempted to take money from him. This matter was referred to the Juvenile Court. Powell was also involved with two other individuals on February 10, 1961, in throwing snowballs and breaking a windshield. The complainantin this matter did not prosecute and it was indicated "parents can handle." On March 25, 1964, a juvenile report prepared by the Transit Police indicated that Powell attempted to beat the fare on the subway. The disposition in this matter was listed as "Open" and was referred for investigation and the preparation of a behavior report. Powell was also charged on July 16, 1964, with felonious assault - knife in connection with the incident which resulted in his death.

II. Evidence of Organizations or Individuals Acting to Arouse Negro Community

b7C

A. Organizations

[redacted] New York City Police Department (NYCPD), and [redacted] Bureau of Special Services, NYCPD, contacted on September 3 and 4, 1964, respectively, advised that in their opinions, prior to the rioting which occurred in the Harlem and Bedford-Stuyvesant areas of New York City, in July, 1964, the Muslim Mosque, Incorporated (MMI), led by Malcolm X (Little), former national official of the Nation of Islam (NOI) and Minister of NOI Mosque Number 7, New York, had been very active in stirring up the Negroes against the white communities.

Characterizations of the MMI, NOI and NOI Mosque Number 7 are attached hereto and sources mentioned therein have furnished reliable information in the past.

On March 12, 1964, Malcolm X publicly announced in New York City that he had formed the MMI, which he said would be a broadly based politically oriented black nationalist movement for Negroes only, financed by voluntary contributions. In his public statement Malcolm X urged the Negroes to abandon the doctrine of non-violence when it is necessary to defend themselves in the civil rights struggle. Malcolm X also suggested that Negroes form rifle clubs to protect their lives and property in times of emergencies in areas where the government is unable or unwilling to protect them.

b7C

[redacted] also felt that the Progressive Labor Movement (PLM) was active prior to the outbreaks of violence in Harlem and Bedford-Stuyvesant areas and once the rioting had started in these areas, PLM took advantage of the situation by exploiting the shooting on July 16, 1964, of James Powell, the Negro youth, by NYCPD Lieutenant Thomas Gilligan. In line with this, PLM printed thousands of copies of a leaflet containing a photograph of Lieutenant Gilligan and setting forth the words, "Wanted for Murder", which were distributed in the Harlem area along with a flyer which announced a mass demonstration to be held July 25, 1964, at 116th Street and Lenox Avenue, New York City, under the sponsorship of the Harlem Defense Council (HDC) a front organization of PLM.

Characterizations of the PLM and HDC are attached hereto and sources mentioned therein have furnished reliable information in the past.

RE: RACIAL DISTURBANCES
NEW YORK, NEW YORK
JULY 17-31, 1964

The flyer stated that the "black people of Harlem have historically been terrorized by the Police Department of New York. They have been brutally maimed and murdered by these police". It called for the immediate arrest and prosecution of Lieutenant Gilligan for first degree murder and demanded Grand Jury investigations of police brutality against Negroes and Puerto Ricans in New York City, and further stated it is "our constitutional right to defend ourselves by any means necessary".

On July 21, 1964, NY T-4, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that he felt that the riots and unrest in Harlem were not instigated or inspired by the Communist Party, United States of America (CPUSA), and stated that the CPUSA actually was caught by surprise.

On July 21, 1964, NY T-5, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that on July 19, 1964, Robert Thompson spoke of the riots in Harlem on July 18-19, 1964, and expressed complete surprise at these riots. The source stated that the Communist Party (CP) is not in favor of riots.

On January 3, 1964, NY T-4 advised that Robert Thompson was then District Organizer of the New York District of the CPUSA.

B. Individuals

With regard to individuals who might have been a factor in stirring up the Negroes to acts of violence, [redacted] mentioned above, stated that William Epton, a publicly admitted Communist, and Vice Chairman of PLM, was extremely active before and during the violence which occurred in Harlem in July, 1964. b6 b7C

It is noted that NY T-1, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on July 23, 1964, that William Epton, for three weeks prior to that date, had organized several groups in the Harlem area of New York City to handle whatever situation might arise, such as the violence which did occur in Harlem in July, 1964, in whatever way possible and with whatever weapons were at hand. According to NY T-1, these groups, not further identified, were reportedly offshoots of the PLM.

> The New York "Journal American", in its July 25, 1964 Sports Final Edition, page 1, carried an article relating William Epton admitted being a Communist on July 24, 1964, but stated he left the CP three years prior to that time because it was no longer a revolutionary party.

On September 4, 1964, NY T-2, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that Harlem has always provided a haven for the "street corner preacher" and others who have an "axe to grind" and who are always quick to point out how the Negroes are being treated as "second class citizens". The source stated an example of such an individual is Jesse Gray.

The "New York Times" issue of July 20, 1964, on page 16, column 6, contained an article "Guerilla War Urged in Harlem", in which it was stated that Jesse Gray, "the leader of the Harlem Rent Strike", called for "100 skilled black revolutionaries who are ready to die" to correct what he termed "the police brutality situation in Harlem". According to the article, Gray made this statement at a meeting held on July 19, 1964, at the Mount Morris Presbyterian Church, 122nd Street and Mount Morris Avenue, New York City.

> Concerning Jesse Gray, NY T-3, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on November 28, 1960, that Gray is a former organizer of the Harlem Region of the CPUSA.
> On January 24, 1964, NY T-3, advised that according to William Patterson, Chairman of the New York CP District, Jesse Gray is no longer a CP member but is friendly to the CP.

On July 27, 1964, a hearing was held at Special Term, Part I, New York Supreme Court, in connection with an injunction obtained by the NYCPD on July 25, 1964, restraining certain defendants from any further demonstrating in the Harlem area. These defendants were identified as Milt Rosen, Chairman of the PLM, William Epton, Vice Chairman of the PLM, Jesse Gray, of the Community Council on Housing (CCH) and any other persons or organizations associated with them. b6 b7C

In support of this injunction, [redacted] Bureau of Special Services, NYCPD, testified on July 27, 1964, that on July 18, 1964, Epton spoke at a street meeting held at 115th Street and Lenox Avenue, New York City, and said there was going to be a demonstration, not necessarily peaceful, that he (Epton) preached violence and said the Negro must be free, that they were going to kill cops and judges, that no revolution can be won by peaceful means, that they would have to fight, and they would not be fully free until they smash this state totally and completely.

RACIAL DISTURBANCES
NEW YORK, NEW YORK
JULY 17-31, 1964

In a continuation of the hearing on July 28, 1964, [redacted] Bureau of Special Services, NYCPD, testified to statements made by Jesse Gray at the July 19, 1964, meeting previously referred to in which Gray called for 100 men ready to die who would be trained in guerilla warfare. b6 b7C

Junius Griffin, a Negro, who is a reporter for the "New York Times", appeared as a witness and corroborated the testimony of [redacted] which was essentially the same as Griffin's article appearing in the newspaper's issue of July 20, 1964.

In a report dated August, 1964, captioned, "Behind the New York Riots: Causes and Reactions", the New York Office of the Anti-Defamation League (ADL), of B'nai B'Rith, states that "although the extremist groups -- Communists, Muslims, Nationalists, etc. -- egged on many of the rioters, they themselves, for the most part, did not actually join the mobs".

The ADL report continues, "those who actually threw bottles and bricks at policemen, smashed windows, and looted stores -- with the exception of some Negroes who were stirred to violence by their hatred of police and whites in general -- were for the most part what Roy Wilkins called young 'punks' and Mayor Wagner termed 'the tough, young ones, without a stake in the past or much hope in the future, irresponsible and ready for violence -- the loose gunpowder of our day'. These are teen-agers and youths in their early 20's, many organized into groups, who have little or no interest in civil rights.

"Other groups, which engaged in the rioting, were the 'cop fighter', ex-convicts, and professional thieves. The first two groups had the opportunity to 'square old grudges' with the police, while the thieves and looters found store windows already smashed for them".

III. Evidence of Resentment Among Negroes as a Result of Complaints of Police Brutality

On June 16, 1964, Michael J. Murphy, Police Commissioner of New York City, appeared at City Hall, New York City, before the Committee on City Affairs of the New York City Council to present arguments against the Weiss Bill, which proposed the formation of a Civilian Complaint Review Board outside the Police Department.

In his appearance before this committee, Commissioner Murphy stated his purpose was "to tear away the cloud of misconception" adopted by proponents of the Weiss Bill.

Commissioner Murphy pointed out that the experience of the present Civilian Review Board has shown that complaints against the NYCPD, despite the ease of instituting such complaints, have continued to decline almost yearly. He cites that [redacted] of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) has stated the volume of complaints of police brutality has decreased and that "a peculiar turn" is that a "considerable number of physical attacks against the police by the public have occurred". b6 b7C

Commissioner Murphy also attributed the following recent statement to a Harlem attorney who in the past has made a comfortable living out of handling complaints of brutality against police. "For the past several years, complaints of brutality in Harlem have decreased so much that the Board, in effect, put us out of business".

During the period from January 1, 1964, through July 18, 1964, the New York Office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) received five complaints against the NYCPD, all of which involved Negroes as victims. Of these five complaints, three alleged police brutality and two alleged illegal searches by the NYCPD.

During the same period in 1963, there were eleven complaints received against the NYCPD. Of these eleven, two involved Negro victims, one of whom alleged police brutality.

It is to be noted that two of the five cases during 1964, mentioned above, involved students from African countries as victims. These two cases received extensive publicity in the New York press over a period of several days beginning on approximately June 28, 1964. The publicity included statements of denunciation of the NYCPD by United Nations representatives from these African countries.

The conclusion to be drawn from the above is that there was not an unusual number of complaints of police brutality prior to the July, 1964, rioting in New York City, and, in fact, in 1964, there was a definite decline in the number of such cases compared with 1963.

IV. Evidence of Plan or Pattern Behind the Riots

[redacted] previously mentioned, stated there is no evidence of any kind to the effect that there is or was any plan or pattern of any sort behind the riots occurring in the Harlem and Bedford-Stuyvesant areas of New York City. They are both of the opinion that irresponsible individuals in the Negro communities, such as William Epton, previously mentioned, will seize upon an incident when it arises and use it to stir up the Negroes who in turn commit acts of violence. Such an incident occurred with the Powell shooting and these irresponsible leaders exploited it to the fullest extent, thereby igniting the rioting which followed in the Harlem and Bedford-Stuyvesant areas beginning on July 18, 1964, and continuing for several days thereafter.

On September 2, 1964, [redacted] advised that, in his opinion, the source of all racial violence has been teenage gangs of each neighborhood in Harlem and Bedford-Stuyvesant areas which operate so tightly that boys of one neighborhood dare not seek employment in other neighborhoods for fear they may be subjected to physical violence by gangs in those particular neighborhoods who consider the individual neighborhood as their own private domain. [redacted] added that even though the number of petty thefts in Harlem has declined, the teenagers seem to have adequate funds, suggesting to [redacted] the existence of a group organizing teenagers and furnishing them financial aid. [redacted] emphasized he had no facts to corroborate this opinion.

[redacted] stated that as far as any pattern to the riots, he noted a similarity in the riots in the following areas: Rochester, Jersey City, Elizabeth, Bedford-Stuyvesant, Harlem and Philadelphia. This similarity was based solely upon the following conditions prevailing in each of these areas: conflict on school problems, housing problems, police brutality or allegations thereof, and exploitation of Negroes by merchants in the Negro communities. [redacted] emphasized that aside from the above views and opinions, he has no evidence of any organization behind the riots.

Other confidential sources of the New York Office, who have furnished reliable information in the past and who are currently affording coverage of the racial situation in the New York area, advised they had no information that there was any plan or pattern behind the recent riots.

V. Evidence of Outside Influence Behind the Riots

b7C

[redacted] previously mentioned, advised there is absolutely no evidence of any parties outside the City of New York, either organization or individual, who had any influence or participation in the recent riots which occurred in New York City.

[redacted] previously mentioned, advised that contrary to what was printed in some newspapers that the rioting was provoked by outside influences, the Negro communities are characteristically suspicious of strangers and would not respond to such people asking them to engage in riotous acts.

b7C

On August 12, 1964, [redacted] Congress of Racial Equality (CORE), 38 Park Row, New York City, advised that there is no evidence of any outside influence behind the riots in New York City. [redacted] stated that the basic causes of unrest in the Negro communities are joblessness, idleness, sub-standard housing and a general feeling of frustration by the Negro that there is not going to be any improvement in his situation. According to [redacted] when such conditions exist in a community, then a violent protest in the form of a riot can take place. [redacted] stated violence in the Negro communities is spontaneous with the basic underlying cause of an economic nature.

On August 12, 1964, [redacted] of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP), 109 West 125th Street, New York City, advised that he considers unemployment and "adult delinquency" as being the two basic causes for unrest and strife in the Harlem community of New York City. He stated that the lack of a job makes the average Negro resentful, frustrated and ashamed before his family and as a consequence he adopts an irresponsible attitude.

[redacted] stated "adult delinquency" results in juvenile delinquency since the youth follows the actions of the adult and when the latter is irresponsible, the former will be likewise. He had no information of any outside influences causing violence or unrest in the Harlem area.

Other confidential sources of the New York Office, who have furnished reliable information in the past and who are currently affording coverage of the racial situation in the New York area, advised they had no information that there was any plan or pattern behind the recent riots.

HARLEM DEFENSE COUNCIL

A source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on July 29, 1964, the Harlem Defense Council (HDC) was formed by the Progressive Labor Movement (PLM) in New York City as a front organization, with its main objective to get recruits for the PLM. As PLM is known to be a very militant-type organization, the leaders of PLM hope to use the HDC to recruit Negroes and others and gradually orient these people toward the aims and objectives of the PLM.

The source further stated that the HDC was also formed by the PLM to organize Negroes on a block-by-block basis in the Harlem area in New York City, with plans to furnish these people with arms to defend themselves against the police.

The source stated the above information was furnished to him by [redacted] b6 b7C b7D

MUSLIM MOSQUE, INCORPORATED

The March 13, 1964, edition of "The New York Times," a daily newspaper published in New York, New York, contained an article on page 20 which indicated that MALCOLM X (LITTLE), former national official of the Nation of Islam (NOI) and Minister of NOI Mosque #7, New York, who broke with the NOI on March 8, 1964, publicly announced in New York City on March 12, 1964, that he had formed the Muslim Mosque, Incorporated (MMI). The MMI, according to the article, would be a broadly based politically oriented black nationalist movement for Negroes only, financed by voluntary contributions. In this public statement MALCOLM X urged Negroes to abandon the doctrine of non-violence when it is necessary to defend themselves in the civil rights struggle, and he also suggested that Negroes form rifle clubs to protect their lives and property in times of emergencies in areas where the government is unable or unwilling to protect them.

Incorporation papers of the MMI filed on March 16, 1964, with the Business Section, Clerk of Courts, New York County, New York, New York, reflect that the MMI was incorporated under the Religious Corporation Law of the State of New York to work for the imparting of the Islamic Faith and Islamic Religion in accordance with "accepted Islamic principals." The principal place of worship to be located in the Borough of Manhattan, New York, New York.

During an appearance over KYW - Television, Cleveland, Ohio, on April 7, 1964, MALCOLM X stated that the MMI does not stand for integration, but for complete freedom, justice, and equality for Negroes. He stated that Islam was the religious philosophy of the MMI, while the political, economic and social philosophy was black nationalism.

On May 15, 1964, a confidential source advised that the headquarters of the MMI are located in Suite 128, Hotel Theresa, 2090 Seventh Avenue, New York City, where they were established on March 16, 1964.

APPENDIX

NATION OF ISLAM, formerly referred to as the Muslim Cult of Islam, also known as Muhammad's Temples of Islam

In January, 1957, a source advised ELIJAH MUHAMMAD has described his organization on a nationwide basis as the "Nation of Islam," (NOI) and "Muhammad's Temples of Islam."

On May 8, 1964, a second source advised ELIJAH MUHAMMAD is the national leader of the NOI; Muhammad's Temple of Islam No. 2, 5335 South Greenwood Avenue, Chicago, Illinois, is the national headquarters of the NOI; and in mid-1960, MUHAMMAD and other NOI officials, when referring to MUHAMMAD'S organization on a nationwide basis, commenced using either "Mosque" or "Temple" when mentioning one of "Muhammad's Temples of Islam."

The NOI is an all-Negro organization which was originally organized in 1930 in Detroit, Michigan. MUHAMMAD claims to have been selected by Allah, the Supreme Being, to lead the so-called Negro race out of slavery in the wilderness of North America by establishing an independent black nation in the United States. Members following MUHAMMAD'S teachings and his interpretation of the "Koran" believe there is no such thing as a Negro; that the so-called Negroes are slaves of the white race, referred to as "white devils," in the United States; and that the white race, because of its exploitation of the so-called Negroes, must and will be destroyed in the approaching "War of Armageddon."

In the past, officials and members of the NOI, including MUHAMMAD, have refused to register under the provisions of the Selective Service Acts and have declared that members owe no allegiance to the United States.

On May 5, 1958, the first source advised MUHAMMAD had, upon advice of legal counsel, tempered his personal statements and instructions to his ministers concerning the principles of his organization in order to avoid possible prosecution by the United States Government; however, he did not indicate any fundamental changes in the teachings of his organization.

APPENDIX

NATION OF ISLAM, formerly referred to as the Muslim Cult of Islam, also known as Muhammad's Temples of Islam

On May 7, 1964, a third source advised Muhammad had, early in July, 1958, decided to de-emphasize the religious aspects of the teachings of Islam and to stress the economic benefits to be derived by those Negroes who joined the NOI. This policy change, according to MUHAMMAD, would help him acquire additional followers and create more interest in his programs.

NATION OF ISLAM, MOSQUE #7,
NEW YORK CITY

On May 5, 1964, a source advised that the Nation of Islam (NOI) affiliate in New York City is known as Mosque #7, also known as Temple #7, and is located at 102 West 116th Street, New York City. Mosque #7 is part of the NOI headed by ELIJAH MUHAMMAD, with headquarters in Chicago, Illinois. Mosque #7 has two branches; Mosque #7B at 105-03 Northern Boulevard, Queens, New York City, and Mosque #7C at 120 Madison Street, Brooklyn, New York. These branches are part of Mosque #7.

The date Mosque #7 originated in New York City is not known.

However, in connection with the origin of Mosque #7, it should be noted that in 1953 a second source advised that there was a Temple of the NOI (known to source then as the Muslim Cult of Islam) in New York City located at 135th Street and 7th Avenue, as far back as 1947.

A source advised on July 2, 1962, that Progressive Labor groups held a conference in New York City on July 1, 1962, where MILTON ROSEN acted as chairman. He read a statement at this conference setting forth their intention to form a new Marxist-Leninist party in the United States. ROSEN stated that a more formal organization was necessary, one which would provide a frame-work for all who wanted to join in a united effort to build an American vanguard. The forces of this new organization are to consolidate all existing forces around Progressive Labor and organize additional forces; expand and improve political activities; win additional forces to an outlook of Marxism-Leninism and increase the open advocacy of socialism; develop a significant Marxist-Leninist program for the new party; and organize a collective organization of leaders and members.

"The Worker," an East Coast Communist newspaper, issue of January 7, 1962, Page Ten, Column Three, reported the expulsion of MILTON ROSEN, former Labor Secretary of the New York State Communist Party, from the Communist Party, United States of America.

A second and third source advised in February, 1963, that this new Marxist-Leninist party had not yet been organized on a formal basis, but that Progressive Labor groups had been formed in several localities in line with the proposals of MILTON ROSEN. The sources advised as of February, 1963, that the leaders of this group were referring to it as the Progressive Labor Movement.

A fourth source advised on March 15, 1964, that the Progressive Labor Movement follows, supports, and is politically orientated toward the Communist Party line of Red China rather than that of the Soviet Union.

A fifth source advised on March 28, 1964, that at a Progressive Labor Movement meeting held in New York City on that date, it was announced that the Progressive Labor

The fifth source also advised that the Progressive Labor Movement publishes a monthly magazine called, "Progressive Labor" and also a quarterly theoretical publication called the "Marxist-Leninist Quarterly." The source also advised that starting June 1, 1964, the Progressive Labor Movement would start publishing a weekly newspaper in New York City.

The March, 1964, issue of "Progressive Labor" sets forth that it is published monthly by the Progressive Labor Company, General Post Office Box 808, Brooklyn 1, New York.

of James Powell, July 17-31, 1964

On September 2, 1964, a confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, furnished information which indicated that [redacted] contacted Bayard Rustin on that date. Smith mentioned that he is starting to work with the American Federation of Labor - Congress of Industrial Organizations (AFL-CIO) State Labor Council in Connecticut as an "Eleanor Roosevelt Intern". [redacted] also mentioned that the evening before he had been talking to [redacted] whom [redacted] identified as [redacted] the State Labor Council, and [redacted] stated that he learned that a person by the name of Jesse Gray from New York is engaged in a voter registration campaign in Stamford (Connecticut). [redacted] indicated that he believed the organization (which Gray is representing is ACT (Associated Community Teams)), but he also indicated that he was not certain of this. [redacted] stated that [redacted] asked him to find out in some detail just who Gray is, and he added that [redacted] is not sure whether this man (Gray) has any Communist connections. Continuing, [redacted] stated that the union had been requested to set up an office and put some funds in this area with this organization.

Rustin inquired if the Jesse Gray to whom [redacted] referred was the same man who had been involved in the rent strike, and [redacted] confirmed that it was the same person. [redacted] added that [redacted] had heard Gray "had some leftist leanings".

Rustin stated that in the past Jesse Gray has had some associations with groups which he thought were questionable. Continuing, Rustin said that he does not know if anyone can prove that he has had these associations, but he added that the general impression among a great number of people is that he has had these associations.

Rustin said,"My argument with Jesse is that during the Harlem protest he literally called on people directly and indirectly to use violence." Rustin further stated that Gray also cooperated with a Progressive Labor Group (Progressive Labor Movement) in New York, and he said that Gray is under "indictment" (enjoined) because of his effort to have a march in the midst of the turmoil (the Harlem rioting). Rustin remarked that Gray has been "indicted (enjoined) under a very unjust law and added that he is fighting that law, but he stated that nobody in his right mind would have called for that kind of a demonstration at "the height of this conflict". Rustin stated that he has taken the view repeatedly that Jesse is irresponsible. Rustin expressed the opinion that if the trade union movement gets involved with a person like Gray, they are going to be in trouble. Rustin stated that when it is learned that any trade union groups are cooperating with him (Gray) and when this is called to Meany's attention (George Meany, President of AFL-CIO), there is going to be a "big squabble".

For a characterization of the Progressive Labor Movement (PLM), see attached.

Communist Influence In Racial Matters;

Demonstration and Violence in
New York City Following Shooting

Rustin mentioned that he was one of those who had gone to Jesse Gray in an effort to dissuade him from the demonstration (which led to his indictment), but Rustin said he (Gray) did it under great pressure. Rustin said Gray was going along with "these malicious communists", the Progressive Labor Movement. Rustin stated that it was on the occasion when Jesse Gray stood up in church and called for 100 men to form an underground that he (Rustin) spoke after him and denounced this irresponsible behavior. Rustin said he was "booed" in the church for making these remarks.

On November 28, 1960, a confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that Jesse Gray is a former organizer of the Harlem Region of the Communist Party, United States of America (CP, USA). On January 24, 1964, the same source advised that according to William Patterson, Jesse Gray is no longer a CP member, but is friendly to the CP.

On July 13, 1964, the same source advised that William L. Patterson is Chairman of the New York CP District.

In "The Saturday Evening Post", issue of July 11-18, 1964, page 76, Bayard Rustin is the subject of a feature article captioned: "The Lone Wolf of Civil Rights". In it, Rustin is said to have come to New York in 1938, as an organizer for the Young Communist League (YCL), and as such, he had the job of recruiting students for the "Party". Furthermore, the article reports that during his first years in New York, Rustin gave most of his earnings to the "Party". He reportedly left the "Party" in 1941, the article states.

The YCL has been designated pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

Communist Influence In Racial Matters;

Demonstration and Violence in
New York City Following Shooting
of James Powell, July 17-31, 1964

The "Daily Worker", February 11, 1957, page 1, column 2, reported that Bayard Rustin, Executive Secretary, War Resisters League, was an observer at the 16th National Convention of the CP, USA, held in New York City, on February 9-12, 1957.

The "Daily Worker" was an East Coast Communist publication until it ceased publication on January 13, 1958.

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on September 25, 1963, that during a meeting of the National Board, CP, USA, on that date, Benjamin J. Davis remarked that, "Rustin calls me constantly--openly."

Another confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on February 19, 20, 1964, that Bayard Rustin contacted Benjamin J. Davis on those dates and sought his advice as to how he could escape from a speaking engagement to which he was committed. On the latter contact, Davis told Rustin that he was working on his request and had contacted friends who had contacts with the group to which Rustin was to speak.

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on January 21, 1964, that as of that date, Benjamin J. Davis was National Secretary of the CP, USA.

"The New York Times", August 24, 1964, page 27, column 4, reports that Benjamin J. Davis, National Secretary, CP, USA, died in New York City on the night of August 22, 1964.

Communist Influence In Racial Matters;

Demonstration and Violence in
New York City Following Shooting
of James Powell, July 17-31, 1964

In regard to ACT, "Newsweek" Magazine of April 27, 1964, page 25, described ACT as a new national organization comprised of local school boycott leaders. (ACT - Associated Community Teams).

It is to be noted that on July 25, 1964, an injunction restraining certain defendants, among whom was Jesse Gray, from demonstrating was obtained in New York Supreme Court, New York County, and providing for hearing on July 27, 1964, to show cause why an order should not be made against such demonstrating, and affording any other relief as might be proper.

It is also to be noted that on July 19, 1964, a rally was held at the Mount Morris Presbyterian Church, at 122nd Street and Mount Morris Avenue, West, the leader of which was Jesse Gray. Gray called for "100 skilled black revolutionaries who are ready to die" to correct a situation which he called "the police brutality situation in Harlem."

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on September 8, 1964, that Thomas Kahn and Bayard Rustin were in contact on that date. Rustin informed him that he (Rustin), Martin Luther King, Jr. (President of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference) and Wilkins (Roy Wilkins, Executive Secretary of the National Advancement for Colored People, NAACP) have been invited by the National Council of Churches to attend a conference on Thursday, September 10, 1964, in New York City. The conference, Rustin said, will be for the purpose of allowing them (Rustin, King and Wilkins) to evaluate the work of the Freedom Democratic Party. (U)

Rustin also informed Kahn that he had been invited by the National Council of Churches to accompany Doctor Eugene Carson Blake (Stated Clerk of the Presbyterian Church) to Cleveland, Ohio, on Thursday, September 17, 1964. Rustin said he would talk to church leaders while in Cleveland. Rustin said he thought that type of action was growing and was very important. (U)

Communist Influence in Racial Matters

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised in January, 1961, that Thomas David Kahn admitted being a member of the Young People's Socialist League (YPSL) from 1957 to 1961 and a member of the National Executive Committee of the YPSL during the same period. For characterization of (YPSL), see attached characterization of Young Socialist League, In "The Saturday Evening Post", issue of July 11 - 18, 1964, page 76, Bayard Rustin is the subject of a feature article captioned "The Lone Wolf of Civil Rights". In it, Rustin is said to have come to New York in 1938, as an organizer for Young Communist League (YCL) and as such, he had the job of recruiting students for the "Party". Furthermore, the article reports that during his first years in New York, Rustin gave most of his earnings to the "Party". He reportedly left the "Party" in 1941, the article states. (U)

NY

The YCL has been designated pursuant to Executive Order 10450. (U)

The "Daily Worker", February 11, 1957, page one, column two, reported that Bayard Rustin, Executive Secretary, War Resisters League, was an observer at the 16th National Convention, Communist Party of United States of America (CPUSA), February 9-12,1957, held in New York City (U)

The "Daily Worker" was an east coast Communist publication until it ceased publication on January 13, 1958. (U)

Communist Influence in Racial Matters

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on September 25, 1963, that during a meeting of the National Board, CPUSA, on that date, Benjamin J. Davis remarked that, "Rustin calls me contantly--openly." (U)

Another confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on February 19, 20, 1964, that Bayard Rustin contacted Benjamin J. Davis on those dates and sought his advice as to how he could escape from a speaking engagement to which he was committed. On the latter contact, Davis told Rustin that he was working on his request and had contacted friends who had contacts with the group to whom Rustin was to speak. (U)

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on January 21, 1964, that as of that date, Benjamin J. Davis was National Secretary of the CPUSA. (U)

YOUNG SOCIALIST LEAGUE (YSL)

The March 1, 1954, issue of the "Young Socialist Challenge," published as page three of "Labor Action," an official publication of the Independent Socialist League (ISL), contained an article concerning the creation of the YSL, which pointed out that at a unity conference occurring February 12-14, 1954, at Labor Action Hall, New York, New York, a merger occurred between the Young People's Socialist League (YPSL) and the Socialist Youth League (SYL). The new organization was named the YSL. (U)

A confidential informant on June 15, 1954, made available the minutes of the YSL's National Action Committee meeting of April 13, 1954, which reflected that one S. SITEMAN, " Chairman of SP (Socialist Party) Youth Committee," had objected to a statement appearing in "Commerce," a New York University journal, which indicated that the YPSL merged with the SYL to form the YSL. He explained that the YPSL did not merge with anyone, that it continued to exist as the youth section of the Socialist Party. He explained that a small group of the YPSL was dropped, expelled, or suspended from that organization and joined the SYL, which he characterized as the youth group of the "Trotskyite ISL." He explained that after these few former members of the YPSL joined the SYL, the SYL then proceeded to change its name for its own purposes. (U)

On April 9, 1956, another confidential informant advised as follows: (U)

The YSL has frequently worked in close sympathetic cooperation with the ISL toward similar objectives, although each major issue given mutual consideration is decided upon by these organizations individually. The YSL serves as an apprenticeship for the ISL, but ISL selection of members from YSL ranks is made on an individual and personal basis. In many instances YSL members are also members of the ISL. All confidential sources mentioned herein have furnished reliable information in the past. (U)

YOUNG SOCIALIST LEAGUE (YSL) CONT'D.

The YSL and ISL utilize the same printing house in New York City and the YSL publication is printed as an insert in "Labor Action." Frequently, lecturers before the YSL are ISL members. (4)

The September 22, 1958, issue of "Young Socialist Challenge," which appeared as page five of "Labor Action," contained an undated statement from the National Action Committee of the YSL which indicated that the YSL had been dissolved. The statement appeared under the caption "Join the Young Peoples Socialist League" (4)

The YPSL is publicly known as the youth affiliate of the Socialist Party-Social Democratic Federation. (4)

Freedom School

INDIANA

PLEASE forgive us here in Indiana for our tardiness in getting funds to you. I for one am just broke all the time. I did manage to raise from a rally on July 8 enough contributions to send $25 and a donated (brand new) typewriter to COFO in Jackson, Miss. Also we had enough left to launch a full scale, well planned, well staffed, voter registration drive in the Negro, Whitely, slum (in Muncie) which is coming off wonderfully. Every day we have interracial teams down there getting people up to the courthouse to register. Also we've got a Freedom School materializing for the disadvantaged and exploited children of Muncie. It will operate continuously throughout the winter of '64-'65. At the same time funds for my own personal use just are not available. I will be extremely lucky if I can just raise enough money to pay tuition with in this, my senior year, in college. As far as food money, well, that I just have no way of knowing where it's going to come from.

In the meantime our group has been involved in a full scale struggle with the college administration over discrimination in off-campus housing. We're winning that one and after several real hot wrangles with the President of the college we finally have gotten their full recognition and they are beginning to be cooperative.

Indiana will come through sooner or later because there are a lot of people here who, many without even realizing what their labors will someday bring, are working very hard for the cause of Peace and Freedom for all peoples. Enclosed is one dollar which is nothing and I'm ashamed to send it but honestly that is the bottom of the barrel.

For Jobs, Peace and Freedom!

Internal Security - C

On September 9, 1964, a confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that Bayard Rustin was in contact on that date with an unidentified male. Rustin, the source said, took the opportunity to inform the man that he would attend a "State of the Race Conference" on October 16-17, 1964, in Washington, DC. He said the conference would be attended by about 150 leaders in the civil rights field, and would be at Howard University in Washington. In this regard, Rustin said he would conduct a survey to determine the costs, housing facilities for the leaders, and other factors relative thereto. Each leader will pay for his lodging, but will be given meals and registration costs, Rustin said.

Continuing, Rustin said he was trying to raise $100,000 for the A. Philip Randolph Institute, and had raised $40,000 so far.

U.S.

It should be noted that the "New York Herald Tribune", June 28, 1964, carried an article in its magazine section which was devoted to Bayard Rustin. The article, captioned "Socrates of the Civil Rights Movement", notes that Rustin had been raising money for a projected A. Philip Randolph Institute, and said that he would direct the institute when established.

A. Philip Randolph is chairman of the Negro American Labor Council and President of Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters, American Federation of Labor-Congress of Industrial Organizations, AFL-CIO.

In "The Saturday Evening Post", issue of July 11-18, 1964, page 76, Bayard Rustin is the subject of a feature article captioned "The Lone Wolf of Civil Rights". In it, Rustin is said to have come to New York in 1938, as an organizer for the Young Communist League (YCL) and as such, he had the job of recruiting students for the "Party". Furthermore, the article reports that during his first years in New York, Rustin gave most of his earnings to the "Party". He reportedly left the "Party" in 1941, the article states.

The YCL has been designated pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

The "Daily Worker", February 11, 1957, page one, column two, reported that Bayard Rustin, Executive Secretary, War Resisters League, was an observer at the 16th National Convention of the Communist Party, United States of America (CPUSA), held in New York City, on February 9-12, 1957.

Another confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on February 19 and 20, 1964, that Bayard Rustin contacted Benjamin J. Davis on those dates and sought his advise as to how he could escape from a speaking engagement to which he was committed.

On the latter contact, Davis told Rustin that he was working on his request and had contacted friends who had contacts with the group to whom Rustin was to speak.

EXCLUSIVE

By ERWIN SAVELSON

Of the World-Telegram Staff

An intensive investigation by the FBI has thus far failed to turn up any evidence that Communists played important roles in fomenting last month's riots in Harlem, Bedford-Stuyvesant or New Jersey, it was learned today.

The disclosures came as President Johnson announced he had asked the bureau for a comprehensive report on its investigation of the riots and other disturbances to determine if they fit a common pattern.

Johnson told a news conference in Washington that the report might form the basis for federal action—possibly including legislation—wherever violations of federal law are involved.

The FBI office here refused to discuss its findings. But an unimpeachable, highly-placed source disclosed that facts amassed so far indicate the riots were not the result of an organized Red plot.

The source further revealed that FBI agents have been and are continuing to check thoroughly on reports that:

WELL-TRAINED paid agitators were used to organize the riots here and in Jersey City, Elizabeth and Paterson. No solid leads in this direction have been uncovered, but the FBI is still working on this angle.

LARGE SUMS of money were parceled out to hoodlums and punks in the troubled areas to provoke or extend the disturbances.

Who Were the Angels?

The FBI has been unable to substantiate reports that tens of thousands of dollars were poured into the riot zones and distributed by agitators.

And the FBI has been unable to come up with evidence identifying the "angels" to show whether they were well-heeled right-wingers or leftists.

The FBI did find that several known Communists attended meetings in the areas during the riot periods. But there were no signs that they played any role in starting the trouble or extending it.

"We just know they were around," said the source.

There were other signs that now prompt the FBI to view with suspicion the assertion that the riots here were exclusively an outgrowth of anger over the shooting of a 15-year-old Negro boy by Police Lt. Thomas Gilligan.

Agitators on Scene

"Known agitators appeared on the scene so rapidly as soon as the riots started that it looks very suspicious," the source said.

"They seemed to be around at the right spot at the right time. They seemed to have their own communications system to keep themselves and their accomplices informed of what was doing around the neighborhoods."

It is common gossip in Harlem and other spots hit by the riots that known hoodlums and neighborhood punks, who seldom had more than a few dollars in their pockets, have been walking around flashing big rolls of bills.

Flashy Cars, Cash

Some have been riding around in flashy cars and spending freely in bars and night spots. The FBI and police are digging in trying to track down the source of their new found funds.

One widely heard report says that the "agitators" came to Harlem and Bedford-Stuyvesant in limousines which they used to transport their hirelings back and forth between riot-torn streets.

The FBI also checked out reports which tried to pin the blame for the riots on Black Nationalists and Black Muslims. No evidence was found ascribing any important roles in the disturbances to these groups.

FBI Report Links Reds, Race Riots

By VICTOR RIESEL
New York Journal-American Columnist

Washington sources say that the FBI report on race rioting last Summer, which will be on President Johnson's desk tomorrow, reveals Communist involvement in disturbances in Harlem, Bedford-Stuyvesant, and Philadelphia.

The report also says that while Communist groups were quick to jump in once trouble started in these communities, it could find no evidence of a nation-wide Red network involving all cities where rioting occurred, not of Communist groups sparking the Harlem riots.

The Communist groups involved are aligned with the Chinese branch of the divided Red world, and are the products of pro-Chinese Communist acitivities in the Afro-Asian world.

AFRICAN TIES

Since a Chinese Communist on the streets of Harlem would stand out like a red flag, the Chinese operate through Algerians and Ghanaians whose nations are as close to Peking as to Cuba's Castro, whose adherents even the Chinese feel are too irrational to trust with delicate operations.

The report is said to name a mid-Harlem bookstore as the "cover" for encouraging trouble and violence on the streets.

The store is where the payoffs take place, it is said, and Algerians and Ghanaians have been seen entering and leaving the store.

ADDICTS HELP

The violence-provokers work with narcotics addicts desperate for money and are said to receive $50 to $75 every few days to finance their operations.

The FBI probe was initiated by President Johnson after a plea was sent by Roy Wilkins, president of the National Assn. For the Advancement of Colored People, last Aug. 30.

Mr. Wilkins wired then-Attorney General Robert F. eKnnedy, asking for an investigation of the riots "because the suspicion is widespread that they have been planned, and that persons have been paid to start and to keep them going."

Jesse WilliardGray

This source related that his attention was called to Jesse Gray and his work in behalf of the Negro tenants in Harlem through newspaper accounts. As an altruistic gesture, he met with Jesse Gray in January, 1964, in New York City, and was impressed with the account given by Jesse Gray of his endeavors to relieve slum conditions in Harlem.

Jesse Gray related that he received small contributions from Negro residents, but nothing higher than $10.00. Gray indicated that he needed a sound truck. Source was inclined to arrange a financial contribution for Gray, and accordingly, summoned some of his wealthy friends and clients for a meeting with Gray. This meeting was arranged the following week and according to the source, Gray gave a good account of himself and his work. However, subsequent to this meeting, source learned through a friend that Jesse Gray had been subpoenaed as a witness before the House Committee on Un-American Activities, and was an uncooperative witness, in that he invoked the Fifth Amendment a number of times to withhold information. This led the source to discourage his clients from contributing to Jesse Gray. All his clients accordingly declined to contribute to Gray, with the exception of the Samuel Rubin Foundation. About February, 1964, he learned from Cora Rubin Weiss that she was disposed to contribute a sum of money to Jesse Gray and his group. It should be noted that Jesse Gray is leader of the Harlem Community Council on Housing.

Source continued that it was mainly through the intervention of Cora Rubin Weiss that a grant in the amount of $2700.00 was made from the Samuel Rubin Foundation to Jesse Gray.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~ ~~SECRET~~

CONFIDENTIAL

Source did not know the use to which this sum was expended by Gray, but presumed it was allocated to a sound truck. Source stated the contribution was made directly to a Negro church in Harlem, New York City, possibly Presbyterian and then turned over to Jesse Gray.

It should be noted that the Mt. Morris Presbyterian Church, West 122nd Street and Mt. Morris Park West, Harlem, New York City, is situated a short distance from Jesse Gray's Community Council on Housing, 6 East 117th Street, New York City.

NATIONAL ASSEMBLY FOR DEMOCRATIC RIGHTS

The "Guide to Subversive Organizations and Publications" revised and published as of December 1, 1961, prepared and released by the Committee on Un-American Activities, United States House of Representatives, Washington, D. C., contains the following concerning the National Assembly for Democratic Rights:

"On the basis of its investigations and hearings to date, the committee concludes that the National Assembly for Democratic Rights and a coordinating and organizing group in support thereof, titled the 'Citizens Committee for Constitutional Liberties', are Communist fronts. Created, dominated and controlled by members and officials of the Communist Party, the National Assembly for Democratic Rights and the Citizens Committee for Constitutional Liberties were organized as propaganda devices for the conduct of 'mass activity' in support of the avowed objective of 'reversal or nonapplication' of the Supreme Court decisions of June 5, 1961, which upheld the constitutionality of the registration and disclosure provisions of the Internal Security Act of 1950 as applied to the Communist Party, and the Smith Act membership clause making punishable active and purposive membership in the Communist Party."

(Committee on Un-American Activities, Report and Hearings on Manipulation of Public Opinion by Organizations Under Concealed Control of the Communist Party (National Assembly for Democratic Rights and Citizens Committee for Constitutional Liberties), House Report 1282, Part I, October 2 and 3, 1961, p. 137).

THE PHYSICIANS FORUM INCORPORATED

Records in the office of the Clerk, New York State Supreme Court, Foley Square, New York, reflect that The Physicians' Forum, Inc., (PF) was issued a Certificate of Incorporation on April 27, 1944, under the laws of the State of New York, to operate as a non-profit, membership organization principally in the United States. The PF, under the name of the New York Physicians' Forum, had been in existence as an unincorporated association since about 1939.

A source, on September 13, 1954, furnished a folder of PF entitled "What is the Physicians' Forum?" which stated in part that to maintain freedom of thought and expression in medicine, the Forum opposes the imposition of "loyalty oaths" as a prerequisite for licensure, for hospital appointments or privileges, in medical schools, or hospital staffs and against patients; to re-establish the freedom of the medical press, the Forum urges medical society publications to open their volumes to diverse views on controversial subjects; and to provide a forum wherein socially liberal doctors may express their views in opposition to the policies of organized medicine.

The report of the Sub-Committee to Investigate the Administration of the Internal Security Act and other Security Laws of the Committee of the Judiciary, United States Senate, 82nd Congress, 1952 on "Subversive Influence in the Educational Process" on page 37 sets out the testimony of BELLA DODD, member of the National Committee of the Communist Party from 1944 to 1948. DODD testified that the PF was established primarily by the Communist Party (CP) and although not all members of the PF were Communists, the "initiative for organizing the PF came from the CP, came from the ninth floor (35 East 12th Street, New York City), where the National Committee of the CP existed."

On April 24, 1963, the above source advised that the PF is opposed to the resumption of nuclear testing and is against compulsory membership for physicians in the American Medical Association (AMA). It continues to be active in a program of supporting legislation which would provide medical care for the recipients of Social Security benefits, and provide for Social Security benefits for physicians.

Reurtel 9/19/64. Investigation by Newark, Philadelphia, Washington Field Office, as well as that conducted by New York to date tends to refute allegations of Rustin concerning his suspicions that Mabrey, Maynard and Neff were instigators or promoters of racial strife during the recent riots in New York, New Jersey, and Pennsylvania.

Expedite reinterview with Grady O'Cummings so that this matter can be brought to logical conclusion. Note that allegations of Rustin bear great similarity to the information provided by Thomas Johnson of "Newsday" which Johnson attributed to O'Cummings. The possibility exists that O'Cummings was Rustin's source as well as Johnson's.

NOTE:

Extensive investigation has been conducted based on allegation by Bayard Rustin regarding individuals mentioned above in connection with recent riots. There is considerable doubt as to the credibility of O'Cummings. New York by retel stated reinterview with O'Cummings set for September 21. Results not received at Bureau to date.

This source related that his attention was called to Jesse Gray and his work in behalf of the Negro tenants in Harlem through newspaper accounts. As an altruistic gesture, he met with Jesse Gray in January, 1964, in New York City, and was impressed with the account given by Jesse Gray of his endeavors to relieve slum conditions in Harlem.

Jesse Gray related that he received small contributions from Negro residents, but nothing higher than $10.00. Gray indicated that he needed a sound truck. Source was inclined to arrange a financial contribution for Gray, and accordingly, summoned some of his wealthy friends and clients for a meeting with Gray. This meeting was arranged the following week and according to the source, Gray gave a good account of himself and his work. However, subsequent to this meeting, source learned through a friend that Jesse Gray had been subpoenaed as a witness before the House Committee on Un-American Activities, and was an uncooperative witness, in that he invoked the Fifth Amendment a number of times to withhold information. This led the source to discourage his clients from contributing to Jesse Gray. All his clients accordingly declined to contribute to Gray, with the exception of the Samuel Rubin Foundation. About February, 1964, he learned from Cora Rubin Weiss that she was disposed to contribute a sum of money to Jesse Gray and his group. It should be noted that Jesse Gray is leader of the Harlem Community Council on Housing.

Source continued that it was mainly through the intervention of Cora Rubin Weiss that a grant in the amount of $2700.00 was made from the Samuel Rubin Foundation to Jesse Gray.

Source did not know the use to which this sum was expended by Gray, but presumed it was allocated to a sound truck. Source stated the contribution was made directly to a Negro church in Harlem, New York City, possibly Presbyterian and then turned over to Jesse Gray.

It should be noted that the Mt. Morris Presbyterian Church, West 122nd Street and Mt. Morris Park West, Harlem, New York City, is situated a short distance from Jesse Gray's Community Council on Housing, 6 East 117th Street, New York City.

NATIONAL ASSEMBLY FOR DEMOCRATIC RIGHTS

The "Guide to Subversive Organizations and Publications" revised and published as of December 1, 1961, prepared and released by the Committee on Un-American Activities, United States House of Representatives, Washington, D. C., contains the following concerning the National Assembly for Democratic Rights:

"On the basis of its investigations and hearings to date, the committee concludes that the National Assembly for Democratic Rights and a coordinating and organizing group in support thereof, titled the 'Citizens Committee for Constitutional Liberties', are Communist fronts. Created, dominated and controlled by members and officials of the Communist Party, the National Assembly for Democratic Rights and the Citizens Committee for Constitutional Liberties were organized as propaganda devices for the conduct of 'mass activity' in support of the avowed objective of 'reversal or nonapplication' of the Supreme Court decisions of June 5, 1961, which upheld the constitutionality of the registration and disclosure provisions of the Internal Security Act of 1950 as applied to the Communist Party, and the Smith Act membership clause making punishable active and purposive membership in the Communist Party."

The National Assembly for Democratic Rights "met September 23 and 24, 1961, at St. Nicholas Arena in New York City".

(Committee on Un-American Activities, Report and Hearings on Manipulation of Public Opinion by Organizations Under Concealed Control of the Communist Party (National Assembly for Democratic Rights and Citizens Committee for Constitutional Liberties), House Report 1282, Part I, October 2 and 3, 1961, p. 137).

1. APPENDIX CONFIDENTIAL (U)

THE PHYSICIANS FORUM INCORPORATED

Records in the office of the Clerk, New York State Supreme Court, Foley Square, New York, reflect that The Physicians' Forum, Inc., (PF) was issued a Certificate of Incorporation on April 27, 1944, under the laws of the State of New York, to operate as a non-profit, membership organization principally in the United States. The PF, under the name of the New York Physicians' Forum, had been in existence as an unincorporated association since about 1939.

A source, on September 13, 1954, furnished a folder of PF entitled "What is the Physicians' Forum?" which stated in part that to maintain freedom of thought and expression in medicine, the Forum opposes the imposition of "loyalty oaths" as a prerequisite for licensure, for hospital appointments or privileges, in medical schools, or hospital staffs and against patients; to re-establish the freedom of the medical press, the Forum urges medical society publications to open their volumes to diverse views on controversial subjects; and to provide a forum wherein socially liberal doctors may express their views in opposition to the policies of organized medicine.

The report of the Sub-Committee to Investigate the Administration of the Internal Security Act and other Security Laws of the Committee of the Judiciary, United States Senate, 82nd Congress, 1952 on "Subversive Influence in the Educational Process" on page 37 sets out the testimony of BELLA DODD, member of the National Committee of the Communist Party from 1944 to 1948. DODD testified that the PF was established primarily by the Communist Party (CP) and although not all members of the PF were Communists, the "initiative for organizing the PF came from the CP, came from the ninth floor (35 East 12th Street, New York City), where the National Committee of the CP existed."

On April 24, 1963, the above source advised that the PF is opposed to the resumption of nuclear testing and is against compulsory membership for physicians in the American Medical Association (AMA). It continues to be active in a program of supporting legislation which would provide medical care for the recipients of Social Security benefits, and provide for Social Security benefits for physicians.

On page 8 of relet the name of [redacted] daughter of Dr. S. F. FARNSWORTH was listed.

An examination of the Phoenix Office indices reflected only one reference not on [redacted] but on Dr. STANFORD F. FARNSWORTH (Phoenix file 100-0-6056). In this regard, on 8/25/60 one MARY MONTAGUE LARKIN, an admitted active member of the JOHN BIRCH Society called in person at the Phoenix FBI Office and brought with her a large number of newspaper clippings which related chiefly to recent personnel changes and acquisitions at Arizona State University. One clipping concerned the fact that Dr. STANFORD F. FARNSWORTH, Director of the Maricopa County Health Department (Arizona), would teach part time at the School of Nursing, Arizona State University, Tempe, Arizona. The article stated Dr. FARNSWORTH was Medical Director of the World Health Organization from 1951-59 under the UN and as such was stationed in Guatemala, Switzerland and Egypt.

MRS. DANIEL HAMM

Good evening ladies and gentlemen. I am Mrs. Daniel Hamm, the mother of Daniel Hamm. I am here today to tell you what happened to our son in prison, and why we are continuing to have this Mothers' Defense Committee. We have the Mothers' Defense Committee in order to try to raise money for the lawyers so the lawyers can free our sons. My son, Daniel Hamm, has been accused of two first degree murders. The first, first degree murder was Miss Sugar on 125th Street. The other first degree murder was, uh, the person, excuse me, a murder of Eileen Johnson on 131st Street and 7th Avenue. My son has been in isolation for 45 days. His son, excuse me, his friend, was beaten by a guard in prison. He asked the guard why did they beat his friend. They put him in solitary confinement for 45 days. They told him he was going to stay there until the trial was over. But some way or other they only gave him 45 days and let him out. Now he is in observation until the trial is over. They say he is crazy, and I am going to tell you why they say he is crazy. They say he is crazy because he speaks up for himself, and as long as we speaks up for ourselves "Whitey" is going to say we are crazy. And I am fighting with him every step of the way. I am fighting with him until he dies or until I die ... (inaudible) ... I'm not fighting for the six sons that have been indicted for the first degree murder, but I'm fighting for every black man, child and woman that's in the United States, and it is time for all of us to fight. We have to fight like hell because ... (inaudible) ... is a tough battle and you will not get a damn thing lying down in the street and saying beat me daddy. That will not get you ... (inaudible) ... I believe in freedom and freedom now. We got to get freedom now, now. Our sons have been beaten ... (inaudible) ... . There will have to be blood spilled so get ready to die because you going to die lying down on your knees anyway so what the hell. Why not die fighting? You know what I mean? Do you know what I mean? .... (inaudible) ... Fight now. Freedom now. Because the singing ain't going to help us. They don't give a damn about Negroes. They don't give a damn and we shouldn't give a damn about them. I don't. I don't give a tinker's damn, and I'm going to fight for my son, and all the rest of these children who I do not know, that's going to be involved before the summer's over. It's time to fight. It's no time to lie in the street and start praying .... (inaudible) ... you got to be ready to die because you going to die anyway, because they're going to whip the hell out of you. If you don't believe it, you get arrested and put in a precinct. Come out just like my son. When my son was indicted, excuse me, when my son was arrested they took him to a precinct and they told him you are going to confess for the murder of Elaine Johnson, the woman who was killed at 131st Street and 7th Avenue. So he told me he told them I didn't do it. They said you damn nigger you did do it. They handcuffed him with his hands behind his back. They took him up on the roof and pointed a gun at his head, and they said if you don't confess we will kill you. You have no choice .... (inaudible)... So they start beating him up. He said I didn't kill her.. So another detective put a gun to the other side of his head and he said you're a damn liar. You did kill her. If you don't confess, we're going to blow your brains out anyway and say we killed you because you tried to escape. So he said Mom I didn't have any choice. I confessed. So now you see the same thing can happen to you as long as you're a Negro. Understand what I mean? I hope you do because this is very important. You are not supposed to beat a confession out of a child. And another thing his lawyer was waiting downstairs. They told us ... (inaudible) .... .

WILLIAM EPTON:

Thank you Mrs. Hamm. As you can see brothers and sisters that these mothers, these mothers might have been just ordinary housewives trying to raise their children in this ghetto, but after this incident, and this is my experience, that we know black women can have and that black women have..(inaudible).. not only for these kids' freedom but freedom for...(inaudible) not only here in Harlem, but in Mississippi and St. Augustine and Jacksonville and Jackson, because it's all the same where-ever black people are there's oppression. Some of these black cops are under the impression that in following their dictates of their white masters that they are going to be spared. Many Jews in Germany who supported Hitler also thought they were going to be spared. When Hitler came into power..when Hitler came into power he destroyed six million Jews. The same thing will happen to all of you black cops when these white fascists take over the government. That little tin badge that you have, and you can tell them I'm your brother, I'm like you, I have a blue uniform on. That blue uniform that you have on will show your red blood be-cause they'll turn on you just like they turn on your brothers and sisters on the street. This one to my right, the policeman on my right in his plain clothes. To my left is a Puerto Rican po-liceman in plain clothes. I'm talking to him too. If he don't know the history of Puerto Rico and how the American imperialism killed and brutalized his people in Puerto Rico just like they did the black men in Africa, then he had better wake up because they will turn on him when they come into power and kill him and brutalize him just like they did Alberto Campos (phonetic) the great Puerto Rican leader, just like they're doing to all black people, and he's not safe. So I tell him now and I tell my black brother on my right that they had better choose their sides. Because when the deal goes down, when the deal is finished sister he will have to go too unless he chooses the right side. There is only one right side. That's our side. That's the cause of the people and what we demand and what we will get. What we will take. We will take our freedom. We will take it by any means necessary and any means necessary as we know the beast that we are dealing with is that we have to create a revolution in this country and we will create a new government that is run by the people...that is run by the black people and some of the poor white people who are catching hell too. Because there are a lot of poor white people who are catching hell and they don't know it yet but if they don't join with us when the deal goes down we don't have time to wait for them. We are going to roll on, we are going to roll on to freedom and independence and liberation. Those who are ready to come with us and stand with us and join the Harlem Defense Council to help protect the mothers and protect our streets and our neighborhoods they will give their money to these mothers who have joined together to save their sons. They will go back into their blocks and organize their blocks into defense committees so when the deal goes through they will be able to be in the street tens of thousands strong ready to face that man. And we know how to use weapons just like they know how to use weapons. And when the deal goes down we have to be ready to confront them and beat them. I tell you brothers and sisters the message that we are carrying they will carry around Harlem on every corner every Saturday 3:00 to 6:00 P.M. to enlighten our people, to organize our people and to make our people aware of the fact of what is happening with these six youngsters and to make our people aware of the fact that in order for us to achieve our freedom and independence we must organize and fight this beast and destroy him. Next week we will probably be on 114th Street and Eighth Avenue and from there we will go down Eighth Avenue and up Seventh Avenue and on and on until all of our people get the message. In order to be prepared for this demonstration that we are going to organize follow it in Challenge Newspaper because we will give you the details in the newspaper. We will tell you where we will be, how we will be, when we will be, and what methods we are going to use to stop these cops. That should be our slogan - Stop the cops. Our second slogan should be - Free the Harlem six - because they are the product of these corrupt policemen. Stop the cops and free the Harlem six. That should be our slogan. We should get into everybody's mind, into everybody's heart in our community, that we have to stop the cops and there'll be no more Harlem sixes. We also have, brothers and sisters, who just walked up, the picture I showed you here earlier, Billie Brazier, who, what happened to him in the 32nd Pct. I don't know if Billie could say a few words, say a few words to you and tell you what happened to him in the 32nd Precinct. Billie Brazier.

TRANSCRIPTION OF SPEECH BY BILL EPTON OF PROGRESSIVE LABOR MOVEMENT ON JULY 18, 1964 AT 4:00 P.M., ON LENOX AVENUE AT 115TH STREET.

"Thank you Brother Les...(inaudible) will begin a campaign to organize a mass demonstration against the cops somewhere in this city. As it stands now, many organizations are talking and planning of where this demonstration is going to take place and we're not saying it's going to be a peaceful demonstration.

I see a couple of stooges in the audience. A couple of them came up to see me at my headquarters one day but I'll tell you about that some other time. But I see them in the audience and I'll tell them right now that we're going to have a demonstration and we don't say that it is going to be peaceful because the cops have declared war on the people of Harlem and...(inaudible) no country or peoples in the world that have had war declared on them have not declared war on their enemy. They declared war on us and we should declare war on them and every time they kill one of us damn it, we'll kill one of them and we should start thinking that way right now...(inaudible) preaching vi..ence because we had better stop talking about violence as a dirty word. There's two...(inaudible) I'll tell you all a couple more facts of what happened to the so-called Blood Brothers.

The New York Times gave us that name...(Inaudible) anyone of my black brothers or sisters. I am a Blood Brother and I don't use that as a dirty name. This "handkerchief-head" correspondent, Junius Griffin, for the New York Times came to Harlem and wrote the story of four-hundred youths organized to kill white people. I say at least four-hundred is pretty poor if they are organized, because if they can only account for two murders in the whole year, then that's a very poor organization. At any rate, Junius Griffin said that this organization, that this group is organized..(inaudible) this blood, this so-called Blood Brothers and where did he get this information, and where did he go to get this information? He went to the corrupt 32nd Precinct to those corrupt cops and captain to get the source of information. They told him about the Blood Brothers and all of us know that there ain't one cop that ever told the truth in his damn life. They are all gangsters and crooks and thieves and murderers. They never told the truth and no reason for us to believe that they're going to start telling the truth now. Even their own children. All of these children of all of these cops. You read about them in Long Island who are committing burglaries, who are committing crime because their more...(inaudible) fathers, are nothing but gangsters, and they are just like their gangster fathers. They commit crimes, they're corrupt and they are little gangsters. They're gonna follow in the footsteps of the big gangsters, their fathers, these corrupt policemen.

These youngsters have been beaten..the six youngsters that these mothers had, have been beaten down in the House of Detention. The mothers sent a letter to Anna Kross, the Commissioner, and told her that their....(inaudible) that they protest the fact that their children are being beaten and they are protesting the fact that their children are asking for medical attention, that they don't receive it. By the way, the doctor in the House of Detention is a "junkie." That's right, he is a "junkie." The doctor in the House of Detention is a "junkie," and that is who supposed to be treating these kids. Anna Kross sent back a letter to these mothers and said it's not her responsibility... (inaudible) each individual born has the responsibility for his cousin. So why does she have a job? What is she doing there? Sounds just like Mayor Wagner. He said he is not responsible for police crime. He is not responsible for police corruption. He is not responsible for the murders of policemen...(inaudible). He is not responsible for these run down tenements...(inaudible) He is not responsible...(inaudible) for bad traffic conditions. Not responsible for those mothers being beaten on 131st Street and Fifth Avenue, protesting for a street light. He is not responsible for anything that happens in this city. If he is not responsible, let's get him out of office and put someone there who is responsible.

By the way brothers and sisters, on 131st Street and Fifth Avenue, where the mothers were protesting for a street light, in the basement of that school building there were one hundred cops armed in the basement of that school building and who were they armed for? They must have been armed to attack those little babies and the mothers who were demonstrating in the street. That's what they were armed for. That's the police who are out here to protect us. Our reporter for the "Challenge" newspaper went and asked the principal, how did he allow these cops to be in the basement of this school armed? He told him, he told the reporter that....(inaudible) to let the cops down there. The reporter asked him don't you think it will have a bad effect on the children in the school to see cops armed in the basement of a school house, and he just shrugged his shoulders.

That shows you how this system is so interwoven, because you must understand...(inaudible) When they set up a state, they set up all the apparatus to protect and save that state. They set up the courts; they set up the police; they set up the army; they set up an educational system; they set up the newspaper; they set up all the apparatuses to brainwash, and to keep up the subjugation. If we're going to be free, and we will not be fully free until we smash this state completely and totally. Destroy and set up a new state of our own choosing and our own liking.

And in that process of smashing this state, we're going to have to kill a lot of these cops, a lot of these judges, and we'll have to go up against their army. We'll organize our own militia and our own army. If we don't do it brothers, you'll be subjugated; we'll be kept in chains for another two or three hundred years. Think about it because no people in this world have ever achieved independence and freedom through the ballot or having it legislated to them. All people in this world who are free got their freedom through struggle and through revolution. That's the only way to gain freedom.

The next speaker this afternoon will be the treasurer of the Mothers Defense Committee, who will tell you about the Mothers Defense Committee and will also tell you about her son, Mrs. Daniel Hamm."

TRANSCRIPTION OF SPEECH BY FEMALE (NOT IDENTIFIED) MADE ON JULY 18, 1964, AT 4:00 P.M., ON LENOX AVENUE AT 115TH STREET, N.Y.C.

Female voice (not identified) ... (inaudible) ... "they took him to a precinct ... (inaudible) until 5:30 in the morning and they still didn't tell me what they were charging my son for. At 5:30 that morning they told me ... (inaudible) the children were denied ... (inaudible) our own lawyer. They gave a court appointed lawyer. These lawyers we don't want, we are fighting to get the lawyers we want.... (inaudible). My son has wrote two letters which I never received and when I questioned the mail clerk as to what happened to them ... (inaudible). We mothers want to thank you very much for your support of this Mothers' Defense Committee. We are not only fighting for our children, we are fighting for all the children of our community because you will never know when this sort of thing will happen to anyone of you who have children and relatives. We need more support and we urge each and everyone of you, please help us in this long fight. Thank you."

Bill Epton - "Thank you very much Mrs... (inaudible) Thomas. Our next speaker this afternoon brothers and sisters, is from the Freedom Now Party - Brother Glen Epton".

NOTE: - Glen Epton is known to be the alias of Les Edmunds.

Les Edmunds (also known as Glen Epton) - "I am going to start out by trying to make everything a little easier here so they can't say you are different from anybody else. They call us a group of racists and all these things and in today's paper, I am going to quote directly from the paper, "the nominee for the Republican Party, Goldwater, was asked what he thinks of extremism and his reply was extremism is no sin if you are engaged in the defense of freedom and he also went on to say he should remind you that extremism in defense of liberty is no virtue", which means that he's telling you that whatever you do in defense of freedom is right. Too long we have been waiting for someone else to defend us. Whenever we go and demonstrate, they put up some barricades and we demonstrate behind those barricades. That is no way to hold a demonstration. When you go to demonstrate, you don't announce a month in advance that you are going to demonstrate. You go there and raise all hell possible. That is the way you are going to demonstrate. When you go to demonstrate, people are supposed to die. Somebody supposed to die. You are not to be standing up and singing, We Are Going to Overcome. Overcome what? What are you going to overcome? You are not dealing with no one you can stand up and talk to man to man, and they are going to listen to you. They say that we are equal. Anyone who thinks we are equal is a fool. The only way you are going to prove that you are equal, you will have to go out and kill a few of them. You have got to let them knowthat you can fight as well for yourselves as you fought for them to defend the system. You must remember that you are living under a system of oppression. This entire system is designed especially to hold back non-white people. Regardless of where they are from, as long as you are white is fine. Within my lifetime, my relatives have fought Nazi Germany. Nazi Germany is one of the largest countries in the world. Is this by accident? A German can come here and call you any name possible but yet you are not able to go to his countyy. You better not, they'll hit you around also. One of your top scientists in the United States is guilty of killing millions of people and I am talking about Von Braun, but yet this man holds one of the top positions in the United States today. Yet, when we go around with someone that the man downtown don't like, he says you are around racing. You are going around extreming. We should tell him, hell we learned from you. You have never ... (inaudible) in your life. How do you think they have all these things they got today? How do you think Rockefeller's father made all the money he has? By being a nice fellow? By singing I shall overcome? He went out and hired bands of men to kill people. He took land. He built a big railroad. The Du Pont family did the same thing. They killed millions of people. But how do you think that you are going to, sing, we shall overcome, that you are going to get these people to have a change of heart towards you? When they spend millions of dollars to keep things running the way they want them to be run. You must realize that you are fighting a system that is specifically designed to keep you in the state you are in. However, I must point out that there are some things that we must do on our own. One of them is that we'verbeen having a lot of trouble with people being shot by policemen. I think that we should clarify this. The paper said that they were killed or they were shot in the line of duty. Don't repeat what the papers say because we are saying what they want us to say. Now the boy downtown was lynched. Let's call it like it is. He was lynched; New York language is that he was shot. He was lynched. The boy was not attacking the policeman, the policeman was not even in the vicinity, he was an observer. He had decided to kill him, an Afro-American, that's all that it was.

We had another incident a few days ago. These fellows went in and threatened a storekeeper and he pulled his gun and the boys ran and he shot one of them. So they said, "Well this is all right; he murdered one of them. Now he didn't murder, they said he killed the boy because the boy had threatened him. Yet, he was pulling his gun and telling you how fast that he could draw. He was happy that he did this and yet we go in these same stores, support these same people, and spend all of our money with them and yet we say everything is going to be all right. How the hell do you expect everything to be all right, when you keep telling the man that everything is all right. You got to let him know that you don't like it, and when are you going to start telling him that you don't like it, till he kill you? It is too late when he kill you. You're supposed to be angry. When they killed our children last year, we say murder. That wasn't murder, that was another form of lynching. When they bombed our children in church, and you go around, well that wasn't anybody I know, so it didn't bother me. As long as I can see what you are and you can see what I am five miles away, we got to get a little closer together. We better forget our differences that I may not like the same drink that you like or I may not like the same things you eat for dinner that you. We are gonna have to submerge all our differences and I would like to illustrate to you this way. How does a snake lose its life? A snake, well I'll tell you. If one snake came out here now, we would all jump on him and beath the hell out of him. Wouldn't we? Well, we'll say a snake came around and we killed him. However, if about a thousand snakes came or ten thousand, we would all run like hell, there would be too many of them. But this is what causes us to lose, we don't get together. The same thing that caused that snake to lose its life, caused us not to get together. We always try to be a loner. Everybody want to be the leader. All of them, they always telling us we got too many leaders. Who is your leader? That is a game, nothing but a game. You're supposed to have so many leaders until you are not supposed to know all your leaders. You are supposed to have all these for specific things. There is no one or two people know everything. Get you a lot of leaders if the man wants to show you leaders, I could show you leaders all month. You wouldn't know any of them. But yet I can tell you they're leaders. But if you show him over three people, well he'll say that is what's wrong with all of you, you got no leaders. I am telling you brothers and sisters, we are faced with a serious situation. You are not going to overcome this situation by wishing it out, by hoping it out, or by saying that we have a couple of organizations here who are doing a good job. The organization that we have that we think are supposed to be doing these jobs is like shooting at a jet plane with a shot-gun. Now you know what's going to happen.

I am not saying a shot-gun is not a good weapon but that is a close range weapon. You need something that will shoot a little further out when you shoot at a jet plane. You need one of those missiles or something to shoot at and this is what they've been using on us. They tell us that one of our prominent organizations is a powerful organization. Now how is that organization going to be powerful when the man is telling that man what to tell us. Now you can't do that. I haven't seen one of these responsible groups come to the defense of any one of these people that were killed. The Police Department is supposed to and it was designed to protect all of us. The Police do not protect black people. The Police, who won't police us, they come around and annoy us, harass us, beat us up, it is kind of tough staying around these people. You know what I mean. It is, it is, a system uh! uh! it is tough being a black man, and if you're gonna be arrested, you a black man, it is even tougher and it is only a question of time if you are a black man that you are going to be arrested and another thing the Police Department, I should dare to say, that most of them don't think a black man is arrested unless he's bleeding and if you still have all your teeth in your mouth, they say that you are resisting arrest. But all these things brothers and sisters, we got to understand because we are fighting a system that is a very tough system and when I say this is a tough system, instead of spending your money on that new suit of clothes we better go buy ourselves something to protect outselves with. Somebody comes knocking down your door, that's a burglar. You're supposed to blow his head off through the door, that's a burglar, The Judge, the D.A., the Police, is all one, they work together. The Legal Aid Society is all one. They're all paid by the same man downtown. They're all hired by the same man, they all belong to the same political clubs. They have decided on our fate before they even come to court that day. You know that. If you have ever beeh to court, the man could tell you what you're going to get before you even get there. That means they got together on it.

Now, what I would like to say about that is let's take something that all of us know. We all around here know the number man. Now let's find out about these pads. We call them pads. That's the protection racket. The Police run down on it. If you have a pad, you pay the Police so much a month. Now this is why....(inaudible) it is not by accident that the Police have a "nut" going on. When I was a kid, there was no such thing as a "nut". The white boy boy brought the "nut" up here. He needed the police to protect him from us. That's where I come from. You understand. Now if the police busts you for doing something among and he feels that....(inaudible)...freedom is something you have got to live. You got to sleep it, you got to eat it, you got to be a part of it. We got to believe in it. We got to believe you die for it, if necessary. This is what freedom is. This is what real freedom is. Freedom is what you feel like doing. Not what someone tells you to do. You have never been able to do anything that you felt like doing because you always thought you were in bondage. Look down on your legs. There is no chains around your legs. You khow where the chains are at? In your heads. That's where it is. The man's got the chains on our heads. He's got us saying, we can't do nothing. We can't even talk decently among ourselves. If we hold a meeting and we don't see any of the man in there, we got to run outside and get us a couple of them to make sure everything is alright. Now you know that. Somebody tell you something, where did you read it at? If you tell them you read it in the Daily News or the New York Times, it's got to be true, but if he tells you he knows it for a fact and he's a brother or a sister, you don't want to believe it. Now, we got to get rid of all these things. We're telling you that the chains ain't around our legs, its in our heads and we got to get our brains to working properly and I am telling you that the only way you're going to get our brains properly is to run this man's game down on him. Play the same game that he plays on you. I see a couple of these fellow looking at me. They know I am telling them the truth . The man run all of them games down on us. Every year, the Police Department puts thousand and thousands of new men on the Police Force. Now, crime on this corner has been going up. So what does this mean? The policemen must be bringing some of this crime along with him.

I was making a turn down on 125th Street, between some hours that you aren't supposed to be making a turn at those signs that are up and no less than three cops ran out in front of my car to give me a ticket. Yet, he can't bust that white boy that brings all those drugs uptown. He's above the law... (inaudible)....like me. I said, well I can't tell you what I really said, I can't tell you that but I can tell you this. If he's so smart, why didn't he bust that cat before he brought it up in here. Look at that, why didn't he bust him? You see, the Police Department works this way. When he lock us up for all these things we are doing, that means he could cut this white boy loose. See, when they say they made so many arrests, they don't know what color they are.

Do you think that the white men gamble any less than we do? They gamble more than we do. Go down there on "100" Street and you will think we are the only people living in New York. You will think that there are no white people living here. Go down there and pick up on the game they're running down on us. I am not telling you to change all your habibs, I am saying dig what the man is running down on you. If you are going to do all these things, damn't run it yourselves. You don't need no white man up here to tell you how to do wrong. You have been doing wrong all your life. You understand. Now, why don't you pick up on some of this action if you are going to do all these things, do it up by yourselves. Don't let some big, old, fat, greasy slob, make all the money and you go to jail. If you want somebody to knock in the head, then knock him in the head. He's the man that deserves knocking in the head. Now, another thing we must do. I must go into the political end of this. In the political end we have really neglected but I think that we have a big job and we can do it and we can do it among ourselves. One of them is, we need to get rid of Mayor Wagner. Now, the reason why we need to get rid of Mayor Wagner because Mayor Wagner hires the head of the Police Department. Don't think its impossible for us to elect a black man. Don't think its impossible because you know, there are more of us living in the city of New York than there are of anybody else, because they are all living out on the Island or upstate somewhere's, trying to get out from us. Now, what we must do, is start controlling everything here. We got to take over. I mean, I not going to say that I know some black man (inaudible) who's going to steal my money. I can't tell you that. But at least, let someone else steal the money for a while. I mean you understand. Let some of us get on down, you know how we talk to each other. Now, I don't have no job, why don't you give me a job? Now, just call up the man downtown and tell him you want a job. The only way you're going to do that is to put one of us downtown. See now, this is what we need to be doing.

Freedom is a twenty-four hour job. We got to talk it, we got to live it, you got to eat it, you got to feel it, and when you start doing all this, you got to be ready. The man's not going to bother with you then. For he's going to know you are ready. Every-time they bring a new policeman up in Harlem, it will ge t worse. That's another gun for us. That's another gun for us. This is how Chiang-Kai-Shek got ran out of China. United States sent ship-loads of guns over to him, they took them all away from him and ran him out. See what I mean, so let's not get too excited over China, just remember one thing, there's a lot of people coming up here beating up your sisters and brothers. Don't stand around and say its a shame. Make believe they are beating up you. What would you do? That's what I want you to do. What would you do? I mean, what are you going to do? Stand around and let the man put you in a concentration camp?....(inaudible) and locks you up. So you got to get mad before he locks you up. Now Goldwater has told you his stand. He told those so-called respectable Negro leaders, that aren't Negroes, because if they were Negroes, they wouldn't be out there with that man. If they are black, they wouldn't be out there, because they would know that he's the man running down on them. Now they are supposed to come back to New York and tell us that he is not as bad as he is daimed to be. He is white, he's got to be bad. They say he's not bad, he may not be bad to Mayor Wagner because he's a Democrat because Wagner always hires Irishmen to be policemen. What is this thing? After they're beaten our heads in and everything, giving us all kinds of tickets and you go downtown, you mad when you go downtown, but you don't get mad when they doing something uptown. Don't you know that they can't do nothing uptown unless you let them. There is more of you than anybody else.

There ain't nobody can come in Harlem and do nothing unless you let them do it. There is more of you than there is of anybody else. There is nobody that can come in Harlem and do anything that you don't want them to do and as long as you remember this and live this and sleep it and eat it, you won't have them coming uptown and doing anything. And if they try to send some of these old so-called Negro leaders to try and bring these men uptown, you should run them out. What have they done for you? Where have they de-fended you at? Have they gotten any of you jobs? Have they done anything for you? But yet they always send their little "flunkies" around telling you something. They come by, riding in the air-conditioned Cadillacs and say that they made a tour of Harlem and They're and they're an expert on Harlem. They don't know how you feel. They don't know how I feel. Because we were always taught to say "yes sir" and "no sir" to get away from them. See, we know him better than he knows us and he always talking about we non-violent, we love the white people. You know that he told us that. Now, I don't know about you but I know, no white man is my brother. I know one of them girls is not my sister. I don't even want to be associated with them.

It annoys me when I see someone that is my sister or old enough to be my mother and one of them white woman talking to her neighbor, telling her, my girl is taking care of my children. Her girl now, this girl is old enough to be her mother ....(inaudible) Not that we are all on the street together, but we all want the same thing, we will agree on that. We want freedom. Anytime you get members, you gonna get what you want and I'll say, I don't want to catch you on any of these demonstration lines standing behind some police barriers with the man telling you to get back. And another thing, he should be around the corner worrying. That is the kind of demonstration I want to see. Alright, thank you and I'll turn you back over to Bill Epton.

SOUTHERN CHRISTIAN LEADERSHIP
CONFERENCE (SCLC)

On August 10, 1964, a source who has furnished reliable information in the past furnished the following:

Six members of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) have been in Rochester during the past few days attempting to restore order following the recent racial disturbance in this city. The group was headed by the Rev. ANDREW J. YOUNG, Executive Assistant to MARTIN LUTHER KING, President of the SCLC. Rev. YOUNG delivered a sermon on August 9, 1964 at the Central Presbyterian Church in Rochester at which time YOUNG indicated that the riots in Rochester were an expression of poverty, need and frustration; that rioting was not the way to change things; that violence only disrupts a community; that it was his impression that Negro families had come from the South too fast for Rochester to deal with them but that this was a challenge for Rochester to meet; that he thought Negro resentment of police in Rochester was a reaction to humiliation rather than brutality as it is known in the South. Rev. YOUNG departed Rochester August 9, 1964 and the remaining SCLC contingent consisting of five individuals is headed by JAMES BEVEL. They will remain in Rochester for another week. SCLC field workers will speak at a mass meeting of all "interested" Rochesterians at the African Methodist Episcopal (AME) Zion Church in Rochester August 10, 1964.

ENCLOSURE

[redacted] is the Supervisor of the Third Ward in Rochester and the only elected Negro woman Supervisor in this city. She is the wife of [redacted] and resides at [redacted] The Third Ward was the scene of racial disorder beginning July 25, 1964 and continuing for the next few days. b6 b7C

[redacted] is the only elected Negro male Supervisor in this city. He is the Supervisor of the Seventh Ward, the scene of the beginning of the racial disorder on July 24, 1964.

[redacted] is the [redacted] His religious denomination is referred to as "Penecostal." He is married and has three children. He has been in Rochester for approximately five years and is a member of the board of the Rochester Chapter, National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP). b6 b7C

There is not at this time any reason to believe that MARTIN LUTHER KING will make an appearance in Rochester. When it was first learned a few days following the riot eruption that KING planned to visit Rochester while in Harlem, word was sent to his headquarters by some prominent Rochester Negroes including [redacted] that KING's presence in Rochester was not desired because the racial disorder here was a "local situation" and could be handled by the people in this city. However, it is now felt that the presence of the SCLC field workers has contributed much towards rehabilitation in the Third and Seventh Wards and the presence of the SCLC field workers is greatly appreciated. There is no reason, however, to believe that the presence of Dr. KING would at this point contribute materially to the rehabilitation methods presently being employed in the area.

On August 31, 1964, the source mentioned above was recontacted and the following information furnished:

The SCLC field workers, under the direction of JAMES BEVEL, remained in Rochester until on or about August 17, 1964, at which time they departed as a group for Atlanta, Georgia, the headquarters of the SCLC. The identity of those field workers operating under the direction of JAMES BEVEL is unknown. All of the five field workers did speak at the mass meeting on August 10, 1964, supra, pointing out to those in attendance that violence only disrupts a community and that present concentration should be in the direction of "forgive and forget." The field workers pointed out that both the Negroes and the whites would have to try to understand each other so that tensions can be lessened. They felt that a "beloved community" is still possible in Rochester provided the people were willing to dig in, to see what was happening and to learn from experience.

SOUTHERN CHRISTIAN LEADERSHIP
CONFERENCE (SCLC)

On September 2, 1964, a second source who has furnished reliable information in the past, furnished the following: SOUTHERN CHRISTIAN LEADERSHIP CONFERENCE

The SCLC field workers who were in Rochester for approximately a two week period following the racial disorder were:

Rev. ANDREW J. YOUNG, Executive Assistant to MARTIN LUTHER KING

JAMES BEVEL, who succeeded Rev. YOUNG following the latter's departure on August 9, 1964 - G.A.

On September 12, 1964, [redacted] Philadelphia Police Department, Civil Disobedience Unit, advised that CLARENCE COGGINS, National Chairman, LNVC, called the Philadelphia Police Department radio room at 6:20 p.m., asking permission to conduct a rally at 15th Street and Columbia Avenue. PROPOSED DEMONSTRATION,
PHILADELPHIA, PA., SEPTEMBER 12, 1964;
LABOR NEGRO VANGUARD CONFERENCE;
COMMUNIST INFLUENCE IN RACIAL MATTERS

LABOR NEGRO VANGUARD CONFERENCE,
Formerly known as the Labor Negro
Vanguard Party

In a press release dated November 18, 1961, the Labor Negro Vanguard Party (LNVP) stated:

"The growing influence of the irredentist forces upon the policies of our nation as indicated by the alarming drift towards war and the outlawing of the Communist Party (CP) has accentuated the need for all racial, progressive, and liberal forces to unite in a common party."

In a leaflet entitled "Call to Progressive Minded America," issued by the LNVP, its founding convention was scheduled for November 25, 1961, in New York City. The aims and purposes were listed as:

1. For the resurgence of the American Labor Movement.
2. For the winning of the struggle for Negro rights.
3. For an end of the cold war.
4. For economic security and higher mass living standards.
5. For the end of the exploitation of man by man.

A source advised on December 19, 1961, that CLARENCE COGGINS is considered the Provisional Chairman of the LNVP. Other active members include [redacted] b6 b7C

A second source advised on December 12, 1959, that CLARENCE COGGINS, [redacted] and [redacted] were all members of the Harriet Tubman Section of the Essex County, New Jersey, CP, which was expelled from the Party with no right of appeal by action of the 17th National Convention, CPUSA, being held December 10-13, 1959.

A third source advised on March 7, 1962, that the Socialist Workers Party (SWP) and the LNVP are working closely in efforts to bring disgruntled CP members to their respective camps and are working jointly in the political field. FARRELL DOBBS, National Secretary of the SWP, has asked SWP members to support the LNVP.

The third source advised on June 26, 1963, that due to mutual suspicion, the drive toward unity between these two organizations has ceased.

On January 15, 1963, the first source advised that the LNVP is now using the name Labor Negro Vanguard Conference (LNVC) and is the name the organization is now known by and under which name all leaflets are issued.

On June 28, 1963, the first source stated that the LNVC does not exist on a national scale, and although CLARENCE COGGINS, Chairman of the LNVC, has traveled through the eastern portion of the country to promote the LNVC, the only organized group to date exists in New Jersey.

On May 18, 1964, a fourth source advised that the LNVC has divided its New Jersey group into three branches, with one each in Newark, Jersey City, and Orange.

Re: Communist Party,
United States of America -
Organization
Internal Security - C

The first speaker was Gus Hall who discussed the meeting of International Communist Parties scheduled for 1965, and the preparatory meeting in connection therewith, scheduled to be held in Moscow on December 15, 1964. Hall discussed the Soviet-Chinese dispute and the disastrous effect of the dispute on the International Communist Movement. He stated that the split had resulted in confusion and disunity in the CP movement, and that it was impossible to conceal the damage caused by the split. S (U)

Hall said also that the imperialists, particularly USA imperialists, are exploiting the split and that the Central Intelligence Agency is spending millions of dollars to publicize the split. If the split had not occurred, the USA probably would not have dared to participate in military action against North Viet Nam. There is, however, possibility that the USA has not correctly evaluated the split- that the USA has miscalculated the situation - and that as a result, the world could be headed for disaster. S (U)

Hall pointed out that the Soviet position in the dispute is correct, and that the CPUSA must support the Soviets. He stated that the CPUSA and other Communist Parties had been too slow in opposing the Chinese position in the dispute and that a firm stand now must be taken to support the Soviets with respect to all important issues. S (U)

The CPUSA must work for unity in the International Communist movement, must support "The Collective Conference" and must attempt to strengthen its ties with other Communist Parties. S (U)

When Hall completed his report, Hy Lumer read a statement, to be later incorporated in a resolution, endorsing Hall's report with respect to the necessity of rejecting the Chinese position in the dispute, of making no compromise with the opposition and upholding the scheduled conference of the International Communist Parties in 1965, and the preparatory meeting in connection therewith, scheduled to be held in December, 1964. S (U)

Re: Communist Party,
United States of America -
Organization
Internal Security - C

There followed a discussion of Hall's report, the following individuals completely endorsing the report: S (U)

Carl Winter, William Patterson, James Jackson, Jack Stachel, Arnold Johnson, George Meyers and James West. S (U)

The only one opposing the Hall report was Robert Thompson who expressed the opinion that the scheduled International Conference of Communist Parties would result in "the excommunication of the Chinese" which would have a disastrous effect upon the International Communist Movement. S (U)

A second confidential source who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that the remaining sessions of the CPUSA National Board and invited guests meeting was held at CP Headquarters, New York City. S (U)

Re: Communist Party, United States of America - Organization Internal Security - C

~~SECRET~~ (U)

Second Day's Session,
September 19, 1964,
At Communist Party Headquarters,
New York City

C (U)

This session opened at 9:45 AM, and was devoted to a discussion of Gus Hall's report on the meeting of World Communist Parties in 1965, with a preparatory meeting to be held in Moscow on December 15, 1964, in connection with the dispute between the Communist Parties of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics (USSR) and China. C (U)

Albert "Mickie" Lima commented that his reaction to the report was that it was a great improvement; however, he said he was a little furious at the resolution as it now stands. He said if he were to estimate the attitude of our people, he would say it was a very positive response to the leadership, but he does not feel that the leading cadre has the same attitude when it comes to our dealing with the international situation, our relations with international movements. There is a lack of confidence on this question. A look at the self-critical remarks made yesterday will show that we have not dealt with this since the 1960 conference or since the adverse developments became apparent after the 1960 conference. We have not been given leadership on this question and that is the basis for the lack of confidence. C (U)

We have had a policy in this Party that we would not participate in international gatherings or international bodies.....somewhere along the line this policy has been changed. I do not know why it has been changed or who changed it but find it difficult to explain to the leadership why the policy has been changed. We had the national meeting called at the time of the break between India and China. It was expected that there would be a major point on the agenda of that meeting, but instead a release was made to the press, which I did not think explained the situation and at the national meeting it was announced we would go on to other questions. There a motion was made that we support the idea of an international conference for the purpose of reuniting the world movement without any explanation or discussion. I find myself in a position of not being able to explain the reasons for it. My main impression would be that: (U)

1. We are pressing for the reestablishment of a Comintern.

2. The main answer to the international movement is the condemnation of China. (U)

With regard to the International Center, I think it would cause all kinds of problems for us here in this country and would cause problems for the international movement. There are other ways of handling what is indicated in the report as the principal need for the international movement without some sort of international organization being set up. (U)

I think it is important for us to understand what the split has caused.....but I did not see it as a big problem in our Party. They did not understand that this split has caused very serious damage, but rather they are concerned and appalled by it. There are four general areas we are concerned ourselves with: (U)

1. Give more attention to why the split took place.

2. Go into much more detail as to the nature of the split.

3. Estimate what the damage has meant.

4. We should concern ourselves with a way out.

This is most important to us and the world movement. (U)

~~SECRET~~ (U)

Lima then discussed Palmiro Togliatti's statement which he said dealt with the new level of the world movement. It has arrived at a point where it needs a world policy and this has given rise to the very sharp differences. There are 100 Parties, 100 countries which represent all levels of development and there are two main countries - one which has been developing since 1917, when the revolution took place and the other big nation which is just on the dawn of socialism. C (U)

There must be greater insight into the nature of the split. Gus' (Hall) article in the "Marxist-Leninist Review" was a much better way to do this than his report. We cannot brand the Chinese position as petty bourgeoise nationalism. We should examine each question closely. With regard to a way out of this, Togliatti's article made a ~~very great contribution. In my opinion, the Italian Party~~ has made a greater contribution in this than any other Party in a capitalist country. C (U)

What is presented in this document, as I understand it, is that there is an objective situation that raises the basis for the need for a unification of the socialist world. As for Gus' report, what I can get out of it is that we should begin to seek out and understand the objective reality of today's world that presents and lays a basis for a reunification of the socialist world. C (U)

Lima concluded his comments by again stating that there was a need for unity and that was what they should concern themselves with. C (U)

Phil Bart stated that the big problem in "our Party" is how to participate in international discussions. He said that when they speak of international gatherings, "I am in favor of it", no question about it. He said the important question is the relationship and role of the advanced Parties in the anti-imperialist struggle, not just concerned with fighting the Chinese but concerned with the basic principle of fighting the imperialists. C (U)

An individual believed by the informant to be Gil Green stated that he cannot vote for the main line of the report. He commented that there is an atmosphere in which differences can be discussed but that those who tend to disagree are branded as opportunists. He said that is not the intent. He also pointed out the terrible consequences that can flow from an incorrect evaluation, adding that "we" are dealing with great powers and great masses in the world. He saw no possibility of ideological unity. He said that they must keep the door open for negotiations. He noted that there now has been created a break in the international movement. He said we are calling them traitors and we have created a break in the international movement as great as the break that occurred in social democracy. C (U)

This individual stated that the Soviets have fallen for the provocations of the Red Chinese. He noted that Khrushchev has done more than any other individual in the international arena in the face of difficult tasks. C (U)

He said that they must come to grips with the fact that there are conflicts within the socialist states..... and these contradictions should be recognized. He said that all the problems must be discussed in a comradely way and noted that socialism is the only means through which people can arrive at the correct answers. He said "we" should be careful that we do not get "boxed to the wall..... ideologically.....". C (U)

This individual believed to be GIL GREEN stated that if they go into the question of the Togliatti report they will have to convene a conference whether they like it or not. C (U)

~~SECRET~~ (U)

Claude Lightfoot stated that there was a feeling that the leadership does not have the backing of the membership. He said that he has felt for some time that the membership and leadership are out of touch but today he feels that this is not the case. He said the United States Party has made important decisions and contributions to the international movement and was proud recently to read of the contributions to Marxism-Leninism made by the Communist Party, United States of America (CPUSA) leaders in Russia at international meetings. He said that the funeral of Elizabeth Gurley Flynn in Moscow reflects the great respect the CPUSA holds in Russia. (U)

Lightfoot stated that he disagreed with Gil (Green) on the Chinese situation. He commented that Green magnified the faults of the Soviet Union with not one word of praise for the Soviet Union in its earlier policy of not answering Chinese criticism. He said that Gil had not taken issue with the numerous illogical positions of the Chinese, especially with regard to racism and the war policy. (U)

Lightfoot stated that the Soviet Party is the one which has done the most to liberate the working man. The Chinese Party has degenerated into a name-calling Party. He said the workers are not interested in this but rather want to know about the facts of the program. He said Khrushchev has proven that he is ready to deal with any nation, even under trying circumstances, such as his pacts with Algeria and Egypt where the Communist Parties have been banned. He described this as an open policy where the pursuit of peace is the overriding situation. The Chinese policy can only lead to war. (U)

Lightfoot stated that he was getting sick and tired of hearing everyone in the Party come up with opinions and conclusions "off the top of their heads". He complained that they were not exercising teamwork. (U)

Irving Potash stated that in his opinion, the Togliatti paper was in the nature of a criticism. He said that in a way, it was a necessity for the possible return of the Chinese Party to the international Communist movement. He recalled that Premier Khrushchev had himself said that the Chinese Party will have to go through numerous experiences and corrective situations before they will truly be an international Party. Potash said that there is a note of agreement between this and the Togliatti statement. He said it is a necessity that the Soviet patience be encouraged to continue and not yield to provocations which they have done on occasion in the past. ~~C~~ (U)

Potash felt that the Togliatti statement was not as critical of the Soviets as some people seem to think. He noted that this is always the problem when one deals with a man's notes. He said "we" must not be too fast in our judgment and position if we deal with the Chinese in these terms. He said that if he thought there was a danger that the coming conference (in Moscow) would do the same thing to China as was done to Yugoslavia, then he would object. He said he did not believe this danger exists as the situation exists with Albania. He said there are certain unique problems here which involve nationalities and population. He said Albania is a pawn in this dispute and we should overlook the deep problems being presented by it for there are deeper motives involved. The conference is a necessity to find a way out of this problem, this impasse and disunity. He is confident that this will help and not destroy the unity. He said the conference will lessen tensions in the world and thus justify the fears that some people believe. ~~C~~ (U)

Potash concluded his remark by saying that "our Party" is not uncritical of the Soviet Party and policy. The record shows this, but it is a healthy, open criticism which is both helpful and understood. ~~C~~ (U)

Dorothy Healey stated that she came to the meeting with no opinion one way or the other. She said she could argue both sides with equal vigor. She questioned whether an international conference would mean a strengthening of the World Communist Movement or our own Party. She said it was her opinion that the membership feel that they have nothing to say, they have no vote on the matter concerning the question of an international conference. She felt that none of those present are qualified to discuss differences between socialist Governments and felt that "our Party" should not put itself in the position of labeling China as the main danger today. (U)

Healey commented that they should think about an approach to follow after an international conference is called. She said that they should start now to consider their approach and not wait until the last minute. She said they should urge discussion and get collective thoughts and the Party would benefit from an exchange of opinion with other Parties. (U)

Healey felt that they should be objective in the approach to the problems of the fourteen Parties rather than approaching a problem through a country as such. She noted that China is poor and that Poland is Catholic, and that these are individual problems. (U)

Healey commented that in her opinion, they do not have the unity that is present in other international Parties. She said that everyone is not told the full story on matters which are of importance to every single CP member. She complained that there have not been enough political discussions on vital issues and felt that in the future there must be more unity and discussion. (U)

Henry Winston stated that he agreed with the report and believes that it is wrong to think that the struggle going on is just between two Parties. He said the problems in this dispute are present throughout the Communist world. They affect all Parties and every member throughout the world. He said that he disagreed with Gil (Green) that the problems between the Communist Parties of Russia and China are the result of new problems that have sprung up. He felt the problems are the same ones that existed after World War II, but that they should be bringing about unity rather than a split. (U)

(U)

Re: Communist Party, United States
of America - Organization
Internal Security - C

Winston stated the problem is that you have two lines of policy and two lines of development. One is Marxism-Leninism, whereas the other says it is Marxism-Leninism, but in reality is nationalism and racism. He said the Chinese are developing a narrow type of nationalism. He said peaceful co-existence can be attained without compromising our position on anti-imperialism. He said the thinking of the CPUSA has to be brought to the world movement. He noted that the only revolutionary forces in the United States are the Negro people. He said the struggle of the Negro people must be united with the struggle throughout the world against white minority. This is the only hope for the Negro people. He said he disagreed completely with Gil (Green), who he said has missed the point completely. He said a world socialist system was being made. They must discover the path of unity and take a broader view and that American Communists are not the only ones interested in these things. He said that with regard to international conferences, one should not predetermine what the Parties will decide. He indicated that he was in support of an international conference. (U)

Anton Krchmarek stated that he was in favor of an international conference and thinks that it is necessary, but as to where or how soon he is not sure. He thinks there should now be an organized authoritative body in international Communism to give guidance to the new Parties and the new problems arising. He said the problems need a collective approach and solution from all Parties. (U)

Hy Lumer said it was important to understand that they must discuss differences. They must understand the nature of the positions taken by the Chinese Party, the departure from Marxism-Leninism. He said that they did this once before and found that compromise was not the answer. He said they had learned from bitter experience that there is no middle ground. There is no such thing as ideological co-existence. He said that from his point of view, differences in ideological lines are impossible and now they can discuss different procedures. He said the Chinese - line is incorrect whereas the Soviet line is correct. He admitted errors on the part of the Soviets in the past, such as the Jewish question and people, but that these errors are within the context of honest contribution to society and not chauvinism. He said the Chinese have made errors and have developed an anti-Soviet position. He said there was a need to get together to discuss these problems and the question is when and where the conference will take place and not whether it should or should not take place. C (U)

He said the conference should prepare a basis for unity among those Parties who are prepared to come together and arrive at a common line. He said no unity on the basis of compromise, but only unity on a correct ideological line. He said that diversity of positions among Parties points up the necessity of getting together in a common line. He noted that regional conferences will only compound the situation and will themselves lay seeds of controversy. He concluded that our greatest fight is against United States imperialism. C (U)

Thomas Nabried felt that it would be good to have an international conference to reassess and reevaluate rather than expel anyone. He said he did not want any conference which would weaken the Communist movement. He was of the opinion that the American Negro has rejected the Chinese position and the American white man has also rejected the Chinese position on nuclear war. He noted that the Party in the past has made errors but that the positive achievements far outweigh these errors. Nabried concluded by saying that he was in full accord with Hall's report. He felt that it was in the best interest of the movement and would tend to strengthen and advance the cause of mankind. C (U)

James Tormey commented with regard to the Togliatti document that in their explanations to it they should not appear to be overbearing. He said the appearance of a Democratic disagreement within Communist ideology is an important contribution to the CP image. He said the (Togliatti) document makes a good point in its demand for clarity for the masses. C (U)

~~SECRET~~ (U)

He said Togliatti's concern over a unity of thinking among the leaders of the socialist countries was especially important. He said he disagreed with Togliatti's evaluation of the Goldwater situation and what it means to the nations of Europe. He said he was not as pessimistic in the long range view. C (U)

Tormey commented with regard to the Moscow conference that he does not believe the question is whether there should be a conference but rather what kind should there be. He said "we" must not appear to be over-organized against the Chinese position for that will only confirm what they accuse us of. C (U)

Michael Davidow indicated that he agreed with the main line of Hall's report. He indicated agreement with some of the comments made by Gil (Green) and asked how a Party could progress without talking amongst themselves. He said he also agreed with Gil's position that the problem is not ideological. He said no Party in any part of the world is ready to give up its independence. He indicated that no one could reconstitute the "thing" (into one Party) if he tried. He noted that diversity could be a virtue if it consolidates ideas. He said the Soviet Union and China could come to no such agreement - this kind of diversity is a calamity. He concluded his comments by saying that an international meeting will be helpful and sees no other alternative. C (U)

An individual believed to be Eric Bert commented that the big problem is "our" attitude towards the coming conference. He said they must study and recognize their own problems before they could go and advise others on their problems. C (U)

Carl Winter indicated an agreement with Hall's report. He said they cannot oversimplify preparations for the world conference. It must be explored in depth with a thorough study of approaches. He said there must be a full discussion for an editorial policy and this must be done by having preliminary meetings. He concluded by commenting that in the world today "we" cannot perform our function of leading the working class out of capitalism with reaffirming their past heritage. C (U)

Gus Hall commented that his report was sharp in order to point up realities. He said there was a reluctance on the part of some Comrades to face realities. He said the greatest problem in trying to effect unity is the policy of drifting, which he said was the most dangerous thing facing the Party today. He noted that the Party is drifting into a national shell while the Chinese are building their own international organization. He said that they should discuss Togliatti's pronouncements as "notes" and not pronouncements. Hall said that Gil's (Green) criticism was unjust. (U)

Hall expressed the opinion that many in Communist China are not aware of the developments of this split. Hall said that with regard to the international conference, he has always assumed that they were never against having such conferences. (U)

An individual whose identity was unknown to the informant took issue with Hall by commenting that they were not informed and had no chance for prior discussion, as to what was being proposed. Hall remarked that he would not trade his political freedom and liberty for being anti-Soviet. Hall said the lessons emerging seems to him to be that when ideological struggles exist, they must never give up but must fight. He said the question is, is the world movement readyfor a Congress, and he replied, "I think it is ready". He said he disagreed with Khrushchev and that is not a question of war between socialist nations. He said Khrushchev put the wrong connotation on the issue. Hall concluded by saying that he would like some ideas expressed on the delegation, whether it should be public or private. He said the sharpness of the discussion should not bother "us" as they were not going to settle all the problems in this discussion. (U)

Third Day's Session
September 20, 1964 (U)

This session opened 9:32 a.m., with comments made regarding memorial service for Elizabeth Gurley Flynn. It was stated service should not be "dragged out" because overdoing it will defeat its purpose; additional service for Flynn scheduled to be held in Chicago (no date mentioned). The Comrades were told they should also consider holding additional services for Flynn in their respective districts. (U)

A committee of Gil (Green), Jim (Jackson) and Hy (Lumer) was appointed to meet on the night of September 20, 1964, to draw up proposals on the "Draft Statement and Resolution" on Hall's report. Discussion ensued as to whether Hall's report is to be published, but no conclusion reached pending committee report scheduled for September 21, 1964. (U)

Informant advised that with regard to the election policy of the Party, a Platform Committee will be set up consisting of Dot (Healey), Jim West, Carl (Winter), [redacted] Krch (Anton Krchmarek), Arnold (Johnson), Bob (Thompson), Mike (Davidow) and Danny (Rubin). (U)

Arnold Johnson gave the election report and commented that steps must be taken in the remaining days of the campaign to guarantee a smashing defeat to Senator Goldwater. He said there must be no let up because the ultra-right will pull out all stops. Johnson noted that Goldwater is attempting to pose as a peace candidate. He said there is no necessity for any new analysis of the present political situation as it was correctly assessed by Gus Hall and published under the title of "The Eleventh Hour." (U)

Re: Communist Party,
United States of America -
Organization
Internal Security - C

Johnson said "we" take pride in the fact that "our line" has been correct as proved by events that have developed. He said there was a potential for a broad Negro Democratic upsurge that can bring about a smashing defeat for the ultra-right. Johnson noted again that there could be no let up in the campaign because "the votes are not yet counted."

~~C~~ (U)

Johnson noted that there has developed in the country a further polarization and political realignment of forces citing as an example Senator Strom Thurmond's leaving the Democratic Party. He said this polarization has significance for the election and post election. He said the Republican Party is now transformed and it can become the instrument of fascism. According to Johnson, this realignment of forces requires special attention be given to the independent mass movement. Johnson noted that while the Communist Party sharply disagrees with much of the Democratic platform especially those declarations on foreign policy which expresses the agressor, the more important fact is Goldwater's threat of nuclear war.

~~C~~ (U)

Johnson stated that there is an independent movement within the Democratic Party and the role of labor is of major importance in this new alignment of forces. He said the most brilliant opposition to Goldwater is the Negro and the racists in the country are attempting to take advantage of it. Johnson noted that Malcolm X (Little) (President of the Muslim Mosque, Incorporated) has announced his support for Goldwater, but that most of Goldwater's audiences have been "lily white." He said the Johnson Administration's foreign policy cannot be equated with support for Goldwater. He stated the people cannot rely entirely on the Democratic Party to defeat Goldwater and that independent voluntary organizations, reform clubs and the like will play a vital role. Johnson said "we" have the responsibility of participating in the election, and the unity of the left can play a responsible role. He noted that the political role is not limited to "ourselves," it can include labor and the Negro Freedom Movement and said "we" can help mobilize the left in this election and give organization to the left movement after the election. (U)

Johnson stated that 250,000 copies of "our literature" has been distributed in the last several months and requests for "our literature" have come in from all over the country. (U)

Johnson stated that there is to be a special issue of "The Worker" for the week end of October 24 and 25, 1964. He said there will be a number of mass meetings in Washington, California, Oregon, Nevada, Illinois and Ohio and Gus Hall will spend much time in the West, Hy Lumer will spend at least one week in Ohio and each of the National Comrades will have special election assignments. Johnson said special efforts must be made for television and radio "as these avenues are not closed to the Party." Johnson concluded his remarks by stating that each district will work out a special district plan for the campaign with the goal being the overwhelming defeat of Goldwater and the ultra-right. (U)

[redacted] spoke on the electoral situation in Illinois which he described as an unusual state as far as the election is concerned. He noted that there was little enthusiasm so far by the Democratic Party there, who he felt are probably waiting until the registration drive closes on October 7, 1964, to get active. He said the Liberal

Democrats in the State are concerned over the independence movements. He commented that the Negro American Labor Council (NALC) is active and that the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) has launched a massive voter registration drive to register one hundred and fifty thousand on the south side (of Chicago). (U)

[redacted] said independent Democratic clubs are being set up in Illinois to aid President Johnson, their approach is anti-Goldwater, but feel they must also "slap down the machine." He stated that 80 per cent of Communist Party members in the industrial areas are involved in the campaign and 40,000 pieces of Party material will be distributed by the end of next week. He noted that following the last National meeting, 100 Party members responded to a meeting regarding what transpired at the National meeting. He said they rallied around the policies expressed and pledged $3,000. (U)

An individual believed by informant to be Anton Krchmarek reported on the election situation in Ohio. He said the guiding force there was the Labor Movement who are united in the campaign as never before. He said everyone is behind President Johnson and there has been a sharp rise in voter registration among Negroes. He noted, however, that in the Negro community there are some who will boycott the National elections. (U)

[redacted] spoke briefly on the situation in Maryland and the south. He noted that the labor movement was getting a door to door campaign moving in the south and that Democratic leaders there are being forced to back President Johnson because they have no other choice. He said that Labor was taking "one beating after another" and is floundering. He urged the Party to give them some help. Meyers stated,

Re: Communist Party,

Internal Security - C

however, that Negro youths and Negro leaders were doing a fine job on voter registration and according to [redacted] 15,000 Democrats in Alabama have left the Wallace camp. (U) b6 b7C

Gus Hall stated that the comments should be directed towards what they intend to do in the next few weeks looking towards the elections. (U)

Robert Thompson reported on the electoral situation in New York State. He said the Republican Party in New York is sharply divided and some powerful groupings in New York are concerned at the possible outcome of the elections wherein the Labor-Negro Alliance would be in a position of considerable influence in relation to the Administration. He said the alignment in New York is based on fundamental agreement with respect to the basic problems in American political life. He said the senatorial race in New York was a complex situation. He noted that (Robert) Kennedy has the backing of the AFL-CIO, but that Senator Keating's campaign is developing. (U)

Dorothy Healey said the 1964 Democratic Convention was a disappointment in comparison with the 1960 convention, particularly with respect to civil rights and the labor movement. She said that a new concept of left unity must develop in this country. Meeting concluded 5:02 p.m., to reconvene 1:00 p.m., September 21, 1964. (U)

"The Worker" is an east coast Communist newspaper.

Fourth Days Session
September 21, 1964 (U)

This session convened at 1:15 PM with George Meyers acting as chairman. (U)

Albert "Mickie" Lima commented on the civil rights movement which he said had a great impact on the recent Democratic Convention and felt that it will have its effects felt on the various state campaigns. He said "we" must maintain independence as far as the Johnson Administration is concerned and still maintain an overall view of the "big picture". (U)

William L. Patterson stated that the Negro vote will have a great effect on the coming national conventions. He noted that a national conference of Negro leaders will take place September 24-27, 1964. He said it should deal not only with domestic issues but also with American foreign policy. He noted that on October 16 and 17, 1964, the Negro American Labor Council (NALC) is going to have a meeting which will contain a further study and broadening of the question. Patterson added "we" should see if any of "our people" are involved in this meeting. He noted that in Georgia there will be a conference on September 29 - October 2, 1964 under the sponsorship of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC). He concluded his comments by stating that a report should be made on all the activity taking place by all the Negro civil rights forces. (U)

Gilbert Green stated that there has never been a greater coordination in "our" party over an election campaign. He said that even those who have dropped from the Party are concerned with our point of view. He said that the support of the people is not so much for (President) Johnson as it is for an anti-Goldwater feeling and because of this, he feels the role of the independent political action groups will be felt. He said the Party should be thinking about the post-election period and "our" role in isolating the extremists. He said that perhaps the Democratic freedom groups might be an instrument to carry out "our" ideas. He said "we" should think about the labor democratic clubs as well. He concluded his comments by remarking that a Party statement should be issued following the elections to project the Party's thoughts for the future. (U)

Mike Davidow stated that they have to give some thought regarding the new forms of organization, new progressive thinking in all fields. He said "we" have to think about how to coordinate the development of progressive forces and how "we" can play an aggressive part in this development. He said there was a great deal of respect for these organizations and noted that Goldwater was organizing at the grass roots level, such as student groups, disgruntled voters and others undecided. He said that is where "we" must work. (U)

Claude Lightfoot stated that following the national conventions there would be the sharpest kind of struggle in and around the Democratic Party and "our" Party as well as the Progressive movement has to be geared for participation in that struggle. (U)

Gus Hall remarked that "we" are slow, sluggish, talkative but not initiators. He asked what are the forms (of independent political action) that "we" are going to try to crystallize. Hall said "we" are waiting and analyzing what someone else does but have not worked out a plan on the basis of the relationship of forces and created independent forces of left organizations. Hall said this was a serious shortcoming, the reason being that in his opinion they have not appreciated what has come to the surface. He said their needs to be a different kind of imagination and a different kind of initiative. Hall remarked that after the November 3rd elections, they would not be able to discuss on the same basis what the forms of independent and left organizations would be. He said that what follows the election must be decided now and decided on the basis of what the Party has to do now. Hall said that he had the feeling that they have to sit down with the districts following this meeting (National Board) in order to take a critical look so that they can take advantage of this historical moment with regard to the realignment that is taking place. (U)

Hy Lumer said that the (sub) committee had a session this morning and will present their views. He said that paragraph one should be a rebuttal in some respects so that it will minimize the fears of some comrades that what we are doing is "foreclosing" the situation. At the same time, it is highly correct for us to state that it is a defense of Marxism - Leninism against an opportunism by the Asian comrades and that in such a struggle we should not seek to achieve unity on the basis of compromise and conciliation, but only through "status" of determined defense of Marxist - Leninist principles.

He said "we have no specific recommendations" and should not make concrete proposals but outline positively the path to follow. (U)

James Jackson stated that he got the impression in their exchange (subcommittee) that their position was not as diversive as it might seem. He said "we" felt that we have not taken in to account the historical achievements of the Communist Party in China in the revolution which took that part of the world out of the hands of capitalistic imperialism. He said, however, that the leadership of the Communist Party (CP) of China is responsible for the deterioration of the unity and direction of all Marxist groups. He said "we" cannot give comfort in a statement which in any way would give equality of responsibility for the crises that has been fashioned in the world Marxist movement. The responsibility for that falls on the head of the CP of China. He said he would suggest that they follow the line that was laid down in Gus' (Hall) report. He said they should reaffirm the position of "our" Party in a statement issued by the Party on April 19, 1964. (U)

Gil Green stated that they have to take in to consideration the departure from Marxism by leaders of the CP of China as well as historical greatness of the Chinese Revolution. He said he was not going to write off the Chinese Revolution because regardless of the differences of ideology, the country is still a socialist country. There is a theoretical question now which needs a great deal of thought. He said if they were not careful in their statement, they might create a kind of action that would close the door.... He said they should be careful of the method and the approach. He said the debate must not and cannot be to accept the line of the Chinese Party as it will be a disaster for world socialism because, if anything, the world needs further creative advancement in Marxist - Leninist theory. The struggle against the Chinese CP should be conducted in such a way that it will not create insurmountable impediments. He said it was extremely important that these differences do not result in strained relations because this would only be an aid to imperialism. He said that because the situation in the world has changed considerably in recent years, we favor a world conference of Communist Parties to discuss the new development in the world and the basis for the split in Communist ranks. (U)

He said that achievements of these objectives should be a guide to the Party in preparatory meetings leading to the decision as to how such a world conference could be held. (U)

Hy Lumer stated that he would not defend the statement word for word, but that he does defend the line of the statement which he considers to be the line of the report. He said, however, that they should take steps for redrafting the statement which would incorporate the line of the report. He said that the question of responsibility for these differences lie overwhelming with the Chinese CP. He said he would read the proposals because they were for a maximum effort for reunification in the world Communist movement. He read the proposals as follows: (U)

A. We will take up the editorial conference on December 15.

B. We are for the establishment of some better system of relations between the workers of the CP. (U)

C. We are for the editorial conference. We are for a series of world conferences prepared around specific areas of developments. (U)

Gus Hall in commenting on his report, said it was delivered as a clinical report against wrong concepts or weaknesses within our own Party or within the world movement. He said he had not prepared the report with any idea for publication and if it were to be published it would have to be rounded out. He suggested that they did not vote for or against the report because that was not its purpose. He said there were differences but in his opinion they were not, as sharp as they appear in debate. Hall said he was trying to find out whether there was a coming together of thoughts and minds. (U)

Gil Green stated that they have to remember that a prime objective of "our Party" in this country must be the achievement, the existence of a legal Party in the United States. He said "we" did not intend to affiliate. We are not affiliated with any organization today. We always have to emphasize that, not that we wouldn't like to be affiliated, but because we cannot be affiliated. (U)

Irving Potash said that we should make it clear that they did not have in mind any so-called monolithic form of organization. He said "we" should carefully work out a wording that the enemy will not be able to distort. (U)

[redacted] stated that the question of the legality of the Party is coming up at the next meeting of the National Executive Board. (U)

Henry Winston stated that the subcommittee, established by the Board, has achieved quite a bit of progress. He said he thought there was the possibility of an excellent representative viewpoint of our Party. He said that what was needed was a subcommittee to take up all the suggestions and incorporate them in to one statement. (U)

Jack Stachel said that he would propose that they adopt the main line of the report and summary. Secondly, they set up a committee to redraft a final statement on the basis of the statements made as well as a report by Hy (Lumer), for the committee as a whole. (U)

Albert (Mickie) Lima asked how a motion of that kind could be made. He said the ideological differences in "our" Party are as to the assessment of the differences. He said that what they are confronted with here was an effort to determine a position of an approach to this conference and that he would have to vote against the main line of the report and the main line of this document. He said he hoped that the changes discussed would take place and that there would be further discussion about a final document adding "this is not only your document, it is also my document...." He said he would be horrified to have to go back to the district if this document ever fell into the hands of "my comrades". He said that in his opinion, this Party sometimes is not even in touch with reality. He asked how they could take this kind of a hard and fast position when the whole world ; movement was at stake. He said that you have something more to say adding "you must say who is at fault and what the damage is". C (U)

Dorothy Healey stated that the proposals Gus (Hall) has made are specific and they should move on these proposals. She said they should stick to specific votes on specific motions so that there could be no ambiguities or differences of interpretation. C (U)

Gus Hall stated that they were not forced to vote for or against Togliatti's approach. He said he did not think this was an issue in the report or here. C (U)

Mickey Lima interrupted to ask the chairman what they were discussing. [redacted] stated that they were discussing the adoption of the main line of Gus Hall's report and the summary as well as a statement to be drawn up by a subcommittee to be sent to all members of the national committee. A vote was taken on the above and was carried without opposition. C (U)

Henry Winston proposed that the secretariat prepare a discussion on a series of questions raised in the report of Hy Lumer in preparation for a delegation that would be going to the Soviet Union. This motion was passed. C (U)

Hy Lumer moved that the proposal made by Gus Hall be approved and referred to the secretariat. C (U)

Lima commented that he was opposed to the document in its present form. He said it was too complicated in its legal form and it has nothing to do with our international responsibilities. He said they could find ways of getting around this adding that he did not think "we" should propose some new form of organization. Gus Hall immediately denied that he made such a proposal. Lima stated that he was confused in his mind as to what people were proposing and that is why he has such a big reservation. (U)

Gil Green asked Lima why he objected to leave the question open to discussion and new ideas. He said that all Lima wants to do is "close" the book and that is not what we want. (U)

[redacted] then asked for a vote on the question. Lima said that he will vote for the motion with the exception of that one point. The chairman stated that his exception would be noted. The motion was carried. (U)

Carl Winter then gave a report on the automobile industry. He pointed out that although a settlement had been reached at both the Chrysler and Ford plants, no written contract had been signed. He said the unions have not kept the Rank and File advised as to what has been going on in the negotiations. He noted that the main benefits of the settlement have been a lower retirement age and a more liberal pension benefit. He said these benefits were forced on the union by the retired workers who pay no dues but have a vote. (U)

Winter commented that the cost of the agreement has been that the productive workers have been forced to forego a 7 cents to 10 cents an hour increase for one year. He said this more than pays for the increase in pension benefits. Winter stated that there is nothing in the settlement about plant working conditions, automation or overtime. He said, however, that it would be wrong to see only the backward steps and limitations in the settlement. He said they should not denounce, out of hand, this contract. He said that both the union and industry should be called upon to explain the contract. He said that at this point they could not ignore the fact that the bulk of the workers have been deprived of any immediate remuneration. (U)

Following Winter's report, there was a brief discussion. Jack Stachel and Irving Potash stated that they disagreed with Winter's assessment in that the contract represented a great victory for the Rank and File which was achieved without a fight. Hy Lumer expressed the opinion that Winter overstated the negative aspects of the agreement. Anton Krchmarek agreed with Winter's statement and stated that the gains in the contract are not what they are reported to be. He was of the opinion that the General Motors workers would not accept the same contract. Meeting adjourned at 6:15 PM. (U)

SUBJECT: COMMUNIST PARTY, USA
NEGRO QUESTION
COMMUNIST INFLUENCE IN RACIAL MATTERS
INTERNAL SECURITY - COMMUNIST

This memorandum recommends a letter to all offices directing the field to broaden its efforts relating to communist influences in the racial field so that the Bureau will be better able to keep pace with the stepped-up efforts of the communists to penetrate and influence the racial movement. We are also directing the opening of a new case file, both at the Seat of Government and in the field, which will serve as a repository for all intelligence relating to this matter and provide for the submission of quarterly investigative reports to the Bureau. Heretofore, this intelligence was included in the quarterly reports submitted concerning the Communist Party, USA, and in reports covering various of the allied groups and individuals active in the racial movement.

Coincident with the increased racial activities occurring throughout the country the past two years, the Communist Party, USA, has expanded its efforts to gain control of the racial movement. This has resulted in greater investigative effort on our part in the security field. We have been regularly gathering extensive data depicting in many ways the communist influence and participation in the racial movement. We must, however, increase these efforts to keep ahead of the communists' plans to infiltrate the racial picture. Our proposed instructions to the field are directed toward a broadening of our procedures which in turn will more fully and precisely provide us with the facts relating to the extent of communist influence.

RECOMMENDATION:

In line with the above, there is attached for approval a proposed letter to all offices, original on Plastiplate. After approval, return to Room 808 RB for preparation of the necessary copies to send to the field. The necessary Manual changes will be submitted separately.

EXTREME CAUTION MUST BE UTILIZED IN HANDLING AND REPORTING THE FOLLOWING INFORMATION SINCE ITS VERY NATURE TENDS TO IDENTIFY A SENSITIVE AND HIGHLY PLACED INFORMANT.

The following concerning STANLEY LEVISON's relationship with the Communist Party and MARTIN LUTHER KING, Jr., was derived from NY 694-S* on 9/18/64. His information was received from LEM HARRIS on that date, who stated that he talked to LEVISON shortly before he went to Russia on August 4, 1964:

LEVISON, in relating why he left MARTIN LUTHER KING, Jr., said that when the article by columnist JOSEPH ALSOP, exposing his relationship with KING, appeared in the press, KING told him that he was of no value to him as he had been in the past, and said if he was to remain with him, his association would have to be open and above board. he wanted LEVISON to be an ardent and honest follower, and stipulated that for LEVISON to remain as an adviser, he (LEVISON) would have to make a public repudiation of Communism and be a "non-Communist", which he refused to do. His refusal, LEVISON said, resulted in his dismissal by KING. XW

With respect to the fact that LEVISON has kept away from the Party, LEVISON said he had done so to improve his position of influence and strength in the Negro movement. LEVISON continues to be critical of the Party, HARRIS said. This criticism arises over the Party's failure to aid in the Negro movement. XW

In reply to a question of HARRIS as to why he did not see BENJAMIN J. DAVIS (alluding to DAVIS' position as intermediary between LEVISON and the Party), LEVISON gave no answer, but commented instead, that he felt the Party was not doing enough in the racial field. XW

With reference to his working back into the racial field following his dismissal by KING, LEVISON said he went to the National Jewish Committee and sold them on the idea of a small businessmen's committee. The Committee, LEVISON said, is composed of whites and Negroes whose purpose is to aid Negro people to get into small businesses. The Committee is headed by LEVISON and has an appropriation of $100,000.

According to NY 694-S*, HARRIS opined that LEVISON is not anti-Party, and feels that LEVISON should be given an opportunity to try to regain his position of strength in the Negro field. XW

NY 694-S* is of the opinion that if LEVISON desired to "count himself out" (to completely disassociate himself), he would have refused to see HARRIS; furthermore, he would not have spent approximately two hours with him. NY 694-S* is of the opinion that LEVISON is hanging on because he has no influence as an individual, but must have an organization behind him to give him strength. XW

Furthermore, the source said, "I do not think LEVISON should be dismissed (discounted completely) although it is positive that he has not given any money in the recent past." X W

Referenced Chicago letter reported information derived from CG 5824-S* on 7/29/64, concerning a discussion with [redacted] She told of a recent contact with [redacted] and [redacted] during which time they considered Party finances. She was told by [redacted] and [redacted] that STANLEY LEVISON and [redacted] were not contributing to the Party, but instead, might be contributing to MARTIN LUTHER KING, Jr., or some other civil rights movement. [redacted] said, "The LEVISONS are farr removed from the Party." X W b6 b7C

In view of the patent ambiguities in the information received from CG 5824-S* and NY 694-S* no effort is being made at this time to update the characterization of LEVISON. X W

SUBJECT: COMMUNIST INFLUENCE IN RACIAL MATTERS
INTERNAL SECURITY - COMMUNIST

The "New York Journal American" of 9/19/64 contained an article (attached) by columnist Victor Riesel captioned "Reds in Rioting--FBI." This article in part alleged that a film was secretly taken by several agencies with undercover cameras of the rioting revolving around a "mid-Harlem bookstore which is used as a cover for provoking turbulence on our streets." With respect to this part of the column, the Director asked, "What about this?"

The New York Office has advised that it has no information whatsoever regarding a film allegedly taken secretly by several agencies with undercover cameras of the rioting. The Harlem bookstore referred to in the article undoubtedly refers to the National Memorial African Bookstore located at 2107 7th Avenue, New York City, N.Y., operated by Louis H. Micheaux. Micheaux is the leader of a back-to-Africa Black Nationalist movement who conducts street meetings in that area. New York City Police Department has no knowledge of this film.

The article written by Riesel contains a rehash of an article appearing in the "New York Daily News" 7/22/64 written by reporters Jack Mallon, William Federici and Henry Lee captioned "Reds, White Racists Ignite Harlem." In the article the above-mentioned reporters related that professional, well-financed agitators by the hundreds representing both the extreme left and the extreme right were "whipping up" violence in Harlem and the Bedford-Stuyvesant section of New York City. According to the article, funds from white racist groups who desire to give New York a taste of Negro violence have been pouring into Harlem. The article also reported that "Muslims" have bragged of receiving money from a Texas millionaire and that up to 50 paid communist agitators were receiving pay envelopes at a store located near 125th Street and 7th Avenue, New York City.

100-442529

With the appearance of the article in the "New York Daily News" we immediately launched an exhaustive investigation to determine whether the article was based on fact. The three authors were interviewed and it was determined that their story was based on rumor, hearsay and hastily drawn conclusions rather than on fact. No information was developed to support the allegations contained in the article. Information regarding this investigation was furnished to the White House by letter dated 7/25/64.

Inasmuch as we have already determined that the statements in Riesel's column are not factual, no further action is deemed necessary. It appears desirable, however, to have someone in Mr. DeLoach's office contact Riesel to determine what specific information he may have in his possession regarding the film.

RECOMMENDATION:

That this memorandum be referred to Mr. DeLoach in order that Riesel may be contacted to determine further details in his possession regarding the existence of the film.

Suggest we do not contact Riesel

I concur.

Reds In Rioting—FBI

Harlem Report To White House: What It Reveals

By VICTOR RIESEL
New York Journal-American Columnist

Washington sources revealed today that the FBI report on the Harlem riots will be on President Johnson's desk within 48 hours, sometime on Monday morning.

The report clearly shows:

• That there was Communist involvement in the riots.

• That although the FBI investigation does show definite Communist links between the rioting in Harlem, Bedford-Stuyvesant and Philadelphia, the FBI could not establish any nation-wide Red network involving all areas where riots occurred.

• That there was a link between Communist groups and narcotics addicts in Harlem. These Communist groups stemmed from pro-Chinese Communist activities in the Afro-Asian world. But the FBI found the Communist groups did not spark the Harlem riots although they moved in quickly once the trouble started.

The Federal investigation was ordered by President Johnson after a plea by Roy Wilkins, president of the National Association For the Advancement of Colored People, on Aug. 30.

Mr. Wilkins wired then-Attorney General Robert Kennedy asking a Federal probe of the riots, "because the suspicion is widespread that they have been planned, and that persons have been paid to start and to keep them going."

Few movie scripts are packed with more melodrama than the inside story of the guerilla bands which really touched off the summertime rioting in our town.

Fact is that much of this grim, real-life drama is already on film, secretly taken by several agencies with undercover cameras. The central set is actually a mid-Harlem bookstore which is used as a cover for provoking turbulence on our streets.

The store is the payoff center. The provocateurs, who work with junkies (dope addicts), get $50 to $75 every few days. But where do the dollars come from?

It would be difficult for Communist Chinese themselves to appear on the streets. So they operate through Algerians and Ghanaians whose home countries are as close to Peking as to Castro, whose followers the Chinese believe to be too irratio nal to trust with really delicate maneuvers.

LEAVE MONEY

The Algerians and Ghanaians have been observed driving their cars into Harlem and parking them near the bookstore. Then they walk in, leave money and instructions and get back "downtown." The money buys street corner speakers, Nationalists, demonstrations and flash picketing of police.

There is no doubt, for example, that Malcolm X is close to the Ghanaians. He lived with them in Cairo, worked with them and used them to make contact with the delegations to the African heads of state conferences las July.

The Ghanaians know Harlem well. Their chief, Dr. Kwame Nkrumh, lived and agitated there for 11 years. He has made his capital, Accra, the center of the most blatant, distasteful anti - American propaganda in all Africa.

Why doesn't somebody call for a showdown?

What about this?

July 17-31, 1964

On September 15, 1964, Bayard Rustin, who identified himself as the organizer of the March on Washington, telephonically communicated with the New York Office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI). He said he desired to furnish the following information:

During the Harlem riots, he was in Harlem to do what he could to stop the difficulties and while there, he noticed two things which disturbed him greatly: the appearance on the street of a red sports car, followed by a black Cadillac driven by a white male and occupied by several Negro males. He said he, along with others, saw the cars cruising several times during the height of the riots. He said the occupants of the cars were observed by him and others to be distributing literature, one piece of which branded Lt. Thomas Gilligan of the New York City Police Department as a murderer.

Shooting of James Powell,
July 17-31, 1964

It is to be noted that on July 16, 1964, Lt. Thomas Gilligan shot Negro youth, James Powell on a New York City street.

Rustin advised that he was unable to identify the occupants of the cars, but had learned through sources of his, whom he refused to divulge, that the sports car bore New York license NV-NY and the Cadillac NY T 321.

Rustin said he had been told that one [redacted] was an occupant of the Cadillac, that a [redacted] and Jeff Neff were seen in the sports car. Neff, Rustin said, is the son of the owner of "Vanguard." b6 b7C

Rustin further stated that with regard to the cars, that he understood they had been observed in other cities, namely Philadelphia and cities in New Jersey.

James Bevel, who works for Martin Luther King (President of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference) reportedly informed Marjorie Penny, the head of the "Fellowship House" in Philadelphia, that these same people are now working in Baltimore and Washington, D.C., their efforts being to stir up trouble there.

On September 15, 1964, a check of Motor Vehicle Department records, New York State, failed to reflect the issuance of license plate NV-NY. Furthermore, an official of the Department advised that license plates with the prefix NY T are issued to the New York Telephone Company and to the New York Institute of Technology only, and that they run only as high as 15.

On August 23, 1963, the Bureau of Special Services (BSS), New York City Police Department, advised that several members of Procept, which is located at 230 East 52nd Street, New York City, were arrested at the construction site of the Downstate Medical Center, 450 Clarkson Avenue, Brooklyn, New York, on August 1, 1963, and were charged with felonious assault against a member of the New York City Police Department. b6 b7C
These men were identified as [redacted] who is white, indicated that he is a free-lance illustrator. [redacted] a Negro, was described as an automobile racing driver, and it was reported that [redacted] was arrested on March 8, 1956, in Brooklyn, on charges of bigamy and perjury and was sentenced to one to two years in Sing Sing Prison, Ossining, New York. Anthony Maynard, a Negro, was described as an actor.

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that a press meeting was held in the latter part of 1963, by Procept, and it was noted that the organization's members wore white shirts with sleeves rolled up. Also at this meeting, it was announced that Procept means "for thinking" and their slogan is "White Shirts for Thinking, White Shirts for Action."

This source further stated that members of Procept are called by numbers and Procept reportedly has 35 members, who may be of any race and religion and who work for $1.00 for any cause.

At the press meeting, it was announced that Procept will "act as mediator to help bring peace, harmony and understanding among all mankind, regardless of color and creed." Mabrey stated that Procept does not believe in violence or any type of picketing demonstrations. He stated members of Procept hold such occupations as advertising executives, manufacturers, and actors and that Procept is financed entirely through membership contributions. b6 b7C

On August 26, 1963, both Neff and [redacted] voluntarily appeared at the New York Office of the FBI and furnished the following information:

Procept, Incorporated, 230 East 52nd Street, was established in March, 1963, as a business venture dealing primarily with sales promotion for various clients.

In the past few months, Neff stated he and [redacted] felt that they should offer their services to any individual or group which requested it in order that Procept can assist in providing solutions in cases where various actions cannot come to a peaceful settlement, citing as an example the case of those who are for and against integration. b6 b7C

Neff stated that although the organization was originally known as Procept, a name developed by Neff meaning "for thinking," it will henceforth be known as Procept For Peace, to distinguish it from Procept Corporation, the latter concerning itself with sales promotion.

Neff further stated that Procept For Peace is not a membership organization since everyone, whether he knows it or not, is a member, for in order to be a good American and member of the human race, one must believe in what Procept stands for: fair treatment for all mankind and peace and harmony among all mankind.

On August 16, 1963, a confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that Procept For Peace is an organization which gives the appearance it is for integration and civil rights, but it is clear that the true aim is to disrupt civil rights and integration. According to the source, it is believed that Procept For Peace advocates violence.

According to the source, on August 13, 1963, some 30 members of Procept For Peace attended a meeting of the Brooklyn Congress of Racial Equality and physically broke up the meeting.

In "The Saturday Evening Post", issue of July 11-18, 1964, page 76, Bayard Rustin is the subject of a feature article captioned "The Lone Wolf of Civil Rights". In it, Rustin is said to have come to New York in 1938, as an organizer for Young Communist League (YCL) and as such, he had the job of recruiting students for the "Party". Furthermore, the article reports that during his first years in New York, Rustin gave most of his earnings to the "Party". He reportedly left the "Party" in 1941, the article states.

The YCL has been designated pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

The "Daily Worker" was an east coast Communist publication until it ceased publication on January 13, 1958.

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on September 25, 1963, that during a meeting of the National Board, CPUSA, on that date, Benjamin J. Davis remarked that, "Rustin calls me constantly --openly."

Another confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on February 19, 20, 1964, that Bayard Rustin contacted Benjamin J. CIRM

The 9/16/64 issue of the "New York Post" contained an article which quoted Bayard Rustin as stating that a black Cadillac driven by a white man accompained by three Negroes, and a red sportscar believed to have been driven by a Negro, were observed in the Negro communities of Harlem, Rochester and Philadelphia prior to the outbreak of the recent riots in those areas. Rustin also alleged that the same cars were seen in the Washington, D. C., and Baltimore areas in the past two weeks. Article continued that Rustin did not know the identities of the occupants of these cars but that he had furnished the license numbers to the FBI. Rustin inferred that he felt the occupants of these cars were trying to stir up racial violence possibly on behalf of segregationist groups. The Director noted "have we checked this out?"

9/15-16/64

Rustin interviewed by New York Office and alleged that [redacted] and Jeffry Neff were some of the individuals observed in the above-mentioned cars in the riot areas. Rustin refused to disclose his source of information.

b7C

The license numbers furnished by Rustin when checked out were found to be nonexistent. Our files show that [redacted] and Neff were connected with an organization known as "Procept for Peace," which was the subject of a Bureau investigation in 1963. This was a self-styled public relations organization which claimed the ability to solve all of the world's problems. Investigation based on allegation that "Procept for Peace" possibly working on behalf of segregationist groups but investigation did not uncover any information to support this allegation.

FBI Probing Report 5 Had Role in 3 Riots

By LAEL SCOTT and TED POSTON

The FBI today was investigating reports that five men, one white, toured the Negro communities in Harlem, Rochester and Philadelphia in two conspicuous cars just one day before rioting broke out in each city.

The agency is also checking reports that the same two cars—a black Cadillac driven by a white man with three Negro passengers in the back, followed by a red sportscar believed driven by a Negro—were spotted in Baltimore and Washington during recent riot scares in those communities.

Several civil rights leaders, with whom Bayard Rustin worked on the March on Washington, have expressed suspicions that segregationists might have sent money and agents into several of the cities to help spark or expand the rioting as a means of gaining "white backlash" votes for Sen. Goldwater the Republican Presidential candidate.

Information on the cars—along with the license number of each—was turned over to the FBI last week by Rustin, organizer of last year's march and director of the first public school boycott here last February.

Eye-Witness Report

Rustin, who said he obtained his information from contacts and eye-witnesses in the cities involved, acted after President Johnson requested the FBI to compile all reports to see if there was a "pattern" in the racial outbreaks which also occurred in Paterson, Elizabeth and Jersey City.

Rustin told The New York Post that he did not know the identity of the men in the cars.

"I did not try to learn their identities," he said, "I thought that was not my job but that of a proper agency. I did, however, furnish the license numbers, which were identical in each case.

"It is not up to me to speculate on something that could be quite serious," he said, "but I felt that a coincidence of this more magnitude might have some bearing on any investigation of the outbreaks."

The two cars were reported seen in Baltimore shortly after the Philadelphia rioting and looting.

Reports of an impending outbreak there during the Labor Day weekend became so widespread that Mayor McKeldin went on radio and TV to outline the steps he planned—including use of the National Guard—to prevent race rioting.

Associates of Rustin reported that the same cars were seen within the last two weeks in Washington, D. C., the only major city in the country where Negro residents outnumber whites. There have been reports of impending riots there.

Rustin said that the FBI seemed "quite pleased" to receive his information, and that he believed the agency would "check it out."

Demonstration and Violence In New York City
Following Shooting of James Powell,
July 17-31, 1964

DECLASSIFIED BY SP4ELW/KEA
ON 5/14/87 #253,760

On September 17, 1964, a confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that Bayard Rustin (organizer of the March on Washington) and unidentified male were in conference on that date. Rustin inquired of the man if he had heard [redacted] "sound off" about him (Rustin) furnishing the information to the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI). b6 b7C

It should be noted that on September 15, Rustin telephonically furnished the FBI information concerning the Harlem, New York riots of July 17-31, 1964. In that regard, he said he had seen two cars, the occupants of which were distributing inflamatory literature during the height of the riots.

"The Worker", issue of April 14, 1957, page 16, column 1, described A.J. Muste as the dean of the Socialist Pacifists. U.S.A.

"The Worker" is an east coast Communist publication.

This document contains neither recommendations nor conclusions of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. It is the property of the Federal Bureau of Investigation and is loaned to your agency; it and its contents are not to be distributed outside your agency.

ENCLOSURE

In continuing his conference with the male, Rustin said in reply to what [redacted] had remarked, "where you are sincerely of the opinion that people are about to go to Washington, D.C., and blow up the place and create a real racial crisis, do you think I was wrong." The man said he did not know all the particulars and asked who was in the group. Rustin replied that he had not said anything about who they were, but had suspicions as to their identities, which he preferred not to reveal to anyone. He added that he "just reported the cars and what they were doing" (to the FBI). b6 b7C

On September 17, 1964, another confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised [redacted] b6 b7C b7D

[redacted] Bureau of Special Services, New York City Police Department, advised on September 18, 1964, that the Corporation Counsel of the City of New York, petitioned the Supreme Court of New York on September 17, 1964 to dissolve the injunction against Milton Rosen, William Epton, Jesse Gray and the members of the Progressive Labor Movement, the Harlem Defense Council, and the Community Council on Housing which was granted on July 24, 1964. The injunction prohibited them from demonstrating in a specified area of New York City. b6 b7C

[redacted] said the Corporation Counsel's petition was based on fact that racial tensions in the City have lessened. The date for the hearing on the petition is set for September 22, 1964.

In "The Saturday Evening Post", issue of July 11-18, 1964, page 76, Bayard Rustin is the subject of a feature article captioned: "The Lone Wolf of Civil Rights". In it, Rustin is said to have come to New York in 1938, as an organizer for the Young Communist League (YCL), and as such, he had the job of recruiting students for the "Party". Furthermore, the article reports that during his first years in New York, Rustin gave most of his earnings to the "Party". He reportedly left the "Party" in 1941, the article states.

The YCL has been designated pursuant to Executive Order 10450. (U)

The "Daily Worker", February 11, 1957, page 1, column 2, reported that Bayard Rustin, Executive Secretary, War Resisters League, was an observer at the 16th National Convention of the Communist Party, United States of America (CP, USA), held in New York City, on February 9-12, 1957.

The "Daily Worker" was an East Coast Communist publication until it ceased publication on January 13, 1958.

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on September 25, 1963, that during a meeting of the National Board, CP, USA, on that date, Benjamin J. Davis remarked that, "Rustin calls me constantly--openly". (X)(U)

Another confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on February 19, 20, 1964, that Bayard Rustin contacted Benjamin J. Davis on those dates and sought his advice as to how he could escape from a speaking engagement to which he was committed. On the latter contact, Davis told Rustin that he was working on his request and had contacted friends who had contacts with the group to which Rustin was to speak.

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on January 21, 1964, that as of that date, Benjamin J. Davis was National Secretary of the CP, USA (X)(U)

"The New York Times", August 24, 1964, page 27, column 4, reports that Benjamin J. Davis, National Secretary, CP, USA, died in New York City on the night of August 22, 1964.

Gandhi Society for Human Rights, 15 East 40th Street, New York City.

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on February 26, 1957, that he had identified a photograph of [redacted] as a person whom he knew during late 1953 or early 1954 to be a member of and in a position of leadership in the Labor Youth League (LYL). ~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

The LYL has been designated pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

On November 28, 1960, a confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that Jesse Gray is a former organizer of the Harlem Region of the CPUSA.

N.Y.

On January 24, 1964, the same source advised that according to William Patterson, Chairman of the New York District CP, Jesse Gray is no longer a CP member, but is friendly to the CP. (X)(U)

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on December 4, 1961, that as of November 1961, William Epton was a member of the Harlem Regional Committee of the New York State CP.

According to the same source, who advised on November 16, 1962, William Epton ceased to be an active participant in the CP during the winter of 1961-1962. He then became active in the Progressive Labor Movement (PLM)

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised in September, 1963, that William Epton was the PLM candidate for City Councilman at large in the 1963 election in New York City.

A characterization of PLM is attached hereto.

"The Worker", issue of January 7, 1962, page 10, column 3, reported the expulsion of Milton Rosen, former Labor Secretary of the New York State CP from the CPUSA.

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised in November, 1963, that Milton Rosen was National Chairman of the PLM as of that time.

Communist Influence in Racial Matters

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

With regard to the Harlem Defense Council which was mentioned earlier in the letterhead memorandum, a confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on July 29, 1964, the Harlem Defense Council was a front organization of the PIM.

This is a follow-up of information previously reported by Bayard Rustin concerning possible identities of persons he believed to be instigators of riots in New York. In a discussion between Rustin and an unidentified male, the unidentified male asked if Rustin was aware of any criticism by A. J. Muste regarding Rustin's having given information to the FBI. In defense Rustin stated "Where you are sincerely of the opinion that people are about to go into Washington, D. C., and blow up the place and create a real racial crisis ... do you think I was wrong?" It appears that the term "blow up the place" may have been a figure of speech. Rustin did not identify the people. Rustin previously reported to us information regarding individuals and cars of persons he believed involved in inciting riots but did not furnish any information indicating they were about to "blow up the place." New York has been instructed to recontact Rustin regarding this entire matter.

[redacted] made the statement the City will dissolve injunctions against "them." This probably refers to injunctions outstanding against Jesse Gray, Milton Rosen, William Epton and organizations they represent, by City authorities, against demonstrating. New York City Police Department records indicate corporation counsel petitioned court to dissolve injunctions because racial tensions have eased.

NATIONAL CONVENTION OF SOUTHERN CHRISTIAN LEADERSHIP CONFERENCE (SCLC), SAVANNAH, GEORGIA, SEPTEMBER 29, 1964 - OCTOBER 2, 1964

October 1, 1964

Chief of Police Leo B. Ryan, Savannah, Georgia, advised on October 2, 1964, that on October 1, 1964, the Eighth Annual Convention of the SCLC continued at Savannah, Georgia.

The SCLC activities during the day commenced with panel discussions and workshops at the St. Paul CME Church, 1601 Barnard Street, Savannah, Georgia. These discussions concerned "new directions in SCLC programing", which included talks of possible demonstrations, if necessary, at courthouses, city halls, and those places where the center of government is located.

Harry Golden, Editor, "Carolina Israelite", Charlotte, North Carolina, addressed the group, pointing out the importance and the influence of voting and political action.

According to Chief of Police Love, Chatham County Police Department, Savannah, Georgia, a barbecue was held by the SCLC at Sportsmen's Park, Chatham County, and that there were no incidents, violence, demonstrations or arrests.

Chief of Police Leo B. Ryan advised that the city-wide mass meeting scheduled to be held at Grayson Stadium at 8:00 PM

NATIONAL CONVENTION OF SOUTHERN CHRISTIAN LEADERSHIP CONFERENCE,
SEPTEMBER 29, 1964 - OCTOBER 2, 1964

was relocated from Grayson Stadium to the St. Paul CME Church, Savannah, Georgia, due to rain, and Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., President of the SCLC, spoke at this meeting.

The "Savannah Morning News", a daily newspaper published in Savannah, Georgia, in its edition of October 2, 1964, carried an article which related that Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., speaking at the St. Paul CME Church during the evening of October 1, 1964, contended that the election of Senator Barry Goldwater to the presidency would ultimately move the nation "down a dangerous, dark Fascistic path". He went on to say that it is "too risky to put a man in office... who talks so lightly and irresponsibly about war". King claimed that Goldwater does not understand the plight of poverty-stricken Americans. "Goldwaterism", Dr. King said, "passes by every day looking at people but failing to see them". The article related that Dr. King spoke to an overflow audience at St. Paul CME Church.

King noted that "approximately 40,000 (Negro) votes were added in the state of Georgia. Perhaps the two most outstanding efforts in the South were held in Atlanta and Savannah". He noted that "the Georgia registration of Negro voters now stands near the 300,000 mark, and this has removed Georgia from the Dixiecrat camp".

Dr. King, according to the article, repeated again and again his theme that the key to the Civil Rights Movement is non-violence, noting a warning that this past year the first serious threat to non-violence was the tempers and frustrations of northern ghettos.

He defined SCLC's Operation Breadbasket as a "program which calls for support of those businesses that will give a fair share of the jobs and economic withdrawal from those businesses that have discriminatory policies". King stressed that "when it is appropriate we will encourage sit-ins, pray-ins, boycotts, picket lines, marches, civil disobedience and any form of protest and demonstrations that are non-violently conceived and executed. At the same time we recognize that the right of assembly and protest is a relative right subject to regulations to protect the rights of others", and he added that "no citizen has the right to engage in rioting, civil disorder, or hooliganism in a democracy, no matter how grave his grievances".

Chief of Police Leo B. Ryan advised that the meeting broke up at approximately 11:45 PM and there were no incidents, violence, demonstrations or arrests reported to the Savannah, Georgia, Police Department concerning the day's activites at Savannah relating to the SCLC Convention.

9/29 - 10/2/64

On October 1, 1964, Carl Braden remained close to the Manger Hotel, the headquarters of the Eighth Annual Convention of the SCLC. During the afternoon of October 1, 1964, he remained in or near his room confering with other individuals, the identities of whom are not known.

About 12:20 AM on October 2, 1964, Braden was observed to drive up in front of the Manger Hotel in a late model Ford Galaxie, faded light gray or light blue in color, bearing Jefferson County, Kentucky, license plates, J92-994, and after alighting therefrom, entered the Hotel.

CARL BRADEN

Mrs. Alberta Ahearn, 2311 Payne Street, Louisville, Kentucky, a self-admitted former member of the Communist Party (CP), Louisville, Kentucky, in testifying on December 11 and 13, 1954, in Jefferson County, Kentucky, Criminal Court, in a state sedition prosecution against Carl James Braden, identified Braden as having been known to her as a member of the CP, Louisville, Kentucky, from January, 1951, to shortly prior to the time of her testimony.

The Courier-Journal, Louisville, Kentucky, a newspaper of general circulation, on February 3, 1959, reported that Carl Braden had been sentenced to one year in prison on a charge of contempt of Congress on February 2, 1959, in Atlanta, Georgia. The story noted that he had been convicted under this charge on January 21, 1959, and that the charges arose from his refusal to answer questions before the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

This document contains neither recommendations nor conclusions of the FBI. It is the property of the FBI and is loaned to your agency; it and its contents are not to be distributed outside your agency.

ENCLOSURE

100-442529-

The Louisville Times, Louisville, Kentucky, a newspaper of general circulation, on February 27, 1961, reported that the United States Supreme Court had, on that date, affirmed the contempt of Congress conviction of Braden.

The Courier-Journal on May 2, 1961, reported that Carl Braden had surrendered to the United States Marshal at Atlanta, Georgia, on May 1, 1961, to begin serving a one-year prison sentence for contempt of Congress.

The Courier-Journal, on February 2,1962, reported that Carl Braden had been released from the Federal Prison Camp at Allenwood, Pennsylvania, on February 1, 1962. Braden inidcated that he would return to his home, Louisville, Kentucky.

Confidential Source 1 advised that Carl Braden continues to reside at 4403 Virginia Avenue and is still employed as Field Secretary for the Southern Conference Educational Fund, Inc. (SCEF).

SOUTHERN CONFERENCE EDUCATIONAL FUND, INC.

"The Southern Patriot", a monthly publication, shows that it is published by the SOUTHERN CONFERENCE EDUCATIONAL FUND, INC. (SCEF).

"The Southern Patriot" was cited as an "organ" of the SOUTHERN CONFERENCE FOR HUMAN WELFARE (SCHW) by the Committee on Un-American Activities, House Report 592, of the SCHW, June 12, 1947.

The SCHW was cited as a communist front by the Committee on Un-American Activities, House Report 592, June 16, 1947.

An amendment to the charter of the SCHW changed the name of that organization to the SCEF, and listed its purpose as being to improve the educational and cultural standards of the Southern people in accordance with the highest American democratic institutions, traditions, and ideals. The amendment was dated April 26, 1946.

A source advised on March 2, 1961, that CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT, a Communist Party functionary, stated at a meeting of the Communist Party in Baltimore, Maryland, on February 25, 1961, that the Communist Party is not connected with any progressive movement but indirectly they do have some influence in the SCEF.

A second source, who is familiar with some phases of Communist Party activity in the New Orleans area, advised on May 27, 1963, that during the time the SCHW was in existence, Communist Party (CP) members were members of and worked actively in the SCHW. However, since the formation of the SCEF, rank and file CP members have not been encouraged to work in the SCEF. The source stated that the SCEF is a progressive, liberal organization, which he considers a CP front organization because it has gone along with the Communist Party on certain issues, particularly on the racial question.

On May 27, 1963, the second source advised that in the past he has considered [redacted] of the SCEF, to be a communist, if not an actual Communist Party member, because he followed communist principles. b6 b7C

The second source also advised on May 27, 1963, that many people who are officials and members of the SCEF, while liberal in their views, are by no means communists.

9/29 - 10/2/64

On September 29, 1964, at about 1:15 PM, Carl Braden was observed in the coffee shop of the Manger Hotel, Savannah, Georgia, in company with another white male approximately of the same age and height. At the time Braden was observed to have a stack of letters and mail on the table and he appeared to be writing something on a pad of paper. During the time of the observations, Braden was wearing on the left lapel of his suit coat an SCLC button to which was attached a red ribbon bearing the word "Press", running vertical on the ribbon. At about 2:30 PM, Braden, accompanied by the other individual, paid the check and they were observed to enter the elevator in the Manger Hotel. From the automatic floor indicator above the elevator, it was ascertained that they stopped on the fourth floor.

About 3 PM, Braden and the other unidentified individual were observed to leave the elevator, walk through the lobby of the Manger Hotel and request a vehicle. During the time they were waiting for the vehicle to be delivered, Martin Luther King, accompanied by other unidentified individuals, stopped in front of the Hotel and departed from the car. Braden was observed to shake hands with King [redacted] b6 b7C

Shortly thereafter, a late model Ford Galaxie, faded light gray or light blue in color was observed to pull up in front of the Manger Hotel and Braden was observed to enter the car as the driver. The other unidentified individual climbed in the front seat along side of Braden. Upon departing from the hotel, the above vehicle was observed to bear Jefferson County, Kentucky, license J92-994.

TO : Director, Federal Bureau of Investigation

DATE: September 16, 1964

FROM : Nicholas deB. Katzenbach, Acting Attorney General

SUBJECT: Communist Party, USA
Negro Question
Communist Influence in Racial Matters
Internal Security - C

b6
b7C

This is in reply to your memoranda of July 25 and September 11, 1964, in which you requested advice as to whether the information which you have furnished indicates a violation of Federal law on the part of Jesse Williard Gray, [redacted] William Epton, Conrad Lynn, [redacted] and James Shabazz.

We note from the investigative reports that these men, who represent four different organizations, have made statements which reflect their sanction of acts of violence committed against legally constituted authority. [redacted] and Shabazz have commented with approval on the recent riots in New York City and have suggested, inter alia, that Negroes should arm themselves, that force should be used against the New York City police and that additional incidents should be created to enlist more adherents to their ranks. The statements made by Gray are more positive in appealing for violence while Epton has on one occasion specifically commented on the necessity to overthrow the government by force.

However, the results of the investigation conducted thus far have failed to disclose so immediate and direct a call for overt action to be taken in an effort to accomplish the overthrow of the Government as to fall under the relevant statutes as construed. The evidence so far available does not sufficiently disclose a concerted plan advocating that action be taken to attain the overthrow of the Government as soon as circumstances will permit. Although some of the statements made advocate violence, they could reasonably be construed as being more in the nature of inciting local disorder rather than as exhortations to revolution. Nor does the evidence disclose a conspiratorial nexus among these men or the organization to which some belong.

As you know, Section 2384 of Title 18 makes it an offense for persons to conspire to "overthrow . . . or to destroy by force the Government of the United States . . ." while Section 2385 of Title 18 prohibits advocating or teaching the overthrow of "the Government of the United States or the government of any State, Territory, District or Possession thereof, or the government of any political subdivision therein by force or violence . . ."

Viewing the evidence in light of these criteria, it is our opinion that it is currently insufficient to warrant undertaking prosecutive action for a violation of these sections. However, in light of the existence of statements indicating a predilection to violence and the call for the overthrow of the Government, it is requested that your investigation be continued, especially with respect to the activities of William Epton.

100-442529-114

Re New York 1et 9/23/64 captioned "CIRM, IS-C," copy to Atlanta, which advised of information obtained from NY 694-S* to the effect that Martin Luther King, Jr., had dropped Stanley David Levison as an advisor as a result of an exposure of their relationship by columnist Joseph Alsop. It was also reported that Levison had informed Party functionary Lem Harris that he, Levison, went to the National Jewish Committee (NJC) in an effort to work his way back into the racial field following his dismissal by King. Levison is reported as having sold the NJC on the idea of a small businessmen's committee which is composed of whites and Negroes whose purpose is to aid Negro people to get into small businesses. The NJC is headed by Levison and has an appropriation of $100,000. (S) (U)

It appears obvious, on the basis of the information furnished by NY 694-S*, that King's action to dismiss Levison as an advisor was done not because Levison is a communist, but only because King found it expedient to do so on the basis of the Alsop exposure. It may therefore be expected that Levison will again find his way to furnishing advice to King and such advice will be received and even sought by King. Receiving offices should therefore be extremely alert in the investigation not only of captioned matter, but of King and Levison, as well as their frequent intermediary, Clarence Jones, to any available information developed bearing upon the King-Levison relationship. RACIAL MATTERS

A source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised, on July 2, 1964, that there had been discussion by Seattle Communist Party (CP) members of the Mississippi Summer Project. It was stated that a parents organization had been created in the campus area. This organization was made up of the parents and spouses of persons who have participated in the Mississippi Summer Project. Most of these people had not been involved in any mass activities previously. It was stated these people were confining their efforts to writing letters to congressmen and other means of publicity. It was stated they hope to establish a news letter in which they would print letters sent from their relatives in the south. This organization was reported to have been created by [redacted] a professor at the University of Washington. [redacted] was named as a person who was giving support to this organization. NATIONAL COMMITTEE TO ABOLISH THE HOUSE UN-AMERICAN ACTIVITIES COMMITTEE

The "Guide to Subversive Organizations and Publications" issued December 1, 1961, by the Committee on Un-American Activities, U.S. House of Representatives, page 115, contains the following citation regarding the National Committee to Abolish the Un-American Activities Committee (NCAUAC).

"Cited as a 'new organization' set up in the Summer of 1960 to lead and direct the Communist Party's 'Operation Abolition' campaign. Seven of the national leaders of this group have been identified as Communists."

(Committee on Un-American Activities, House Report 1278 on the Truth About the Film "Operation Abolition," Part 1, October 3, 1961, p. 5.)

A source has advised that the NCAUAC changed its name on March 3, 1962, to include the word "House" in its name, thereby becoming known as the National Committee to Abolish the House Un-American Activities Committee (NCAHUAC). A national meeting of this organization was held in Chicago, Illinois, on April 27 and 28, 1963.

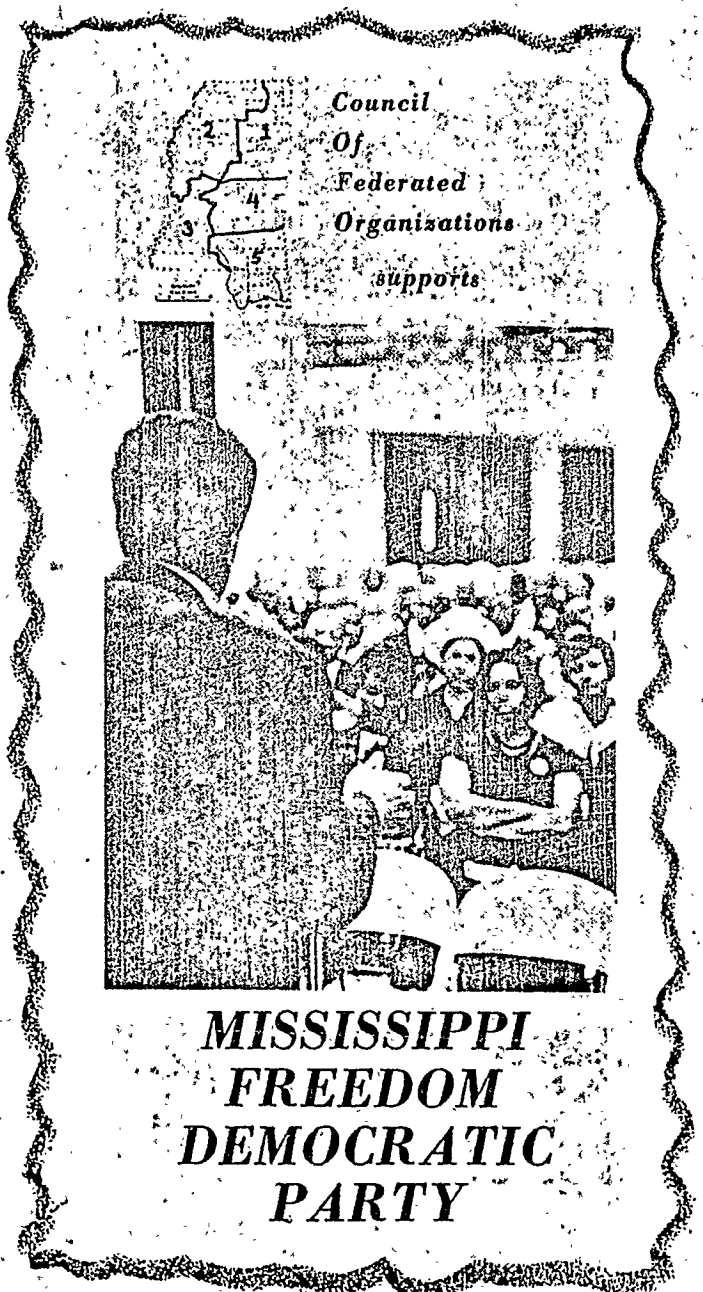
Mississippi Faces Challenge

"Freedom Democrats" to challenge Mississippi Delegation at National Convention



The colorful Boardwalk in Atlantic City will be crowded this August with more than two thousand delegates and alternates to the Democratic National Convention. Newsmen, tourists, and politicians of all shapes and sizes will pack into the massive Convention Hall for the quadrennial rite of picking a Presidential ticket and writing a party platform.

Among the throng in Atlantic City will be a small but determined band of whites and Negroes from the troubled state of Mississippi. Under the banner of the Mississippi Freedom Democratic Party, they will try to unseat the all-white delegation from Mississippi picked in meetings from which Negroes have been excluded.

There is an element of drama in this struggle, for the Freedom Democrats face heavy odds in their fight for recognition as the official delegation from Mississippi. Who are the Freedom Democrats, and why will they go to Atlantic City with their appeal to the convention?

Mississippi has not always been the scene of bitter-end struggles and politics built on racism. One of the stalwarts of Roosevelt's New Deal bloc in Congress was Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi, and until 1960 the liberal Frank Smith was a respected member of Congress. But Mississippi lost a Congresional seat that year, and the powers-that-be defeated Smith, who now serves on the board of the TVA.

Negroes have not been welcome at the polls in Mississippi for many years, and a combination of poll taxes, fear, and discriminatory voting tests have kept them from voting. As a consequence, less than 7 percent of the eligible Negroes in the state are registered to vote.

In 1962, although they were shut out of both parties, Negroes and a handful of sympathetic whites decided to set up their own political structure. On an unofficial "Freedom Ballot" held in churches and stores, 83,000 Negroes voted for Aaron Henry for Governor and Edwin King for Lieutenant Governor. Henry, a Negro pharmacist and state president of the NAACP, and King, a young white minister who is chaplain of Tougaloo College compaigned through Mississippi on a civil rights and anti-poverty platform.

Last April 26, under the direction of the Council of Federated Organizations (COFO), a committee of all the civil rights groups in the state, 200 delegates met in Jackson to establish the Freedom Democratic Party. They contended that Mississippi had no real Democratic Party, since the state Democrats had repudiated the national party (see excerpt from the platform shown here), and decided to register voters and run candidates on their own.

Four Freedom Democratic candidates ran in the recent Democratic primaries in Mississippi. The four, three running for the House and one for the Senate, all lost, but they intend to run in the general election under the Freedom Democratic banner. One candidate, Mrs. Fannie Lou Hamer of Ruleville—home of Sen. James Eastland—told a meeting in Washington last month that the day after she tried to register to vote, her husband was fired from his job in retaliation.

Sitting in the hot, bustling office of the Freedom Democrats in Washington, one leader told the Washington Report that progress is being made in the national convention challenge. He pointed to a resolution of the Democratic National Committee that delegates must be "bona fide Democrats who have the interests, welfare and success of the Democratic Party at heart," and argued that this disqualifies the present Mississippi delegates. In his 1963 campaign, Gov. Paul Johnson said that his party "long ago separated itself from the National Democratic Party. . . ."

The Freedom Democrats are busily rounding up support for their convention challenge. Buttonholing delegates from Northern states and attending state Democratic conventions, they have already been assured of support from Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, New York, California, and Massachusetts.

But the tough fight will be in the credentials committee at the convention, on which each state has two members. They hope to get the needed backing of at least 10 percent on the credentials committee, and the support of 8 or more states for a roll-call on the credentials challenge on the floor.

Rev. John Cameron, young Hattiesburg minister, is Freedom Democratic candidate in 4th district of Mississippi.

Negroes in Mississippi are slowly making progress toward racial equality, but as the headlines show almost every day, they face bitter resistance from many quarters. Most of all, they want political equality; the right to register, vote and take part in the political process. The Freedom Democrats want to support national candidates and goals.

Atlantic City will be crowded this August, and the eyes of the nation will be focused on Convention Hall. In the Hall and up and down the boardwalk, serious Negroes and whites from Mississippi will be collaring delegates from other states, arguing that their color or support of civil rights not bar them from the convention in place of a delegation determined to oppose civil rights. The time has come, they will say, for Mississippi to rejoin the union of states. They are determined, and the convention will have to listen to them.

WAYNESBORO, Miss. (Special) — The Wayne County Democratic convention was held here at the Court House and delegates elected to represent Wayne County in the District and State Convention were James Mashburn, Henry W. Odom, S. C. Kennedy, and Rab Sanderson.

The Convention adopted a resolution that the delegates to the District and State Convention would be instructed to vote for and support only those persons were pledged to bring about the complete defeat of Lyndon Baines Johnson.

The States Speak Out

Wisconsin . . .

Whereas: the Democratic Party of Wisconsin is firmly committed to the principle of one man, one vote; and, . . .

Whereas: in certain states, such as Mississippi, delegates are elected by a non-representative white minority; . . .

Be it . . . resolved: that the Wisconsin delegation to the Democratic National Convention be urged to support the accreditation of the Freedom Delegation as an expression of our support for the principle of one man, one vote and to encourage those who are working for voter registration of a disfranchised Negro minority.

Michigan . . .

Whereas: the traditional Democratic Party of Mississippi is undemocratically constituted in that it discriminates against large numbers of citizens; and . . .

Whereas: a Freedom Democratic Party is being established in the state of Mississippi which is open to all citizens regardless of race and which will support the national platform and candidates; . . . now, therefore, be it

Resolved: that this Convention instructs the Michigan delegation at the forthcoming national convention to take all appropriate action to seat the delegates from the Freedom Democratic Party of Mississippi. . . .

Minnesota . . .

Whereas: the traditional Democratic Party of Mississippi is a totally segregated party which does not permit hundreds of thousands of Negro citizens in Mississippi to vote or otherwise participate in its affairs; . . .

Therefore, be it resolved that this convention instructs the Minnesota delegation to the forthcoming Democratic National Convention . . . to consider the request to seat the delegates of the Freedom Democratic Party with sympathy. . . .

The Jackson Office has substantially completed an analysis involving the degree of communist infiltration into the Mississippi Summer Project. Of the reported 700 volunteer workers who came into Mississippi during the summer of 1964, a total of 189 have been found to have subversive references.

It is pointed out that many of the alleged 700 people who came to Mississippi during the summer of 1964 as of this time have not been completely identified. It can be anticipated that a number of others with subversive backgrounds are in the State and will eventually be fully identified.

[redacted] b6 b7C came to Mississippi to aid in defending the civil rights workers under the sponsorship of the NLG, Detroit Chapter.

As the Bureau is aware, the parent organization of the Mississippi Summer Project was the Council of Federated Organizations (COFO) and included such other organizations as the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee (SNCC), Congress of Racial Equality (CORE), and to a lesser extent, the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP). Other groups which participated on a cooperative basis were Medical Committee for Human Rights (MCHR), and Lawyers Constitutional Defense Committee (LCDC). As will be noted from a review of the enclosed material, many of the persons coming to Mississippi under the sponsorship of the latter two organizations were hard core communists.

COFO, together with SNCC and CORE, continue to maintain headquarters in various areas of the State and have advised that a program which started as the Mississippi Summer Project will continue indefinitely. Undoubtedly some of the hard core communists will remain in the State in an effort to influence the program of these organizations and lay the groundwork for an even greater participation by CP influenced groups in the future.

Jackson has noted that the operations of COFO, CORE and SNCC appeared to be somewhat disorganized, and that many of the persons with subversive backgrounds were able to work themselves into key positions, particularly communications officers at the various headquarters where they would be in a position to keep themselves informed of all activities. Complaints of alleged violations within the FBI jurisdiction were normally received from the various communications officers, many of which were determined to be unfounded, resulting in a loss of manpower which could have been otherwise occupied.

Although information available to Jackson reflects that the New York Office is possibly conducting an investigation titled Communist Infiltration of the Congress of Racial Equality, and Atlanta is conducting a similar investigation of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee, Jackson has no pertinent information concerning these investigations of the Bureau's instructions relating thereto.

In order to adequately discharge our responsibilities in the internal security field, it appears necessary for this office to develop sources in a position to furnish information as to the degree of communist infiltration in the Mississippi Summer Porject as well as the continued racial activity in this State. It is anticipated that this project will be handled under the CIRM caption but will require development of sources within such organizations as COFO, CORE and SNCC, including consideration of confidential investigative techniques, there being no known communist organizations or communist front organizations operating within the State of Mississippi.

Since Jackson must work from the ground up on this project, separate security files are being opened on each person having subversive background for the purpose of ascertaining their degree of involvement in the racial movement within the State of Mississippi, and whether they have remained in Mississippi or returned to their homes.

b7C

Sally Belfrage was interviewed by Mike Wallace on Channel 13, WNTA - TV on Thursday, April 9, 1959, 10:30 a.m., to 11:00 p.m. at which time he stated in his interview, "You went to Russia as part of the American Delegation to the Moscow Youth Festival" to which Belfrage concurred. Wallace also stated ,"You have been exposed to certain extremes. You were the American-born daughter of Cedric Belfrage, a British subject who edited the left-wing 'National Guardian' magazine here in America, and who was deported -- your father was deported in 1955, after refusing to tell a Senate Subcommittee whether he was or had been a Communist Party member".

Characterizations of the Moscow Youth Festival (under caption "Sixth World Youth Festival") and of the "National Guardian" are attached hereto.

The "New York Times", issue of August 15, 1957, listed Sally Belfrage as one of 41 Americans who left for China from Moscow on August 14, 1957.

APPENDIX

SIXTH WORLD YOUTH FESTIVAL

The April 29, 1957 issue of "The New Leader", a weekly publication of the American Labor Conference on International Affairs, pages eight and nine, carried an article entitled "Moscow's Youth Festival". The article stated that communist parties and fronts throughout the world were trying to bring 30,000 young people to Moscow for the Sixth Festival of Youth and Students for Peace and Friendship, a biennial communist charivari which has taken place in Iron Curtain cities since 1947. The article stated that during the two weeks of the Festival, the Kremlin would under-take to prove to thousands of young people from the free world that the future belongs to Soviet Communism. The article concluded by stating that the few million dollars which the Kremlin and its satellite countries were raising for this festival would probably be one of their cheapest investments in terms of political dividends.

The "Daily Worker", an East Coast Communist newspaper which ceased publication on January 13, 1958, issue of May 3, 1957, page two, carried an article concerning the Moscow Sixth International Youth Festival, which stated that the Festival is scheduled to be held in Moscow from July 28, 1957, to August 11, 1957, and that the Russians expect some 35,000 visitors from 120 nations to attend.

Chief of Police Leo B. Ryan, Savannah, Ga., on September 29, 1964, advised that the Eighth Annual Convention of the SCLC began that day at Savannah, Ga. Registration of members was held at the Butler Presbyterian Church at Savannah, Ga. A city-wide mass meeting was held at the First African Baptist Church with Wyatt Tee Walker, Vice President, Educational Heritage, Inc., New York, presiding. It was announced at this meeting that registration would continue and the headquarters for the convention would be St. Paul CME Church, 1601 Barnard St., Savannah, Ga. Chief Ryan advised that the city-wide mass meeting broke up at approximately 11:45 PM and there were no incidents, arrests, violence or demonstrations at this time in Savannah, Ga. He advised, however, that [redacted] at the DeSoto Hotel, Savannah, Ga., where the annual banquet will be held on September 30, 1964, and [redacted] at the Oglethorpe Club, Savannah, Ga., both received warnings not to serve Negroes. b6 b7C

The "Savannah Morning News", a daily newspaper published in Savannah, Ga., carried an article in its edition of September 30, 1964, which reported that the Savannah, Ga. Police Department received two complaints concerning telephone warnings, advising that [redacted] at the DeSoto Hotel, reported that a caller had told him around 9:30 PM, Monday, September 28, 1964, that he would "get him" if he served Negroes. [redacted] at the Oglethorpe Club, Savannah, Ga., advised the Police Department that at about 11:00 AM. September 29, 1964, he received a call that if he helped [redacted] serve at the banquet of the SCLC at the Hotel DeSoto, he [redacted] would get "busted up". According to the article, both men said the caller sounded either like a white female or a man with a feminine voice. b6 b7C

Dr. Martin Luther King, President, SCLC, held a press conference at Savannah, Ga., September 29, 1964, stating that the Negro vote in the south and in the nation could provide a "margin of victory" for President Johnson in November. He announced that leaders of national Negro organizations will actively participate in the campaign.

Dr. King announced that plans are being made for an "all out effort" during October to promote a larger Negro vote "than ever before" throughout the nation. He pointed out that in the south the number of registered Negroes has doubled from about 1,000,000 to over 2,000,000 since 1960, and this addition will be "the turning point" in the general election on "whether Goldwater or the President will carry the south".

Dr. King labeled Repbulicans under their banner of Barry Goldwater a "lilly white party" filled with "reactionaries and malcontents". He stated that the nomination of Goldwater has turned the Democratic Party more toward liberalism. King advised that the Eighth Annual Convention of the SCLC at Savannah will concern the vital issues facing the nation in general and the Civil Rights movement in particular, including an analysis of the passage of the Civil Rights Bill. He announced that future moves will be toward dropping racial barriers in the areas of housing, "defacto desegregation of schools", and job discrimination.

Dr. King said the "problem states" of Mississippi and Alabama will be the scenes of "concentrated work" by Negro organizations. He said he hopes difficulties can be solved in the courts rather than on the streets, but charged that in some instances Federal judges have "entered into a conspiracy" with local leadership to delay Civil Rights procedures, thereby abusing the judicial process", and making way for possible "massive demonstrations".

He stated that Savannah has in integration matters "moved in a very reasonable manner" and is "one of the most desegregated cities in the deep south". He said Savannah's compliance with the Civil Rights Law is "very encouraging".

He further announced that the greatest obstacle to the Civil Rights movement today is "economic deprivation" through many forces such as automation and discrimination, causing joblessness and "hard core poverty".

He said there would be a push toward a minimum wage law in Georgia and throughout the nation, and that this will be "very important in the next few years to the Civil Rights movement".

He said the Negro organizations will move toward a greater alliance with the labor movement to combat joblessness among both Negroes and whites with a "dual united thrust".

He stated that the President's war on poverty (economic opportunity law) is the "first step in a thousand mile journey" and it would take a ten-year fifty-billion dollar program "to make a dent in ridding the nation" of the problems of poverty.

On recent rioting and looting in the northern cities, Dr. King stated that he believes they were "spontaneous" and grew out of conditions of poverty and hopelessness. He condemned the "violence and looting", but said it points up the vital need to "rid the nation of these social conditions".

He stated the convention's theme is "new directions" and during the four days of workshops to be held, topics will be an assessment of the Civil Rights movement since passage of the Civil Rights Law.

NATIONAL CONVENTION OF
9/29 - 10/2/64

At the city-wide mass meeting held at the First African Baptist Church, AFL-CIO President, A. PHILLIP RANDOLPH and JAMES FARMER, Director of the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE), were featured speakers who traced the history of the Civil Rights movement and highlighted the necessity of Negro unity and education in the political and labor fields.

CARL and ANNE BRADEN

Mrs. ALBERTA AHEARN, 2311 Payne Street, Louisville, Kentucky, a self-admitted former member of the Communist Party (CP), Louisville, Kentucky, in testifying on December 11 and 13, 1964, in Jefferson County, Kentucky, Criminal Court, in a state sedition prosecution against CARL JAMES BRADEN, identified BRADEN and his wife, ANNE BRADEN, as having been known to her as members of the CP, Louisville, Kentucky, from January, 1951, to shortly prior to the time of her testimony.

The Courier-Journal, Louisville, Kentucky, a newspaper of general circulation, on February 3, 1959, reported that CARL BRADEN had been sentenced to one year in prison on a charge of contempt of Congress on February 2, 1959, in Atlanta, Georgia. The story noted that he had been convicted under this charge on January 21, 1959, and that the charges arose from his refusal to answer questions before the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

The Louisville Times, Louisville, Kentucky, a newspaper of general circulation, on February 27, 1961, reported that the United States Supreme Court had, on that date, affirmed the contempt of Congress conviction of BRADEN.

The Courier-Journal on May 2, 1961, reported that CARL BRADEN had surrendered to the United States Marshal at Atlanta, Georgia, on May 1, 1961, to begin serving a one-year prison sentence for contempt of Congress.

The Courier-Journal, on February 2, 1962, reported that CARL BRADEN had been released from the Federal Prison Camp at Allenwood, Pennsylvania, on February 1, 1962. BRADEN indicated that he would return to his home, Louisville, Kentucky.

Confidential Source 3 advised that CARL BRADEN and his wife, ANN BRADEN, continue to reside at 4403 Virginia Avenue and are still employed as Field Secretaries for the Southern Conference Educational Fund, Inc., (SCEF).

A characterization of SCEF is attached hereto.

SECURITY MATTER - COMMUNIST

We have just learned that Martin Luther King, Jr., and some of his advisors, including Bayard Rustin and Clarence Jones, are working on an article which is to be submitted over King's name for publication in "The Saturday Evening Post." The article would deal with such matters as the poverty bill, elections, riots and the so-called "backlash" that is cropping up in political circles. The only publication known to be considered for this article to date is "The Saturday Evening Post." We do not as yet know specifically what line King will take in the article or what its specific stands will be. The matter of this article is scheduled for further discussion by King and his advisors on 9/22/64 in New York City. This information is classified "Secret."

OBSERVATIONS:

Because of the communist influences on King it would be well to prevent any publication of his views. It is noted that earlier this year we had some advance information on the possibility of a King article being published by "The Saturday Evening Post." On that occasion Assistant Director DeLoach's office was able to take appropriate action to forestall the publication of the article. This was handled by Supervisor William Stapleton, who has an appropriate contact at "The Saturday Evening Post."

DECLASSIFIED BY SP4J RM/LL

ACTION:

We have separately made appropriate dissemination of the information concerning King's intentions to have an article published in "The Saturday Evening Post" and have also written the Atlanta and New York Offices to remain on top of the situation so that the Bureau will be promptly furnished further developments in this matter.

RECOMMENDATION:

SEP 11 8 58 AM '64

This memorandum be routed to Assistant Director DeLoach for appropriate action in accordance with the observations set out above.

More recent information has just been received to the effect that a John Hunt of "The Saturday Evening Post" has already been in contact with King concerning material being prepared for the "Post." Also, King and some of his advisors are to meet briefly on the late afternoon of 9/11/64 while King is waiting at the airport in New York City for a flight overseas. They are to further discuss the article in question.

In light of the latest information, it is suggested that if any action is taken by Mr. DeLoach, it be done as soon as possible so that it would be less difficult for "Post" people to take the action desired.

NATIONAL CONVENTION OF
(SCLC), SAVANNAH, GEORGIA,
9/29 - 10/2/64

September 30, 1964

Chief of Police Leo B. Ryan, Savannah, Georgia, on October 1, 1964, advised that on September 30, 1964, the Eighth Annual Convention of the SCLC continued at Savannah, Georgia.

Concerning telephone threats that had been reported by [redacted] at the DeSoto Hotel, on September 28, 1964, and [redacted] at the Oglethorpe Club, Savannah, Georgia, on September 29, 1964, concerning their serving Negroes at the SCLC banquet held at the Hotel DeSoto on September 30, 1964, Chief Ryan advised as follows: b6 b7C

On September 30, 1964, [redacted] at the Hotel DeSoto, advised the Savannah Police Department that on September 29, 1964, at approximately 11:30 PM, he finished work at the Hotel DeSoto and left in his white cook's uniform and while walking to his vehicle on Harris Street to the rear of the Hotel DeSoto at Savannah, Georgia, three young white boys standing across the street were overheard to say "there is the chef", and as they approached him, he became alarmed and struck one with a metal box which he carries his supplies in and knocked this individual to the ground, after which he ran to his car and left the area. [redacted] stated that he could not describe all three of the white males, but believed that they were in their early twenties, dressed in sport shirts and slacks. The one that he struck he described as a white male, with brown hair and a blue checked sport shirt. None were wearing hats. He stated that he noted that this had not been reported to the Police Department until the following day after the incident had occurred.

Chief Ryan advised that the Savannah Police Department, on the evening of September 30, 1964, upon the completion of the SCLC banquet, escorted all chefs to their cars, without incident.

At approximately 7:20 PM on September 30, 1964, the telephone operator at the Hotel DeSoto, Savannah, Georgia, received an anonymous call stating that a bomb would go off at the Hotel at 8 o'clock and after a search by the Savannah Police Department and the Fire Department failed to locate any bomb, the banquet was held as scheduled without incident. Chief Ryan advised that during September 30, 1964, at Savannah, Georgia, no violence, arrests, incidents or demonstrations occurred at Savannah, Georgia, during the SCLC convention.

The SCLC activities during the day commenced at 8 AM with a breakfast and meeting of board members at the Hotel Manger, Savannah, Georgia. Reports from affiliates of the SCLC were heard during the day along with panel and workshop discussions concerning "New Directions in the Non-Violent Movement." At 8 PM the SCLC annual Freedom Banquet was held at the Hotel Desoto. Jackie Robinson, Chairman of the Board, Freedom National Bank, New York, was the principal speaker.

The Savannah Morning News, a daily newspaper published in Savannah, Georgia, in its edition of October 1, 1964, carried an article which related that Jackie Robinson had criticized Representative Adam Clayton Powell of New York during his speach at the SCLC banquet for not taking a more active stand on Civil Rights in Congress during recent years.

Robinson called Powell's alleged non-action the "real tragedy of our day" and added that a forthright stance by the Negro congressman would have meant that "many of the struggles that you face today wouldn't be as difficult as they are."

According to the article a capacity crowd of approximately 650 attended the banquet in the ballroom of the Hotel DeSoto. The article went on to state that Robinson declared that white Americans are "waiting for this dedicated leadership" from members of Congress. Robinson implored the nation's Negroes to defeat the Republican Presidential Candidate "in such a manner that we are through with Barry Goldwater from now on" and "every time a Negro stays home and says 'I can't vote for either candidate', it is a vote for Barry Goldwater." Robinson called Goldwater "just a small potato compared to Bill Miller." Robinson added that it scared him to think that Miller could conceivably be a heartbeat from the Presidency. Robinson praised Savannah's welcome and said "I can only hope that friendliness that we found in this area is an indication" of what will evolve on a national level. He said the "people here in Savannah are deserving of tremendous credit."

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on September 25, 1964, that Bayard Rustin (the organizer of the March on Washington, August, 1963) was in contact on that date with an unidentified woman. According to the source, they discussed a youth conference which was recently held in Washington, D.C. Rustin said the conference went off very well. (W) N.J.

Rustin told the woman that he also had a meeting at the A. Philip Randolph Institute (A. Philip Randolph, President of the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters, American Federation of Labor - Congress of Industrial Organizations, AFL-CIO). In that regard, he said he spoke with two men from the office of George Meany (President, AFL-CIO), who were very interested in the A. Philip Randolph Institute (Washington, D.C.). In view of Meany's interest, and the fact that he (Meany) was prepared to say that the AFL-CIO was willing to give $10,000, many other unions would fall into line, Rustin said. (W) U.S.A.

Continuing, Rustin said "they" wanted him to proceed vigorously to try to get the tax exemption (for the A. Philip Randolph Institute) because "they" said at the "present time"

Rustin was very high on both President Johnson's and Humphrey's list as a result of his work at Atlantic City, (during the National Democratic Convention). In view of that, Rustin said, he spoke to Joseph Rauh (Vice President of the Americans for Democratic Action, ADA, and General Counsel to the United Auto Workers, AFL-CIO), who said he was prepared to push the tax exemption through the Department of Justice. (U)

U.S.A.-

The same confidential source advised on September 25, 1964, that Bayard Rustin was in contact with Martin Luther King, Jr. (President, Southern Christian Leadership Conference, SCLC), on that date. Among the matters considered was a speaking engagement to which King is committed for Sunday, November 11, 1964, in Newark, New Jersey. In that regard, King said Don Newcombe (ex-major league baseball player) had contacted him about the engagement. He said he did not desire that his speech at the affair be a major speech because he had to speak in Brooklyn, New York, on the same date. (U)

U.S.A.-

Rustin told King of a request he had received from Leon Davis (President, Local 1199, Drug and Hospital Employees Union, Retail, Wholesale and Department Store Union, RWDSU, AFL-CIO), that King also speak in Newark on the same day. This speech, Rustin said, would be in behalf of hospital workers in Newark who Rustin said were having a hard time with an organizing drive. (U)

Leon J. Davis

D.C.

Rustin said that in addition to King's speech, that he (Rustin), A. Philip Randolph and others would be speaking as well. (U)

According to the source, King got an assurance from Rustin that he would not be speaking before a political gathering, but the affair would be concerned solely with the Negro struggle. Rustin promised to furnish King with additional details when he "arrived down there next week" (to attend the SCLC conference in Savannah, beginning on September 29, 1964). (U)

Communist Influence In Racial Matters

On September 26, 1964, the same source advised that Rustin was in contact with an unidentified woman on that date. Rustin related that he had recently talked with Dr. Logan (Dr. Arthur Logan, Chairman of the Board of Directors of the Haryou-Act), who informed him that he (Rustin) was being considered for an appointment to the Board of Directors of Haryou-Act. (U) U.S.A.

It should be noted that Haryou-Act is a combination of Harlem Youth Opportunities Unlimited and Associated Community Teams, whose purpose is to fight juvenile delinquency in Harlem.

The same source advised on September 27, 1964, that Bayard Rustin was in contact with an unidentified male on that date. Rustin said he was leaving New York City, on Tuesday, September 29, 1964, and would be gone for four days. But before he leaves the city, Rustin said he would write a statement endorsing Johnson (President Lyndon B. Johnson), which King would use under his own name. (U) Wash., D.C.

Rustin then talked about the A. Philip Randolph Institute, and in this regard, listed the names of the following, who he said would be advisors: Roy Wilkins (Executive Secretary, National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, NAACP); Martin Luther King, Jr. (President of the SCLC); Whitney Young (Executive Secretary, National Urban League), as well as others. Rustin said it was very important that the public see these civil rights leaders were aligned with the Institute. (U) U.S.A.

In continuing his concern for the Institute, Rustin said he was going to open an office in Harlem to handle the affairs of the Institute. He said the office would be opened in his name, not in the name of the Institute. (U)

During their contact, Rustin told of his recent appearance before a youth conference in Washington, D.C. He said he had learned in that regard that he had made a very favorable impression on representatives of the Labor Department (apparently referring to representatives attending the conference). (U)

Communist Influence In Racial Matters

In "The Saturday Evening Post", issue of July 11-18, 1964, page 76, Bayard Rustin is the subject of a feature article captioned: "The Lone Wolf of Civil Rights". In it, Rustin is said to have come to New York in 1938, as an organizer for the Young Communist League (YCL), and as such, he had the job of recruiting students for the "Party". Furthermore, the article reports that during his first years in New York, Rustin gave most of his earnings to the "Party". He reportedly left the "Party" in 1941, the article states.

The YCL has been designated pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

The "Daily Worker", February 11, 1957, page 1 column 2, reported that Bayard Rustin, Executive Secretary, War Resisters League, was an observer at the 16th National Convention of the Communist Party, United States of America (CP, USA), held in New York City, on February 9-12, 1957.

The "Daily Worker" was an East Coast Communist publication until it ceased publication on January 13, 1958.

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on September 25, 1963, that during a meeting of the National Board, CP, USA, on that date, Benjamin J. Davis remarked that, "Rustin calls me constantly--openly." (U)

Another confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on February 19, 20, 1964, that Bayard Rustin contacted Benjamin J. Davis on those dates (U)

and sought his advice as to how he could escape from a speaking engagement to which he was committed. On the latter contact, Davis told Rustin that he was working on his request and had contacted friends who had contacts with the group to which Rustin was to speak. X (U)

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on January 21, 1964, that as of that date, Benjamin J. Davis was National Secretary of the CP, USA. X (U)

"The New York Times", August 24, 1964, page 27, column 4, reports that Benjamin J. Davis, National Secretary, CP, USA, died in New York City on the night of August 22, 1964.

Communist Influence In Racial Matters

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on December 30, 1946, that Leon J. Davis was a member of the North Shore Section of the Communist Party in 1946, in Queens, New York.

On August 4, 1948, Davis testified before the House of Representatives, Special Subcommittee of the Committee on Education and Labor at Washington, D.C. At that time, Davis refused to answer when asked if he was then or ever had been a member of the Communist Party. In his testimony, he stated that the Communist Party was helpful to the labor movement in the United States.

ReBulet 10/7/64 which referred to recently developed information that Martin Luther King, Jr., allegedly dropped Stanley David Levison as an advisor after an April, 1964, exposure of their relationship by columnist Joseph Alsop. Inasmuch as it appeared obvious that such action on the part of King would have been taken only because it would have been expedient to do so and not necessarily because of Levison's communist background, receiving offices were instructed to be extremely alert in the investigation not only of captioned matter, but of King and Levison, as well as their frequent intermediary, [redacted] b6 b7C to any available information developed bearing upon the King-Levison relationship. (U)

New York airtel 9/30/64, copies to Atlanta, reported information obtained which revealed that as of 9/29/64 Levison was being consulted by [redacted] concerning matters of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), which King heads. There was also an indication that [redacted] b6 b7C of the SCLC was contacting Levison on a matter pertaining to the SCLC. The evidence obtained on 9/29/64 would seem to indicate that Levison is still being used as annadvisor to King even if only indirectly. (U)

According to the source, Rustin said that he and Martin Luther King, Jr. (President of the SCLC) will speak next Sunday (October 10, 1964) in Newark, New Jersey, in behalf of hospital workers who are conducting an organizing campaign in that city. In that regard, Rustin said there might be problems if King sits on the platform with the white Democratic candidate while the Negro Republican candidate is not present. Rustin said, however, that the problem could be resolved by not seating either candidate alongside King. (U)

HYMAN LUMER

A confidential source advised October 5, 1964, that HYMAN LUMER, who is known to the source as the Communist Party (CP) National Educational Director, was in Baltimore, Maryland, from the late afternoon of October 1, 1964, through the evening of October 2, 1964, at which time he took a train back to New York, New York. LUMER stayed at the home of GEORGE MEYERS, 1002 Beaumont Avenue, Baltimore, Marylan d, during the night of October 1, 1964. MEYERS is known to the source as the Chairman of the CP District which includes Maryland, Washington, D. C., Virginia and North Carolina.

The purpose of LUMER's visit, according to the source, was to check into the operation of the New Era Book Shop, 408 Park Avenue, Baltimore, Maryland, and make suggestions with regard to the operation of the book shop.

The source further advised that during the evening of October 1, 1964, LUMER attended a meeting of the New Era Book Shop Committee. Seven of the nine persons present were known to the source as CP members. During the meeting it was brought out that the New Era Book Shop was not showing a profit and may have to close in a month or two because of financial losses. LUMER told the group that Baltimore was not the only book shop of this type which was having problems and that much the same condition obtained throughout the United States. LUMER recommended that they not put so much emphasis on pamphlets but rather concentrate on books. LUMER recommended that they stress books dealing with the Negro struggle and stated that in the Mid-West a book store similar to the New Era Book Shop had obtained books from Africa as well as books written by Negro authors in the United States, all of which dealt with the struggle of the Negro people who were trying to improve their condition. LUMER said that the Mid-Western book store with this type of literature had proven successful.

Re: HYMAN LUMER

LUMER also advised the group that they obtain and try to sell books which were in opposition to Senator BARRY GOLDWATER presently running for the Presidency of the United States.

The source further advised that during the evening of October 2, 1964, LUMER attended a CP meeting during which meeting he talked for approximately an hour on the importance of seeing to it that America became a socialist state. During this talk LUMER said that the CP, USA, was in full agreement with the Soviet Union in its position on the necessity of having a world that was at peace. LUMER stated that Red China which did not support the concept of peaceful coexistence was taking a wrong position and by warlike action might eventually end world civilization.

Re: HYMAN LUMER

NEW ERA BOOK SHOP, INC.

On September 19, 1962, a source advised that the New Era Book Shop, Inc., 101 West 22nd Street, Baltimore, Maryland, was organized by the Communist Party, Maryland - D. C. District, on July 30, 1962, with the sanction and financial backing of the Communist Party, USA. Its purpose is to sell communist literature and serve as a place where new Communist Party members might be recruited. The Book Shop is completely controlled and dominated by the Communist Party, USA.

On May 26, 1964, a second source advised that since June, 1963, the New Era Book Shop, Inc. has been located at 408 Park Avenue, Baltimore, Maryland. It continues to be operated under the complete control and domination of the Communist Party, USA. [redacted] Communist Party member, is managing the Book Shop. b6 b7C

COMMUNIST INFLUENCE IN RACIAL MATTERS

"The Star-Ledger", daily newspaper published at Newark, New Jersey, stated in the issue dated October 12, 1964, that Reverend Martin Luther King, national civil rights leader, addressed two groups in Newark, New Jersey, on October 11, 1964.

"The Star-Ledger" stated that in a speech to about five hundred members of the New Jersey Division of Local 1199, Hospital and Drug Workers Union, affiliated with the Retail, Wholesale and Department Store Union, AFL-CIO, King abandoned a long-time political neutralism and urged the members to vote against the Goldwater-Miller ticket on November Third.

According to the article, King was also the featured speaker before one thousand one hundred persons at a dedicatory dinner of Leaguers, Incorporated, a Newark organization that has financed educational scholarships for Newark children.

INTERNAL SECURITY - C

OCIRM

ASAC Eugene Stewart, Atlanta, called at noon today and said that through a confidential source, Atlanta had learned of a conversation between Martin Luther King and Walter Fauntroy, the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) representative in Washington. This conversation disclosed a meeting which is to be held on Thursday afternoon, 10/8/64, with Cardinal Spellman at the Cardinal's Chancellery in New York. The meeting is scheduled to include several church leaders and the names of Rabbi Eisenrode (phonetic) and Dr. Eugene Carson Blake of the Presbyterian Church were mentioned. The purpose of this meeting is to obtain the concurrence of Cardinal Spellman to a statement which is being drawn up urging all church members to participate in the coming elections. King expressed some concern concerning what he referred to as Cardinal Spellman's conservatism and whether he would join in the statement.

This is for information.

Dear Sir:

I am taking the liberty to send you the enclosed leaflet since you are evidently not aware of what is going on behind the scenes in this country.

I always had the highest respect for your and your staff's acumen but if you can say that Communists had hardly an influence in the recent riots or in the Civil Right Movement, - if you can declare that Lee Oswald committed the murder on his own and not as a Tool of the Red conspiracy then I feel sorry for you and I fear for us all!

Any wholesale onslaught on law and order nowadays will prove to be inspired by communists for this is their first objectives. Both, racial feelings and agitation are the cause of these riots for the Reds know how to incite hatred for the police which is the main obstacle to desired chaos.

Either you fail to discern the facts as many citizens do from their own observations or you are muzzled by our present administration which is easing our country into accommodation with Moscow and into ultimate sovietization.

In any case this is a very sad, disappointing and alarming state of affairs. The Communists can relax.

I hope you forgive my frankness. Very sincerely,

Mr. Hoover, yours

P. S. The motive for the murder? Kennedy was not considered co-operative, accommodating enough by the Soviets. They had studied Johnson thoroughly and had become convinced that he was their man. So he is. Very obliging. —
Pardon my presumptiousness.

P. S. 2. The FBI agents are certainly entitled to a pay raise like everybody else at least. But it will hardly lower the increase in crime. It is rather the incredible leniency of the courts which takes the fear of punishment out of wrong doing.

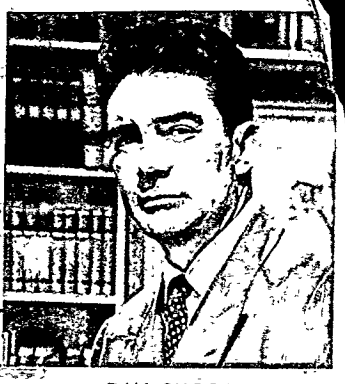
THE
Dan Smoot Report

Vol. 10, No. 22 (Broadcast 458) June 1, 1964 Dallas, Texas



DAN SMOOT

COMMUNISM IN THE CIVIL RIGHTS MOVEMENT

On May 20, 1964, Leo Pfeffer (general counsel of the American Jewish Congress) announced in New York that civil rights and religious organizations have arranged for 60 volunteer lawyers to spend at least two weeks without pay in southern states this summer, to defend civil rights demonstrators who may be charged with violations of local and state laws. The other "civil rights and religious organizations" joining the American Jewish Congress are the National Council of Churches, the Congress of Racial Equality, the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, the American Civil Liberties Union, the American Jewish Committee, and the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee.(1)

What motivates these people who stir cauldrons of violence and issue calls for lawless insurrection? Some of them, no doubt, think they are doing what is right, though it is difficult to understand how anyone could think so. It is obvious, however, that some are being manipulated by sinister forces to do the job of the communist party: to tear American society apart and destroy constitutional government.

On August 25, 1963, Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy, testifying before the Senate Commerce Committee, denied that there is significant communist influence in the civil rights movement. He said FBI investigations had produced "no evidence that any . . . leaders of major civil rights groups are communists or communist-controlled."(2) On January 29, 1964, FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover, testifying before the House Appropriations Subcommittee, said that communist influence in the civil rights movement is "vitally important."(3) Who is telling the truth: FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover, or Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy? One of them is bound to be wrong, since they contradict each other.

Most of Mr. Hoover's important testimony — in which, obviously, he gave names and other specifics about communists who control, or manipulate, civil rights groups — was "off the record," and may never be made public, certainly not as long as Robert F. Kennedy or anyone like him is ttorney General (the Attorney General being above Mr. Hoover in the chain of command). There is enough evidence from other sources, however, to prove that the major civil rights groups are virtually controlled by communists or by persons so closely associated with communist activities and so thoroughly sympathetic with the objectives of communism, that their non-membership in the communist party is of no importance.

NAACP

The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People is the primary civil rights group — connected with all the others through interlocking directorates. The NAACP was founded in New York City, May 30, 1909, at a meeting of 55 prominent "liberals and socialists," mostly white.[4] The first five top officials of the NAACP were well-known socialists: Dr. Henry Moskowitz, Oswald Garrison Villard, Mary Ovington White, William English Walling, and Dr. W. E. B. DuBois. DuBois was the only negro in the group.[5,6] He later became a militant communist, but remained an official of the NAACP until his death (when he was mourned by communists everywhere).[38]

In 1920, the New York State Legislative Committee Investigating Seditious Activities, branded the NAACP a subversive organization, interlocked with several other socialist organizations, including the socialist party.[6]

In 1922, several communists (William Z. Foster, Scott Nearing, Robert W. Dunn, Benjamin Gitlow, Clarina Michelson) participated with socialists (Norman M. Thomas, Roger N. Baldwin, Morris L. Ernst, Freda Kirchwey, Lewis S. Gannett) in founding and staffing the American Fund for Public Service (commonly called the Garland Fund).[7,8] This tax-exempt foundation was a major source of money for communist organizations, publications, and fronts.[9] Throughout the [illegible]d 1930's, the Garland Fund gave and [illegible]ms of money to the NAACP;[7,8] but [illegible]d not initiate efforts to infiltrate and control the NAACP until 1936.[8] By 1956, at least 77 top officials of the NAACP were known to agencies of the federal government as persons who participated in communist or pro-communist activities.[10] Here are a few NAACP officials known to have communist-front records:

Roy Wilkins (national administrator of NAACP)

Arthur B. Spingarn (president of NAACP)

Allan Knight Chalmers (listed in 1956 as national treasurer of NAACP)

Channing Tobias (head of the department of international justice and goodwill of the National Council of Churches)

A. Philip Randolph (vice president of the AFL-CIO, leader of the August, 1963, March on Washington)

Eric Johnston (deceased, former motion picture Czar, member of the Council on Foreign Relations)

Dr. Robert C. Weaver (vice president of NAACP, now Administrator of the Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency)

Lewis S. Gannett (retired editor of The New York Herald-Tribune)

Norman Cousins (editor of The Saturday Review, member of the Council on Foreign Relations)

Dr. Ralph Bunche (Under Secretary General of the United Nations)

Alfred Baker Lewis (insurance executive, former official of the socialist party, Committee on Political Education of the AFL-CIO)

Earl B. Dickerson (founder of the American Legion, past president of the American Bar Association and of the National Lawyers Guild)

Lloyd K. Garrison (vice-chairman of the American Civil Liberties Union, past president of the National Urban League, various government positions in the Roosevelt administration)

Morris L. Ernst (member of the Board of Directors of the American Civil Liberties Union, various positions in the Roosevelt and Truman administrations)

Thurgood Marshall (chief counsel of NAACP until appointed a federal ju[redacted]y President Kennedy)[10]

For many years, Walter White held the top position in the NAACP that Roy Wilkins now holds. White (who had a communist-front record)[8] often made anti-communist statements, for public relations purposes. Manning Johnson (a negro who was for years a communist party official) testified in 1957 concerning Walter White and the NAACP. Johnson said:

"Basically, Walter White was never against the Communists, because he joined with them in numerous Communist front movements . . . . while at the same time the Communists were actively infiltrating the organization from below . . . .

"Let us examine . . . some of these people who have been in the driver's seat in the NAACP. You have this peculiar combination. You have Negroes. You have white philanthropists. You have Communists, fellow-travelers, some egg-heads, and idealists, and people who do not know what they want, combined with Socialists, and Trotskyites. The people most influential are the Socialistic elements inside the Executive Board of the NAACP. They are the ones who are screaming against the Communists, because they want to control the Negro movement for themselves . . . . So, it is a family quarrel between the Socialists, the Social-Democrats, the Trotskyites and the Communists — all of whom are concentrated in the organization itself . . . .

"But there is one thing they all have in common, and that is that their programs and policies are based upon the teachings of Karl Marx. The only difference between the Social-Democrats, the Communists and the Trotskyites, basically, is the question of strategy and tactics. The Socialists believe it can be done one way; the Communists believe it can be done another. So there is a conflict, and all of them are fighting over the poor Negro. They want to use him in their political plans . . . .

"I don't care whether it's the Socialism of the Socialists or the Social-Democrats, or the Socialism of the Trotskyites, or the Socialism of the Communists—they are all anti-American. They are basically anti-capitalism; they all seek in one form or another the destruction of the government of the United States . . . ."[8]

[redacted]ersonalities

The foremost personality in the civil rights movement is Dr. Martin Luther King. King is pastor of a Baptist Church in Montgomery, Alabama. He frequently speaks at important meetings of the National Council of Churches (of which he is a member), and at Protestant churches affiliated with the National Council. His associations with communists, communist-fronters, communist organizations, and moral degenerates are, however, notorious.

For about five years (approximately 1955 to 1960) Bayard Rustin was Martin Luther King's secretary. Bayard Rustin joined the Young Communist League at the City College of New York in 1936.[11] In the early 1940's, he was field secretary of the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE) and was race relations director of the Fellowship of Reconciliation[11] (an extremist pacifist organization). During World War II, Bayard Rustin was arrested, tried, and convicted as a draft-dodger. For this offense, he was sent to federal prison on March 7, 1944; discharged, June 11, 1946.[12]

On January 21, 1953, Rustin spoke to the American Association of University Women in Pasadena, California, on the subject of world peace. He was scheduled to speak on the same subject that evening to a group at the First Methodist Church in Pasadena, but went to jail instead. That night, Pasadena police arrested Rustin in a car with two other men, and charged him with "sex perversion" and "lewd vagrancy."[13] The next day (January 22, 1953), Rustin pleaded guilty to the charges and was sentenced to 60 days in the Los Angeles County jail.[14]

In February, 1957, Rustin was one of 11 "impartial observers" invited by communists to attend the 16th national convention of the communist party, USA. At the conclusion of the convention (February 12, 1957), Rustin joined communist officials in a communist-party policy statement which condemned the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee for subpoenaing Eugene Dennis (then communist party national secretary) to testify.[15]

In early 1958, Rustin went to the Soviet Union.[12] Shortly after his return, he organized Martin Luther King's 1958 "march on Washington"—which The Worker (communist party newspaper) called a communist party project.[12] Rustin was second in command of the bigger March on Washington, August 28, 1963, which Martin Luther King helped organize and direct.[11]

This ex-convict, bed-fellow of communists, and moral degenerate was Martin Luther King's right-hand man for about five years during the late 1950's, helping King organize, during that time, the Southern Christian Leadership Conference — which King has used as a front for staging many notorious activities, including the infamous boycotts and demonstrations in Alabama.

When King and Rustin separated (about 1960), King replaced Rustin with Hunter Pitts O'Dell, alias Jack H. O'Dell. As recently as June, 1963, O'Dell was in charge of Martin Luther King's SCLC office in New York. In 1961, O'Dell was elected to the national committee of the communist party, USA — a position given only to important communists who have served the party a long time.[16, 17]

Martin Luther King is a close friend, supporter, and associate of Anne Braden,[18] Carl Braden,[18] Aubrey W. Williams,[19] and Dr. James A. Dombrowski[19]— all identified members of the communist party;[18, 19] all serve (or have served) as officials of the Southern Conference Educational Fund, Inc.[19, 20] Concerning the Southern Conference Educational Fund (and Martin Luther King's connection with it), the Joint Legislative Committee on Un-American Activities of the State of Louisiana concluded (in a report published April 13, 1964):

"The evidence presented to us in the two hearings recorded in this report solidly confirms our prior findings that the Southern Conference Educational Fund is in fact a Communist Front and a Subversive Organization. The Southern Conference Educational Fund is managed and operated by Communists and has obvious multiple connections with other Communist Front organizations. It has openly supported many well-identified Communists and Communist causes. It has published and distributed Communist political propaganda written by and about well-identified Communists setting forth the Communist propaganda line. We reaffirm our previous findings regarding the Southern Conference Educational Fund and our conclusion that James A. Dombrowski, Executive Director of the SCEF, is and has long been, a 'concealed Communist.'

"The infiltration of the Communist Party into the so-called 'civil rights' movement through the SCEF is shocking and highly dangerous to this State and the nation. We do not suggest, nor do we believe, that everyone connected with the civil rights movement is a Communist. There are many sincere and well-meaning people involved in this cause. We do suggest and the evidence before us is quite conclusive, that the civil rights movement has been grossly and solidly infiltrated by the Communist Party . . . .

"The evidence before us shows clearly that Martin Luther King has very closely connected his organization, the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, with the SCEF and the Communist personalities managing the SCEF. This has been going on for some four and a half years. By thus connecting himself with the Communists, Martin Luther King has cynically betrayed his responsibilities as a Christian Minister and the political leader of a large number of people . . . .

"The Student Non-violent Coordinating Committee . . . is substantially under the influence of the Communist Party through the support and management given it by the Communists in the SCEF . . . . [and] is now getting strong financial aid from the SCEF . . . .

"The . . . Southern Christian Leadership Conference [Martin Luther King's organization] and the Student Non-violent Coordinating Committee are substantially under the control of the Communist Party through the influence of the Southern Conference Educational Fund and the Communists who manage it . . . ."[20]

The Southern Conference Educational Fund, Inc., also contributes money, and other support to (and has overlapping membership with) the Fair Play For Cuba Committee — the communist-front organization to which Lee Harvey Oswald belonged.[20] The Fair Play For Cuba Committee has similar interlocking connections with CORE (Congress of Racial Equality),[20, 21] which, in turn, has an interlock with NAACP.[22]

the notorious Highlander Fo[illegible]hool (now called Highlander Center). Myles Horton and Don West (district director of the communist party in North Carolina)[23] founded the Highlander Folk School at Monteagle, Tennessee.[20] In 1943, Horton and communist James Dombrowski incorporated the school under the laws of Tennessee.[20] The school served as an important meeting place and training ground for communist leaders. One significant communist meeting at Highlander Folk School was held on Labor Day, 1957. Five persons organized and directed the meeting: Myles Horton, Don West, Abner W. Berry, James Dombrowski (all, except Myles Horton officials of the communist party), and Martin Luther King.[24] The purpose of the meeting was to recruit new members for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (of which Martin Luther King is a life member[39]) and to lay plans for racial agitation and violent demonstrations throughout the South.[24]

After investigation by a committee of the Tennessee Legislature, the State of Tennessee (in 1961) revoked Highlander Folk School's charter of incorporation.[25] Communists changed the name to Highlander Center, and continued to operate the school as before (though now not incorporated), under management of Myles Horton.[26]

In March, 1963, the Internal Revenue Service gave this communist center federal tax exemption as an educational institution.[26] About the same time, it was revealed that the American Association of University Women had given a $3000.00 fellowship to Mrs. Myles Horton to complete her study on the Highlander Folk School as a "regional adult education center in the South."[26] The complex interlock between the communist party, church groups, unions, the American Civil Liberties Union, major civil rights agitation groups, and others is indicated by the following list of names of persons who are connected with the communist Highlander Center:

Other Organizations

The Congress of Racial Equality (CORE) has, perhaps, directly instigated more racial violence and civil disobedience than any other civil rights group. Martin Luther King and his communist friends who held the Labor Day, 1957, meeting at the Highlander Folk School originated the idea of "freedom riders" — busloads of agitators traveling through southern states to violate local laws and provoke violence. Martin Luther King first tested the idea in Alabama; but the Congress of Racial Equality was in the forefront of the freedom riders' lawlessness and violence which plagued southern states during 1961. Many of the demonstrators whom CORE recruited for freedom-rider operations were arrested, and identified as communists.[21] Many were recruited from the Fair Play For Cuba Committee (Lee Harvey Oswald's outfit).[21] CORE was the leading agitation group which organized the riots that led to the death of a white Presbyterian minister in Cleveland, Ohio, on April 7, 1964 (and to a great deal more bloodshed and violence).[28] CORE also tried to organize a "stall-in" to cripple New York City on the opening day of the World's Fair this year.[29]

On May 25, 1961, United States Senator James O. Eastland (Democrat, Mississippi), Chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee and the Internal Security Subcommittee, presented impressive documentation concerning the communist conspiracy and its relationship to the Congress of Racial Equality and the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. His documentation was from files of the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee and the House Committee on Un-American Activities.[22] Senator Eastland concluded:

"From investigation and examination of the facts and records there can be little doubt, in my judgment, but that this group [CORE] is an arm of the Communist conspiracy. They are agents of worldwide communism, who sow strife and discord in this country . . . ."[22]

The interlock between communism, CORE, and

NAACP is indicated by the f[illegible]ving list of names. All persons listed below are official members of CORE and of NAACP and also have communist-front records:

Roger N. Baldwin, Dr. Algernon D. Black, Allan Knight Chalmers, Earl B. Dickerson, Rabbi Roland B. Gittelsohn, Martin Luther King, A. Philip Randolph, Professor Ira DeA. Reid, Walter P. Reuther, Lillian Smith, Charles S. Zimmerman.[22, 40]

The National Council of Churches has become one of the most militant racial-agitation groups in the United States. Officials (or prominent members) of the National Council of Churches have been identified with most violent race riots and demonstrations in recent years. Officials of the National Council have been arrested for law violation in connection with racial demonstrations. The National Council of Churches lobbies for the pending Civil Rights Act of 1964 (in violation of federal tax laws which prohibit tax-exempt organizations from trying "to influence legislation") It even urges organized churches and individual church members to boycott business firms whose employment practices displease the National Council.[30]

At least 658 officials of the National Council of Churches have communist-front records — according to a 310-page book (listing names and records) published by Circuit Riders, Inc., 110 Government Place, Cincinnati 2, Ohio ($4.00). The interlock between communism, the National Council of Churches, and all other groups active in the civil rights movement can be seen in overlapping memberships. Some officials, or prominent members, of the National Council of Churches who have communist-front records, are also members of The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, the American Civil Liberties Union, the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, the Southern Conference Educational Fund, the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee, the Congress of Racial Equality, the Southern Regional Council, or the Urban League. The interlock is intricate and multiple, but it is obvious.

The National[illegible]an League was founded in 1910, incorporated in the State of New York in 1913. Among officials of the Urban League who are also officials of the NAACP with communist front records are Lloyd K. Garrison, Ira DeA. Reid, Walter P. Reuther, and Charles S. Zimmerman.[10, 22]

The American Civil Liberties Union (very influential in the civil rights movement) was founded in 1920 by Felix Frankfurter (member of the Council on Foreign Relations), by Dr. Harry F. Ward (notorious communist-fronter),[31] by Roger Baldwin (socialist with a communist-front record,[31] and by two well-known communists: William Z. Foster and Elizabeth Gurley Flynn.[32] Aubrey Williams, presently an official of the ACLU, has been identified as a communist.[19] Among other present ACLU officials whose names have been linked with communist-fronts or communist activities are:

Morris L. Ernst,[10] Lloyd K. Garrison,[10] Roger N. Baldwin,[31] Allan Knight Chalmers,[10] Melvyn Douglas,[31] Harry Emerson Fosdick,[31] J. Robert Oppenheimer,[33] A. Philip Randolph.[10]

I have no list of members and officials of the American Jewish Congress (another powerful force in the civil rights movement). Hence, I cannot say whether it is infiltrated by communists. The record shows, however, that Rabbi Stephen Wise was head of the American Jewish Congress for years. Before his death, he was associated with approximately 40 communist-fronts.[34] Israel Goldstein (head of the AJC for a brief period after Wise) had a communist-front record.[34] Rabbi Joachim Prinz,[34] present head of the AJC, has a communist-front record, and so does Will Maslow,[31] executive director of the American Jewish Congress. Maslow is also an official of CORE.[40]

Financing The Civil Rights Movement

All organizations participating in racial agitation which is called the civil rights movement rely on contributions. In late [redacted] Governor Nelson A. Rockefeller gave $10,0[redacted].00 to Martin Luther King's Southern Christian Leadership Conference.[35] The Southern Conference Educational Fund, the Garland Fund, and many other tax-exempt foundations pour money into the racial-agitation groups. For example, the Center for the Study of Democratic Institutions of the Fund for the Republic (founded on a multi-million dollar grant by the Ford Foundation) has given more than 2 million dollars to the NAACP, the National Urban League, the National Council of Churches, the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith, and the Southern Regional Council — for work in the field of "race relations."[36]

On May 14, 1964, the NAACP raised an estimated one million dollars in contributions, through a closed-circuit television program broadcast to theaters across the nation. Among Hollywood and TV personalities contributing their talents to the show:

[redacted]hat To Do

Propaganda and pressures for civil rights legislation which will destroy constitutional government (while protecting no civil rights for anyone) can be offset by counterpressures on Congress. Before the people can take action which will sway Congress to save the Republic, they must know the truth about the so-called civil rights movement. This Report of last week ("Discrimination in Reverse") and others mentioned therein would be useful in the public education job that must be done.

With whatever tools you choose, by whatever means available, do your utmost to inform and activate other Americans. Otherwise, there is no hope.

WHO IS DAN SMOOT?

Born in Missouri, reared in Texas, Dan Smoot went to SMU getting BA and MA degrees, 1938 and 1940. In 1941, he joined the faculty at Harvard as a Teaching Fellow, doing graduate work for a doctorate in American civilization. From 1942 to 1951, he was an FBI agent: three and a half years on communist investigations; two years on FBI headquarters staff; almost four years on general FBI cases in various places. He resigned from the FBI and, from 1951 to 1955, was commentator on national radio and television programs, giving both sides of controversial issues. In July, 1955, he started his present profit-supported, free-enterprise business: publishing The Dan Smoot Report, a weekly magazine available by subscription; and producing a weekly news-analysis radio and television broadcast, available for sponsorship by reputable business firms, as an advertising vehicle. The Report and broadcast give one side of important issues: the side that presents documented truth using the American Constitution as a yardstick. If you think Smoot's materials are effective against socialism and communism, you can help immensely—help get subcribers for the Report, commercial sponsors for the broadcast.

You can help educate and arouse the people who elect men responsible for harmful programs of government. When enough other Americans know and care as you do, political action to restore our Republic will come.

If The Dan Smoot Report was instrumental in bringing you to the point of asking what you can do about saving the country from mushrooming big government, here is a checklist for you: Have you urged others to subscribe to the Report? Have you sent them reprints of a particular issue of the Report? Have you shown them a Dan Smoot film? Have you ever suggested a Bound Volume of The Dan Smoot Report for use by speakers, debaters, students, writers? Have you read and passed on to others any of the Dan Smoot books — The Invisible Government, The Hope Of The World, America's Promise?

By letter dated September 28th captioned individual enclosed a copy of the "Dan Smoot Report" and stated that the Director is evidently not aware of what is going on behind the scenes in this country. She states that, while she has always had the highest respect for the Director and his staff, she can only feel sympathy for him if he can say that the communists did not influence the recent riots or the civil rights movement, and if he can declare that Oswald was not a tool of the Red conspiracy in the assassination of the President.

Captioned individual states further that either the Director failed to discern the facts or is being muzzled by an administration which is easing the country into accomodation with Moscow and into ultimate "sovietisation." She furnished her conclusion that President Kennedy was murdered because he was not considered cooperative enough in this accomodation with the Soviets and that Johnson was considered by the Soviets to be their man.

OBSERVATION:

Correspondent's letter is a diatribe of an extreme right-wing thinker with a closed mind, and it is not felt that any purpose would be served in responding to her communication.

RECOMMENDATION:

That captioned individual's letter not be acknowledged.

NEGRO QUESTION-COMMUNIST INFLUENCE IN RACIAL MATTERS

(Buffile 100-3-116)

A local CP leader told other members at a meeting in July, 1964, that it is the special task of "white progressives" and Communists to build a base of white support directed toward the expansion of Negro-White unity.

(SL T-6 July 10, 1964)

The interest of the Missouri District CP leadership in exercising influence within the St. Louis Chapter, Negro American Labor Council, appears to have waned. Although two CP members have been assigned to work in this chapter, the CP has not been successful in achieving any measure of influence. This organization has concentrated on achieving better job opportunities for Negroes. CP leaders have transferred their interest to the St. Louis Chapter of the Committee on Racial Equality (CORE) apparently because it is a more militant organization. Members have been urged to become active in that organization.

Security Matter - C

Reference is made to previous memorandum submitted in the above case on September 2, 1964.

The original confidential source, ulitized in this matter, furnished the following additional information on September 24, 1964.

This source stated that he could not specifically recall the amount of the grant made to [redacted] from the Samuel Rubin Foundation, Incorporated, 9 East 64th Street, New York City. It is noted that [redacted] Source believed that the grant to [redacted] was in round figures between the sums of $2500.00 and $2900.00. He stated Samuel Rubin set up the Samuel Rubin Foundation, Incorporated, from the proceeds of his business interest in Faberge, Incorporated (perfumes), 5 West 54th Street, New York City. In addition, Samuel Rubin set up several trusts for his children and grandchildren, naming himself as trustee. The Samuel Rubin Foundation and the various trusts are all controlled by Samuel Rubin and are located at his premises, 9 East 64th Street, New York City.

This source related that although he originally advised that the grant to [redacted] came from the Samuel Rubin Foundation, Incorporated, it was conceivable that the money originated in one of the trusts set up by Samuel Rubin, which as indicated, are under his control.

COMMUNIST INFLUENCE IN
RACIAL MATTERS

W.E.B. DU BOIS CLUBS OF AMERICA
NEW JERSEY CHAPTER

The "Newark Evening News", daily newspaper published at Newark, New Jersey, in the issue dated October 12, 1964, stated that members of the Newark-Essex Chapter of the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE) had conducted picketing on Route 3 at the plant of the drug firm Hoffman-La Roche on October 10, 1964, over job discrimination. The article quoted Raymond Proctor, CORE chairman, as stating that members of the Newark-Essex Chapter of CORE would consider on October 12, 1964, what further programs could be undertaken besides picketing. Proctor was quoted as saying such new programs will be novel.

The gate to Hoffman-La Roche on Route 3 is located in Clifton, New Jersey. The main entrance to Hoffman-La Roche is located in Nutley, New Jersey.

On October 15, 1964, a source advised that a member of the New Jersey Chapter of the W.E.B. Du Bois Clubs of America (NJDBA) had stated that the NJDBA considered the possibility of the NJDBA participating in the CORE demonstration against Hoffman-La Roche. During the discussion it was stated that unless more Negroes were employed by the firm, there would be picketing of the homes of the top officials of the firm. This would include the President, Vice-President and Managers of Hoffman La-Roche.

A characterization of the W.E.B. Du Bois Clubs of America is attached hereto.

Communist Influence In Racial Matters

In "The Saturday Evening Post", issue of July 11-18, 1964, page 76, Bayard Rustin is the subject of a feature article captioned: "The Lone Wolf of Civil Rights". In it, Rustin is said to have come to New York in 1938, as an organizer for the Young Communist League (YCL), and as such, he had the job of recruiting students for the "Party". Furthermore, the article reports that during his first years in New York, Rustin gave most of his earnings to the "Party". He reportedly left the "Party" in 1941, the article states.

The YCL has been designated pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

The "Daily Worker", February 11, 1957, page 1 column 2, reported that Bayard Rustin, Executive Secretary, War Resisters League, was an observer at the 16th National Convention of the Communist Party, United States of America (CP, USA), held in New York City, on February 9-12, 1957.

The "Daily Worker" was an East Coast Communist publication until it ceased publication on January 13, 1958.

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on September 25, 1963, that during a meeting of the National Board, CP, USA, on that date, Benjamin J. Davis remarked that, "Rustin calls me constantly--openly." (U)

Another confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on February 19, 20, 1964, that Bayard Rustin contacted Benjamin J. Davis on those dates (U)

and sought his advice as to how he could escape from a speaking engagement to which he was committed. On the latter contact, Davis told Rustin that he was working on his request and had contacted friends who had contacts with the group to which Rustin was to speak. (U)

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on January 21, 1964, that as of that date, Benjamin J. Davis was National Secretary of the CP, USA. (U)

"The New York Times", August 24, 1964, page 27, column 4, reports that Benjamin J. Davis, National Secretary, CP, USA, died in New York City on the night of August 22, 1964.

THE PHYSICIANS FORUM INCORPORATED

Records in the office of the Clerk, New York State Supreme Court, Foley Square, New York, reflect that The Physicians' Forum, Inc., (PF) was issued a Certificate of Incorporation on April 27, 1944, under the laws of the State of New York, to operate as a non-profit, membership organization principally in the United States. The PF, under the name of the New York Physicians' Forum, had been in existence as an unincorporated association since about 1939.

A source, on September 13, 1954, furnished a folder of PF entitled "What is the Physicians' Forum?" which stated in part that to maintain freedom of thought and expression in medicine, the Forum opposes the imposition of "loyalty oaths" as a prerequisite for licensure, for hospital appointments or privileges, in medical schools, or hospital staffs and against patients; to re-establish the freedom of the medical press, the Forum urges medical society publications to open their volumes to diverse views on controversial subjects; and to provide a forum wherein socially liberal doctors may express their views in opposition to the policies of organized medicine.

The report of the Sub-Committee to Investigate the Administration of the Internal Security Act and other Security Laws of the Committee of the Judiciary, United States Senate, 82nd Congress, 1952 on "Subversive Influence in the Educational Process" on page 37 sets out the testimony of BELLA DODD, member of the National Committee of the Communist Party from 1944 to 1948. DODD testified that the PF was established primarily by the Communist Party (CP) and although not all members of the PF were Communists, the "initiative for organizing the PF came from the CP, came from the ninth floor (35 East 12th Street, New York City), where the National Committee of the CP existed."

On April 24, 1963, the above source advised that the PF is opposed to the resumption of nuclear testing and is against compulsory membership for physicians in the American Medical Association (AMA). It continues to be active in a program of supporting legislation which would provide medical care for the recipients of Social Security benefits, and provide for Social Security benefits for physicians.

THEODORE THOMAS TAYLOR

COMMUNIST INFLUENCE IN
RACIAL MATTERS

On October 12, 1964, [redacted] who resides at [redacted] Pennsylvania, b6 b7C was interviewed and furnished the following information:

He is employed as [redacted] Department of Labor, Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, 333 Arch Street, Camden, New Jersey.

[redacted] stated that prior to obtaining employment with this department he was employed [redacted] Congress of Racial Equality (CORE) in Passaic County. At this time he resided in Paterson, New Jersey. In connection with his association with the CORE group in Passaic County, he was associated with one Ed Carter, who was chairman of the CORE group in Passaic County. He stated that it is his understanding that Ed Carter has since left CORE and has joined the "Black Muslim group," present location unknown. b6 b7C

Early in August, 1963, [redacted] and Carter drove to Franklin Township, New Jersey, in the vicinity of New Brunswick for the purpose of contacting one Ted Taylor to obtain some literature to be distributed at the March on Washington held on August 28, 1963. [redacted] recalled that they drove for several hours attempting to locate the residence of Taylor but that they eventually arrived at Taylor's residence at approximately 6 a.m. on that day. b6 b7C

[redacted] stated that he recalled that Taylor furnished some literature to Carter and himself for distribution in Washington at the March on Washington and that Carter and b6 b7C

Taylor engaged in a conversation for approximately 45 minutes. During this time [redacted] listened to the conversation but did not partake in any fashion. [redacted] advised that Taylor and Carter discussed their activities in the civil rights movement, and Ted Taylor stated at this time that he was the founder and leader of an organization known as "Peoples Organization." It was this organization which published the literature which Carter and [redacted] were to distribute in Washington, D. C. b6 b7C

[redacted] advised that he looked over the literature which was received from Taylor, and in his estimation it appeared to be very socialistic in nature. He stated he cannot recall all details of this literature but stated that he does recall that it spoke of "oppressed workers." [redacted] continued that he is familiar with the general tenor of socialist newspapers and that he definitely classified this literature as socialistic in nature. b6 b7C

[redacted] stated that Taylor indicated there were two chapters of the Peoples Organization in existence at that time and indicated that these chapters were established in New Brunswick and Freehold, New Jersey. He stated that the organization is made up of low class Negroes which he described as "mad Negroes." Taylor did not indicate the number of members of the organization, the date that the organization was founded, or the identity of any officers. He indicated that the organization had published some literature and was anxious to distribute this literature wherever possible.

[redacted] advised that to the best of his recollection Carter did not appear to be a member of the "Peoples Organization." b6 b7C

[redacted] continued that during this conversation Taylor indicated that he had put an advertisement in a paper for persons to join a rifle club. He stated that the ostensible purpose of this group would be for sportsmanship. [redacted] indicated that Taylor never did state the exact purpose of the so-called rifle clubs but that he attempted to convey the idea that he wished to have a select group under his command. He stated that Taylor also indicated that he was thinking of putting a want advertisement in a paper requesting an application from a construction worker who had previous Army experience in explosives and detonators. [redacted] recalled that Taylor adopted the same attitude in regard to this individual indicating that he wished to have such a person at his disposal but did not detail any purpose in mind for such an individual. b6 b7C

INTERVIEW THOMAS TAYLOR

[redacted] stated that Taylor further indicated the People's Organization with Taylor as its spokesman had recently negotiated for a period of one day with a large bakery firm in the Franklin Township and New Brunswick, New Jersey, area, but which was not further identified. Taylor indicated at this time that the purpose of negotiation with this firm was to obtain more jobs for Negroes with the baking firm. Taylor indicated this had taken place sometime before the conversation with Carter and [redacted] and stated that he had no success in negotiating with the company during this period. Taylor then indicated that the night of the same date on which he had negotiated with the firm, this baking company suffered some damage to their property and that a portion of the building in which the baking firm was housed was burned. Taylor indicated that when he approached the company again for a negotiation on the matter of increased number of jobs for Negroes, the firm met all his demands without difficulty. Taylor spoke in general terms regarding this incident and at no time did he state who had been responsible for any damage to the property of this firm. b6 b7C

[redacted] stated that the whole tenor of conversation between Carter and Taylor was in very general terms and they attempted to establish most of their information by innuendo. He stated that they would discuss several aspects of a particular situation and then would cease conversation on that topic with the expectation that each one understood the meaning of the conversation. For this reason he was hesitant to state that any of the incidents described by Taylor and Carter actually took place since the conversation was very vague and non-specific with regard to detail. b6 b7C

[redacted] stated that he had never seen Taylor since the date of this conversation and has had no association with him in any fashion. b6 b7C

Name	Tod Taylor
Race	Negro
Sex	Male
Age	Approximately 35
Height	5'9" or 5'7"

THEODORE THOMAS TAYLOR

Height	160 to 170 lbs.
Complexion	Medium to dark brown
Eyes	Light brown
Hair	Unknown
Build	Stocky, muscular frame, slightly fat
Characteristics	Had noticeable paunch

[redacted] advised that he did not know if Taylor was employed nor could he describe the residence to any detail since it was several hours during the period that they attempted to find the residence and he was not familiar with the territory in which they were attempting to locate Taylor. b6 b7C

On October 13, 1964, [redacted] identified a photograph of Theodore Thomas Taylor who resided at 90 Churchill Avenue, Franklin Township, New Jersey, as identical with the individual with whom he visited in August, 1963.

A source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on September 17, 1957, that Theodore Taylor was then serving on the Middlesex County, New Jersey, Communist Party Committee as well as the New Jersey State Communist Party Committee. This source advised on May 1, 1955, that Taylor had been replaced as a member of the New Jersey State Committee because he had not functioned as a committee member.

SUBJECT: COMMUNIST INFLUENCE IN RACIAL MATTERS
INTERNAL SECURITY - COMMUNIST

This is to recommend furnishing to the White House and the Acting Attorney General recently developed information indicating a claim by Stanley Levison that he is no longer advisor to Martin Luther King, Jr., as well as a recapitulation of information revealing that Levison is, in fact, still being consulted relative to affairs of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), which King heads. Levison is the long-time member and "angel" of the Communist Party, USA (CPUSA).

NY 694-S* has advised that he recently obtained the following information concerning the King-Levison relationship from Lem Harris, who is highly placed in the CPUSA relative to funds operations of the Party. Harris's information was obtained during a meeting between Harris and Levison.

Levison told Harris that when the article by columnist Joseph Alsop exposing Levison's relationship with King appeared in the press (4/15/64), King told Levison that Levison was no longer of any value to him. King said that if Levison was to remain with him, his association would have to be open and above board. King said that he wanted Levison to be an ardent and honest follower and stipulated that for Levison to remain as an advisor it would be necessary for Levison to make a public repudiation of communism and be a "noncommunist." This Levison refused to do, thus resulting in his dismissal by King.

With respect to the fact that Levison has kept away from the Party, Levison said that he had done so to improve his position of influence and strength in the Negro movement. According to Harris, Levison continues to be critical of the Party, his criticism stemming from what he believes to be the Party's failure to aid in the Negro movement.

According to NY 694-S*, Harris opined that Levison is not anti-Party and feels that Levison should be given an opportunity to try to regain his position of strength in the Negro field. Our informant is of the opinion that if Levison desired to "count himself out," that is completely disassociate himself, Levison would have refused to see

Harris and, furthermore, would not have spent approximately two hours with Harris. NY 694-S* is of the opinion that Levison is "hanging on" because he has no influence as an individual but must have an organization behind him to give him strength. The informant concluded by stating, "I do not think Levison should be dismissed (discounted completely) although it is positive that he has not given any money in the recent past."

OBSERVATIONS:

It is believed that we should furnish to the White House and the Acting Attorney General the claim of Levison that he had been dropped as an advisor by King but to put this claim in its proper perspective we should also enumerate the specifics which point up the falsity of Levison's claim.

RECOMMENDATION:

An article in "The Plain Dealer", daily Cleveland newspaper, issue of October 23, 1964, reflected that Reverend King would help publicize "Get Out the Vote Sunday" which will be observed in churches November 1, 1964, during his talks in Cleveland on October 23, 1964.

The article reflected that Reverend King arrived at the Cleveland airport at 10:30 AM on October 22, 1964, and proceeded to Oberlin, Ohio. Farmer, Executive Director of the Congress of Racial Equality, and Bayard Rustin, described as the organizer of the civil rights march on Washington in August, 1963.

According to the article, Reverend King spoke to students and faculty at Oberlin College during the afternoon of October 22, 1964.

In "The Saturday Evening Post", issue of July 11-18, 1964, page 76, Bayard Rustin is the subject of a feature article captioned, "The Lone Wolf of Civil Rights." In it, Rustin is said to have come to New York in 1938, as an organizer for the Young Communist League (YCL) and as such, he had the job of recruiting students for the "Party". Furthermore, the article reports that during his first years in New York, Rustin gave most of his earnings to the "Party." He reportedly left the "Party" in 1941, the article states.

The YCL has been designated pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

The "Daily Worker", issue of February 11, 1957, Page one, reported that Bayard Rustin, Executive Secretary, War Registers League, was an observer at the 16th National Convention, Communist Party of the United States (CPUSA), held February 9-12, 1957 in New York City.

The "Daily Worker" was an East Coast Communist publication until it ceased publication on January 13, 1958.

A source who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on September 25, 1963, that during a meeting of the National Board, CPUSA, on that date, Benjamin J. Davis, now deceased, then a member of that board, remarked that "Rustin calls me constantly - openly."

On October 20, 1964, a confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that Bayard Rustin (Deputy Director of the March on Washington) was in contact on that date with an individual whom the source identified as Ralph (last name unknown). Rustin told Ralph that he planned to leave New York, New York, Thursday (October 22, 1964) for the cities of Los Angeles and San Francisco, California, where he would attempt to raise money for the A. Philip Randolph Institute (A. Philip Randolph is President of the Negro American Labor Council, NALC).

Rustin said this weekend would be the only opportunity he would have to get to those cities before going to Oslo, Norway, with Martin Luther King, Jr. (President of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, SCLC) where King will receive the Nobel Peace Prize on December 10, 1964.

Later during the day of October 20, 1964, the same confidential source advised that Rustin was in conference on that date with Tom Kahn and others who were unknown to the source. Among the things considered during the conference, the source said, was the proposed trip of civil rights leaders to various cities in the country for the purpose of enlisting people to get out to vote on November 3, 1964.

This document contains neither recommendations nor conclusions of the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI). It is the property of the FBI and is loaned to your agency; it and its contents are not to be distributed outside your agency.

100-442529-24

With regard to the proposed tour, the same source advised on October 17, 1964, that Rustin had remarked on that date. that Martin Luther King had proposed a trip to various cities by the leaders of the various civil rights organizations who had agreed to have a moratorium on demonstrations until after the Presidential election. The source said the leaders would urge people to vote on November 3, 1964.

Rustin told those in the conference that he had been requested to organize the tour, but said he was not very enthusiastic about the proposal. He said this was due to his heavy schedule for the coming weeks. Furthermore, Rustin said his reluctance was due to the fact that other rights leaders appeared to shirk away from the responsibility incidential to the tour.

During the same conference Rustin apprised those in attendance about an article which is scheduled to appear in the "Saturday Evening Post", attributed to Martin Luther King, Jr. In this regard, Rustin said the article would deal with the "white backlash". Rustin said the article was,in fact,written by [redacted]. The article as it stands at the present time,will conclude with a statement by King that irresponsible leaders took over the civil rights movement following the March on Washington (August, 1963). b6 b7C

According to Rustin, King did not read the article prior to approving it, but instead, gave his permission to the "Saturday Evening Post" to go ahead with the publication of the article. With regard to the present content of the article, Rustin said that he and Harry Wachtel would meet on the afternoon of October 20, 1964, to discuss ways of changing certain statements in the article. Following their revisions,the changes would be presented to the magazine in an effort to dissuade them from printing the article as it stands. This, Rustin said, would be hard to do,because there was no legal recourse open to them (King and his advisers) to require the magazine to make the changes.

Rustin concluded his remarks about the article by remarking that if it should be printed in its present form, there would be serious trouble in the civil rights movement.

In ending their conference, Rustin told those in attendance that he did not desire to be associated with Martin Luther King at the present time. According to the source, Rustin did not elaborate.

Communist Influence In Racial Matters

In "The Saturday Evening Post", issue of July 11-18, 1964, page 76, Bayard Rustin is the subject of a feature article captioned: "The Lone Wolf of Civil Rights". In it, Rustin is said to have come to New York in 1938, as an organizer for the Young Communist League (YCL), and as such, he had the job of recruiting students for the "Party". Furthermore, the article reports that during his first years in New York, Rustin gave most of his earnings to the "Party". He reportedly left the "Party" in 1941, the article states.

The YCL has been designated pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

The "Daily Worker", February 11, 1957, page 1 column 2, reported that Bayard Rustin, Executive Secretary, War Resisters League, was an observer at the 16th National Convention of the Communist Party, United States of America (CP, USA), held in New York City, on February 9-12, 1957.

The "Daily Worker" was an East Coast Communist publication until it ceased publication on January 13, 1958.

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on September 25, 1963, that during a meeting of the National Board, CP, USA, on that date, Benjamin J. Davis remarked that, "Rustin calls me constantly--openly." (X) (U)

Another confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on February 19, 20, 1964, that Bayard Rustin contacted Benjamin J. Davis on those dates and sought his advice as to how he could escape from a speaking engagement to which he was committed. On the latter contact, Davis told Rustin that he was working on his request and had contacted friends who had contacts with the group to which Rustin was to speak.

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on January 21, 1964, that as of that date, Benjamin J. Davis was National Secretary of the CP, USA. (X)(U)

"The New York Times", August 24, 1964, page 27, column 4, reports that Benjamin J. Davis, National Secretary, CP, USA, died in New York City on the night of August 22, 1964.

SOCIALIST YOUTH LEAGUE (SYL)

A confidential informant has advised that the Socialist Youth League (SYL) began in 1945 when several militant members of the Young People's Socialist League (YPSL), the youth organization of the Socialist Party, accepted a proposal that they become affiliated with the Workers Party. The first issue of the group's newspaper, "Youth Action for Socialism," in October, 1945, contained an article which indicated that "...Only socialism can answer youth's needs for jobs, peace, education and a fuller life...Our organization is the only national revolutionary youth group in America."

The March 1, 1954, issue of the "Young Socialist Challenge," published as page three of "Labor Action," an official publication of the Independent Socialist League, contained an article concerning the creation of the Young Socialist League (YSL) which pointed out that at a unity conference occurring February 12-14, 1954, at Labor Action Hall, New York, New York, a merger occurred between the YPSL and the SYL. The new organization was named the YSL.

Another confidential informant on June 15, 1954, made available the minutes of the YSL's National Action Committee meeting of April 13, 1954, which reflected that one S. SITEMAN, "Chairman of SP (Socialist Party) Youth Committee," had objected to a statement appearing in "Commerce," a New York University journal, which indicated that the YPSL merged with the SYL to form the YSL. He explained that the YPSL did not merge with anyone, that it continued to exist as the youth section of the Socialist Party. He explained that a small group of the YPSL was dropped, expelled, or suspended from that organization and joined the SYL, which he characterized as the youth group of the "Trotskyite ISL." He explained that after these few former members of the YPSL joined the SYL, the SYL then proceeded to change its name for its own purposes.

Communist Influence In Racial Matters

In "The Saturday Evening Post", issue of July 11-18, 1964, page 76, Bayard Rustin is the subject of a feature article captioned: "The Lone Wolf of Civil Rights". In it, Rustin is said to have come to New York in 1938, as an organizer for the Young Communist League (YCL), and as such, he had the job of recruiting students for the "Party". Furthermore, the article reports that during his first years in New York, Rustin gave most of his earnings to the "Party". He reportedly left the "Party" in 1941, the article states.

The YCL has been designated pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

The "Daily Worker" was an East Coast Communist publication until it ceased publication on January 13, 1958.

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on September 25, 1963, that during a meeting of the National Board, CP, USA, on that date, Benjamin J. Davis remarked that, "Rustin calls me constantly--openly." (U)

Another confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on February 19, 20, 1964, that Bayard Rustin contacted Benjamin J. Davis on those dates and sought his advice as to how he could escape from a speaking engagement to which he was committed. On the latter contact, Davis told Rustin that he was working on his request and had contacted friends who had contacts with the group to which Rustin was to speak.

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on January 21, 1964, that as of that date, Benjamin J. Davis was National Secretary of the CP, USA. K (W)

"The New York Times", August 24, 1964, page 27, column 4, reports that Benjamin J. Davis, National Secretary, CP, USA, died in New York City on the night of August 22, 1964.

III. COMMUNIST PENETRATION AND INFLUENCE IN RACIAL AND OTHER ORGANIZATIONS

The Salt Lake City Branch of the NAACP has approximately 275 paid-up members. Its President is ALBERT B. FRITZ, who is a known anti-Communist.

Among the members at the present time are BERNICE CURTIS, JOSEPH A. CURTIS, ROBERT ARCHULETA, UDA HANSON and JOSEPH R. DI SANTI. [redacted] and [redacted] have been members in the past but are not at the present time. b6 b7C

JOSEPH A. CURTIS attends meetings infrequently and ROBERT ARCHULETA has attended one or two meetings within the past two years. The others have not been in attendance at meetings of the NAACP within the past two years.

None of the above have any influence in the policies of the organization, and none are officers, nor have they ever been officers.

The NAACP on a national basis is opposed to Communism and known Communists are not supposed to be accepted as members. It is difficult, however, to challenge a person on this basis, since CP membership is almost impossible to prove. For this reason, membership is seldom challenged on the basis of Communism, but care is taken wherever possible to keep persons suspected of being Communists from getting in policy-making positions. The NAACP, Salt Lake City, considers that it has been successful in this respect.

The organization has also been able to avoid the distribution or use of what it considers to be Communist propaganda.

The Public Affairs Forum of Utah County (PAFUC) and the UCCL are considered by NAACP officers to be Communist front organizations. Mr. FRITZ periodically receives invitations to speak before these groups. He has made it a policy not to accept speaking invitations from the UCCL, since it is located in Salt Lake County, but about once a year accepts an invitation to speak before the PAFUC, since he considers that presenting the NAACP program to that organization might be of some value to the persons who attend. He has made it a point to be careful so that he will not be placed in the position of advocating Communist viewpoints. He considers that he has been able to avoid this pitfall in the past.

(SU T-1, 10/21/64
SU T-2, 10/22/64)

A characterization of the PAFUC is included in the appendix hereto.

DISCUSSION GROUP MEETING
AT RESIDENCE OF [redacted] b6 b7C

A source advised that a discussion group began meeting at the residence of [redacted] in October, 1959, and thereafter held biweekly meetings until April, 1960.

A second source advised this discussion group resumed biweekly meetings in October, 1962. While the purpose of the group is not defined, it attempts to discuss and to keep informed on matters of local, national and international interest. In May, 1964, this source advised that during these discussions the position of the U. S. Government is usually criticized, while the position of the Soviet Government on the same issue is upheld.

A third source advised in July, 1963, that [redacted] b6 b7C and two other members of the discussion group are currently members of the Communist Party of Utah.

PUBLIC AFFAIRS FORUM OF UTAH COUNTY, also known as, Peoples League For Peace of Utah County

[redacted] admitted member of the Communist Party (CP), reported that Public Affairs Forum of Utah County (PAFUC) was organized about 1951 for the purpose of promoting CP peace programs in the vicinity of Provo, Utah. b6 b7C

A source in July, 1963, reported that the Chairman of the PAFUC and some members, are members of the CP of Utah.

A second source reported in May, 1964, that the PAFUC continues to promote programs of the CP.

UTAH COUNCIL FOR CONSTITUTIONAL LIBERTIES

[redacted] Utah, in May, 1955, stated he was associated with the Communist Party (CP) of Utah as a member and leader from 1948 to April, 1955. In April, 1955, [redacted] reported the Utah Council For Constitutional Liberties (UCCL) was organized at the specific instructions of the Rocky Mountain Regional leaders of the CP for the purpose of fighting Smith Act prosecutions. [redacted] stated that WAYNE HOLLEY, Utah State Chairman of the CP, organized the UCCL in April, 1955. [redacted] also reported that the majority of officers and members of the UCCL are known to him as being members of the CP, State of Utah.

A source, who is affiliated with the UCCL, in July, 1963, reported that the UCCL continues to support programs of the CP and other organizations which have been designated as subversive by the Attorney General of the United States, and many members of the UCCL are known members of the CP of Utah.

A second source advised in May, 1964, that UCCL continues to promote programs of the CP.

INTERNAL SECURITY - COMMUNIST

Information has been received from the office of the Assistant Chief of Staff for Intelligence (ACSI), United States Army, indicating that Czechoslovakia and East Germany would allegedly send specialist teams to Cuba in the near future. These teams would instruct leading members of extreme anti-American Negro organizations in the conduct of "partisan, ideological warfare." This is considered to be the first step in Moscow's program designed to popularize communism among the Negro population of the United States. According to ACSI, this information was obtained from a source with access to the Central Committee, Communist Party of Czechoslovakia.

This information is particularly interesting in view of information recently developed regarding the existence of the Revolutionary Action Movement (RAM) within the United States. By memorandum 9/23/64 information was set forth indicating that RAM is a highly militant secretive organization following the Chinese-oriented Marxist-Leninist line that believes in replacing the capitalistic system with socialism. The organization follows or believes in the writings of Robert Franklin Williams, a Bureau fugitive currently residing in Cuba. Williams has in the past visited Red China. Two individuals who are allegedly members of RAM recently returned to the United States after visiting Cuba with the Student Committee for Travel to Cuba. Although it is not known at this time whether they were, in fact, in contact with Williams, this possibility is certainly not being overlooked.

The Moscow based communists could very well be attempting to make inroads among Negro civil rights organizations, particularly those that are extremely militant. This matter is being followed very closely and every effort is being made to determine the backing of Negro civil rights organizations within the United States.

A source advised on October 21, 1964, that Mrs. Louise Patterson of 721 Hunterdon Street, Newark, New Jersey, a Negro woman active in neighborhood improvement work in the Clinton Hill area of Newark, had recently stated that the students of the Newark Community Union Project (NCUP) had invited Bayard Rustin to visit them in Newark on October 20, 1964. Mrs. Patterson said that Rustin arrived in Newark, New Jersey, about 4:00 PM, October 20, 1964, and went straight to the NCUP offices at 155 Ridgewood Avenue, where he met some of the students who then took Rustin to the home of Mrs. Patterson.

Following his visit to Mrs. Patterson, Rustin was escorted by the students through parts of Clinton Hill and was shown various slum areas there. After this tour Rustin returned to Mrs. Patterson's home for supper and an open meeting for the public. The source did not know what transpired at the meeting.

The "New York Herald Tribune" issue of August 14, 1963, page 7, column 1, contains an article captioned "Thurmond Assails a Leader of March." The article stated that, in answer to charges by Senator Strom Thurmond, Bayard Rustin admitted joining the Young Communist League (YCL) in 1936. Rustin also reportedly stated that he broke completely with the YCL in June, 1941.

ENCLOSURE

COMMUNIST INFLUENCE IN RACIAL MATTERS

The YCL has been designated by the Attorney General of the United States pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

The "Daily Worker" issue of February 25, 1957, page 1, column 1, contained an article which stated that Bayard Rustin, Executive Secretary, War Resisters League, was one of eight non-communist observers at the Communist Party National Convention in 1957.

The "Daily Worker" was an east coast communist newspaper which suspended publication on January 13, 1958.

In addition, the source said Louise Patterson spoke of the recent arrest of [redacted] of the NCUP. According to Patterson, a Negro landlady in Newark was found to have violations of city regulations in an apartment that this landlady rented to a 72-year-old Negro woman. [redacted] and some of his group spoke to the landlady about these violations, but the landlady refused to correct these conditions, so the NCUP reported the landlady to the City of Newark. Also, [redacted] and one or more friends went to see the landlady who agreed to repair the premises she was renting to the elderly woman. The agreement was made in a formal statement and signed by those concerned. Thereafter, one day about 2:00 in the morning, the landlady appeared at the apartment rented to the old lady and told her to vacate the apartment by 8:00 AM the same day. The old lady went to the NCUP and complained. [redacted] then went to the landlady to show her the terms of the agreement. The landlady said she would not honor the agreement and asked for [redacted] copy. [redacted] refused to give it to her, whereupon the landlady attempted to take it from [redacted] striking him and hurting her hand in the process. Louise Patterson claimed that [redacted] only raised his hands to protect himself. [redacted] went to file a complaint against the landlady, but in the process met the landlady, who had just filed a complaint against him. The landlady pointed [redacted] out as her assailant, whereupon the police arrested [redacted] Patterson said a lawyer has been obtained to defend [redacted]

The source said that Louise Patterson did not mention the names of the landlady, her elderly tenant, or the lawyer obtained to defend [redacted] b6 b7C

A second source advised on December 23, 1963, that [redacted] at Detroit, Michigan, can be characterized as a "crusader" who possesses a passion for unpopular causes. The source believed that [redacted] was completely loyal to the United States.

A third source advised on August 6, 1960, that [redacted] then an undergraduate at the University of Michigan, was a campus leader during the fall semester of 1960. This source stated that [redacted] was a member of the Student Government Council of the University of Michigan; was a University of Michigan delegate to the National Student Congress, and during the summer of 1960, visited campuses throughout the United States regarding National Student Association affairs. This source described [redacted] as a responsible, aggressive, student leader whom he regards as completely loyal to the United States. This source said that [redacted] work was crusading, and [redacted] possessed inexhaustive energy which takes him to leadership capacity. This source said that [redacted] supported the Student Government Council's endorsement of "sit in" demonstrations in the South and he has worked on integration matters. This source said that [redacted] activities were based on sincere personal conviction, and the source said he has never known [redacted] to be a member of, or sponsor of, any student organization at the University of Michigan known to the source as containing communists or communist sympathizers. b6 b7C

As you know, from time to time we have received information concerning threats against the life of Martin Luther King, Jr. As King more and more becomes a controversial figure, coupled with the controversial nature of the civil rights movement in which he is engaged, we can expect the continued receipt of information pertaining to such type threats. Our usual procedure has been to notify the Atlanta, Georgia, Police Department (PD) due to King's residence in that city, as well as to notify an appropriate local law enforcement agency covering the area where the violence is threatened if such locale is known. We have not been notifying King himself.

The most recent such threat made was covered by memorandum from R. W. Smith to you 10/11/64 (original attached) which noted that upon your instructions it was determined that the Atlanta PD had been advised of the threat but that the Atlanta Office should not have the FBI notify King or his family directly. The Atlanta Office was instructed that it was up to the Atlanta PD to see that King is notified.

We intend to follow the practice outlined above of advising the Atlanta PD of information pertaining to threats against King. We will not advise King. We will also advise any other local agency if we know of locale of threat.

Communist Influence In Racial Matters

In "The Saturday Evening Post", issue of July 11-18, 1964, page 76, Bayard Rustin is the subject of a feature article captioned: "The Lone Wolf of Civil Rights". In it, Rustin is said to have come to New York in 1938, as an organizer for the Young Communist League (YCL), and as such, he had the job of recruiting students for the "Party". Furthermore, the article reports that during his first years in New York, Rustin gave most of his earnings to the "Party". He reportedly left the "Party" in 1941, the article states.

The YCL has been designated pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

The "Daily Worker", February 11, 1957, page 1 column 2, reported that Bayard Rustin, Executive Secretary, War Resisters League, was an observer at the 16th National Convention of the Communist Party, United States of America (CP, USA), held in New York City, on February 9-12, 1957.

The "Daily Worker" was an East Coast Communist publication until it ceased publication on January 13, 1958.

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on September 25, 1963, that during a meeting of the National Board, CP, USA, on that date, Benjamin J. Davis remarked that, "Rustin calls me constantly--openly." f u

Another confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on February 19, 20, 1964, that Bayard Rustin contacted Benjamin J. Davis on those dates and sought his advice as to how he could escape from a speaking engagement to which he was committed. On the latter contact, Davis told Rustin that he was working on his request and had contacted friends who had contacts with the group to which Rustin was to speak.

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on January 21, 1964, that as of that date, Benjamin J. Davis was National Secretary of the CP, USA.

"The New York Times", August 24, 1964, page 27, column 4, reports that Benjamin J. Davis, National Secretary, CP, USA, died in New York City on the night of August 22, 1964.

A characterization of the NLG is attached.

On March 5, 1944, another confidential source who has furnished reliable information in the past, furnished information which revealed that the name HARRY WACHTEL was on a list of names, significance not known, which was maintained at the headquarters of the Kings County Communist Party at 26 Court Street, Brooklyn, New York.

Regarding Harry Wachtel's wife, LEONORA, it is noted that the confidential source referred to immediately above furnished information on March 5, 1944, which revealed that her name and address were on a list of names of newly elected officers of the Bath Beach Club of the Kings County Communist Party.

Re: Communist Influence in Racial Matters

On October 23, 1964, a source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that on October 22, 1964, James Shabazz spoke at a closed New York Local, Socialist Workers Party (NYL, SWP) membership meeting held at 116 University Place, New York City.

Shabazz was presented as a representative of the Muslim Mosque, Inc. (MMI) in New York City and spoke before members of the SWP, together with a few selected Party contacts.

According to the source, Shabazz related in regard to the current efforts to secure equal rights for the Negroes, that the printed word is of utmost importance, and that a secret publication to "educate Negroes in the right kind of education" should be forthcoming. Source advised that Shabazz inferred that this type of education would be toward revolt. Shabazz further advised that an organization must be formed "in darkness" by the Negro people which could work in an underground fashion. Shabazz stated that "the lord," referring to the Government, would let an organization exist as long as it does not threaten the power structure. He added that the present Government and its power structure must be done away with in order to enhance the Negroes' opportunity for civil rights. Shabazz related that at this time the printed word must be utilized to change the minds of the Negroes.

Shabazz added that he believes the Negroes should be bombing those schools which refuse to integrate, rather than attempt to gain entrance on a select basis. He related that it was his opinion that narcotics have been brought to Harlem to "keep Negroes nodding" rather than doing positive things.

According to the source, Shabazz did not indicate if the aforementioned secret publication or underground organization were being created by any particular group; however, he merely related that these activities should be brought into existence.

The source stated that the SWP members in attendance at this talk appeared enthusiastic over the outlook expressed by Shabazz in relation to civil rights.

Characterizations of the NYL, SWP, the MMI, the Nation of Islam (NOI) and the NOI Mosque No. 7 are contained herein.

MUSLIM MOSQUE, INCORPORATED

The March 13, 1964, edition of "The New York Times," a daily newspaper published in New York, New York, contained an article on page 20 which indicated that MALCOLM X (LITTLE), former national official of the Nation of Islam (NOI) and Minister of NOI Mosque #7, New York, who broke with the NOI on March 8, 1964, publicly announced in New York City on March 12, 1964, that he had formed the Muslim Mosque, Incorporated (MMI). The MMI, according to the article, would be a broadly based politically oriented black nationalist movement for Negroes only, financed by voluntary contributions. In this public statement MALCOLM X urged Negroes to abandon the doctrine of non-violence when it is necessary to defend themselves in the civil rights struggle, and he also suggested that Negroes form rifle clubs to protect their lives and property in times of emergencies in areas where the government is unable or unwilling to protect them.

Incorporation papers of the MMI filed on March 16, 1964, with the Business Section, Clerk of Courts, New York County, New York, New York, reflect that the MMI was incorporated under the Religious Corporation Law of the State of New York to work for the imparting of the Islamic Faith and Islamic Religion in accordance with "accepted Islamic principals." The principal place of worship to be located in the Borough of Manhattan, New York, New York.

During an appearance over KYW - Television, Cleveland, Ohio, on April 7, 1964, MALCOLM X stated that the MMI does not stand for integration, but for complete freedom, justice, and equality for Negroes. He stated that Islam was the religious philosophy of the MMI, while the political, economic and social philosophy was black nationalism.

On May 15, 1964, a confidential source advised that the headquarters of the MMI are located in Suite 128, Hotel Theresa, 2090 Seventh Avenue, New York City, where they were established on March 16, 1964.

NATION OF ISLAM, formerly referred to as the Muslim Cult of Islam, also known as Muhammad's Temples of Islam

In January, 1957, a source advised ELIJAH MUHAMMAD has described his organization on a nationwide basis as the "Nation of Islam," (NOI) and "Muhammad's Temples of Islam."

On May 8, 1964, a second source advised ELIJAH MUHAMMAD is the national leader of the NOI; Muhammad's Temple of Islam No. 2, 5335 South Greenwood Avenue, Chicago, Illinois, is the national headquarters of the NOI; and in mid-1960, MUHAMMAD and other NOI officials, when referring to MUHAMMAD'S organization on a nationwide basis, commenced using either "Mosque" or "Temple" when mentioning one of "Muhammad's Temples of Islam."

The NOI is an all-Negro organization which was originally organized in 1930 in Detroit, Michigan. MUHAMMAD claims to have been selected by Allah, the Supreme Being, to lead the so-called Negro race out of slavery in the wilderness of North America by establishing an independent black nation in the United States. Members following MUHAMMAD'S teachings and his interpretation of the "Koran" believe there is no such thing as a Negro; that the so-called Negroes are slaves of the white race, referred to as "white devils," in the United States; and that the white race, because of its exploitation of the so-called Negroes, must and will be destroyed in the approaching "War of Armageddon."

In the past, officials and members of the NOI, including MUHAMMAD, have refused to register under the provisions of the Selective Service Acts and have declared that members owe no allegiance to the United States.

On May 5, 1958, the first source advised MUHAMMAD had, upon advice of legal counsel, tempered his personal statements and instructions to his ministers concerning the principles of his organization in order to avoid possible prosecution by the United States Government; however, he did not indicate any fundamental changes in the teachings of his organization.

2. APPENDIX

NATION OF ISLAM, formerly referred to as the Muslim Cult of Islam, also known as Muhammad's Temples of Islam

On May 7, 1964, a third source advised Muhammad had, early in July, 1958, decided to de-emphasize the religious aspects of the teachings of Islam and to stress the economic benefits to be derived by those Negroes who joined the NOI. This policy change, according to MUHAMMAD, would help him acquire additional followers and create more interest in his programs.

APPENDIX

NATION OF ISLAM, MOSQUE #7,
NEW YORK CITY

On May 5, 1964, a source advised that the Nation of Islam (NOI) affiliate in New York City is known as Mosque #7, also known as Temple #7, and is located at 102 West 116th Street, New York City. Mosque #7 is part of the NOI headed by ELIJAH MUHAMMAD, with headquarters in Chicago, Illinois. Mosque #7 has two branches; Mosque #7B at 105-03 Northern Boulevard, Queens, New York City, and Mosque #7C at 120 Madison Street, Brooklyn, New York. These branches are part of Mosque #7.

The date Mosque #7 originated in New York City is not known.

However, in connection with the origin of Mosque #7, it should be noted that in 1953 a second source advised that there was a Temple of the NOI (known to source then as the Muslim Cult of Islam) in New York City located at 135th Street and 7th Avenue, as far back as 1947.

The purpose of this report is to combine in one document all known, substantial, communist involvement in racial matters, the integration movement, racial demonstrations, and so forth since January of 1963.

There are three communist groups at Buffalo: the Communist Party (CP) itself; the Progressive Labor Movement (PLM) and the Workers World Party (WWP). The last two mentioned groups are described both nationally and locally in the appendix pages to this report.

This report will contain the names of approximately 60 individuals who have present membership or close association with one of the three mentioned groups or who have been members of one of the three in the past. The communist affiliation of these individuals is set forth in alphabetic order in the appendix to this report.

Occasionally, the narrative required the use of names which are not contained in the alphabetized appendix. When this occurs, the reader is advised that the Buffalo Office of the FBI has not had investigative interest in these individuals.

I. COMMUNIST STRATEGY

A. COMMUNIST PARTY, USA

Plans and Discussions by Local Leaders and Rank-And-File Members

On January 9, 1963, during a meeting of the Erie County Communist Party (ECCP) Executive Board, JOHN MC KENZIE discussed the Buffalo Negro community and the possibility of starting a Communist movement there. JOHN MC KENZIE was not optimistic. He pointed out that the average Negro wants to be a good citizen and that he is making more progress in the social scale. This fact together with his awareness of Federal laws against the Communist Party (CP) makes it extremely difficult for anyone to sell the CP to him. It also makes it difficult for a CP member to make any inroads into the Buffalo Negro community.

January 10, 1963

On April 24, 1964, TONY MASSA stated he wanted the Party to initiate something in the Negro community in Buffalo. TONY felt that the Negro people in Buffalo had a number of potential CP members among them. TONY expressed the belief that there was no reason why the CP could not recruit in Buffalo 12 Negroes a year.

On June 23, 1963, SEYMOUR RUDNER mentioned he participated in a Mourning March and memorial service for MEDGAR WILEY EVERS, the slain Field Director of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP), Jackson, Mississippi, which was held in Buffalo, New York, that afternoon. RUDNER stated that he desired that certain CP members meet to discuss the issue of racial integration as a Party matter. RUDNER stated that he was against TONY MASSA working alone on the issue of racial integration and insisted that MASSA work as a Party member with CP approval.

RUDNER stated that as the leader of the ECCP, he does not believe in pushing people. He feels that if a Party member does not wish to come to a meeting or get active, he, RUDNER, will do nothing about it. RUDNER remarked that he wished to deal only with those people who want to be active. RUDNER discussed the fact that one of the ECCP members had made contact with the local Nation of Islam (NOI).

A characterization of the NOI is contained in the appendix of this report.

RUDNER stressed the fact that any decision to meet with the NOI group must be made by the ECCP and not by individual Party members. RUDNER then commented about the few Party meetings held during the past several months and mentioned that the last meeting of any consequence was the one held May 5, 1963.

A meeting of the ECCP was held in Buffalo, New York, on July 12, 1963. The purpose of the meeting was to discuss methods whereby the Party might be able to participate more effectively in the demonstrations in Buffalo supporting Negro integration. They agreed to make plans for influencing Party people in this Negro movement and also secure the help of former Party members who have remained sympathetic to the aims of the CP.

On July 26, 1963, a meeting of the ECCP was held in Buffalo, New York. The principal topic of discussion was the racial situation. SEYMOUR RUDNER stated that he had been in touch with a former CP member who is now very active in the Buffalo Chapter of the NAACP and is trying to influence him in this Negro movement.

On the evening of October 23, 1963, at a meeting of the ECCP, SEYMOUR RUDNER discussed an article contained in a current issue of a magazine which appeared to be "Political Affairs." The article dealt with the Negro today in America. It criticized a statement of a U.S. Senator who claimed that the Negro movement was not revolutionary. According to RUDNER, HERBERT APTHEKER had written that this Negro movement in truth is revolutionary. APTHEKER stressed that the Negro will not wait for equality. APTHEKER claimed that this revolutionary movement is deeply rooted and is growing deeper. APTHEKER regarded the revolution as presently being an ideological struggle without fighting, but that it could turn into a bloody revolution.

During the discussion period that followed, the various Party members voiced their support of the Negro revolutionary movement in the United States. Some of the members told of their participation in activities sponsored by such organizations as the Buffalo Chapter of the NAACP.

The masthead of "Political Affairs" identifies this publication as the "theoretical organ of the Communist Party, USA."

As of December, 1963, the ECCP has expressed interest in racial matters. However, due to the general lethargy in the local Party, the ECCP is not truly active in the racial field. The local Party has an active member in the Buffalo Chapter of the NAACP who keeps the Party abreast of matters in that group. The ECCP has no program actually to be influential in racial matters.

On February 18, 1964, an inquiry was made of SEYMOUR RUDNER to learn if the ECCP was going to hold a special meeting of the Executive Board for the purpose of formulating the Party program regarding its struggle for civil rights and racial integration. This question irritated SEYMOUR RUDNER who said that he is no longer planning to call a special meeting and that this topic could be discussed at the regular membership meeting of the ECCP held the fourth Wednesday of each month.

B. PROGRESSIVE LABOR MOVEMENT

A characterization of the Progressive Labor Movement (PLM) is located in the appendix to this report.

Wrote article for "Spectrum" (a student publication of the State University of New York at Buffalo (SUNYAB)) in its March 29, 1963 issue contained an article under the by-line of STEVE HARRIS detailing anti-United States foreign policy protest demonstrations held in Buffalo by two groups which HARRIS described as representing the "political left." The article identified one of these groups as the Progressive Labor party and it quoted an interview which HARRIS had had with MORTIMER SCHEER, described as a regional leader of the Progressive Labor group. In this article, SCHEER was quoted as saying "equality for the Negro" can be attained only within the framework of Marxist-Leninist doctrines.

The April, 1963 issue of the publication "Progressive Labor" ("PL") contains on Pages 10 - 12, an article by MORTIMER SCHEER captioned "Negro Freedom: A Comment," written based upon a court action in Rochester, New York between the black Muslims and the Rochester, New York Police Department. The article began by excoriating the treatment of Negroes in the United States. On Page 11 SCHEER's own article states "the rapidly growing Muslim movement, officially estimated to be 100,000 to 200,000 strong, has become one of the most significant developments in recent history. Consider the following features of the movement:

"1. The mass base of the movement is working-class and youth.

"2. They militantly oppose all forms of gradualism and tokenism.

"3. They champion the dignity and history of the Negro people and militantly attack all forms of white supremacy.

"4. They identify their struggle with the oppressed peoples throughout the world and expose Kennedy's hypocritical cold war slogans of defending freedom from the threat of communism.

"5. They urge a united front of all Negroes regardless of differences.

"6. They are subjected to some of the most brutal attacks by the white ruling class.

"Progressive workers should vigorously defend the Muslims from the brutal attacks upon them."

Later in his article on this Muslim movement, SCHEER, after maintaining that Negroes could only be free if the capitalistic system is smashed, said "..... the Muslim demand for a separate state can never be achieved within the frame of the United States system of Jim Crow capitalism and in this regard it should be understood as a revolutionary demand. It's unthinkable that the white ruling class would voluntarily give up a large tract of its land, natural resorces and factories to turn them over to the Negro people. Self-determination for oppressed peoples within a country can only be achieved by smashing the state power of the oppressors. If a significant section of the Negro people still want a separate state, after the workers, Negro and white, have established their own State powers, have outlawed all Jim Crow, and run the economy for the general welfare, then a socialist state must guarantee this basic right of oppressed peoples for self-determination, including the right to a separate state."

The black Muslim movement, which is also known as the Nation of Islam (NOI), is characterized in the appendix to this report.

In a mimeographed throwaway captioned "An Open Letter to the White Worker of Buffalo," the PLM issued a leaflet dealing with the series of demonstrations then being conducted in various parts of the country concerning racial problems. The leaflet urged that the following demands be made in trade unions, community clubs or in letters to public officials:

"1. Immediate mass labor demonstrations locally and nationally of support for Negro equality in Birmingham, Alabama and throughout the United States.

"2. End all racist practices in industry, Government and labor.

"3. Long jail sentences for violators of the Negro People's Rights. The death penalty for all persons convicted of lynching.

"4. The right of the Negro people to demonstrate freely, without terror or arrest, and the right to bear arms in their self-defense.

"5. Organize white and black workers in the South to end the low wage system and to oust the Dixiecrats from political power."

MORTIMER SCHEER on June 25, 1963 stated that racial demonstrations being conducted by Negroes will not lead to their obtaining equal rights and opportunities as long as the United States is controlled by capitalism which prevents the Negro from reaching the economic level where full integration can be achieved.

MORTIMER SCHEER prepared an eight page report for delivery to a special Buffalo PLM conference to be held on December 15, 1963. Principal emphasis in the report was given to two PLM members, EDWARD WOLKENSTEIN and GERTRUDE ALEXANDER, who had recently been distributing a news sheet called "The Spirit and the Sword." Publication by these two PLM members of this leaflet, which dealt with the problem of integration nationally, had not been authorized by SCHEER or any of the other PLM leaders and its appearance had infuriated him. At one point in SCHEER's eight page report, he criticized the WOLKENSTEIN-ALEXANDER line as set forth in "The Spirit and the Sword" by describing it as representing "a petty bourgeois liberal humanitarian outlook." SCHEER also said that the line of this unauthorized publication did not expose the source of oppression of the Negro people, that it adopted an one-sided uncritical approach of full support to the reformist leadership and organizations, that it offered no program to advance the level of the integration movement, and they advanced no perspective for the necessity of smashing the political power of the ruling class and establishing working class power.

On September 16, 1963, the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) picketed the offices of the General Motors Corporation, Liberty Bank Building, Buffalo, New York, for alleged racial job discrimination in the Buffalo area. (This demonstration is dealt with separately later in this report.) MORTIMER SCHEER joined the picket line and attempted to distribute handbills, but was denied permission by an NAACP official who was present. SCHEER then dumped his leaflets into a nearby trash can. These leaflets, captioned "Murder in Birmingham - Job Discrimination in Buffalo," are dated September 16, 1963 and are shown as issued by Progressive Labor, Post Office Box 81, Buffalo, New York. This leaflet attacked recent racial violence in Alabama and made several demands. Two of the demands are: that Alabama State troopers and Birmingham, Alabama police must be disarmed and that an armed militia of Negroes and whites opposed to racism must be created to really enforce the law and maintain order.

On December 18, 1963, MORTIMER SCHEER spoke of the newspaper "Freedom" which had been begun by PLM in Monroe, North Carolina expressly for the Southern Negro since, in SCHEER's words, the Negro in the South is faced with the problem of being in a "nation within a nation." SCHEER explained that PLM would necessarily adopt a different approach to racial problems in the North from that pursued in the South. In the North, the PLM fight for the Negro revolves around labor, while in the South it will deal with Negro nationalism.

Self-determination - along with a feeling of all-or nothing in achieving equality - is our goal."

The "Buffalo Evening News" (a newspaper of general circulation published daily except Sunday at Buffalo, New York) in its complete financial edition of April 14, 1964 on Page 19 carried a statement issued by MORTIMER SCHEER predicting that his organization, PLM, would be "attacked" during the Buffalo, New York hearing of the House Committee On Un-American Activities (HCUA) scheduled to begin on April 29, 1964. In a portion of the news release which had dealt with the Negro movement for greater civil rights, SCHEER's statement said: "Old conversative tactics, such as reliance on the courts and Federal Government, is being replaced with new tactics of mass direct action and armed self-defense; old conservative demands for total integration are being replaced by demands for political power to achieve decent jobs, homes, schools and full equality; old conservative leaders are being replaced by new young revolutionary leadership."

C. WORKERS WORLD PARTY

There is at Buffalo, New York a third subversive group, the Buffalo Branch (BB), Workers World Party (WWP), which is described in the appendix to this report. General plans and strategy of the BB, WWP has not been sufficiently significant to be included in this section of this report. The activity of this group in specific racial matters is dealt with later.

II. COMMUNIST TACTICS

This section will include the specific activities of the three subversive groups at Buffalo, New York related to particular racial matters.

THE WILLIE MAE MALLORY CASE -
JANUARY, 1963 - OCTOBER, 1964

During the period January, 1963 to October, 1964 the Buffalo Branch of the Workers World Party (BB, WWP) engaged in frequent activities on behalf of WILLIE MAE MALLORY. These activities consisted of participating in picketing demonstrations, preparing leaflets for distribution, raising funds, issuing statements, and so forth. Developments in connection with the MALLORY case were frequently discussed at local branch meetings.

The WWP nationally, as well as the BB, WWP, is characterized in the appendix to this report. Similarly described is WILLIE MAE MALLORY.

During the early part of December, 1963, individuals connected with the WILLIE MAE MALLORY case in Cleveland, Ohio requested officials of the BB, WWP to furnish 500 leaflets publicizing MALLORY no later than December 6, 1963 so that the Cleveland group would have these leaflets on December 7, 1963 when they planned to picket the mansion of the Governor of Ohio at Columbus, Ohio. BB, WWP officials advised that the requested leaflets would be mimeographed in Buffalo on December 4, 1963 and would be sent to Cleveland on the evening of December 5, 1963.

A copy of the master stencil of the leaflet mentioned in the preceding paragraph, as prepared by MARY ANN WEISSMAN, was furnished. The leaflet was captioned "Another Political Football" and it depicted a football player labeled as "Rhodes Rats" (an apparent reference to Ohio Governor JAMES RHODES) preparing to pass a football, the football depicting WILLIE MAE MALLORY, across a football field divided by the Mason-Dixon line, to hooded figures representing the Monroe, North Carolina White Citizens Committee.

During January, 1964, information was received which indicated that WILLIE MAE MALLORY had been extradited from the State of Ohio to Monroe, North Carolina. The New York City WWP at that time was attempting to raise money in order to obtain MALLORY's release on bail from imprisonment in North Carolina. It was determined as of January 15, 1964 that the New York City WWP had raised $5,000.00 in cash and hoped that the remainder of the bail fund could be raised by other WWP branches in the United States. As of January 17, 1964, it was determined that MILTON and ROSEMARY NEIDENBERG would contribute $1,000.00 to the bail fund and that MARY ANN and ERNEST WEISSMAN planned to contribute $2,000.00.

Local WWP officials were instructed to send a certified check for the amount of the bail contributions to the WWP headquarters in New York City.

The April 22, 1964 edition of the "Buffalo Courier Express" (a newspaper of general circulation published at Buffalo, New York) on Page 12 contained an article entitled "Civil Rights Group Formed at College." This article reflected that a new civil rights organization described as "Students Together Against Negro Discrimination" had been formed on the campus of SUCAB. According to the article, this group was to sponsor a talk by Mrs. MAE MALLORY, who was described in the article as a "North Carolina civil rights leader."

The April 22, 1964 edition of "Record" (a student publication of SUCAB) contained an article entitled "Mallory to Speak Tomorrow." This article also pointed out that MALLORY, upon the invitation of Students Together Against Negro Discrimination, was to be a guest speaker on April 23, 1964.

During the early evening of April 23, 1964, the BB, WWP organizer expressed an interest in the MALLORY appearance on the SUCAB campus and other WWP members who had attended that particular gathering told him that it had been successful and that over 100 students had been in attendance.

NEIDENBERG further revealed that he was attempting to persuade MALLORY to speak at the April 27, 1964 rally which was to be a protest against the HCUA and that he was also trying to obtain the approval of the groups sponsoring the protest rally so that MALLORY could appear.

The April 28, 1964 edition of the "Buffalo Courier Express" on Page 15 contained an article entitled "Speaker Opposing HUAC Applauded." This article gave an account of a rally held on April 27, 1964 at the Pilgrim Baptist Church at which 10 speakers had opposed the forthcoming appearance of the HCUA in Buffalo. The article outlined statements by the various speakers, all of whom had expressed sentiments against the HCUA. According to the article, a surprise speaker who had been greeted with a standing ovation was Mrs. MAE MALLORY, described as a Southern civil rights leader who had advocated self-defense measures by Negroes when non-violent methods were ineffective. MALLORY was quoted as saying "HUAC will not investigate the bombing of children in Alabama or the plight of white workers in Harlan County, Kentucky." She also made a brief comment concerning self-defense for Negroes, pointing out that "..... black people will have freedom now."

MALLORY left the Buffalo area on April 28, 1964 after having stayed from April 24 - 27, 1964 overnight at the homes of EDWARD and JEANETTE MERRILL and ERNEST and MARY ANN WEISSMAN.

Also concerning the case of WILLIE MAE MALLORY, there was interest expressed in this matter by a publication known as "Buffalo Labor Action." For example, the May, 1963 issue of "Buffalo Labor Action" contained an interview with Mrs. VERA SPRUILL, described as the President of the Mothers Alliance. In this issue SPRUILL reviewed developments in the MALLORY case and stated that her organization, the Mothers Alliance, was trying to help MALLORY and at that time was obtaining petitions to send to Governor RHODES of Ohio asking him to prevent MALLORY's extradition to North Carolina.

The "Buffalo Labor Action," VERA SPRUILL and the Mothers Alliance are described in the appendix to this report.

MARCH FOR FREEDOM - JUNE 30, 1963 TO AUGUST 4, 1963

On June 24, 1963, a group of members of the Buffalo Chapter of the NAACP met to devise a program to raise $10,000 for a Freedom Fund for the South. The Chairman of this program was DONALD ~~K~~LEE, a member of the NAACP Executive Board. The program agreed upon called for Negro marches through the Negro districts of Buffalo to alert the Negroes of this city to the existence of this group, its program and its purposes. LEE announced that white people would not be encouraged to participate in these marches.

On June 28, 1963, the "Buffalo Evening News" reported on Page 42 that a drive to raise funds for integration work in the South would begin on June 30, 1963 and extend to August 4, 1963. The kickoff was to be a march in the Negro section of Buffalo on the first mentioned date, to be followed by a door-to-door and letter campaign.

Approximately 800 persons took part in a March for Freedom on June 30, 1963 at Buffalo, but only about $36.00 was raised when contributions were requested. The Executive Board of the Buffalo Chapter of the NAACP met on July 1, 1963 to consider the program of the March for Freedom campaign. It was the consensus of the Executive Board that the original June 30, 1963 march had not been brought to the attention of the Board for approval and therefore it announced marches connected with this campaign were not to be sanctioned by the Executive Board of the NAACP. In August of 1963, prior to the August 28, 1963 March on Washington, MILTON NEIDENBERG, the Buffalo Branch WWP organizer, had discussed with members of this branch the desirability of a group of members proceeding to Washington to participate. NEIDENBERG conveyed the feeling of SAM BALLAN, the National Chairman of the WWP, that no conclusion had been reached as to precisely what the WWP members could do in Washington, D. C. and that it had been BALLAN's thought that those WWP members who were able to attend should "just fish for themselves." The following members of the Buffalo Branch of the WWP attended the August 28, 1963 demonstration in Washington, D. August, 1963

An article in the August 23, 1963 edition of the "Buffalo Courier Express" reflected that JOSEPH SCIOLI, an international representative of the Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers Union, would lead a small delegation from Local 593 of this union in participating in the August 28, 1963 demonstration in Washington, D. C.

JOSEPH SCIOLI is described in the attached appendix pages to this report.

NAACP PICKET DEMONSTRATIONS AGAINST GENERAL MOTORS CORPORATION, BUFFALO, NEW YORK, SEPTEMBER 16, 1963 - APRIL 21, 1964

There were 18 picket demonstrations conducted by the Buffalo Branch of the NAACP against the General Motors (GM) Corporation in the Buffalo, New York area between the period September 16, 1963 to April 21, 1964. The announced purpose of these demonstrations was a protest against the alleged "Jim Crow" employment policies of this company and a demand for more and better jobs for Negroes in GM plants. The number of these demonstrators varied on each occasion, from as few as 5 participants to as many as 85 participants. However, the average number of participants was approximately 25 people. In no instances during these 18 demonstrations was it necessary for the police to quell any violence or to make any arrests. Most of these demonstrations were held in front of a number of GM automobile dealers' showrooms during the early evening hours. Several were held in the heart of the business district of Buffalo at the Liberty Bank Building wherein is located a small public relations office of GM. Five of these demonstrations were staged at the 1964 Automobile Show at the Masten Avenue National Guard Armory in Buffalo and one of the picket demonstrations was conducted in front of the River Road plant of the Chevrolet Motor Company in the Town of Tonawanda, New York. A number of persons were observed during these 18 demonstrations who are either members of or closely associated with the ECCP, PLM or the Buffalo Branch of the WWP. None of the persons identified with the three groups just mentioned were observed to take any leadership role in these 18 demonstrations nor did they appear to be wielding any influence on those who were directing the picket activity.

There are set forth below details concerning the 18 picket demonstrations referred to above, including the dates, locations and approximate size of each activity. Listed below each event are the identities of the individuals participating therein who are members of or closely associated with the ECCP, PLM or WWP. Opposite each individual's name is bracketed the subversive organization with which that person is affiliated, this abbreviation not necessarily indicative of membership.

(More detailed characterizations of these persons are set forth in the appendix pages attached to this report.) The bracketed organizational affiliation is inserted here to reflect that there were representaiives of three subversive groups taking part. The sources for these individual observations are those set forth in the preceding main paragraph of this section.

The January, 1964 issue of "Buffalo Labor Action" contained an article concerning the planned picket demonstrations organized by the Buffalo Chapter of the NAACP scheduled to be held during the 1964 Buffalo Automobile Show, January 8 - 12, 1964 to protest racial discrimination at GM plants. This article stated that "Buffalo Labor Action" fully supported the NAACP picketing.

REGARDING WOODLAWN
JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL
MARCH 25, 1964

The "Buffalo Evening News" in its March 14, 1964 edition on Page B-14 carried an article captioned "Rights Group Plan March to Support School Integration." The article announced that the Buffalo Branch of the NAACP was planning a march on Buffalo City Hall scheduled for 9:30 a.m. on March 25, 1964. It was announced that the marchers would hear speakers and would conduct a peaceful demonstration in which they would call for the complete integration of the Woodlawn Junior High School, a new school scheduled to be opened in September of 1964.

On March 25, 1964, approximately 125 persons marched from William Street and Michigan Avenue to the McKinley Monument in front of Buffalo's City Hall at about 10:00 a.m. carrying placards calling for the end of segregation in the schools of Buffalo. The march was led by officials of the Buffalo Branch of the NAACP and there was a short program of speeches and songs in front of the City Hall, the program ending earlier than scheduled since there was a driving rainfall in progress. No violence occurred during this demonstration and no arrests were necessitated. Among the estimated 125 persons participating, the following individuals were observed who did not appear to be exercising any authority, but who were merely among those present:

LEROI JONES MEETING
AUGUST 4, 1964

On July 24, 1964, leading members of the Buffalo Branch of the WWP were making plans for the appearance of one LEROI JONES (an individual who is not characterized in the appendix hereto) to appear at a public gathering to be held at Buffalo Branch WWP headquarters, 831 Main Street in the near future. The source advised that JONES was teaching for the summer months on the campus of SUNYAB. This same source advised from July 29, 1964 through August 4, 1964 that BB, WWP members were actively engaged in promoting the appearance of JONES, finally set for the evening of August 4, 1964. These WWP members prepared a leaflet advertising the appearance of JONES, were instrumental in distributing these leaflets on the SUNYAB campus during that period and also mailed leaflets to close contacts in the Buffalo area. During this period it was decided that EDWARD MERRILL would serve as the Chairman of the Leroi Jones meeting.

On August 3, 1964, a copy of one of the leaflets distributed in connection with the JONES appearance was provided. This leaflet was captioned "Harlem, USA --- Riot or Rebellion?" and contained a photograph of an individual identified as LEROI JONES. The leaflet described JONES as a poet, playwright, critic and educator and pointed out that he was a graduate of Howard and Columbia Universities. JONES, according to this leaflet, was a visiting lecturer in modern poetry for the summer at SUNYAB. The leaflet listed several books authored by JONES and pointed out that his play "Dutchman" had recently received an award as the best American play in 1963 - 1964. The leaflet informed the reader that JONES had just returned from Harlem and would make an analysis of the racial conflict in Harlem and Rochester, New York, as well as a prognosis for the future. This leaflet reflected that JONES' appearance was being sponsored by the "Buffalo Labor Forum."

August 3, 1964

Buffalo Labor Forum is described in the attached appendix pages to this report.

The August 5, 1964 edition of the "Buffalo Courier Express" on Page 4 contained an article entitled "Negro Poet Flails U.S. in Forum." The article gave an account of JONES' appearance at 531 Main Street on the preceding evening and identified him as a Negro poet and playwright who had just completed a term as a summer lecturer at SUNYAB. According to the article JONES in his talk urged Negroes to disassociate themselves from "the American way of life," quit their jobs, stop voting, and steal food to live. He asserted, according to the article, that "the American way of life" had done nothing for the Negro; and predicted that racial strife in the nation would grow increasingly worse and that most large cities would be under martial law. This article quoted JONES as saying "I am in trouble because I'd tell any son of mine not to fight in any of these silly wars going on and I'd tell my children to despise everything this country stands for."

JONES was further described in this "Buffalo Courier Express" article as being married to a white woman and as the father of children. The article pointed out that he had addressed an estimated 200 people, many of them college students at this meeting which had been sponsored by the Buffalo Labor Forum. This article also set forth that EDWARD W. MERRILL "..... a white man who is Chairman of the Forum," early in the meeting had said "we must support the black rebellion against poverty and oppression - that is the significance of this meeting." MERRILL was also quoted as having called the recent racial riots in the United States "justified" and as condemning police for "brutality."

The August 5, 1964 edition of the "Buffalo Evening News" on Page 28 contained an article captioned "Poet Jones Says There's One Way to Help Cause." This article, which also gave an account of JONES' appearance on the preceding evening quoted JONES' position as being that Negroes' chances for full equality, at their worst possible depth in 1964, could not be further hurt by big city riots or even by organized revolt. This article, which estimated JONES' audience as consisting of approximately 120 people, quoted JONES as follows: "There is no solution to the Negro question. One weapon the Negro has but has not yet properly exploited is to refuse to go to work. Now is the time to stop it and to walk off these jobs. Negroes should refuse to take part in the white man's system."

The "Buffalo Evening News" article also reflected that during his lecture JONES had verbally assaulted President JOHNSON, the press, all civil rights organizations and Dr. MARTIN LUTHER KING. JONES had disparaged voter registration drives with the following statement: "Who would want to vote for Lyndon Johnson? He has a worse civil rights voting record than Barry Goldwater. Who can the Negro vote for in this country - nobody."

The August 12, 1964 edition of the "Buffalo Evening News" on Page 4 contained an article entitled "U.B. Answers Critics of Lecture Series By Poet Jones." This article indicated that there had been criticism received concerning the recent summer school lecture series given by LEROI JONES and that a spokesman for the University of Buffalo, Dr. A. WESTLEY ROWLAND, Assistant to the President, in answering these criticisms cited the "necessity of exposing students to diverse opinions --- one of the duties of a university." This article made reference to a lecture delivered by JONES off campus on August 4, 1964, at a meeting sponsored by the Buffalo Labor Forum. NY

III. COMMUNIST PENETRATION AND INFLUENCE IN RACIAL ORGANIZATIONS

CONGRESS OF RACIAL EQUALITY (CORE)

An organizational meeting was held on October 18, 1963 to form a Buffalo, New York Chapter of CORE.

Source: BU T-4

14 This source advised that he had been in contact with the national office of CORE during the summer months of 1963 concerning the desirability of establishing a Buffalo, New York Chapter of this organization. A number of meetings were held in the homes of various individuals interested in the aims and purposes of CORE during that period of time. The source said that he realized before long that there was a considerable amount of maneuvering going on behind the scenes and he feared that control of this embryonic organization might be taken out of his hands. This source who stated that he had been authorized by the national office of CORE to assume the temporary chairmanship of the Buffalo Chapter identified himself as a film editor for WBEN-TV, which is an affiliate of the newspaper "Buffalo Evening News." He stated that due to his employment he had access to background information from the files of this newspaper and he determined that some of those who were seemingly active behind the scenes in helping to form CORE were "subversive." He thereupon decided to send a telegram to a number of individuals advising them that they were "controversial" and that their membership in CORE was being disallowed. He stated that he had dispatched these telegrams to the following individuals on October 22, 1963:

The source concluded that at the CORE meeting following the sending of the telegrams, three of those to whom he had dispatched the wires showed up anyhow. These three were MAX BERMAN, ERNEST WEISSMAN and EMIT COLLIER. Despite their protestation, the source was adamant against admitting them into the chapter.

On April 27, 1964, this source advised that approximately two months before the Buffalo Chapter of CORE had held an election of officers for the first time. This meeting had been attended by a regional representative of CORE. The slate of officers, presented by the source, was elected with the source himself elected as Chairman of the Action Committee. Immediately after the announcement of the election results, two individuals named GUITTA BLAU and ISADORE ZILLER met with the regional representative of CORE and the three drove away in a car. The trio returned in about one hour and the CORE regional representative announced that the elections had not been properly conducted and that new elections would have to be held in the future. The source stated that he had taken his own followers out of the Buffalo Chapter of CORE at this point, but that he has since heard rumors that a new Buffalo Chapter of CORE was to be constituted in the Buffalo area.

On September 9, 1964, an ECCP membership meeting took place in Buffalo, New York. This was the first Party membership meeting held since the early summer. SEYMOUR RUDNER delivered a report on the boycott of the Woodlawn Junior High School in Buffalo. The purpose of the boycott was to protest the alleged racial imbalance existing in this public school. RUDNER said that he attended the rally of CORE held on the preceding Sunday to spark a boycott. RUDNER concluded from the treatment he received at this CORE rally that CORE was excluding white people from it. RUDNER reported that it was obvious to him that CORE was trying to keep white people from being active in the school boycott. RUDNER said that on the opening day of school he entered the picket line in front of the Woodlawn Junior High School and carried a placard for several hours.

JOHN MC KENZIE at this ECCP membership meeting talked about a recent CORE meeting he attended. MC KENZIE said he noticed a certain amount of redbaiting taking place. On this occasion MILTON NEIDENBERG instructed WEISSMAN to become involved in CORE work through EMIT COLLIER, who was already connected with that organization. NEIDENBERG suggested that WEISSMAN publicize the WILLIE MAE MALLORY matter and pointed out that there was a possibility that several local CORE members might be persuaded to travel to Cleveland, Ohio on October 12, 1963 with members of the Buffalo Branch of the WWP and others to participate in a demonstration concerning WILLIE MAE MALLORY.

At a local branch WWP meeting held on July 19, 1963, JEANETTE MERRILL reported on the performance of "Purlie Victorious" at the Richford Hotel on July 11, 1963. She said that the local branch WWP had sold 117 tickets and had received $117.00. The entire receipts were sent to the committee in Cleveland, Ohio handling the defense of MAE MALLORY. MERRILL also mentioned that there would be an article concerning the play printed in a Negro newspaper locally.

The July 17, 1963 edition of the "Buffalo, New York Challenger" (now defunct, but formerly a weekly newspaper published for the Negro area of Buffalo) on Page 6 contained an article entitled "Mae Mallory Benefit - A 'Purlie Victorious' Triumph." This article gave an account of the MALLORY benefit performance at the Richford Hotel on July 11, 1963, termed the gathering a big success and gave credit to several individuals who had promoted it, including JEANETTE MERRILL and ROSEMARY NEIDENBERG.

OTHER MA ACTIVITY

On June 20, 1963, JEANETTE MERRILL and MILTON and ROSEMARY NEIDENBERG discussed recent proposals made by the Buffalo Board of Education to integrate Buffalo schools more completely. These individuals felt that the MA should become involved in this issue and should object to the plan espoused by the Board of Education, which was that Buffalo was to be divided into four school zones to facilitate racial integration. The three decided that the MA should take the position that freedom for the Negroes cannot be zoned and that any Negro in the area has the right to enroll in any school he desired. It was planned that a representative of the MA should attend a forthcoming meeting of the Buffalo Board of Education at which time the position of the MA would be set forth.

On June 25, 1963, JEANETTE MERRILL prepared a press release concerning the appearance of RITA JOHNSON at the Buffalo Board of Education meeting that day. RITA JOHNSON had represented the MA at that meeting and had outlined the MA group's feeling concerning the four zone proposals by the Board of Education.

At a local branch WWP meeting held on June 28, 1963, RITA JOHNSON spoke concerning the recent public meeting held by the Buffalo Board of Education which she had attended. JOHNSON said that it had been the position of the Superintendent of Schools that students should attend schools in the district in which they resided. She said that she had spoken before the Board of Education and had disagreed with the Superintendent, pointing out that it was her opinion that Negro students should be allowed to attend any school of their choice in the Buffalo area, even though the school was located outside the student's immediate residence. JOHNSON also mentioned that she had proposed that the School Board hire more Negro teachers.

The July 17, 1963 edition of the "Buffalo, New York Challenger" under the caption "Letters" contained a letter addressed to the editor. This letter pointed out the position of the MA in connection with the registration of Negro students in Buffalo and was signed by Mrs. RITA JOHNSON, Vice President, Mothers Alliance.

BUFFALO BRANCH, NATIONAL ASSOCIATION FOR THE ADVANCEMENT OF COLORED PEOPLE (NAACP)

A source in a position to know on October 7, 1964 advised that the Buffalo Branch of the NAACP has headquarters located at 268 East Ferry Street, Buffalo, New York, and that the branch has a membership of approximately 900 persons. This source stated that the policy of the branch is to attempt to prevent members of any subversive group, if known, from becoming members of the NAACP. This source stated that RUFUS FRASIER, as of October, 1964, is a member of the Executive Committee of the Buffalo Branch of the NAACP.

As of September, 1963, the organization in Buffalo in which the Erie County Communist Party (ECCP) was most interested in having its members become active was the Buffalo Chapter of the NAACP. The reason for this was that the Buffalo Chapter of the NAACP was the most active group in waging the fight for Negroes' rights and local integration and the local CP desired to become involved in this movement.

At a meeting of the Buffalo Branch of the WWP held September 6, 1963, JEANETTE MERRILL mentioned that although the branch cannot approve the actions of the NAACP leadership one hundred per cent, the members should continue to go to NAACP affairs and go along with NAACP policy.

On September 11, 1963, a group of Buffalo Branch WWP members met to discuss contemplated activity. The suggestion was advanced that WWP members should try to enter into NAACP activity locally although from a organizational viewpoint it was not correct to try to push the WWP line on the NAACP. The biggest problem confronting the WWP was the question of how it might be able to work within the NAACP.

THE MOTHERS ALLIANCE, FORMERLY KNOWN AS THE MOTHERS ALLIANCE TO STOP SCHOOL SEGREGATION

A confidential source advised during May, 1963, that the Buffalo Branch of the Socialist Workers Party (SWP), during September, 1958, formed a group known as the Mothers Alliance to Stop School Segregation, originally to exploit racial situations in the Southern United States. Since that time, the group abbreviated its name to "The Mothers Alliance" (MA), and other matters of current interest, such as free food and lunches for underprivileged school children, issues adversely affecting welfare recipients, and alleged incidents of discrimination against minority groups have been championed by the MA.

According to the source, the Buffalo Branch, SWP, on February 12, 1959, officially left the National SWP organization It is presently known as the Buffalo Branch of the Workers World Party (WWP). The source further stated that all activity of the MA is presently directed and controlled by Buffalo Branch, WWP members.

The SWP has been designated by the Attorney General of the United States pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

In December, 1963, the source advised that the MA had been relatively inactive for the previous few months but that there was no indication that it had actually been disbanded.

In May, 1964, another source advised that although the MA has not engaged in any particular activity during the preceding several months, it has not been disbanded as a local organization to his knowledge.

NATION OF ISLAM, formerly referred to as the Muslim Cult of Islam, also known as Muhammad's Temples of Islam

In January, 1957, a source advised ELIJAH MUHAMMAD has described his organization on a nationwide basis as the "Nation of Islam" and "Muhammad's Temples of Islam."

On July 10, 1963, a second source advised ELIJAH MUHAMMAD is the national leader of the Nation of Islam (NOI); Muhammad's Temple of Islam No. 2, 5335 South Greenwood Avenue, Chicago, Illinois, is the national headquarters of the NOI; and in mid 1960, MUHAMMAD and other NOI officials, when referring to MUHAMMAD's organization on a nationwide basis, commenced using either "Mosque" or "Temple" when mentioning one of "Muhammad's Temples of Islam."

The NOI is an all-Negro organization which was originally organized in 1930 in Detroit, Michigan, MUHAMMAD claims to have been selected by Allah, the Supreme Being, to lead the so-called Negro race out of slavery in the wilderness of North America by establishing an independent black nation in the United States. Members following MUHAMMAD's teachings and his interpretation of the "Koran" believe there is no such thing as a Negro; that the so-called Negroes are slaves of the white race, referred to as "white devils," in the United States; and that the white race, because of its exploitation of the so-called Negroes, must and will be destroyed in the approaching "War of Armageddon."

In the past, officials and members of the NOI, including MUHAMMAD, have refused to register under the provisions of the Selective Service Acts and have declared that members owe no allegiance to the United States.

On May 5, 1958, the first source advised MUHAMMAD had, upon advice of legal counsel, tempered his personal statements and instructions to his ministers concerning the principles of his organization in order to avoid possible prosecution by the United States Government; however, he did not indicate any fundamental changes in the teachings of his organization.

On July 10, 1963, a third source advised MUHAMMAD had early in July, 1958, decided to de-emphasize the religious aspects of the teachings of Islam and to stress the economic benefits to be derived by those Negroes who joined the NOI. This policy change, according to MUHAMMAD, would help him acquire additional followers and create more interest in his programs.

MUHAMMAD'S MOSQUE #23, also known as Muhammad's Temple of Islam #23

A source advised on September 4, 1957, that a short time previously supporters of ELIJAH MUHAMMAD had established a group in the Buffalo area and were meeting in the homes of members of this group.

Sources advised in early July, 1958, that as of that time Muhammad's Temple of Islam in Buffalo, New York, was assigned number 23, and was affiliated with the Nation of Islam under the leadership of ELIJAH MUHAMMAD.

On June 15, 1960, a source advised that the aims and purposes of Muhammad's Temple of Islam #23 was the unification of the black race through the establishment of an independent black nation economically independent of the white race.

Sources advised in May, 1963, that the aims and purposes of Muhammad's Temple of Islam #23 remained the same as of that time.

The same sources advised in May, 1963, that the official name Muhammad's Temple of Islam #23 was changed in February, 1962, to Muhammad's Mosque #23.

In May, 1964, the sources advised that Muhammad's Mosque #23 continued to be an affiliate of the Nation of Islam led by ELIJAH MUHAMMAD.

PROGRESSIVE LABOR PARTY; PROGRESSIVE LABOR MOVEMENT; "PROGRESSIVE LABOR"

A source advised on July 2, 1962, that Progressive Labor groups held a conference in New York City on July 1, 1962, where MILTON ROSEN acted as chairman. He read a statement at this conference setting forth their intention to form a new Marxist-Leninist Party in the United States. ROSEN stated that a more formal organization was necessary, one which would provide a framework for all who wanted to join in a united effort to build an American vanguard. The functions of this new organization are to consolidate all existing forces around Progressive Labor and organize additional forces to an outlook of Marxism-Leninism and increase the open advocacy of socialism; develop a significant Marxist-Leninist program for the new party; and organize a collective organization of leaders and members.

"The Worker," an East Coast Communist newspaper, issue of January 7, 1962, Page 10, Column 3, reported the expulsion of MILTON ROSEN, former Labor Secretary of the New York State Communist Party, from the Communist Party, USA.

A second and third source advised in February, 1963, that this new Marxist-Leninist Party had not yet been organized on a formal basis but that Progressive Labor groups had been formed in several localities in line with proposals of MILTON ROSEN. The sources advised as of February, 1963, that the leaders of this group were referring to it as the Progressive Labor Movement.

The "Amsterdam News," a daily New York City newspaper, dated July 27, 1963, Page 22, set forth that the "Progressive Labor Party is a new political formation based on Progressive Labor Movement, a Socialist organization with groups in all parts of the United States. The organization publishes a monthly magazine called Progressive Labor."

The July-August, 1963, issue of "Progressive Labor" set forth that it is published monthly by Progressive Labor Company, G.P.O. Box 808, Brooklyn 1, New York.

The same source advised in May, 1964, that until the fall of 1961, MORTIMER SCHEER had been the Organizer of the Erie County Communist Party (CP), but that in December of that year he had been expelled from the CP for participating in a factional group with MILTON ROSEN, the former Labor Secretary of the New York State CP, for opposing New York State and National CP leadership.

WORKERS WORLD PARTY

On April 17, 1959, a confidential source advised that on February 12, 1959, a Socialist Workers Party (SWP) minority group, under the leadership of National Committee member, SAM BALLAN, split from the SWP.

The source stated that this minority group, referred to as the Marcyites, after many years of program and policy differences on varied issues concerning tactics and interpretation of political events, split from the SWP on the grounds that the Party was liquidating itself by departing from the Marxist precepts of LEON TROTSKY and retreating from the fight for the world socialist revolution. The final issue which ultimately forced the split was the minority's opposition to the SWP regroupment policy which involved cooperation with the Communist Party (CP) periphery - individuals characterized by the minority as petty - bourgeois.

The minority program, according to the source, advocates unconditional defense of the Soviet Union and has as its goal the building of a revolutionary party with a complete proletarian orientation for the purpose of overthrowing capitalism in the United States and throughout the world.

On May 12, 1960, the source advised that this minority group had chosen the name Workers World Party.

On May 6, 1963, a second confidential source stated that the headquarters of the Workers World Party were located at 46 West 21st Street, New York, New York.

The SWP and the CP have been designated by the Attorney General of the United States pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

Communist Influence in Racial Matters;
Anti-Goldwater Rally, Union Square, New
York City, October 25, 1964
Racial Matters

Confidential source number 1, who has furnished reliable information in the past, furnished the following information on October 25, 1964:

An anti-Goldwater rally was held on October 25, 1964, at Union Square, New York City, from approximately 3:00 p.m. until 4:15 p.m. attended by approximately 225 individuals mostly youths. The rally was sponsored by the United Youth Committee For an Anti-Goldwater Rally and among the participating organizations were the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, various New York City chapters and college chapters of the Congress of Racial Equality and the W.E.B. Du Bois Clubs.

A characterization of the W.E.B. Du Bois Clubs of America is attached.

One of the speakers was Gilberto Gerena Valentin, a leader of the Puerto Rican Community in New York City who charged Goldwater with having Fascist tendencies. Gerena Valentin also spoke against what he termed poor housing conditions and poor educational facilities in New York City.

Gilberto Gerena is characterized below.

ENCLOSURE

Other speakers at the rally alleged that Goldwater if elected, would use atomic weapons; that Goldwater opposed public housing and was not in favor of free higher education.

Ernest Russell, representing the Congress of Racial Equality, was the rally chairman.

The following signs were in evidence among the audience:

The picture of Senator Goldwater with a swastika.

"You know in your heart he is a nut."

"You know in your heart he is a bum."

"Goldwater is Coldwater."

According to information received from the Bureau of Special Services, New York City Police Department on October 25, 1964, the above rally terminated at 4:15 p.m. No incidents occurred at the rally and no arrests were made. According to Bureau of Special Services, Al Zagarell was one of the speakers at the rally.

Aaron Cohen, a member of the Communist Party, from 1947 to 1957, and from December, 1961 to October, 1963, advised on November 16, 1962, that Al Zagarell attended a meeting of the Lower East Side Communist Party Youth Club, November 15, 1962, in New York City.

The "New York Herald Tribune", February 17, 1964, page 1, in an article entitled "New March By Puerto Ricans Here" described Gilberto Gerena Valentin as Executive Secretary, National Association for Puerto Rican Civil Rights.

Communist Influence in Racial Matters;
Anti-Goldwater Rally, Union Square, New
York City, October 25, 1964

Confidential source number 2, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised in February, 1953, that Gil Gerena, also known as Gilberto Gerena Valentin, had been in attendance at a Communist Party meeting held on January 31, 1953, in New York City. This source further advised that Gilberto Gerena Valentin was apparently an organizer for the Communist Party of New York City, but was at odds with certain members of the Communist Party because he felt they were not doing what they could to assist the Communist Party of Puerto Rico.

The "New York Times", February 19, 1964, page 1, in an article concerning boycott demonstrations at New York City public schools, stated that Gilberto Gerena Valentin publicly denied a charge that he had been a Communist. He denounced this charge as "irresponsible and without foundation."

The confidential sources utilized in the appendix have furnished reliable information in the past.

APPENDIX

W.E.B. DU BOIS CLUBS OF AMERICA

A source has advised that on October 26-27, 1963, a conference of members of the Communist Party (CP), including national functionaries, met in Chicago, Illinois, for the purpose of setting in motion forces for the establishment of a new national Marxist-oriented youth organization which would hunt for the most peaceful transition to socialism. The delegates to this meeting were cautioned against the germ of anti-Soviet and anti-CP ideologies. These delegates were also told that it would be reasonable to assume that the young socialists attracted into this new organization would eventually pass into the CP itself.

A second conference of over 20 persons met in Chicago on December 28-29, 1963, for the purpose of initiating a "call" to the new youth organization and planning for a founding convention to be held in June, 1964.

A second source has advised that the founding convention for the new youth organization was held from June 19-21, 1964, at 150 Golden Gate Avenue, San Francisco, California, at which time the name W.E.B. Du Bois Clubs of America was adopted. Approximately 500 delegates from throughout the United States attended this convention. The aims of this organization, as set forth in the preamble to the constitution, are: "It is our belief that this nation can best solve its problems in an atmosphere of peaceful coexistence, complete disarmament and true freedom for all peoples of the world, and that these solutions will be reached mainly through the united efforts of all democratic elements in our country, composed essentially of the working people allied in the unity of Negroes and other minorities with whites. We further fully recognize that the greatest threat to American democracy comes from the racist and right wing forces in coalition with the most reactionary sections of the economic power structure, using the tool of anti-communism to divide and destroy the unified struggle of the working people. As young people in the forces for democracy, we shall actively strive to defeat these reactionary and neo-fascist elements and to achieve complete freedom and democracy for all Americans, thus enabling each individual to freely choose and build the society he would wish to live in. Through these struggles we feel the American people will realize the viability of the socialist alternatives."

W.E.B. DU BOIS CLUBS OF AMERICA

The constitution further states that this new organization shall be a membership organization open to individuals, or if five or more people so desire a chapter can be formed which shall in turn be guided by the policies and principles of the parent organization.

The second source has also advised that at the founding convention it was noted that the organization should be temporarily headquartered in San Francisco, California, although no specific physical location was decided upon. This same source advised on June 29, 1964, that the temporary headquarters of this organization is 1007 McAllister Street, San Francisco, which is the headquarters of the W.E.B. DuBois Club of San Francisco.

Both sources have advised that at the founding convention two officers were elected:

PHILIP CHAPIN DAVIS - President
CARL ELLENGER BLOICE - Publications Chairman

A third source has advised that on October 26, 1962, PHILIP DAVIS attended a CP recruiting class held at 1579 Scenic Avenue, Berkeley, California.

A fourth source has advised that CARL BLOICE, reporter for the "People's World" newspaper, was, on April 3, 1964, elected to the newly organized San Francisco County Committee of the CP.

The "People's World" is a west coast communist newspaper published weekly in San Francisco, California.

For the information of the Bureau, it is noted that due to the necessity of setting forth the identites of those individuals who participated in such demonstrations as the March on Washington and the Powell Shooting demonstrations and characterizing these individuals, a separate appendix section has been utilized in this report for such characterizations It was felt that to set forth such a large number of characterizations immediately following mention of the individual in the details of the report, would have detracted from the continuity of the report. However, in some instances where it was felt for purposes of clarity and ease in reading, the characterizations of individuals have been included immediately after the mentioning of the name. The appendix contains all of the individuals who can be characterized.

Extra copies of this report have been designated for the NYO in the event that local dissemination is desired in the future.

The riots in NYC in July, 1964, were treated as a whole rather than separating them into individual demonstrations inasmuch as they resulted basically from the Powell Shooting. The Powell Shooting and the resulting demonstrations have been covered in detail in order to present a clear overall picture of these events and the subsequent developments.

The New York Office has reviewed CPUSA National Office statements and other available records for the years 1956 through 1961, to determine the monies allocated for Party work in the racial field. In this connection, it must be borne in mind that due to the accounting procedures used, namely, the failure to charnelize expenses for travel, literature, postage, etc., into particular fields of endeavor, a completely accurate picture cannot be presented.

For the interest of the Bureau, however, the following figures were developed:

Year	Negro Commission	Work in South
1956	$ 1,586.11	$ 500.00
1957	647.74	2,237.96
1958	292.46	1,391.95
1959	981.59	1,393.94
1960	10,288.49	382.50
1961	7,191.66	265.00
1962	355.25

In connection with the drastic reduction of expenditures for the work of the Negro Commission from a high of $10,288.49 in 1960, to a low of $355.25 in 1962, there has been much evidence of apathy on the part of Commission members. It is noted that at a meeting of

~~SECRET~~ (U)

It was ascertained that on May 27, 1964, [redacted] met with JAMES TORMEY and WILLIAM L. PATTERSON, New York District CP leaders in labor and Negro matters, respectively and at that time was told that [redacted] and COLEMAN YOUNG would lead the CP caucus of the NALC at Cleveland, Ohio.

PATTERSON and TORMEY gave [redacted] three proposals that they hoped the NALC would accept and for which the NALC CP caucus should work.

1. The Government should take the responsibility for the apprenticeship training program.

2. That delegations should be formed and sent to Washington, D.C., for the implementation of this program.

3. That a non-white membership drive campaign should be started for the NALC.

PATTERSON and TORMEY both were very critical of the lack of progress of the NYNALC CP caucus, not only as to everday work of the NYNALC, but also in offering ideas for the NALC Convention.

[redacted] replied to this criticism by stating that at no time had the CPUSA New York District Board or leadership and the NYNALC CP caucus arranged for a full discussion concerning the plans that were to be carried out at the NALC convention. [redacted] stated that she had previously spoken not only to state, but national leaders concerning the convention, but had been put off by the statement "we will discuss this at a later date".

Both PATTERSON and TORMEY agreed with her and stated she should have secured the CPUSA line prior to this time and if there had been any questions they could have been settled before she left for the convention. They both stated they would try to remedy this situation and that they would bring this up at the CP caucus of the NALC.

[redacted] June 2, 1964] b7D

It was ascertained that on June 28, 1964, JIM TORMEY met with [redacted] at 784 Madison Street, Brooklyn, New York. TORMEY stated that [redacted] made a report on the NALC Executive Board meeting which was held on June 27, 1964. TORMEY said that [redacted] reported on the "State of Race Summit Conference" which is to be held in October in Washington, D. C., and she reported that [redacted] case concerning the Schaefer Brewery Company was to be taken up under the direction of [redacted] of the NALC Grievance Committee. TORMEY stated that he was very pleased with [redacted] report and the work that she is doing in the NALC. b6 b7C

[redacted] suggested according to TORMEY, that the New York District CP Negro Commission and the New York CP Trade Union Commission should get together to formulate a Party policy concerning the NALC. However, he stated, he informed her that for all intents and purposes, there was no Negro Commission.

He said that [redacted] suggested that the Party should have either a one day or two day conference on civil rights in which all members at the present time involved in mass activities concerning civil rights could meet and discuss the problems facing them. That the NALC could be discussed at this time.

I. COMMUNIST STRATEGY

A. Communist Party, United States of America (CPUSA)

1. Plans, Strategy, Party Line on National Level of CPUSA

On March 9, 10, 1963, a meeting of the Communist Party (CP) Caucus, within the NAACP and members of the National Negro Commission, CPUSA, was held in New York City, for the purpose of formulating CP strategy within the NAACP. The main report was given by BENJAMIN J. DAVIS, whose remarks included the following:

There is unity among the Negro people as to what demands should be made to obtain full citizenship but there are differences on what tactics to pursue.

The South is still the key to the Negro problems because the basic problems are more acute in the South. A national conference of all Negro organizations is urgently needed at this time. It is his belief that a convention or conference of Negroes could unify all the currents in the Negro movement, such as the Muslim movement and the Robert Williams approach and result in a program which would contain the best principles in each of the three main areas of thought. These three areas are the integrationists whose organizations include the NAACP, the Negro American Labor Council (NALC), the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), and the Congress On Racial Equality (CORE), the separatists as represented by the Muslims, and the Williams approach which advocates the arming of Negroes for self-defense.

DAVIS offered the following proposals as possible resolutions at the 1963 National Convention of the NAACP:

1. That the NAACP ask the Supreme Court for a more specific deadline ending discrimination and segregation.

2. A resolution requesting the President for his plan to enforce the Supreme Court decision.

3. A resolution asking for a test of Article 4, Section 4 of the Constitution which guarantees a republican form of government and pointing out those Southern states where Negroes are denied the right to vote.

4. That the second section of the Fourteenth Amendment be enforced which Amendment calls for a reduction of representation in states where the voting franchise is denied.

5. That the Federal Government withhold its finances from states that sanction discrimination.

DAVIS, at the conclusion of the meeting, in his summation, stated that they should be apprised of the fact that the Party's National Committee proposed unqualified support for the NAACP labor position.

It was decided that CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT would represent the National Committee at the NAACP National Convention and that LESTER DAVIS would act as the contact man for resolutions and individuals in attendance.

On February 22, 1963, a public meeting was held at the First Unitarian Church, Los Angeles, California, which featured BENJAMIN DAVIS who was billed as a spokesman for the CPUSA. Representatives from the NAACP, CORE and the Muslim movement were also on the platform and spoke. This meeting was held under the sponsorship of the First Unitarian Church, in cooperation with "Discussion Unlimited" under the title, "Alternative Paths to Negro Freedom".

Following this meeting, DAVIS commented that it was a historic meeting in that for the first time in many years, representatives of different segments of the Negro community were present on the same platform with a representative of the CP. Although they did not fully agree on every issue, it was DAVIS' conclusion that the fact that all met together and talked over problems was a great advance. DAVIS was pleased that these representatives had agreed to support his proposal which was to call a national conference on Negro unity to work out a minimum program, in which all Negro organizations could participate.
